Assessment Requirements for BSBPMG514 Manage project cost

Modification History

Release	Comments
Release 1	This version first released with BSB Business Services Training Package Version 1.0.

Performance Evidence

Evidence of the ability to:

- work closely with others to determine resources against budgetary frameworks
- prepare a budget and cost-management plan for a project
- monitor costs across a project's life cycle including solving cost variations and analysing possible alternatives
- record expenditure, create accurate financial reports and review cost-management processes.

Note: If a specific volume or frequency is not stated, then evidence must be provided at least once.

Knowledge Evidence

To complete the unit requirements safely and effectively, the individual must:

- explain appropriate budgeting processes, tools and techniques
- describe methods and tools for costing and cost analysis
- explain strategies for managing costs and their application in different situations
- outline processes for reviewing costs against outcomes
- summarise key organisational policies and procedures applicable to this role.

Assessment Conditions

Assessment must be conducted in a safe environment where evidence gathered demonstrates consistent performance of typical activities experienced in the management and leadership – project management field of work and include access to:

- workplace documentation, including budgets and other financial documents
- case studies and, where possible, real situations.

Assessors must satisfy NVR/AQTF assessor requirements.

Modification History

Release	Comments
Release 1	This version first released with BSB Business Services Training Package Version 1.0.

Performance Evidence

Evidence of the ability to:

- identify or confirm research requirements and objectives
- gather, organise and present workplace information and data
- update, modify, maintain and store information
- maintain and handle data and documents systematically and securely
- prepare and produce reports including:
  - recommendations based on the analysis of information
  - clear and justified assumptions and conclusions
  - use of efficient, valid and reliable methods
- use Boolean operators and other search tools
- analyse, evaluate and interpret data to support organisational activities.

Note: If a specific volume or frequency is not stated, then evidence must be provided at least once.

Knowledge Evidence

To complete the unit requirements safely and effectively, the individual must:

- explain organisational systems for recordkeeping/filing, including security procedures
- identify organisational policies and procedures and legal and ethical obligations relating to workplace information
- explain concepts related to research and analysis including reliability and validity
- give examples of techniques for data analysis and how they are applied
- explain research processes and strategies to identify new sources (online and print) of information and to use them most efficiently and effectively.

Assessment Conditions

Assessment must be conducted in a safe environment where evidence gathered demonstrates consistent performance of typical activities experienced in the knowledge management – research field of work and include access to:

- workplace information systems, equipment and resources
- workplace policies and procedures
- case studies and, where possible, real situations.

- apply continuous improvement approach to sustainability performance
- apply change management techniques to support sustainability performance.

Note: If a specific volume or frequency is not stated, then evidence must be provided at least once.

Knowledge Evidence

To complete the unit requirements safely and effectively, the individual must:

- identify relevant internal and external sources of information and explain how they can be used to identify sustainability improvements
- explain the compliance requirements for the work area with reference to legislation, regulations, codes of practice and workplace procedures that relate to environmental and resource issues
- outline common environmental and energy efficiency issues within the industry

- give examples of benchmarks for environmental and resource sustainability that are relevant to the organisation
- outline organisational systems and procedures that relate to environmental and resource sustainability improvements including:
  - supply chain, procurement and purchasing
  - quality assurance
  - making recommendations and seeking approvals

Assessment Conditions

Assessment must be conducted in a safe environment where evidence gathered demonstrates consistent performance of typical activities experienced in the sustainability field of work and include access to:

- relevant legislation, regulations, standards and codes
- relevant workplace documentation and resources
- case studies and, where possible, real situations
- interaction with others.

Assessors must satisfy NVR/AQTF assessor requirements.

This unit describes the skills and knowledge required to assist with providing advice about the legislative duties, rights and obligations of individuals and parties prescribed in work health and safety (WHS) legislation. It includes identification of WHS legislation, duties, rights and obligations and the necessary actions to ensure compliance in the workplace.

This unit applies to individuals who assist with providing advice about the legislative duties, rights and obligations of individuals and parties prescribed in WHS laws as part of a systematic approach to managing WHS. This unit applies to people who work in a broad range of WHS roles across all industries.

NOTE: The terms 'occupational health and safety' (OHS) and 'work health and safety' (WHS) are equivalent and generally either can be used in the workplace. In jurisdictions where the Model WHS Legislation has not been implemented RTOs are advised to contextualise the unit of competency by referring to the existing State/Territory OHS legislative requirements.

No licensing, legislative or certification requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

- assessing workplace compliance with WHS legislative requirements
- determining the training needs of individuals and parties in relation to WHS requirements
- developing and implementing workplace changes in order to achieve WHS legal compliance.

Note: If a specific volume or frequency is not stated, then evidence must be provided at least once.

Knowledge Evidence

To complete the unit requirements safely and effectively, the individual must:

- detail the duties, rights and obligations of individuals and parties as specified in relevant WHS legislation, and specify the location of relevant information on WHS legislation
- describe the functions and powers of the relevant WHS regulator and how they are exercised
- identify internal and external sources of WHS information, and how to access them
- outline the objectives and principles underpinning WHS legislation
- specify method/s used for:
  - assessing WHS compliance
  - determining training needs in relation to WHS compliance
  - implementing changes to achieve WHS compliance.

Assessment Conditions

Assessment must be conducted in a safe environment where evidence gathered demonstrates consistent performance of typical activities experienced by individuals carrying out work health and safety duties in the workplace and include access to:

- relevant Acts, regulations, codes of practice, standards and guidance material
- relevant workplace documentation
- reports from individuals and parties consulted in ensuring WHS compliance
- case studies and, where possible, real situations
- interaction with others.

Assessors must satisfy NVR/AQTF assessor requirements. In addition, assessors for this unit of competency must hold a WHS qualification or equivalent at Diploma level or higher.

Assessment Requirements for BSBWHS603 Implement WHS risk management

Modification History

Release	Comments
Release 1	This version first released with BSB Business Services Training Package Version 1.0.

Performance Evidence

Evidence of the ability to:

- manage effective work health and safety (WHS) risk management consultation and participation processes including:
  - identifying those who need to be involved
  - reviewing and improving existing processes
  - ensuring processes are appropriate to the organisation and WHS risks
- arrange for necessary resources during WHS risk management, including:
  - identifying and budgeting for requirements
  - procuring resources and ensuring availability
- review and improve existing WHS risk management processes, including:
  - using workplace information and data
  - consulting with individuals and parties
  - considering effectiveness, current risk controls, lessons learnt from events, changes in the internal and external contexts, emerging risks and performance against indicators
- develop a WHS risk management framework including:
  - using suitable sources of information and data to determine the purposes, objectives, principles and structure
- establish the context for WHS risk management including:
  - identifying duty holders, legislative requirements, impacting individuals, parties and factors
  - defining risk criteria
- assess risks including:
  - identifying hazards
  - undertaking risk analysis and evaluation
  - addressing requirements of WHS legislation, WHS risk assessment and workplace WHS information and data
- control risks including:

- selecting from control options according to outcomes of risk assessment, WHS hazards and risk controls, and WHS legislation
- preparing and implementing risk control measures
- monitor and review the WHS risk management process according to the organisation's WHS management system (WHSMS) requirements
- record the WHS risk management process according to the organisation's WHS information system (WHSIS) requirements.

Note: If a specific volume or frequency is not stated, then evidence must be provided at least once.

Knowledge Evidence

To complete the unit requirements safely and effectively, the individual must:

- explain different definitions of hazard and risk and how they are used by different individuals and parties
- outline internal and external sources of WHS information and data and how to access them
- identify organisational WHS policies, procedures, processes and systems
- identify other functional areas that impact on the management of WHS
- describe the principles and practices of a systematic approach to managing WHS
- describe the principles of duty of care, including concepts of causation, foreseeability and preventability
- describe the principles of incident causation and injury processes
- list a range of risk analysis and assessment techniques and tools and their application and limitations
- outline relevant and applicable Australian legislation, standards and publications
- define risk as the effect of uncertainty on objectives
- define risk management as a duty of persons conducting businesses or undertakings (PCBUs) or officers under WHS legislation
- give examples of standard industry risk controls for a range of hazards
- outline techniques, tools and processes for identifying health and safety hazards and controlling risks:
  - hazard and risk checklists
  - hazard hunts
  - job safety analyses
  - manifests and registers, including for dangerous goods, hazardous chemicals and plant
  - safe work method statements
  - surveys using questionnaires, interviews and other survey techniques
  - workplace inspections and walk-throughs
- describe toxicology of hazardous chemicals and potential health effects in the workplace.

Assessment Conditions

Assessment must be conducted in a safe environment where evidence gathered demonstrates consistent performance of typical activities experienced by individuals carrying out work health and safety duties in the workplace and include access to:

- office equipment and resources
- relevant WHS legislation, standards and guidelines
- workplace policies and procedures
- reports from other parties consulted during the approach to WHS risk management
- case studies and, where possible, real situations
- interaction with others.

Assessors must satisfy NVR/AQTF assessor requirements.

Assessment Requirements for CHCAGE004 Implement interventions with older people at risk

Modification History

Release	Comments
Release 1	This version was released in CHC Community Services Training Package release 2.0 and meets the requirements of the 2012 Standards for Training Packages.  New unit.

Performance Evidence

The candidate must show evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage tasks and manage contingencies in the context of the job role. There must be evidence that the candidate has:

- assisted with the assessment of risk and the implementation and evaluation of risk minimisation strategies for at least 2 older people, 1 in a simulated environment and 1 in the workplace, in a manner that is respectful of the older person's dignity and privacy.

Knowledge Evidence

The candidate must be able to demonstrate essential knowledge required to effectively complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage tasks and manage contingencies in the context of the work role. This includes knowledge of:

- the tensions which may exist between an individual's rights and the organisation's responsibility to individuals
- legal and ethical considerations for working in aged care:
  - duty of care
  - human rights
  - privacy, confidentiality and disclosure
  - work role boundaries – responsibilities and limitations
- the major issues, trends and policies relating to the health and wellbeing of older people
- standardised tools for risk assessment and the management and monitoring of risks
- major risk areas for ageing population:
  - depression and anxiety
  - isolation
  - abuse (sexual, emotional, physical, financial, system)

- falls
- medication
- dehydration and malnutrition
- dysphagia
- continence
- documentation requirements including the importance of accurate and appropriately detailed records

Assessment Conditions

Skills must have been demonstrated in an ageing support workplace with the addition of simulations and scenarios where the full range of contexts and situations have not been provided in the workplace. These are situations relating to emergency or unplanned procedures where assessment in these circumstances would be unsafe, impractical or threatens the dignity of the older person.

The following conditions must be met for this unit:

- use of suitable facilities, equipment and resources, including relevant assessment tools

Overall, assessment must involve some real interactions with older people, colleagues, families/carers and the use of individualised plans.

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisations (RTOs) 2015/AQTF mandatory competency requirements for assessors.

Assessment Requirements for CHCCCS011 Meet personal support needs

Modification History

Release	Comments
Release 1	This version was released in CHC Community Services Training Package release 2.0 and meets the requirements of the 2012 Standards for Training Packages. Significant change to the elements and performance criteria. New evidence requirements for assessment including volume and frequency requirements. Significant changes to knowledge evidence.

Performance Evidence

The candidate must show evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage tasks and manage contingencies in the context of the job role. There must be evidence that the candidate has:

- safely supported at least 2 individuals by performing the activities outlined in the performance criteria of this unit. This includes following support requirements of an established individualised plan and supporting each of the following activities:
  - bed bathing
  - dressing, undressing and grooming
  - eating and drinking using appropriate feeding techniques
  - oral hygiene
  - shaving
  - showering
  - toileting and the use of continence aids
  - using aids and equipment including devices used by the person
- performed the following hazardous manual handling scenarios at least once:
  - transferring a person between bed and chair
  - transferring a person in and out of car
  - falls recovering

Knowledge Evidence

The candidate must be able to demonstrate essential knowledge required to effectively complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage tasks and manage contingencies in the context of the work role. This includes knowledge of:

- different contexts for provision of personal support and impacts on the way services are provided
- role and responsibilities of the personal support providers and workers
- concepts of enablement and re-ablement
- legal and ethical requirements related to the provision of personal support, and how these are applied in an organisation and individual practice:
  - privacy, confidentiality and disclosure
  - duty of care
  - work health and safety, including manual handling
- basics of:
  - body hygiene
  - grooming
  - oral hygiene
  - human body system
- personal safety and security risks associated with provision of personal support and strategies to minimise those risks
- features, functions and safe use of equipment and aids used in provision of personal support and devices used by the person including the importance of adjusting equipment and aids to the needs of the individual
- techniques for completing physical support routines
- infection control procedures
- organisational reporting technologies

Assessment Conditions

Skills must have been demonstrated in a relevant workplace that provides personal support services to people, with the addition of simulations and scenarios where the full range of contexts and situations have not been provided in the workplace. These are situations relating to emergency or unplanned procedures where assessment in these circumstances would be unsafe, impractical or threatens the dignity of the person. The following conditions must be met for the unit:

- use of suitable facilities and resources including:
  - individualised plans specifying different personal support needs
  - equipment outlined in individualised plans
- modelling of industry operating conditions including involvement of real people when simulating the provision of service and equipment use

Overall, assessment must involve some real interactions with people who require personal support.

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisations (RTOs) 2015/AQTF mandatory competency requirements for assessors.

Performance Evidence

The candidate must show evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage tasks and manage contingencies in the context of the job role. There must be demonstrated evidence that the candidate has completed the following tasks at least once:

- reflected on own cultural identity and biases
- investigated cultural diversity in at least one service and community
- supported children's and families' cross-cultural relationships through the following activities:
  - interacting in culturally appropriate ways with children, families and communities
  - consulting with appropriate persons to access local knowledge of Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander culture
  - planning and implementing supportive environments for all children
  - supporting the implementation of experiences that encourage children to respect all cultures and to celebrate cultural differences
  - embedding examples of diversity and inclusion in daily practice
  - using effective oral communication techniques to liaise between differing cultural contexts and situations.

Knowledge Evidence

The candidate must be able to demonstrate essential knowledge required to effectively do the task outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage the task and manage contingencies in the context of the identified work role.

This includes knowledge of:

- how to access:
  - the National Quality Framework
  - the National Quality Standards
  - the relevant approved learning framework
- how to navigate through framework and standards documents to find areas relevant to this unit of competency
- cultural competence and diversity as outlined in the approved learning framework relevant to the workplace
- impact of colonisation, historical events and issues on Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander people
- organisational policies and initiatives designed to support participation
- organisational standards, policies and procedures.

Assessment Conditions

Skills must be demonstrated in a regulated education and care service.

In addition, simulations and scenarios must be used where the full range of contexts and situations cannot be provided in the workplace or may occur only rarely. These are situations relating to emergency or unplanned procedures where assessment in these circumstances would be unsafe or is impractical.

Simulated assessment environments must simulate the real-life working environment where these skills and knowledge would be performed, with all the relevant equipment and resources of that working environment, including interactions with children and families

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisations (RTOs) 2015/AQTF mandatory competency requirements for assessors.

Performance Evidence

The candidate must show evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage tasks and manage contingencies in the context of the job role. There must be demonstrated evidence that the candidate has completed the following tasks:

- planned and provided food and drink for children on at least three occasions, including:
  - identifying and responding to requirements related to food allergies, medical conditions and cultural and religious requirements
  - role-modelling healthy eating habits for children
  - ensuring safe handling, preparation and storage of food and drinks
  - creating a positive, relaxed environment during mealtimes
- engaged children by involving them in menu planning and assisting in meal preparation
- read and interpreted food labels to identify ingredients of concern and nutrition content.

Knowledge Evidence

The candidate must be able to demonstrate essential knowledge required to effectively do the task outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage the task and manage contingencies in the context of the work role. These include knowledge of:

- how to access:
  - the National Quality Framework
  - the National Quality Standards
  - the relevant approved learning framework
- how to navigate through framework and standards documents to find areas relevant to this unit of competency
- United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child
- code of ethics
- food allergies, food intolerances, contamination and/or allergic reactions in meal preparation and possible reactions, including anaphylaxis
- infant feeding requirements and guidelines
- recommendations for healthy eating – Dietary Guidelines for Children and Adolescents in Australia and the Australian Guide to Healthy Eating, including Get Up and Grow: Healthy Eating and Physical Activity for Early Childhood resources
- implications of poor diet including tooth decay, deficiencies, poor concentration, out of character behaviour
- food-handling requirements, preventing microorganism contamination and/or allergic reactions
- importance of addressing individual dietary needs and preferences with particular reference to specific cultural, religious or health requirements
- organisational standards, policies and procedures.

Assessment Conditions

Skills must be demonstrated in a regulated education and care service.

In addition, simulations and scenarios must be used where the full range of contexts and situations cannot be provided in the workplace or may occur only rarely. These are situations relating to emergency or unplanned procedures where assessment in these circumstances would be unsafe or is impractical.

Simulated assessment environments must simulate the real-life working environment where these skills and knowledge would be performed, with all the relevant equipment and resources of that working environment.

Assessment must ensure use of:

- National Quality Framework for Early Childhood Education and Care
- the relevant approved learning framework under the National Quality Framework for Early Childhood Education and Care.

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisations (RTOs) 2015/AQTF mandatory competency requirements for assessors.

PERFORMANCE CRITERIA

Performance criteria specify the level of performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.

1. Contribute to a safe and supportive environment

1.1 Use safe, supportive and equitable practices appropriate to the development stage and needs of the child and/or young person

1.2 Recognise any developmental challenges or mental health issues of child or young person that may have potential impacts on behaviour

1.3 Identify contributing environmental factors

2. Use positive support techniques

2.1 Establish expectations for behaviour in consultation with supervisor and in line with work role

2.2 Provide instructions in a manner appropriate to the child or young person's needs and context of the work environment and activity

2.3 Use positive reinforcement and clear verbal and non-verbal communication strategies to acknowledge responsible behaviour

2.4 Employ appropriate strategies to redirect behaviour and defuse situations

3. Observe and collect data to assist with development of appropriate strategies for support

3.1 Collect data and record observations as a basis for gaining understanding of the child/young person's behaviour

3.2 Use data to demonstrate the frequency, intensity and duration of behaviours requiring support

4. Implement strategies to support children or young people who require additional support

4.1 Implement strategies to support child or young person with guidance from supervisor or as designed by a specialist

4.2 Identify areas of concern for discussion with supervisor

4.3 Contribute effectively to implementation of personalised support plans

5. Monitor and review strategies

5.1 Monitor new strategies and record responses of child or young person in accordance with organisational policy and procedures

ELEMENT

PERFORMANCE CRITERIA

Performance criteria specify the level of performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.

5.2 Adapt levels of support required and provided, based on need and response of child or young person, after consultation with supervisor

5.3 Document observations and offer feedback to supervisor as additional support

Foundation Skills

The Foundation Skills describe those required skills (language, literacy, numeracy and employment skills) that are essential to performance.

Foundation skills essential to performance are explicit in the performance criteria of this unit of competency.

Performance Evidence

The candidate must show evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage tasks and manage contingencies in the context of the job role. There must be demonstrated evidence that the candidate has completed the following tasks:

- supported practices that encourage children to connect to their environment on at least three occasions, including:
  - providing children with a wide range of natural and recycled materials
- identified and supported workplace procedures to enhance environmental sustainability, including:
  - identifying changes to cleaning and maintenance equipment and associated resources
  - identifying changes to practices and systems
- supported children and other adults to become environmentally responsible and show respect for the environment by:
  - facilitating sustainable practices discussions
  - modelling sustainable behaviours.

Knowledge Evidence

The candidate must be able to demonstrate essential knowledge required to effectively do the task outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage the task and manage contingencies in the context of the work role. These include knowledge of:

- how to access:
  - the National Quality Framework
  - the National Quality Standards
  - the relevant approved learning framework
- how to navigate through framework and standards documents to find areas relevant to this unit of competency
- context and application of sustainable development and sustainability within an education and care service children's services environment
- organisational standards, policies and procedures.

Assessment Conditions

Skills must be demonstrated in a regulated education and care service.

In addition, simulations and scenarios must be used where the full range of contexts and situations cannot be provided in the workplace or may occur only rarely. These are situations relating to emergency or unplanned procedures where assessment in these circumstances would be unsafe or is impractical.

Simulated assessment environments must simulate the real-life working environment where these skills and knowledge would be performed, with all the relevant equipment and resources of that working environment.

Assessment must ensure use of:

- National Quality Framework for Early Childhood Education and Care
- the relevant approved learning framework under the National Quality Framework for Early Childhood Education and Care.

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisations (RTOs) 2015/AQTF mandatory competency requirements for assessors.

Release 1	This version was released in CHC Community Services Training Package release 1.0 and meets the requirements of the 2012 Standards for Training Packages. Significant changes to elements and performance criteria. New evidence requirements for assessment.

Performance Evidence

The candidate must show evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage tasks and manage contingencies in the context of the job role. There must be demonstrated evidence that the candidate has completed the following tasks at least once:

- created a positive learning space and organised resources to meet the learners' needs, including:
  - using communication skills to provide information to, and gain feedback from, learners and teachers
  - documenting the environment and resource organisation accurately in a written form
  - solving problems as they arise.

Knowledge Evidence

The candidate must be able to demonstrate essential knowledge required to effectively do the task outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage the task and manage contingencies in the context of the work role.

These include knowledge of:

- what constitutes a positive and stimulating physical environment for learning
- a broad range of learning resources readily available that can be used to support the individual or group learning needs
- learning technologies.

Assessment Conditions

Skills must be demonstrated in the workplace.

In addition, simulations and scenarios must be used where the full range of contexts and situations cannot be provided in the workplace or may occur only rarely. These are situations relating to emergency or unplanned procedures where assessment in these circumstances would be unsafe or is impractical.

Simulated assessment environments must simulate the real-life working environment where these skills and knowledge would be performed, with all the relevant equipment and resources of that working environment.

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisations (RTOs) 2015/AQTF mandatory competency requirements for assessors.

The candidate must show evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage tasks and manage contingencies in the context of the job role. There must be evidence that the candidate has:

- supported the development of reading, writing and oral communication skills for at least 3 different adult learners
- used the following communication and learning strategies:
  - active listening and questioning
  - modelling oral communication
  - scaffolded learning
  - assisting learners to problem solve

Knowledge Evidence

The candidate must be able to demonstrate essential knowledge required to effectively complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage tasks and manage contingencies in the context of the work role. This includes knowledge of:

- roles and responsibilities of those providing language and literacy support and of their supervisors
- requirements of the support program, including administrative and confidentiality requirements
- definition of texts and range of texts that learners need to interpret
- key concepts of the Australian Core Skills Framework (ACSF), including:
