- describe the key features of organisational policy and procedures relating to the preparation of tax documentation for individual taxpayers
- outline the key accounting principles and practices relevant to the preparation of tax documentation for individual taxpayers.

Assessment Conditions

Assessment must be conducted in a safe environment where evidence gathered demonstrates consistent performance of typical activities experienced in the accounting field of work and include access to:

- common office equipment, technology, software and consumables.

Assessors must satisfy NVR/AQTF assessor requirements.

This unit is designed to meet the education requirements of the Tax Practitioner Board (TPB). Where registration with the TPB is sought, assessment must reflect the conditions described by the regulator which stipulate that a significant amount (at least 40%) must be completed under some form of independent supervision. Where recognition of prior learning (RPL) is used, it must also meet the requirements of the Board's policy on RPL.

Details of requirements can be accessed on the TPB website at: <http://www.tpb.gov.au>

Assessment Requirements for FNSORG501 Develop and manage a budget

Modification History

Release	Comments
Release 1	This version first released with FNS Financial Services Training Package Version 1.0.

Performance Evidence

Evidence of the ability to:

- collect and accurately interpret relevant data to develop and finalise a budget
- consult effectively and negotiate outcomes with others on budgetary issues
- accurately complete financial and statistical reports related to budgeting.

Note: If a specific volume or frequency is not stated, then evidence must be provided at least once.

Knowledge Evidence

To complete the evidence requirements safely and effectively, the individual must:

- define basic accounting and financial services industry terminology
- outline types of data required to develop the budget
- explain accounting techniques relevant to budget preparation and maintenance
- describe budgeting techniques and tools
- describe organisational and industry policy and procedures related to budget development and management.

Assessment Conditions

Assessment must be conducted in a safe environment where evidence gathered demonstrates consistent performance of typical activities experienced in the organisational skills field of work and include access to:

- a range of common office equipment, technology, software and consumables
- an integrated financial software system and data.

Assessors must satisfy NVR/AQTF assessor requirements.

FSKDIG03 Use digital technology for routine workplace tasks

Modification History

Release	Comments
Release 1	This streamlined version first released with FSK Foundation Skills Training Package version 1.0 .

Application

This unit describes the skills and knowledge required to use digital technology to undertake routine workplace tasks.

The unit applies to individuals at Australian Core Skills Framework (ACSF) level 3 who need to undertake a vocational training pathway or workplace tasks.

This unit is designed for integration and contextualisation with vocational units to support achievement of vocational competency.

No licensing, legislative or certification requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

Unit Sector

Digital Technology

Elements and Performance Criteria

Element	Performance Criteria
Elements describe the essential outcomes.	Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.
1. Prepare to use digital technology	1.1 Identify routine workplace tasks 1.2 Identify appropriate digital technology for the task 1.3 Interpret routine workplace information and terminology
2. Complete routine	2.1 Interpret routine information from a range of sources to access

Element	Performance Criteria
workplace task	and use digital technology 2.2 Follow workplace procedures to perform a task using technology 2.3 Review performance

FWPCOT3260 Recover four wheel drive vehicles

Modification History

Release	Comment
1	Replaces equivalent unit FPICOT3260 Recover four wheel drive vehicles, which was first released with FPI11 Forest and Forest Products Training Package Version 2.  This is the first release of this unit in the new standards format.

Application

This unit of competency describes the outcomes required to use recovery equipment and advanced skills to recover four-wheel drive (4x4) vehicles in difficult terrain conditions.

The unit applies to those who recover 4x4 vehicles in a variety of work settings.

No licensing, legislative, regulatory, or certification requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

Elements and Performance Criteria

ELEMENTS	PERFORMANCE CRITERIA
Elements describe the essential outcomes.	Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element. Where bold italicised text is used, further information is detailed in the range of conditions.
1. Plan 4x4 recovery	1.1 Survey site to identify hazards, assess risks and select suitable strategy.

	1.2 Select personal protective equipment appropriate to type of recovery operation. 1.3 Inform appropriate personnel of location. 1.4 Determine potential environmental impact of recovery.
2. Apply safe recovery method	2.1 Establish and maintain communications with appropriate personnel during recovery operations. 2.2 Determine recovery method based on the terrain conditions and circumstances. 2.3 Consider operating variables, define danger zone and apply strategies to reduce risk and environmental impact during recovery. 2.4 Determine the recovery equipment required and its availability. 2.5 Set up an exclusion zone. 2.6 Repair environmental damage where possible.
3. Use vehicle recovery equipment safely	3.1 Identify hazards and position recovery equipment safely. 3.2 Use safe operating procedures while using recovery equipment. 3.3 Use rated recovery equipment within limitations and capabilities.
4. Maintain vehicle recovery equipment	4.1 Carry out maintenance on recovery equipment. 4.2 Document equipment maintenance according to organisational procedures.

Foundation Skills

This section describes those core and employment skills that are essential to performance and are not explicit in the performance criteria.

Assessment Requirements for FWPCOT3260 Recover four wheel drive vehicles

Modification History

Release	Comment
1	Replaces equivalent unit FWPCOT3260 Recover four wheel drive operations, which was first released with FPI11 Forest and Forest Products Training Package Version 2.2. This is the first release of this unit in the new standards format. Assessment requirements now specify the performance and knowledge evidence, as well as assessment conditions for this unit of competency. These sections simplify and replace components used in the previous unit format, including 'Required Skills and Knowledge, Evidence Guide and Range Statement

Performance Evidence

A person demonstrating competency in this unit must satisfy all of the elements, performance criteria and foundation skills of this unit. If a specific volume or frequency is not stated below, then evidence must be provided that the following requirements have been performed on at least one occasion:

- safely and effectively recover a four wheel drive from varied situations
- use a winch and a snatch block (2:1) in difficult terrain, using ground anchor points for both hard ground and soft sand
- use one or more types of recovery equipment in a safe and efficient manner including devices and techniques for:
  - lifting
  - winching/towing
  - traction
  - support
  - protection
- demonstrate one or more pulling techniques including:
  - complex and multi-line
  - straight pull
  - double pull
  - starting vehicle
  - taking towed object to a location
  - using a winch

- communicate effectively and follow safe work practices
- use and maintain relevant tools, machinery and equipment.

Knowledge Evidence

A person competent in this unit must be able to demonstrate knowledge of:

- organisational policies and procedures, codes of practice and established safe practices for recovering a 4x4 vehicle
- techniques for using jacks and other recovery equipment
- factors affecting choice of recovery equipment and mode of recovery
- issues to consider when defining danger zones
- effect of suction on vehicles to identify mass weight needed for cable and winch capacity
- hazards and safety issues associated with the use of jacks and recovery equipment
- environmental impacts of 4x4 operation
- established communication protocols
- typical tools and equipment, and procedures for their safe use and maintenance
- procedures for reporting and recording information
- environmental protection requirements, including the safe disposal of waste material
- environmental risks and hazards relevant to recovering 4x4 vehicles in difficult terrain conditions.

Assessment Conditions

The following resources must be made available:

- four wheel drive to recover
- varied terrains and conditions from which to recover vehicle
- equipment required to recover a four wheel drive vehicle
- relevant personnel for the purposes of communicating information
- documents, spreadsheets and commonly used proforma documents
- personal protective and safety equipment required for recovering a four wheel drive vehicle.

Competency is to be assessed in the workplace or a simulated environment that accurately reflects performance in a real workplace setting.

Assessor requirements

Assessors must:

- hold the appropriate assessor competency standards as outlined in regulations; and
- be able to demonstrate vocational competencies at least to the level being assessed; and
- be able to demonstrate how they are continuing to develop their VET knowledge and skills as well as maintaining their industry currency and assessor competence.

Performance Evidence

A person demonstrating competency in this unit must satisfy all of the elements, performance criteria and foundation skills of this unit. If a specific volume or frequency is not stated below, then evidence must be provided that the following requirements have been performed on at least one occasion:

- follow applicable legal and regulatory requirements, and codes of practice relevant to operating a 4x4 vehicle towing a trailer or moving an object
- couple and uncouple a trailer
- safely couple and uncouple vehicles, equipment and objects using recovery equipment
- operate a 4x4 in a towing situation
- follow organisational policies and procedures relevant to operating a 4x4 in a towing situation
- assess the safety of towing a trailer or object and consider risk management strategies including:
  - appropriate vehicle and trailer clearance
  - appropriate approach and departure angles
  - correct load management
  - controlled braking methods using electric brakes, no brakes, override brakes
  - adequate movement of the tow system
  - making adjustment for extra length and width of trailers, and their tendency to 'cut in' on corners and curves
  - making appropriate adjustment in braking distance to compensate for the combined extra weight of vehicle and trailer
  - driving vehicle to minimise trailer sway

- engaging a lower gear when travelling downhill with a trailer to give greater vehicle control and reduce load on brakes
- ensuring mirrors on both sides of towing vehicle are properly adjusted to give a clear view of vehicles approaching from the rear.
- use and maintain relevant tools, machinery and equipment

Knowledge Evidence

A person competent in this unit must be able to demonstrate knowledge of:

- applicable regulations, standards, codes of practice and established safe practices relevant to processes when towing a trailer or object
- environmental risks and hazards, organisational and site standards, requirements, policies and procedures for towing a trailer or object including:
  - damage to vehicle
  - wet and iced terrain
  - flooded terrain
  - fire in vehicle
  - fire at the scene
  - faulty brakes
  - leaking fuel
  - faulty steering mechanism on vehicle
  - animals and objects in vehicle path
  - crocodiles and snakes in some areas
  - windy or foggy sections of terrain
  - steep slopes
  - land slides
  - tree limbs
  - black ice
  - trailers
  - logs, rocks and other unexpected obstacles
  - weather conditions
  - slippery surfaces
  - unsafe or damaged equipment
  - spilt or leaking fuel or dangerous or hazardous goods or substances
  - unsafe manual-lifting procedures
- recovery devices suitable for towing including:
  - winches
  - ropes
  - cables
  - slings and straps

- pullers
- road rules, regulations, permit and licence requirements of the relevant state or territory
- operational knowledge of 4x4 vehicle, including controls, instruments and indicators, and their use
- 4x4 driving and towing techniques
- vehicle maintenance requirements
- established communication channels and protocols
- relevant personnel for the purposes of communicating information
- vehicle problem identification and resolution strategies, and common vehicle fault-finding techniques
- characteristics, applications, capabilities and limitations of a 4x4 vehicle while towing a trailer or object
- tools and equipment used when setting up and securing an object for towing
- typical problems that may occur when setting up and securing an object for towing, and how to resolve them
- procedures for recording and reporting workplace information.

Assessment Conditions

The following resources must be made available:

- manual or automatic or all wheel drive (AWD) four-wheel drive vehicle
- trailer to tow
- object to move
- personal protective equipment required to operate a four wheel drive vehicle in a towing situation
- relevant personnel for the purposes of communicating information

Competency is to be assessed in the workplace or a simulated environment that accurately reflects performance in a real workplace setting.

Assessor requirements

Assessors must:

- hold the appropriate assessor competency standards as outlined in regulations; and
- be able to demonstrate vocational competencies at least to the level being assessed; and
- be able to demonstrate how they are continuing to develop their VET knowledge and skills as well as maintaining their industry currency and assessor competence.

HLTAHW023 Plan, develop and evaluate health promotion and community development programs

Modification History

Release	Comments
Release 2	Updated: <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• assessor requirements statement</li><li>• foundation skills lead in statement</li><li>• licensing statement</li><li>• modification history to reflect 2012 standards</li></ul> Equivalent outcome.
Release 1	This version was released in HLT Health Training Package release 1.0 and meets the requirements of the 2012 Standards for Training Packages.  Significant changes to elements and performance criteria. New evidence requirements for assessment, including volume and environment requirements.

Application

This unit describes the required skills and knowledge to organise, deliver and evaluate a health promotion program to address identified needs in Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander communities. This unit includes designing, structuring and evaluating the effectiveness of health promotion activities for Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander communities.

The unit applies to those Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander Health Workers providing a range of primary health care services to Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander clients and communities.

The skills in this unit must be applied in accordance with Commonwealth and State/Territory legislation, Australian/New Zealand standards and industry codes of practice.

Elements and Performance Criteria

ELEMENT

PERFORMANCE CRITERIA

Elements define the essential outcomes.

Performance criteria specify the level of performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.

1. Plan and research health promotion and community development programs

- 1.1 Consult community representatives and key people to identify community health needs and concerns
- 1.2 Assess information to identify key stakeholders, community health trends and ethical considerations
- 1.3 Undertake appropriate research and identify community development opportunities
- 1.4 Consider and respect community values and beliefs, gender roles and taboos in researching community health needs
- 1.5 Identify and access relevant existing resources (human, financial and physical) for use in health promotion and community development programs
- 1.6 Create a process for key representatives of the community and any related agencies or organisations to be consulted in the plan development
- 1.7 Ensure health promotion and programs have a holistic, culturally sensitive approach and support the community in taking a self-determination approach to health
- 1.8 Prepare proposals (or submissions) as required to address any additional resource requirements, including funding
- 1.9 Identify evaluation processes and criteria to be used for critiquing health promotion programs

2. Develop a health promotion and community development program

- 2.1 Develop health promotion strategies in partnership with key representatives of the community and any related agencies or organisations
- 2.2 Develop goals, actions and key performance indicators for health promotion and community development activities
- 2.3 Identify appropriate delivery strategies according to the needs of the target group, location and health issues
- 2.4 Provide relevant information to health services,

2.5 Access, adapt or develop resources (human, financial and physical) as required to suit the needs of the health issue, audience and program delivery context

2.6 Document plans for health promotion and community development according to organisational procedures and policies

3. Deliver a health promotion and community development program

3.1 Provide health care and community development programs to the community in ways that are consistent with Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander community values and beliefs

3.2 Integrate and implement health screenings and implement on own practice to enhance understanding work team and community needs, concerns and resource availability, surveillance and education activities into the programs, as appropriate

3.3 Provide information in plain language to clients about health problems common to their particular client group, using culturally appropriate and safe communication skills

3.4 Refer common health problems identified as part of the program to professionals and support services

3.5 Support clients and families in accessing health care services and associated benefits as required

3.6 Provide guidance, support and assistance to individuals and families coping with social and emotional issues according to identified needs and cultural protocols

3.7 Reflect on own practice to enhance understanding

4. Monitor and evaluate health promotion program

4.1 Evaluate health promotion and community development program against criteria that reflect identified community health objectives

4.2 Monitor and evaluate community health outcomes

4.3 Collect, document and interpret data to contribute to the evaluation of health programs

ELEMENT

PERFORMANCE CRITERIA

Performance criteria specify the level of performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.

- 4.4 Seek to identify program strengths as well as areas for improvement as a basis for continual enhancement of health outcomes
- 4.5 Communicate outcomes of the evaluation to relevant stakeholders to guide future activities in the delivery of health promotion and health services to the community
- 4.6 Seek feedback on program effectiveness and provide to community and organisational representatives
- 4.7 Prepare reports from data collected and provide to management in line with organisational guidelines
- 4.8 Maintain client and community confidentiality in line with organisational and community requirements
- 4.9 Support ongoing community development strategies

Foundation Skills

The Foundation Skills describe those required skills (language, literacy, numeracy and employment skills) that are essential to performance.

Numeracy

- in order to adapt, develop and monitor financial resources
- in order to develop key performance indicators and corresponding measures
- in order to collect, analyse and report on numerical data collected

Other foundation skills essential to performance are explicit in the performance criteria of this unit.

Assessment Requirements for HLTAHW023 Plan, develop and evaluate health promotion and community development programs

Modification History

Release	Comments
Release 2	Updated: <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• assessor requirements statement</li><li>• foundation skills lead in statement</li><li>• licensing statement</li><li>• modification history to reflect 2012 standards</li></ul> Equivalent outcome.
Release 1	This version was released in HLT Health Training Package release 1.0 and meets the requirements of the 2012 Standards for Training Packages.  Significant changes to elements and performance criteria. New evidence requirements for assessment, including volume and environment requirements.

Performance Evidence

The candidate must show evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage tasks and manage contingencies in the context of the job role.

There must be evidence that the candidate has:

- planned and delivered at least one primary health care promotion and community development program to Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander communities, including:
  - assessing community health needs
  - identifying strategies, goals, activities and key performance indicators
  - observing, obtaining and interpreting client information in relation to health issues, behaviour and health services
  - developing a health promotion plan in consultation with key stakeholders
  - preparing a proposal/submission for funding and resources
  - ensuring the program addresses specific client and community needs for guidance, support and information
  - ensuring delivery is consistent with community needs, values and beliefs

- communicating with and seeking feedback from clients, colleagues, community members and other agencies and negotiating with them as required
- evaluated at least one health promotion and community development program against identified goals and performance criteria by:
  - collecting feedback from community and staff implementing the program
  - analysing feedback against identified goals and performance criteria
  - reporting on outcomes of evaluation to community and the organisation
  - identified areas for improvement in the program.

Knowledge Evidence

The candidate must be able to demonstrate essential knowledge required to effectively do the task outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage the task and manage contingencies in the context of the identified work role.

This includes knowledge of:

- organisational policies and procedures and legislation or regulations relating to:
  - client confidentiality
  - referral, including various levels of urgency, and follow-up of clients
  - mandatory reporting
  - notifiable communicable diseases
  - limits of own ability and authority
  - reporting procedures
  - documentation
- basic understanding of community development theory
- health promotion programs relevant to the area/region/community
- social determinants that impact on health issues for the relevant community
- The Ottawa Charter for Health Promotion
- program planning cycle
- familiarity with a range of conditions, diseases and disorders
- effective strategies to monitor and manage identified health problems in line with community needs and sensitivities
- features of chronic illness, including:
  - complex causality
  - multiple risk factors
  - long latency periods
  - a prolonged course of illness
  - functional impairment or disability

- specific chronic conditions affecting Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander clients and communities, including:
  - cardiovascular disease
  - diabetes
  - cancer
  - chronic respiratory disease
  - chronic kidney disease
  - asthma
  - arthritis
  - oral disease
- impact of chronic conditions on major body organs and systems
- groups at high risk of chronic condition
- determinants of chronic condition, including:
  - smoking
  - physical activity
  - nutrition
  - alcohol intake
  - use of illicit drugs
  - obesity, weight and waist circumference
  - unsafe sexual practices
  - genetic factors
- treatment and management of chronic conditions, including:
  - working in collaboration with clients, family and significant others to promote self management as far as possible
  - medication
  - surgery
  - regular exercise
  - good nutrition
  - cessation of smoking
  - cessation or moderation of alcohol use
  - cessation of illicit drug use
- regular screenings for changes in disease presentation and detection of other diseases
- how to contact and access health and support services available in the region
- linkages between conditions such as diabetes and eye health, nutrition and hearing, etc.
- occupational health and safety practices and procedures relevant to the work
- principles of adult education
- evaluation methodology.

Assessment Conditions

Skills must be demonstrated working:

- in a health service or centre
- as part of a multidisciplinary primary health care team
- with Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander clients and communities.

In addition, simulations and scenarios must be used where the full range of contexts and situations cannot be provided in the workplace or may occur only rarely. These are situations relating to emergency or unplanned procedures where assessment in these circumstances would be unsafe or is impractical.

Simulated assessment environments must simulate the real-life working environment where these skills and knowledge would be performed, with all the relevant equipment and resources of that working environment.

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisations (RTOs) 2015/AQTF mandatory competency requirements for assessors.

Assessment must be undertaken by a workplace assessor who has expertise in this unit of competency and who is:

- an Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander Health Worker
- or:
- accompanied by an Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander person who is a recognised member of the community with experience in primary health care.

1. Respond to an emergency situation

- 1.1 Recognise an emergency situation
- 1.2 Identify, assess and manage immediate hazards to health and safety of self and others
- 1.3 Assess the casualty and recognise the need for first aid response
- 1.4 Assess the situation and seek assistance from emergency response services

2. Apply appropriate first aid procedures

- 2.1 Perform cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) in accordance with Australian Resuscitation Council (ARC) guidelines
- 2.2 Provide first aid in accordance with established first aid principles
- 2.3 Display respectful behaviour towards casualty
- 2.4 Obtain consent from casualty where possible
- 2.5 Use available resources and equipment to make the casualty as comfortable as possible
- 2.6 Operate first aid equipment according to manufacturer's instructions
- 2.7 Monitor the casualty's condition and respond in accordance with first aid principles

3. Communicate details of the incident

- 3.1 Accurately convey incident details to emergency response services
- 3.2 Report details of incident to workplace supervisor as appropriate
- 3.3 Maintain confidentiality of records and information in line with statutory and/or organisational policies

Performance Evidence

The candidate must show evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage tasks and manage contingencies in the context of the job role.

There must be evidence that the candidate has completed the following tasks in line with state/territory regulations, first aid codes of practice, Australian Resuscitation Council (ARC) guidelines and workplace procedures:

- Followed DRSABCD in line with ARC guidelines, including:

- performed at least 2 minutes of uninterrupted single rescuer cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) (5 cycles of both compressions and ventilations) on an adult resuscitation manikin placed on the floor
- performed at least 2 minutes of uninterrupted single rescuer CPR (5 cycles both compressions and ventilations) on an infant resuscitation manikin placed on a firm surface
- responded appropriately in the event of regurgitation or vomiting
- managed the unconscious breathing casualty
- followed single rescue procedure, including the demonstration of a rotation of operators with minimal interruptions to compressions
- followed the prompts of an Automated External Defibrillator (AED)
- Responded to at least two simulated first aid scenarios contextualised to the candidate's workplace/community setting, including:
  - conducted a visual and verbal assessment of the casualty
  - demonstrated safe manual handling techniques
  - post-incident debrief and evaluation
  - provided an accurate verbal or written report of the incident
- Applied first aid procedures for the following:
  - allergic reaction
  - anaphylaxis
  - bleeding control
  - choking and airway obstruction
  - envenomation, using pressure immobilisation
  - fractures, sprains and strains, using arm slings, roller bandages or other appropriate immobilisation techniques
  - respiratory distress, including asthma
  - shock

Knowledge Evidence

The candidate must be able to demonstrate essential knowledge required to effectively complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage tasks and manage contingencies in the context of the work role. This includes knowledge of:

- State/Territory regulations, first aid codes of practice and workplace procedures including:
  - ARC Guidelines relevant to provision of CPR and first aid
  - safe work practices to minimise risks and potential hazards
  - infection control principles and procedures, including use of standard precautions
  - requirements for currency of skill and knowledge
- legal, workplace and community considerations including:
  - awareness of potential need for stress-management techniques and available support following an emergency situation
  - duty of care requirements

- respectful behaviour towards a casualty
- own skills and limitations
- consent
- privacy and confidentiality requirements
- importance of debriefing
- considerations when providing first aid including:
  - airway obstruction due to body position
  - appropriate duration and cessation of CPR
  - appropriate use of an AED
  - chain of survival
  - standard precautions
  - how to conduct a visual and verbal assessment of the casualty
- principles and procedures for first aid management of the following scenarios:
  - abdominal injuries
  - allergic reaction
  - anaphylaxis
  - basic care of a wound
  - bleeding control
  - burns
  - cardiac conditions, including chest pain
  - choking and airway obstruction
  - crush injuries
  - diabetes
  - dislocations
  - drowning
  - envenomation
  - environmental impact, including hypothermia, hyperthermia, dehydration and heat stroke
  - eye and ear injuries
  - fractures
  - febrile convulsions
  - head, neck and spinal injuries
  - minor skin injuries
  - needle stick injuries
  - poisoning and toxic substances
  - respiratory distress, including asthma
  - seizures, including epilepsy
  - shock
  - soft tissue injuries, including strains and, sprains
  - stroke

- unconsciousness
- basic anatomy and physiology relating to:
  - how to recognise a person is not breathing normally
  - chest
  - response/consciousness
  - upper airway and effect of positional change
  - considerations in provision of first aid for specified conditions

Assessment Conditions

Skills must be demonstrated working individually in an environment that provides realistic in-depth, industry-validated scenarios and simulations to assess candidates' skills and knowledge.

Assessment resources must include:

- adult and infant resuscitation manikins in line with ARC Guidelines for the purpose of assessment of CPR procedures
- adrenaline auto-injector training device
- AED training device
- placebo bronchodilator and spacer device
- roller bandages
- triangular bandages
- workplace First Aid kit
- workplace injury, trauma and/or illness record, or other appropriate workplace incident report form for written reports
- wound dressings

Simulated assessment environments must simulate the real-life working environment where these skills and knowledge would be performed, with all the relevant equipment and resources of that working environment.

Assessor requirements

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisations (RTOs) 2015/AQTF mandatory competency requirements for assessors.

HLTAID011 Provide First Aid

Modification History

Not applicable.

Application

This unit describes the skills and knowledge required to provide a first aid response to a casualty in line with first aid guidelines determined by the Australian Resuscitation Council (ARC) and other Australian national peak clinical bodies.

The unit applies to all persons who may be required to provide a first aid response in a range of situations, including community and workplace settings.

Specific licensing/regulatory requirements relating to this competency, including requirements for refresher training should be obtained from the relevant national/state/territory Work Health and Safety Regulatory Authorities.

Elements and Performance Criteria

ELEMENTS

PERFORMANCE CRITERIA

Elements describe the essential outcomes

Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.

1. Respond to an emergency situation.

- 1.1. Recognise and assess an emergency situation.
- 1.2. Ensure safety for self, bystanders and casualty.
- 1.3. Assess the casualty and recognise the need for first aid response.
- 1.4. Seek assistance from emergency services.

2. Apply appropriate first aid procedures.

- 2.1. Perform cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) in accordance ARC guidelines.
- 2.2. Provide first aid in accordance with established first aid principles.
- 2.3. Display respectful behaviour towards casualty.
- 2.4. Obtain consent from casualty where possible.
- 2.5. Use available resources and equipment to make the casualty as comfortable as possible.
- 2.6. Operate first aid equipment according to manufacturers' instructions.
- 2.7. Monitor the casualty's condition and respond in accordance with first aid principles.

3. Communicate details of the incident.
  - 3.1. Accurately convey incident details to emergency services.
  - 3.2. Report details of incident in line with appropriate workplace or site procedures.
  - 3.3. Complete applicable workplace or site documentation, including incident report form.
  - 3.4. Maintain privacy and confidentiality of information in line with statutory or organisational policies.
4. Review the incident.
  - 4.1. Recognise the possible psychological impacts on self and other rescuers and seek help when required.
  - 4.2. Contribute to a review of the first aid response as required.

Assessment Requirements for HLTAID011 Provide First Aid

Modification History

Not applicable.

Performance Evidence

Evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit in the context of the workplace or community setting.

There must be evidence that the candidate has completed the following tasks in line with State/Territory regulations, first aid codes of practice, first aid guidelines determined by the Australian Resuscitation Council (ARC) and other Australian national peak clinical bodies and workplace or site procedures:

- managed, in line with ARC guidelines, the unconscious, breathing casualty including appropriate positioning to reduce the risk of airway compromise
- managed, in line with ARC guidelines, the unconscious, non-breathing adult, including:
  - performing at least 2 minutes of uninterrupted single rescuer cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) (5 cycles of both compressions and ventilations) on an adult resuscitation manikin placed on the floor
  - following the prompts of an automated external defibrillator (AED) to deliver at least one shock
  - demonstrating a rotation of single rescuer operators with minimal interruptions to compressions
  - responding appropriately in the event of regurgitation or vomiting
- managed, in line with ARC guidelines, the unconscious, non-breathing infant, including:
  - performing at least 2 minutes of uninterrupted single rescuer CPR (5 cycles both compressions and ventilations) on an infant resuscitation manikin placed on a firm surface
- managed casualties, with the following:
  - anaphylaxis
  - asthma
  - non-life-threatening bleeding
  - choking
  - envenomation, using pressure immobilisation
  - fractures, dislocations, sprains and strains, using appropriate immobilisation techniques
  - minor wound cleaning and dressing
  - nosebleed
  - shock

- responded to at least one simulated first aid incident contextualised to the candidate's workplace or community setting, where the candidate has no knowledge of the casualty's condition prior to starting treatment, including:
  - identifying the casualty's illness or injury through history, signs and symptoms
  - using personal protective equipment (PPE) as required
  - providing appropriate first aid treatment
  - conveying incident details to emergency services or advising casualty on any required post incident action
  - providing an accurate verbal and written report of the incident
  - reviewing the incident.

Knowledge Evidence

Demonstrated knowledge required to complete the tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit:

- guidelines and procedures including:
  - ARC guidelines relevant to the provision of first aid
  - first aid guidelines from Australian national peak clinical bodies
  - potential incident hazards and risk minimisation processes when providing first aid
  - infection control procedures, including use of standard precautions and resuscitation barrier devices
  - requirements for currency of skill and knowledge
  - first aid codes of practice
  - appropriate workplace or site procedures relevant to the provision of first aid
  - contents of first aid kits
- legal, workplace and community considerations including:
  - duty of care requirements
  - own skills and limitations
  - consent and how it relates to the conscious and unconscious casualty
  - privacy and confidentiality requirements
  - awareness of potential need for stress management techniques and available support for rescuers
- considerations when providing CPR, including:
  - upper airway and effect of positional change
  - appropriate duration and cessation of CPR
  - appropriate use of an AED
  - safety and maintenance procedures for an AED
  - chain of survival
  - how to access emergency services
- techniques for providing CPR to adults, children and infants including:
  - how to recognise that a casualty is unconscious and not breathing normally

- rate, ratio and depth of compressions and ventilations
- correct hand positioning for compressions
- basic anatomy, physiology and the differences between adults, children and infants relating to CPR
- signs, symptoms and management of the following conditions and injuries:
  - allergic reaction
  - anaphylaxis
  - asthma
  - non-life-threatening and life-threatening bleeding
  - burns
  - cardiac conditions, including chest pain
  - choking
  - diabetes
  - drowning
  - envenomation - all current treatments
  - eye injuries
  - fractures, dislocations, strains and sprains
  - head, neck and spinal injuries
  - hypothermia
  - hyperthermia
  - minor wounds
  - nose-bleed
  - poisoning
  - seizures
  - shock
  - sharps injuries
  - stroke.

Assessment Conditions

Each candidate to demonstrate skills in an environment that provides realistic in-depth, scenarios and simulations to assess candidates' skills and knowledge.

Due to the nature of this type of training, it is acceptable for the performance evidence to be collected in a simulated environment.

Compression and ventilation skills must be demonstrated on resuscitation manikins following ARC guidelines for the purpose of assessment of CPR procedures.

Assessment must ensure access to:

- adult and infant resuscitation manikins following ARC guidelines for the purpose of assessment of CPR procedures
- adrenaline auto-injector training device

- AED training devices
- workplace first aid kit
- placebo bronchodilator and spacer device
- different types of wound dressings and bandages
- blankets and items to treat for shock
- personal protective equipment (PPE)
- workplace injury, trauma or illness record, or other applicable workplace or site incident report form.

Simulated assessment environments must simulate real-life situations where these skills and knowledge would be performed, with all the relevant equipment and resources of that workplace or community environment.

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisations' requirements for assessors and must hold this unit or demonstrate equivalent skills and knowledge to that contained within this unit.

Unit Descriptor

Descriptor

This unit of competency describes the skills and knowledge required to recognise and respond to life threatening emergencies using basic life support measures only

Application of the Unit

The skills and knowledge described here enable a first aider to provide an initial response to an emergency in line with practised actions, Australian Resuscitation Council (ARC) Guidelines, guidelines of Australian national peak clinical bodies and State/Territory legislation and regulations.

Application should be contextualised as required to reflect workplace and community requirements relating to specific risks and hazards and associated injuries.

Training Package users should ensure that implementation is consistent with State/Territory requirements for currency.

Required Skills and Knowledge

REQUIRED SKILLS AND KNOWLEDGE

This describes the essential skills and knowledge and their level required for this unit.

Essential knowledge:

The candidate must be able to demonstrate essential knowledge required to effectively do the task outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage the task and

manage contingencies in the context of the identified work role

This includes knowledge of:

- ARC guidelines, guidelines of Australian national peak clinical bodies and State/Territory legislation and regulations, including requirements for currency
- Awareness of stress management techniques and available support
- Basic anatomy and physiology relating to:
  - absence of:
    - normal breathing
    - response/consciousness
  - choking/airway obstruction
  - severe bleeding
  - shock
- Chain of survival
- Duty of care requirements
- First aid procedures for:
  - airway management
  - bleeding control
  - care of unconscious
  - casualty that is unresponsive/unconscious and not breathing normally
  - chest pain
  - infection control as it relates to standard precautions
  - respiratory distress, including asthma
  - severe allergic reaction
  - shock
- How to access emergency response support services/personnel
- Need to be culturally aware, sensitive and respectful
- Own skills and limitations
- Privacy and confidentiality requirements
- Relevant workplace hazards
- Understanding of the use of an Automated External Defibrillator (AED), including when to use and when not to

Essential skills:

It is critical that the candidate demonstrate the ability to effectively do the task outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage the task and manage contingencies in the context of the identified work role

This includes the ability to:

- Assess vital signs and response of casualty

REQUIRED SKILLS AND KNOWLEDGE

- Call an ambulance and/or medical assistance, according to circumstances and report casualty's condition
- Demonstrate first aid casualty management principles:
  - assess and minimise danger
  - check for response
  - maintain casualty's airway, breathing and circulation
- Demonstrate:
  - consideration of the welfare of the casualty
  - control of external bleeding
  - correct procedures for CPR on a resuscitation manikin (i.e. as per units HLTCPR211A Perform CPR)
  - implementation of standard precautions
  - safe manual handling of casualty
- Identify and minimise hazards to health and safety of self and others in the immediate workplace or community environment
- Plan an appropriate first aid response in line with established first aid principles, ARC Guidelines and guidelines of Australian national peak clinical bodies and State/Territory legislation and regulations and respond to contingencies in line with own skills
- Report details of emergency incident and first aid provided

Evidence Guide

EVIDENCE GUIDE

The evidence guide provides advice on assessment and must be read in conjunction with the Performance Criteria, Required Skills and Knowledge, the Range Statement and the Assessment Guidelines for this Training Package.

Critical aspects of assessment:

- The individual being assessed must provide evidence of specified essential knowledge and essential skills
- Competence should be demonstrated working individually and as part of a first aid team.
- Consistency of performance should be demonstrated over the required range of situations relevant to the workplace or community setting
- Currency of knowledge and skills is to be demonstrated in line with ARC Guidelines, guidelines of Australian national peak clinical bodies and State/Territory legislation and regulations

EVIDENCE GUIDE

- Context and resources required for assessment:*
- For assessment purposes, demonstration of skills in CPR procedures requires using a model of the human body (resuscitation manikin) in line with ARC Guidelines
  - Demonstration of first aid procedures for severe bleeding must be demonstrated using standard precautions and first aid equipment including trauma dressings
- Access and equity considerations:*
- All workers in the health industry should be aware of access and equity issues in relation to their own area of work
  - All workers should develop their ability to work in a culturally diverse environment
  - In recognition of particular health issues facing Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander communities, workers should be aware of cultural, historical and current issues impacting on health of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people
  - Assessors and trainers must take into account relevant access and equity issues, in particular relating to factors impacting on health of Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander clients and communities
- Related unit:*
- This unit stands alone and incorporates the content of unit HLTCPR211A Perform CPR

Range Statement

RANGE STATEMENT

The Range Statement relates to the unit of competency as a whole. It allows for different work environments and situations that may affect performance. Add any essential operating conditions that may be present with training and assessment depending on the work situation, needs of the candidate, accessibility of the item, and local industry and regional contexts.

RANGE STATEMENT

Condition of the casualty must include, but is not limited to:

- Severe bleeding
- Absence of:
  - Response/consciousness
  - Normal breathing
- Choking/airway obstruction
- Severe allergic reaction

Identified first aid procedures must include:

- Airway management
- Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation (CPR)
- Control severe bleeding
- Provide assistance with self-administered medications, such as auto-injector, bronchodilator and spacer device in line with State/Territory legislation and regulations and any available medical/pharmaceutical instructions
- Care of the unconscious person

Resources and equipment are used appropriate to the risk to be met and may include:

- AED (if available)
- Auto-injector
- Bronchodilator and spacer device
- First aid kit
- Resuscitation mask or barrier

A hazard is:

A source or situation with the potential for harm in terms of human injury or ill-health, damage to property, the environment, or a combination of these

Appropriate clinical expert may include:

- Ambulance officer/paramedic
- Appropriately qualified health care professional

Assessment Requirements for HLTINF004 Manage the prevention and control of infection

Modification History

Release	Comments
Release 1	This version was released in HLT Health Training Package release 2.0 and meets the requirements of the 2012 Standards for Training Packages. Significant changes to the elements and performance criteria. New evidence requirements for assessment, including volume and frequency requirements. Significant change to knowledge evidence. Removed prerequisite.

Performance Evidence

The candidate must show evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage tasks and manage contingencies in the context of the job role. There must be evidence that the candidate has:

- developed compliant infection prevention and control systems and procedures for at least 1 work environment:
  - accessed and analysed compliance and workplace information
  - developed and documented systems and procedures for:
    - hazard identification and risk control
    - personal hygiene
    - use of personal protective equipment
    - handling and transport of potentially infectious material
    - limitation of contamination
    - cleaning and maintenance
  - communicated responsibilities to relevant people
- monitored infection prevention and control systems and procedures for at least 1 work environment and responded to problems

Knowledge Evidence

The candidate must be able to demonstrate essential knowledge required to effectively complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage tasks and manage contingencies in the context of the work role. This includes knowledge of:

- key features of infection prevention and control regulation and guidelines and compliance requirements:
  - Australian standards
  - government guidelines
  - manufacturer documentation
- principles and processes of planning
- systems and procedures needed to meet compliance and quality requirements for infection prevention and control:
  - work processes and precautions
  - hazard identification and risk control
  - monitoring and evaluation
  - reporting processes and hierarchies
  - training requirements
- links between infection prevention and control systems and other management systems:
  - work health and safety
  - work organisation
  - human resource management
- for the specific work environment:
  - ways the infections are spread
  - types of hazards and risks
  - control methods
- sustainability considerations for development of infection prevention and control systems and procedures

Assessment Conditions

Skills must have been demonstrated in the workplace with the addition of simulations and scenarios where the full range of contexts and situations have not been provided in the workplace or may occur only rarely.

The following conditions must be met for this unit:

- use of suitable facilities, equipment and resources, including:
  - facilities and equipment used in the candidate's place or intended place of work
  - current infection prevention and control regulations and standards
- modelling of industry operating conditions, including presence of real or simulated risks and hazards to which the candidate responds

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisations (RTOs) 2015/AQTF mandatory competency requirements for assessors.

ELEMENT*PERFORMANCE CRITERIA

3. Monitor and review progress
- 3.1 Identify the most appropriate methods of data collection for recording behaviour
  - 3.2 Collect, summarise and review data related to individual behaviour
  - 3.3 Assess changes in behaviour in collaboration with the individual involved and other experts as may be necessary
  - 3.4 Assess effectiveness of plan in collaboration with other experts and/or stakeholders
  - 3.5 Publish and report results of behaviour change strategies in relevant form

Required Skills and Knowledge*REQUIRED SKILLS AND KNOWLEDGE

This describes the essential skills and knowledge and their level required for this unit.

Essential knowledge:

The candidate must be able to demonstrate essential knowledge required to effectively do the task outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage the task and manage contingencies in the context of the identified work role

This includes knowledge of:

- Adult education principles
- Equity issues in population health
- Evidence-based practice
- National, State and local health policies, goals, targets and priorities
- Overview of the stages in population health project planning
- Quality assurance
- Relevant international charters/declarations and documents (e.g. Alma Ata, Ottawa Charter, Jakarta Declaration, The Solid Facts by WHO)
- Social change and advocacy processes
- Social determinants of health
- The relationship between attitudes, knowledge and lifestyle factors and behaviour

REQUIRED SKILLS AND KNOWLEDGE

- The relationship between individual behaviour and health outcomes
- Theory and practice of population health including health promotion, health protection and prevention of communicable and non communicable diseases

Essential skills:

It is critical that the candidate demonstrate the ability to effectively do the task outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage the task and manage contingencies in the context of the identified work role

This includes the ability to:

- Apply effective communication and interpersonal skills including:
  - high level written or verbal
  - negotiation and liaison
  - consultation
  - conflict resolution and mediation
- Apply analytical thinking, problem solving and critical appraisal
- Determine the impact of knowledge, values and environmental / cultural and lifestyle factors on behaviour
- Facilitate and contribute effectively to meetings, forums and other networks
- Identify individual behaviours that impact on health outcome
- Undertake work planning and management
- Work as part of a multi-disciplinary team and/or autonomously

EVIDENCE GUIDE

The evidence guide provides advice on assessment and must be read in conjunction with the Performance Criteria, Required Skills and Knowledge, the Range Statement and the Assessment Guidelines for this Training Package.

Critical aspects for assessment and evidence required to demonstrate this competency unit:

- The individual being assessed must provide evidence of specified essential knowledge as well as skills
- Consideration should be given to assessing consistency of performance over a period of time

EVIDENCE GUIDE

- Access and equity considerations:*
- All workers in the health industry should be aware of access and equity issues in relation to their own area of work
  - All workers should develop their ability to work in a culturally diverse environment
  - In recognition of particular health issues facing Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander communities, workers should be aware of cultural, historical and current issues impacting on health of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people
  - Assessors and trainers must take into account relevant access and equity issues, in particular relating to factors impacting on health of Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander clients and communities
- Context of and specific resources for assessment:*
- This unit is most appropriately assessed in the classroom environment
  - Assessment may contain a theoretical emphasis.
  - Access to:
    - a range of government and non government policy documents and reports and statistics
    - journals, books and external expertise
    - documents and other materials (charters, declarations, discussion papers, etc.) from international conferences on population health
    - organisation policies and procedures
- Method of assessment may include:*
- Observation of performance
  - Written tasks
  - Interviewing and questioning
  - Formal appraisal systems
  - Staff client feedback
  - Portfolio/CV
  - Supporting statement of supervisors
  - Evidence of relevant work experience/formal or informal learning
  - Case studies and scenarios as a basis for the discussion of issues in facilitating learning and individual behaviour change

Range Statement

RANGE STATEMENT

The Range Statement relates to the unit of competency as a whole. It allows for different work environments and situations that may affect performance. Add any essential operating conditions that may be present with training and assessment depending on the work situation, needs of the candidate, accessibility of the item, and local industry and regional contexts.

Individual behaviours that influence health outcome may include:

- Diet
- Physical activity
- Alcohol consumption
- Drug intake
- Stress mediating activities
- Smoking

Selected behaviour change models may include but are not restricted to:

- Health belief model
- Behaviour change models
- Motivational change models
- Social cognitive model
- Theory of planned behaviour

Sources of information for the relationship between individual behaviour and health outcome may include:

- Literature from population health and related disciplines such as published books, papers and reports
- Demographic data and information
- Socio-economic data and information
- Data and information from health research and health studies
- Expert informants
- National, state and local health policy documents and implementation guidelines

RANGE STATEMENT

- Organisations may include*
- Divisions of population health or public health units
  - Community health services
  - Specific programs
  - Local government services
  - Aboriginal health Services
  - Non government health promotion programs e.g. Cancer Council, Heart Foundation, Asthma Association
- Infrastructure may include:*
- Transport routes
  - Recreational facilities
- A range of resources may include:*
- Print
  - Electronic resources
  - Workshops
- Contextual influences on individual health may include the following:*
- Socioeconomic status
  - Age
  - Education level
  - Ethnic background
  - Geographical location
  - Disability
  - Sexual identity
  - Early childhood experience and environment
  - Housing security
  - Access to transport

Elements define the essential outcomes.

Performance criteria specify the level of performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.

1. Follow safe work practices

1.1 Follow workplace policies and procedures for safe work practices

1.2 Identify existing and potential hazards in the workplace, report them to designated persons, and record them according to workplace procedures

1.3 Follow workplace emergency procedures

2. Implement safe work practices

2.1 Identify and implement WHS procedures and work instructions

2.2 Identify and report incidents and injuries to designated persons according to workplace procedures

2.3 Take actions to maintain safe housekeeping practices in own work area

3. Contribute to safe work practices in the workplace

3.1 Raise WHS issues with designated persons according to organisational procedures

3.2 Participate in workplace safety meetings, inspections and consultative activities

3.3 Contribute to the development and implementation of safe workplace policies and procedures in own work area

4. Reflect on own safe work practices

4.1 Identify ways to maintain currency of safe work practices in regards to workplace systems, equipment and processes in own work area

4.2 Reflect on own levels of stress and fatigue, and report to designated persons according to workplace procedures

Foundation Skills

The Foundation Skills describe those required skills (language, literacy, numeracy and employment skills) that are essential to performance.

- Reading – in order to accurately read and interpret workplace safety policies and procedures including safety signs, dangerous goods classifications and safety instructions

Performance Evidence

The candidate must show evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage tasks and manage contingencies in the context of the job role.

There must be demonstrated evidence that the candidate has completed the following tasks at least once in line with state/territory WHS regulations, relevant codes of practice and workplace procedures:

- contributed to a WHS meeting or inspection in workplace
- conducted a workplace risk assessment and recorded the results
- consistently applied workplace safety procedures in the day-to-day work activities required by the job role
- followed workplace procedures for reporting hazards
- followed workplace procedures for a simulated emergency situation.

Knowledge Evidence

The candidate must be able to demonstrate essential knowledge required to effectively complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage tasks and manage contingencies in the context of the work role. This includes knowledge of:

- state/territory legislation and how it impacts on workplace regulations, codes of practice and industry standards, including:
  - state/territory WHS authorities
  - rights and responsibilities of employers and workers, including duty of care
  - hazardous manual tasks
  - infection control
- safety signs and their meanings, including signs for:
  - dangerous goods classifications
  - emergency equipment
  - personal protective equipment (PPE)
  - specific hazards such as sharps, radiation
- hazard identification, including:
  - definition of a hazard
  - common workplace hazards relevant to the industry setting
  - workplace procedures for hazard identification
- workplace emergency procedures
- workplace policies and procedures for WHS

Assessment Conditions

Skills must be demonstrated:

- in the workplace

OR

- in an environment that provides realistic in-depth industry validated scenarios and simulations to assess candidates' skills and knowledge.

Assessment must ensure use of:

- current workplace policies and procedures for WHS
- PPE relevant to the workplace and job role of the worker

In addition, assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisations (RTOs) 2015/AQTF mandatory competency requirements for assessors.

Release 1	This version was released in HLT Health Training Package release 1.0 and meets the requirements of the 2012 Standards for Training Packages.  Updated to include relevant content from HLTWHS401A. Revised scope of unit to reflect requirements of supervisor and/or line manager.

Application

This unit describes the skills and knowledge required to implement and monitor work health and safety (WHS) policies, procedures and work practices as part of a small work team.

This unit applies to workers who have a key role in maintaining WHS in an organisation, including duty of care for other workers.

The skills in this unit must be applied in accordance with Commonwealth and State/Territory legislation, Australian/New Zealand standards and industry codes of practice.

ELEMENT

PERFORMANCE CRITERIA

Performance criteria specify the level of performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.

Elements define the essential outcomes.

Performance criteria specify the level of performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.

1. Contribute to workplace procedures for identifying hazards and controlling risks

1.1 Identify existing and potential hazards and record them according to workplace procedures

1.2 Contribute to the development of strategies for implementing risk controls in line with workplace procedures and policies

1.3 Implement risk controls in line with the hierarchy of risk control and workplace and legislative requirements

1.4 Identify and report issues with risk controls, including residual risk, in line with workplace and legislative requirements

2. Implement policies and procedures into work team processes

2.1 Regularly provide information about WHS policies and procedures to the work team

2.2 Provide information about identified hazards and the outcomes of risk assessment and risk controls to the work team

2.3 Monitor housekeeping practices to ensure that WHS policies and procedures are followed

2.4 Maintain WHS incident records in the work area according to workplace procedures and legislative requirements

3. Support consultation, cooperation and communication

3.1 Support workplace consultative procedures by encouraging work team participation in consultative activities

3.2 Report health and safety issues in line with workplace procedures and legislative requirements

3.3 Encourage and assist work team members to contribute to WHS

Foundation Skills

The Foundation Skills describe those required skills (language, literacy, numeracy and employment skills) that are essential to performance.

- Written communication – in order to complete a workplace risk assessment and complete a workplace incident report in line with regulatory guidelines and organisational policies
- Oral communication – in order to accurately present information to a small group of at least two participants

The remaining foundation skills essential to performance are explicit in the performance criteria of this unit

Performance Evidence

The candidate must show evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage tasks and manage contingencies in the context of the job role.

There must be demonstrated evidence that the candidate has completed the following tasks at least once in line with state/territory WHS regulations, relevant codes of practice and workplace procedures:

- conducted a workplace risk assessment and recorded the results, including:
  - identification of hazards and potential hazards
  - risk assessment
  - strategies for minimising risk, and
  - analysis of residual risk
- provided WHS information to at least two workers, including:
  - explanation of WHS policies and procedures
  - demonstration of safe housekeeping practices
  - correct use of personal protective equipment (PPE)

- consistently monitored safety procedures in the day-to-day work activities required by the job role
- completed a workplace incident report
- followed workplace procedures for a simulated emergency situation

Knowledge Evidence

The candidate must be able to demonstrate essential knowledge required to effectively complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage tasks and manage contingencies in the context of the work role. This includes knowledge of:

- State/territory legislation and how it impacts on workplace regulations, codes of practice and industry standards, including:
  - state/territory WHS authorities
  - rights and responsibilities of persons conducting a business or undertaking (PCBUs), officers and workers, including duty of care
  - legislative requirements for record-keeping and reporting
  - regulatory requirements relevant to the particular industry/type of work site
  - hazardous manual tasks
  - infection control
- Hazards common to the work environment and how they cause harm
- Principles of hazards and risk assessment, including:
  - hazard identification procedures
  - risk assessment process
  - residual risk
  - risk controls
  - hierarchy of control
- Workplace emergency procedures
- Workplace policies and procedures for WHS.

Assessment Conditions

Skills must be demonstrated in the workplace.

In addition, simulations and scenarios must be used where the full range of contexts and situations cannot be provided in the workplace or may occur only rarely. These are situations relating to emergency or unplanned procedures where assessment in these circumstances would be unsafe or is impractical.

Simulated assessment environments must simulate the real-life working environment where these skills and knowledge would be performed, with all the relevant equipment and resources of that working environment.

Assessment must ensure use of:

- current workplace policies and procedures for WHS.

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisations (RTOs) 2015/AQTF mandatory competency requirements for assessors.

HLTWHS005 Conduct manual tasks safely

Modification History

Release	Comments
Release 1	This version was released in HLT Health Training Package release 2.0 and meets the requirements of the 2012 Standards for Training Packages. Significant changes to the elements and performance criteria. New evidence requirements for assessment, including volume and frequency requirements. Significant change to knowledge evidence.

Application

This unit describes the skills and knowledge required to recognise potentially hazardous manual tasks, and then to prepare for and complete those tasks in a safe manner.

This unit applies to all workers involved in manual handling tasks.

The skills in this unit must be applied in accordance with Commonwealth and State/Territory legislation, Australian/New Zealand standards and industry codes of practice. The Hazardous manual tasks code of practice applies to this work.

ELEMENT

Elements define the essential outcomes

1. Identify manual tasks involving risk

PERFORMANCE CRITERIA

Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element

- 1.1 Recognise manual tasks that may involve risk to self or others
- 1.2 Identify risk factors that make the manual task hazardous
- 1.3 Determine the nature and extent of the risk
- 1.4 Follow organisation procedures for controlling

2. Prepare for manual tasks

2.1 Prepare workplace layout and environment according to organisation procedures

2.2 Organise task and workflow appropriately

2.3 Prepare and package loads for movement, taking account of specific requirements for different materials and organisation procedures

2.4 Select and use personal protective equipment appropriate to the task

2.5 Ensure task is within personal capabilities

3. Complete manual tasks

3.1 Use appropriate posture and handling techniques to reduce muscle load on exertion

3.2 Select, adjust and use mechanical aids and handling devices according to manufacturers instructions

3.3 Pace and schedule tasks according to procedures

4. Contribute to safe work practices

4.1 Identify hazardous manual tasks and report to supervisor according to organisation procedures

4.2 Follow organisation procedures for reporting symptoms of injury or actual injury to self and others

4.3 Participate in workplace safety activities and contribute to the improvement of manual tasks

4.4 Contribute to risk management approach to reduce risks from manual tasks

Assessment Requirements for HLTWHS005 Conduct manual tasks safely

Modification History

Release	Comments
Release 1	This version was released in HLT Health Training Package release 2.0 and meets the requirements of the 2012 Standards for Training Packages. Significant changes to the elements and performance criteria. New evidence requirements for assessment, including volume and frequency requirements. Significant change to knowledge evidence.

Performance Evidence

The candidate must show evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage tasks and manage contingencies in the context of the job role. There must be evidence that the candidate has:

- followed legally compliant workplace procedures to prepare for and complete at least 3 different manual tasks relevant to the work role
- contributed to a consultation process about improving manual handling safety

Knowledge Evidence

The candidate must be able to demonstrate essential knowledge required to effectively complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage tasks and manage contingencies in the context of the work role. This includes knowledge of:

- key information from work health and safety (WHS) regulations relating to manual tasks and national code of practice
- role and responsibilities of the employer and employees in relation to manual handling safety
- ways in which individual workers are involved in consultation about workplace health and safety
- reporting mechanisms required for workplace injury and compensation claims
- key aspects of the risk management approach to manual tasks
- risk factors and potential sources of risks of hazardous manual tasks:
  - repetition

- forces
- postures
- vibration
- systems of work
- types of manual task activity and the types of injuries that can result
- the relationship between the human body and risk of injury from performing manual tasks
- functions of the human body:
  - basic function of the spine
  - body postures
  - types of muscles
  - principles of levers
- manual handling techniques that support safe work practice:
  - preparing the load/client
  - preparing the environment
  - using the stronger muscles in the legs where possible, rather than spinal muscles
  - maintaining a neutral spine when lifting and carrying
  - using two hands to lift or carry
  - keeping the load close to the body/centre of gravity
  - avoiding lifting objects above shoulder height
  - minimising repetitive movements
  - positions not held for long periods of time
  - avoiding twisting by repositioning feet whilst turning
- types and operational features of mechanical aids, tools and equipment

Assessment Conditions

Skills must have been demonstrated in the workplace or in a simulated environment that reflects workplace conditions. The following conditions must be met for this unit:

- use of suitable facilities, equipment and resources, including:
  - compliant workplace procedures
  - materials, loads and equipment as required by the individual workplace
- modelling of industry operating conditions, including:
  - presence of hazards
  - integration of situations requiring problem solving

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisations (RTOs) 2015/AQTF mandatory competency requirements for assessors.

ICTDBS409 Monitor and administer a database

Modification History

Release	Comments
Release 1	This version first released with ICT Information and Communications Technology Training Package Version 1.0.

Application

This unit describes the skills and knowledge required to manage databases including start up, operation, testing, monitoring and maintenance, in accordance with organisational requirements.

It applies to individuals employed as database support staff who are required to maintain a database, monitor its performance and access, as well as to administer its security.

No licensing, legislative or certification requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

Elements and Performance Criteria

ELEMENT	PERFORMANCE CRITERIA
Elements describe the essential outcomes.	Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.
1. Start up a database	1.1 Configure the system for a database start-up 1.2 Monitor the database start-up and operation for irregularities
2. Manage the database	2.1 Take action to ensure that a data dictionary has been compiled and that data structures are in place 2.2 Maintain data integrity constraints, according to business requirements

	2.3 Create and design indexes, and multiple-field keys, according to business requirements 2.4 Monitor the locking options chosen for the database 2.5 Confirm that recent backups of the database have been stored, and that backups can be retrieved as a full working copy 2.6 Monitor data storage space for ongoing viability, and resize as needed 2.7 Update the data according to organisational guidelines
3. Manage database access	3.1 Allocate or remove access privileges according to user status 3.2 Monitor network server log-in log file for illegal log-in attempts, or for security breaches 3.3 Manage system resources in the context of database administration
4. Document database maintenance tasks	4.1 Document changes to database start-up procedures 4.2 Itemise database management structures 4.3 File authorisations for access changes 4.4 Detail the procedures for monitoring log files 4.5 Record the procedures to manage systems resources

Assessment Requirements for ICTDBS409 Monitor and administer a database

Modification History

Release	Comments
Release 1	This version first released with ICT Information and Communications Technology Training Package Version 1.0.

Performance Evidence

Evidence of the ability to:

- configure a database start-up
- confirm data integrity
- monitor data storage requirements for database
- update data
- update database access.

Note: If a specific volume or frequency is not stated, then evidence must be provided at least once.

Knowledge Evidence

To complete the unit requirements safely and effectively, the individual must:

- outline backup and recovery methodologies
- explain the architectural design of relational databases
- explain the concept of database security
- outline the process involved in the selection and use of appropriate database management tools
- explain the principles of structured query language (SQL)
- outline the tasks involved in database administration
- outline the tuning methodologies.

Assessment Conditions

Gather evidence to demonstrate consistent performance in conditions that are safe and replicate the workplace. Noise levels, production flow, interruptions and time variances must be typical of those experienced in the database field of work, and include access to:

- industry software packages
- a live database, preferably on a local area network (LAN) on which there is a server that offers log-in functionality.

Assessors must satisfy NVR/AQTF assessor requirements.

Assessment Requirements for ICTICT103 Use, communicate and search securely on the internet

Modification History

Release	Comments
Release 1	This version first released with ICT Information and Communications Technology Training Package Version 1.0.

Performance Evidence

Evidence of the ability to:

- connect to and access the internet
- send and receive emails
- secure internet access and email communications
- use search tools to locate information
- use different internet search techniques
- research and select appropriate website
- undertake online transactions
- assess the accuracy, currency, authority and reliability of the site and information located.

Note: If a specific volume or frequency is not stated, then evidence must be provided at least once.

Knowledge Evidence

To complete the unit requirements safely and effectively, the individual must :

- list basic technical terminology related to reading help files and prompts
- describe the basics of copyright and privacy statements
- explain different types of messages that occur, including error messages and messages to install plug-ins
- list different types of search engines and web browsers
- list procedures for using email applications
- list procedures for evaluating and assessing the authority, reliability and authenticity of information
- outline internet search functions
- describe internet speed and traffic loads related to times of accessing the internet
- describe the makeup and structure of internet addresses

- list organisational guidelines on internet and email use (web etiquette or netiquette)
- describe business process related to online transactions
- describe web browser update techniques
- explain what key words and bookmarks are used for.

Assessment Conditions

Gather evidence to demonstrate consistent performance in conditions that are safe and replicate the workplace. Noise levels, production flow, interruptions and time variances must be typical of those experienced in the general information and communications technology (ICT) industry, and include access to:

- a personal computer or digital device with internet
- search engines currently used in industry
- organisational policies on internet usage.

Assessors must satisfy NVR/AQTF assessor requirements.

ICTICT203 Operate application software packages

Modification History

Release	Comments
Release 1	This version first released with ICT Information and Communications Technology Training Package Version 1.0.

Application

This unit describes the skills and knowledge required to identify, select and operate three commercial software packages, including a word-processing and a spreadsheet application package.

It applies to individuals who utilise different software applications within a small to large office environment to produce diverse documents.

No licensing, legislative or certification requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

Unit Sector

General ICT

Elements and Performance Criteria

Elements describe the essential outcomes.	Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.
1. Use appropriate workplace health and safety (WHS) office work practices	1.1 Use safe work practices to ensure ergonomic, work organisation, energy and resource conservation requirements are addressed 1.2 Use wrist rests and document holders where appropriate 1.3 Use monitor anti-glare and radiation reduction screens where appropriate
2. Use appropriate	2.1 Select word-processing software appropriate to perform

word-processing software	activity 2.2 Identify document purpose, audience and presentation requirements, and clarify with personnel as required 2.3 Identify organisational requirements for text-based business documents, and design document structure and layout to ensure consistency of style and image 2.4 Match document requirements with software functions to provide efficient production of documents 2.5 Use technical functions, other data and formatting to finalise documents 2.6 Ensure the naming and storing of documents in appropriate directories or folders and the printing of documents to the required specifications
3. Use appropriate spreadsheet software	3.1 Select spreadsheet software appropriate to perform activity 3.2 Identify document purpose, audience and presentation requirements, and clarify with personnel as required 3.3 Enter simple formulas and functions using cell referencing where required 3.4 Customise spreadsheet settings to meet requirements 3.5 Ensure the naming and storing of documents in appropriate directories or folders and the printing of documents to the required specifications
4. Use a third application software package	4.1 Select software application package appropriate to perform activity 4.2 Identify purpose, audience and presentation requirements, and clarify with personnel as required 4.3 Use technical functions, other data and formatting to finalise documents 4.4 Ensure documents are named and stored in appropriate directories or folders and printed to required specifications

Foundation Skills

This section describes language, literacy, numeracy and employment skills incorporated in the performance criteria that are required for competent performance.

Assessment Requirements for ICTICT203 Operate application software packages

Modification History

Release	Comments
Release 1	This version first released with ICT Information and Communications Technology Training Package Version 1.0.

Performance Evidence

Evidence of the ability to:

- produce workplace documents using a minimum of three different software application packages
- open, amend and save files and documents according to organisational requirements
- apply workplace health and safety (WHS) principles and responsibilities for ergonomics, such as work periods and breaks
- use help manuals and online help.

Note: If a specific volume or frequency is not stated, then evidence must be provided at least once.

Knowledge Evidence

To complete the unit requirements safely and effectively, the individual must:

- identify application software packages used by the organisation and list the purpose of each
- explain basic technical terminology related to reading help files and responding to system help prompts
- outline current business practices related to using software to prepare reports
- list features and functions of commercial computing packages
- describe import and export software functions
- describe the process of linking documents
- outline WHS principles and responsibilities for ergonomics, such as work periods and breaks
- explain the purpose of input and output devices.

Assessment Conditions

Gather evidence to demonstrate consistent performance in conditions that are safe and replicate the workplace. Noise levels, production flow, interruptions and time variances must be typical of those experienced in the general information and communications technology (ICT) industry, and include access to:

- a personal computer (PC) and printer
- software currently used in industry
- documents detailing organisational style guide and policy
- documents or information containing data suitable for developing software application documents.

Assessors must satisfy NVR/AQTF assessor requirements.

Assessment Requirements for ICTICT214 Operate application software packages

Modification History

Release	Comments
Release 1	This version first released with ICT Information and Communications Technology Training Package Version 6.0.

Performance Evidence

The candidate must demonstrate the ability to complete the tasks outlined in the elements, performance criteria and foundation skills of this unit, including evidence of the ability to:

- produce three workplace documents using three different software packages including word processing, spreadsheets and one additional software application package on at least one occasion.

In the course of the above, the candidate must:

- apply workplace health and safety (WHS) principles and responsibilities
- follow organisational requirements.

Knowledge Evidence

The candidate must be able to demonstrate knowledge to complete the tasks outlined in the elements, performance criteria and foundation skills of this unit, including knowledge of:

- organisational application software packages
- technical terminology applicable to reading help files and responding to system help prompts
- industry standard business practices applicable to preparing reports using
- features and functions of commercial computing packages and of the industry standard software
- functions and features of Portable Document Formats (PDFs)
- import and export software functions
- document linking functions
- WHS principles and responsibilities
- purpose of input and output devices.

Assessment Conditions

Skills in this unit must be demonstrated in a workplace or simulated environment where the conditions are typical of those in a working environment in this industry.

This includes access to:

- required hardware device
- industry standard software
- documents detailing organisational style guide and policy
- data required in developing software application documents.

Assessors of this unit must satisfy the requirements for assessors in applicable vocational education and training legislation, frameworks and/or standards.

ICTICT308 Use advanced features of computer applications

Modification History

Release	Comments
Release 1	This version first released with ICT Information and Communications Technology Training Package Version 1.0.

Application

This unit describes the skills and knowledge required to use computer applications employing advanced features. It involves manipulating data and accessing support resources to solve routine problems.

It applies to individuals who have achieved a degree of autonomy as advanced information and communications technology (ICT) users, and support information technology activities in software applications.

No licensing, legislative or certification requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

Unit Sector

General ICT

Elements and Performance Criteria

ELEMENT	PERFORMANCE CRITERIA
Elements describe the essential outcomes.	Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.
1. Manipulate data	1.1 Employ advanced features of applications in the preparation and presentation of data 1.2 Transfer data between applications, linking and embedding related data files as required 1.3 Create and employ objects, macros and templates for routine activities

	1.4 Use shortcuts and features to increase personal productivity
2. Access and use support resources	2.1 Solve routine problems using support resources 2.2 Use online help to overcome difficulties with applications 2.3 Solve problems with manuals and training booklets 2.4 Access and apply technical support for system problems, using troubleshooting results and alert messages

Foundation Skills

This section describes language, literacy, numeracy and employment skills incorporated in the performance criteria that are required for competent performance.

Skill	Performance Criteria	Description
Reading	2.1-2.4	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Identifies and interprets a variety of hard copy, online and software generated technical information containing software specific language, syntax and code to apply features and functions of applications to their fullest extent and to solve problems</li> </ul>
Oral Communication	2.1, 2.4	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Discusses and resolves problems using technical terms and language, and effective listening and questioning techniques</li> </ul>
Get the work done	1.1-1.4, 2.1-2.4	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Understands key principles and concepts underpinning the design and operation of digital systems and tools, and applies these when troubleshooting existing technology</li> </ul>

Assessment Requirements for ICTICT308 Use advanced features of computer applications

Modification History

Release	Comments
Release 1	This version first released with ICT Information and Communications Technology Training Package Version 1.0.

Performance Evidence

Evidence of the ability to:

- use at least three computer applications employing advanced features and import and export capacities for efficiency and productivity purposes
- solve routine problems using support resources.

Knowledge Evidence

To complete the unit requirements safely and effectively, the individual must:

- outline the basic features and functions of relevant operating systems software and system tools
- outline relevant vendor product directions in computer applications
- identify commonly available vendor applications and their features.

Assessment Conditions

Gather evidence to demonstrate consistent performance in conditions that are safe and replicate the workplace. Noise levels, production flow, interruptions and time variances must be typical of those experienced in the general information and communications technology (ICT) industry, and include access to:

- a site where advanced features of computer applications may be used
- computer applications currently used in industry
- documents or information containing data suitable to demonstrate advanced features of computer applications
- support resources, including online, manuals and training booklets.

Assessors must satisfy NVR/AQTF assessor requirements.

ICTWEB201 Use social media tools for collaboration and engagement

Modification History

Release	Comments
Release 1	This version first released with ICT Information and Communications Technology Training Package Version 1.0.

Application

This unit describes the skills and knowledge required to establish a social networking presence, using social media tools and applications. It includes the requirement to review, compare, and use different types of social networking tools and applications.

It applies to information and communications technology (ICT) personnel who need to develop a social networking web presence for a small or large office environment, using social media tools and applications.

No licensing, legislative or certification requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

Unit Sector

Elements and Performance Criteria

Elements describe the essential outcomes.	Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.
1. Describe the different types of social media tools and applications	1.1 Explain the characteristics of the term 'social media' 1.2 Identify different types of social-media tools and applications 1.3 Illustrate some of the issues associated with the use of social media tools and applications

2. Compare different types of social media tools and applications	2.1 Select one social media type to review 2.2 Review the most popular tools, and applications, within that social media type 2.3 Itemise the benefits across a range of the most popular tools and applications 2.4 Select the most appropriate social media tool or application
3. Set up and use, popular social media tools and applications	3.1 Identify the social media tools and applications available for possible implementation 3.2 Initiate the preferred social media tools, and applications, for use 3.3 Establish the social media interface, using text and file content 3.4 Initiate social networking interaction 3.5 Test and evaluate tools, and applications, for ease of use 3.6 Present the findings

Assessment Requirements for ICTWEB201 Use social media tools for collaboration and engagement

Modification History

Release	Comments
Release 1	This version first released with ICT Information and Communications Technology Training Package Version 1.0.

Performance Evidence

Evidence of the ability to:

- identify different types of social media tools and applications, and the issues associated with their use
- access the internet, set up a social networking presence and upload and link a wide variety of files
- use and evaluate social media tools and applications.

Note: If a specific volume or frequency is not stated, then evidence must be provided at least once.

Knowledge Evidence

To complete the unit requirements safely and effectively, the individual must:

- list basic technical terminology in relation to social networking, social media applications, and tools
- outline basic methods of uploading images, text files, portable document format (PDF) files, audio files, video files, and link the associated files
- state the features, and functions, of social media applications
- list import and export software functions
- explain how to link documents
- explain the process of tagging, in order to facilitate collaborative folksonomy
- list social media applications and procedures, for connecting to social networking sites
- identify and describe, input and output devices
- describe, and use, really simple syndication (RSS) feeds to connect a social network.

Assessment Conditions

Gather evidence to demonstrate consistent performance in conditions that are safe and replicate the workplace. Noise levels, production flow, interruptions and time variances must be typical of those experienced in the website technologies field of work, and include access to:

- a personal computer (PC) and printer
- the internet
- social-media tools and applications
- online instructional documents.

Assessors must satisfy NVR/AQTF assessor requirements.

MARO003 Transmit and receive information by the global maritime distress and safety system

Modification History

Release 2. Change to RoC to include current terminology Mapping information has been corrected.

Release 1. New unit of competency.

Application

This unit involves the skills and knowledge required to transmit and receive information by global maritime distress and safety system (GMDSS) subsystems and equipment.

This unit applies to those in charge of or performing radio duties on a ship required to participate in the GMDSS.

This unit has links to legislative and certification requirements.

Pre-requisite Unit

Not applicable.

Competency Field

O – Watchkeeping

Unit Sector

Not applicable.

Elements and Performance Criteria

Elements describe the essential outcomes.

Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.

1 Operate GMDSS subsystems and equipment to send and receive messages

1.1 GMDSS communication equipment is operated to send and receive various types of signals according to manufacturer instructions, established GMDSS procedures and regulatory requirements

- 1.2 GMDSS procedures appropriate for the sea area concerned are correctly applied according to regulatory requirements
  - 1.3 Regulations and procedures applicable to vessel stations equipped with GMDSS communication equipment and digital selective calling facilities are applied during radio communication
  - 1.4 Work health and safety/occupational health and safety (WHS/OHS) procedures and hazard control strategies are applied when operating radio equipment according to vessel International Management Code for the Safe Operation of Ships and for Pollution Prevention (ISM) Code safety management system
- 2 Maintain radio equipment
- 2.1 Routine maintenance checks are conducted on GMDSS equipment according to manufacturer specifications and organisational procedures
  - 2.2 Out-of-specification performance and faults are investigated using fault finding techniques
  - 2.3 Identified faults and defective equipment and component parts are rectified or replaced according to manufacturer specifications and organisational procedures
- 3 Provide radio services during emergencies
- 3.1 Emergencies are correctly identified according to organisational procedures
  - 3.2 Organisational procedures are conformed with when taking initial action on becoming aware of an emergency or abnormal situation
  - 3.3 Communications are established with others using GMDSS communication equipment to facilitate the emergency response process
  - 3.4 Contact is maintained at all times with others to keep them briefed on the emergency response process
  - 3.5 Radio procedures as defined in the international and national radio regulations and safety of life at sea (SOLAS) convention and the IAMSAR Manual are applied during the emergency
- 4 Maintain records
- 4.1 Records are completed and maintained as required according to regulatory and organisational requirements
  - 4.2 Relevant records are sent to appropriate bodies and copies are filed according to regulatory and organisational requirements

- 4.3 Documents are stored according to regulatory and organisational requirements

Foundation Skills

Foundation skills essential to performance are explicit in the performance criteria of this unit of competency.

Range of Conditions

Range is restricted to essential operating conditions and any other variables essential to the work environment.

GMDSS communication equipment must include:

- antennas
- batteries
- digital selective calling (DSC) equipment
- electrical and radio cable connections
- electrical fuses
- emergency position indicating radio beacon (EPIRB)
- enhanced group calling (EGC) receiver
- medium frequency/high frequency (MF/HF) equipment
- Narrow Band Direct Printing (NBDP)
- navigational telex (NAVTEX) receiver
- search and rescue radar transponder r (RADAR-SART)
- very high frequency (VHF) equipment
- AIS search and rescue transmitter (AIS-SART)

Regulations must include:

- IMO STCW 95 Code concerning radio communication
- Australian Maritime Safety Authority (AMSA) Marine Orders
- SOLAS Convention Chapter IV
- ITU Radio
- Regulations

Routine maintenance checks must include:

- battery checks including specific gravity
- equipment testing

Emergencies include one

- abandon ship
- assisting vessels in distress

or more of the following:

- fire on board ship
- partial or full breakdown of radio installations
- rescuing persons from the water

Records include one of the following:

- radio communication log
- records of radio communication

Unit Mapping Information

This unit replaces and is equivalent to MARO5002A Transmit and receive information by the Global Maritime Distress and Safety System.

Assessment Requirements for MARO003 Transmit and receive information by the global maritime distress and safety system

Modification History

Release 2. Change to Performance Evidence (PE) and Knowledge Evidence (KE) to include current terminology. Clarification of guidance information in PE, KE and Assessment Conditions.

Release 1. New unit of competency.

Performance Evidence

Evidence required to demonstrate competence in this unit must be relevant to and satisfy all of the requirements of the elements, performance criteria and range of conditions on at least one occasion and include:

- applying work health and safety/occupational health and safety (WHS/OHS) procedures when operating GMDSS subsystems and equipment
- communicating effectively with others when using GMDSS subsystems and equipment
- conducting operational checks on GMDSS subsystems and equipment
- keeping records of radio communications
- operating GMDSS subsystems and equipment according to manufacturer instructions
- reading and interpreting instructions for the use of GMDSS subsystems and equipment
- recognising typical faults with GMDSS subsystems and equipment, and taking appropriate action
- using the international phonetic alphabet and figure code.

Knowledge Evidence

Evidence required to demonstrate competence in this unit must be relevant to and satisfy all of the requirements of the elements, performance criteria and range of conditions and include knowledge of:

- basic principles and features of marine radio communications including:
  - correct use of frequencies, frequency bands and modes of emission
  - frequencies for routine call and reply
  - distress, urgency and safety communication
  - definition of coverage and sea areas for digital selective calling (DSC)
  - radio calling, replying and relaying procedures
  - purpose of silence periods when operating radio equipment
  - limitations on the performance of different types of marine radio equipment

- purpose for and procedures for the monitoring of calling and working frequencies
- methods of communicating vessel position
- different types of marine radio equipment, their features, applications, operating characteristics and operating procedures
- hazards associated with radio transmission and the repair and maintenance of radio equipment and related hazard control measures
- international and national radio regulations applicable to mobile marine communication
- maintenance strategies and requirements for GMDSS equipment as defined in the International Convention for the Safety of Life at Sea (SOLAS) and Radio Regulations and STCW
- means to prevent the transmission of false distress alerts
- operational checks including checking radio performance; testing fuses; measuring capacity of batteries and the specific gravity of the electrolyte; measuring on and off load voltage
- principles of radio propagation including:
  - basic propagation mechanisms at LF, MF, HF and VHF
  - maximum usable frequency (MUF)
  - optimum working frequency (OWF)
  - frequency bands
  - classes of emission
  - duplex, simplex paired frequencies and ITU channels
- procedures for:
  - keeping records of radio communication
  - transmitting and decoding the international phonetic alphabet and figure code
  - using various GMDSS systems and services including Inmarsat services (B, C, M); enhanced group calling system (EGC); MF/HF radio with NBDP; DSC facilities and usage; EGC receiver; maritime safety information (MSI) services; navigational telex (NAVTEX) system; SafetyNET system
- prohibitions on connecting non-GMDSS equipment to reserve source of supply
- radio communication problems and appropriate actions and solutions
- radio equipment faults, defects and related fault finding techniques
- requirements of ship reporting systems
- types, applications and features of basic antenna systems used in marine radio communications
- use of radio medical services.

Assessment Conditions

Assessors must satisfy National Vocational Education and Training Regulator (NVR)/Australian Quality Training Framework (AQTF) assessor requirements.

Assessment must satisfy the National Vocational Education and Training Regulator (NVR)/Australian Quality Training Framework (AQTF) standards.

Assessment must occur in workplace operational situations where it is appropriate to do so; where this is not appropriate, assessment must occur in simulated workplace operational situations that reflect workplace conditions.

Assessment processes and techniques must be appropriate to the language, literacy and numeracy requirements of the work being performed and the needs of the candidate.

Resources for assessment must include access to:

- tools, equipment, machinery, materials and personal protective equipment currently used in industry
- applicable documentation such as legislation, regulations, codes of practice, workplace procedures and operational manuals
- range of relevant exercises, case studies and/or simulations.

MEM13015 Work safely and effectively in manufacturing and engineering

Modification History

Release 1. New unit. Supersedes and not equivalent to MEM13014A Apply principles of occupational health and safety in the work environment, MEM14004A Plan to undertake a routine task, MEM15002A Apply quality systems, MEM15024A Apply quality procedures, MEM16007A Work with others in a manufacturing, engineering or related environment.

Application

This unit of competency defines the skills and knowledge required to work effectively in manufacturing and engineering work situations, including planning routine work and participating in and following work health and safety (WHS) procedures. The unit applies to working either individually or in a team situation and includes contributing to work-related group activities in a manufacturing or engineering workplace.

This unit covers WHS skills associated with carrying out routine operational activities safely and in compliance with legislative and regulatory requirements.

The unit covers the skills associated with participation in quality systems, communication and cooperation with others. The unit applies to workplaces with informal or formal quality management and improvement systems.

No licensing, legislative or certification requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

Foundation Skills

This section describes those required skills (reading, writing, oral communication and numeracy) that are essential to workplace performance in this unit of competency.

Foundation skills essential to performance are explicit in the performance criteria of this unit of competency.

Range of Conditions

This field allows for different work environments and conditions that may affect performance. Essential operating conditions that may be present (depending on the work situation, needs of the candidate, accessibility of the item, and local industry and regional contexts) are included.

Quality systems include one (1) or more of the following

- quality planning
- quality assurance
- quality control
- quality improvement procedures and processes

Task requirements include one (1) or more of the following:

- timeframe
- quality requirements
- outcome and performance requirements
- job history
- checks
- reporting requirements
- tools and equipment
- materials and parts
- supporting documents

Specifications include one (1) or more of the following:

- task lists
- instructions
- manufacturer manuals
- diagrams and schematics
- sketches
- parts lists
- SOPs

Planning includes one (1) or more of the following:

- preparing a plan to complete the task
- organising task into manageable steps including appropriate order and timing
- monitoring the progress of processes related to own responsibilities
- applying relevant WHS instructions
- collecting, sorting, recording results of work
- seeking advice and guidance on setting priorities and timeframes

This field allows for different work environments and conditions that may affect performance. Essential operating conditions that may be present (depending on the work situation, needs of the candidate, accessibility of the item, and local industry and regional contexts) are included.

- seeking feedback from supervisor, trainer or mentor

Performance Evidence

Evidence required to demonstrate competence in this unit must be relevant to and satisfy the requirements of the elements and performance criteria on at least two (2) occasions and include:

- following work instructions, standard operating procedures (SOPs) and safe work practices
- identifying and avoiding or controlling hazards
- reporting hazards, incidents, injuries and other work health and safety (WHS) non-conformances following SOPs
- recognising and responding to emergencies following SOPs
- identifying and obtaining, instructions and information on job requirements, including one or more of the following:
  - verbal or written job instructions
  - specifications
  - SOPs
  - charts
  - lists
- identifying and responding to contingencies, including:
  - equipment breakdowns
  - non-conforming components
  - safety hazards
- recording information into proforma workplace documents, including:
  - production tally forms
  - quality control forms
  - safety incident forms
- performing assigned tasks and checking outcome of own work for conformance to specifications
- identifying own responsibilities within the workplace quality system
- giving and receiving feedback on own and group work
- seeking assistance from supervisors and mentors.

Knowledge Evidence

Evidence required to demonstrate the required knowledge for this unit must be relevant to and satisfy all of the requirements of the elements and performance criteria and include knowledge of:

- safe work practices and procedures and use and application of personal protective equipment
- basic quality system terminology and concept, including:
  - quality assurance
  - quality control
  - quality improvement
- procedures to be followed in performing own work
- objectives, requirements and specifications to which the individual's work is to comply
- costs and consequences of poor quality
- effective interpersonal skills:
  - effective listening
  - basic speaking skills
  - use of workplace terminology and jargon
  - giving and receiving feedback
  - checking and clarifying task-related information
  - verbal, visual and written instructions
  - appropriate modes and methods of communication
- barriers to effective communication
- sources of technical expertise/assistance
- hazards and control measures associated with workplace activities.

Assessment Conditions

- Assessors must:
  - have vocational competency in working safely and effectively in manufacturing and engineering at least to the level being assessed with relevant industry knowledge and experience
  - satisfy the assessor requirements in the Standards for Registered Training Organisations 2015 or its replacement and comply with the National Vocational Education and Training Regulator Act 2011, its replacement or equivalent legislation covering VET regulation in a non-referring state/territory as the case requires
- Where possible assessment must occur in operational workplace situations. Where this is not possible or where personal safety or environmental damage are limiting factors, assessment must occur in a sufficiently rigorous simulated environment that reflects realistic operational workplace conditions. This must cover all aspects of workplace performance, including environment, task skills, task management skills, contingency management skills and job role environment skills

- Conditions for assessment must include access to all tools, equipment, materials and documentation required, including relevant workplace procedures, product and manufacturing specifications
- Assessment processes and techniques must be appropriate to the language, literacy and numeracy requirements of the work being performed and the needs of the candidate.

MEM50008 Carry out trip preparation and planning

Modification History

Release 1. Supersedes and is equivalent to MEM50008B Carry out trip preparation and planning

Application

This unit of competency was developed by the National Marine Safety Committee (NMSC) and defines the skills and knowledge required to plan and prepare for a safe boating trip and includes maintenance of the boat and safety equipment as well as mooring and berthing apparatus.

This unit is one of three core competencies that have been adopted by all government marine safety authorities to contribute to and promote the safe use of waterways and awareness of boating safety and applies specifically to mechanically powered recreational boats, including personal watercraft. However, it is recognised that some aspects of this competency apply to any recreational vessel.

Where general operational checks and basic assessment of the condition of a vessel are required units MEM50006 Check operational capability of marine craft and MEM50007 Check operational capability of sails and sail operating equipment should be selected as appropriate.

Unit MEM50009 Safely operate a mechanically powered recreational boat and unit MEM50010 Respond to boating emergencies and incidents are the other two NMSC core units.

No licensing, legislative or certification requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

Elements and Performance Criteria

Elements describe the essential outcomes.

Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.

1	Maintain the boat and safety equipment	1.1	Follow standard operating procedures (SOPs)
		1.2	Comply with work health and safety (WHS) requirements at all times
		1.3	Ensure boat is maintained/serviced on a regular basis
		1.4	Ensure safety equipment complies with relevant legislation
		1.5	Identify location of safety equipment ensuring it is serviceable and accessible, and stowed securely and appropriately
2	Maintain mooring and berthing apparatus	2.1	Maintain/service mooring and berthing apparatus on a regular basis
		2.2	Ensure mooring apparatus is appropriate to the vessel and location
3	Plan trip	3.1	Check weather conditions, vessel and personnel for suitability for planned trip
		3.2	Ensure trip activity plan takes into account area and type of operation and emergency contact
		3.3	Carry out adequate provisions, including fuel, for trip
		3.4	Communicate trip details to appropriate person
		3.5	Check to ensure the number of passengers does not exceed boat design limitations and/or legislative requirements
		3.6	Check to ensure equipment, stores and personal items are securely stowed and do not adversely affects the boat's stability

Elements describe the essential outcomes.

Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.

3.7 Conduct pre-start checks on equipment operation

3.8 Inform appropriate person of safe return from the activity

Safety equipment includes the following:

- life jackets
- bailers
- dinghy/life raft
- paddles/oars
- bilge pumps
- bucket and line
- first aid kit
- fire extinguisher
- distress signalling equipment
- marine radio
- waterproof torch
- charts
- anchor/sea anchor
- lifebuoy
- compass
- sound signal
- drinking water
- towing harness
- isolating switches
- tow rope
- local emergency procedures book
- sounding equipment
- emergency position-indicating radio beacon (EPIRB)
- global positioning system (GPS)
- divers flag
- suitable clothing
- alternative means of propulsion

Maintaining/servicing mooring and berthing apparatus includes the following:

- appropriateness of mooring/berthing
- regularity of checks
- services by recognised contractor
- serviceable mooring and berthing lines, fenders, anchors and ground tackle

This field allows for different work environments and conditions that may affect performance. Essential operating conditions that may be present (depending on the work situation, needs of the candidate, accessibility of the item, and local industry and regional contexts) are included.

- latest weather and conditions information
- source of weather information
- tides (flood and ebb tides)
- rips and bars
- wave height
- visibility
- day/night

Area and type of operation includes the following:

- hazards
- local knowledge
- rules and protocols
- events
- emergency response
- access and exit points
- safe havens
- launching ramps
- destination port

- suitability of the vessel for the activity
- adequate fuel for the distance
- water, food and ice
- sun protection
- wet weather gear
- first aid kit
- personal medications
- batteries
- gas
- emergency (reserve) fuel and method of fuel transfer

This field allows for different work environments and conditions that may affect performance. Essential operating conditions that may be present (depending on the work situation, needs of the candidate, accessibility of the item, and local industry and regional contexts) are included.

Trip details include the following:

- trip departure and return time
- number of people in the boat
- area and nature of operation
- way points
- radio used and frequency
- call signs
- details of vessel, including description and registration number
- shore contact details
- fuel capacity and usage
- trailer registration number

Appropriate person includes one (1) or more of the following:

- family member or relative
- neighbour(s)
- police - water or local
- marine rescue services
- club or organisation
- harbour master
- costal radio station
- leave a note in your vehicle parked at the departure location (if appropriate)

Pre-start checks include the following:

- fuel is connected
- battery is charged and connected
- kill switch
- fumes and petrol
- fuel and water leaks
- hatches/windows/doors are open
- ventilation
- sea-cock opening
- loose gear is secured
- marine radio is turned on and radio aerials raised
- bilge water levels checked
- navigation lights

MEM50009 Safely operate a mechanically powered recreational boat

Modification History

Release 1. Supersedes and is equivalent to MEM50009B Safely operate a mechanical powered recreational boat

Application

This unit of competency was developed by the National Marine Safety Committee (NMSC) and defines the skills and knowledge required to safely handle/operate a powered recreational boat on coastal and inland waters and includes manoeuvring and handling the boat as well as safe navigation and anchoring.

This unit is one of three core competencies that have been adopted by all government marine safety authorities to contribute to and promote the safe use of waterways and awareness of boating safety and applies specifically to mechanical powered recreational boats, including personal watercraft. However, it is recognised that some aspects of this competency apply to any recreational vessel.

Unit MEM50008 Carry out trip preparation and planning and unit MEM50010 Respond to boating emergencies and incidents are the other two NMSC core units.

Some jurisdictions may require the holder of this unit to be licensed or certified and users should check with the relevant authorities.

Foundation Skills

This section describes those required skills (reading, writing, oral communication and numeracy) that are essential to workplace performance in this unit of competency.

Foundation skills essential to performance are explicit in the performance criteria of this unit of competency.

Range of Conditions

This field allows for different work environments and conditions that may affect performance. Essential operating conditions that may be present (depending on the work situation, needs of the candidate, accessibility of the item, and local industry and regional contexts) are included.

Pre-start checks include the following:

- fuel is connected
- battery is charged and connected
- kill switch
- fumes and petrol
- fuel and water leaks
- hatches/windows/doors are open
- ventilation
- sea-cock opening
- loose gear is secured
- marine radio is turned on and radio aerials raised
- bilge water levels checked
- navigation lights

Manoeuvring conditions include the following:

- from or to a ramp, pontoon, wharf, mooring, anchor, confined areas, such as narrow channels, marinas, moorings and obstructions
- sea-states, including bars, waves, rips, high seas, tidal surges, choppy conditions and wakes
- low speed/high speed
- poor visibility
- effect of wind

This field allows for different work environments and conditions that may affect performance. Essential operating conditions that may be present (depending on the work situation, needs of the candidate, accessibility of the item, and local industry and regional contexts) are included.

- large vessels

Safe manoeuvring includes the following:

- steer straight line
- astern
- figure-eight
- right of way
- port-starboard
- throttle control
- emergency stop
- trim and stability of vessel
- towing or being towed
- berthing
- standing-on/stemming the tide
- retrieval of person overboard

Monitoring includes the following:

- cooling system
- bilge
- portholes and hatches
- location and welfare of persons on board
- oil, fuel and water
- radio
- position of boat
- other water users
- battery and electrical systems

This field allows for different work environments and conditions that may affect performance. Essential operating conditions that may be present (depending on the work situation, needs of the candidate, accessibility of the item, and local industry and regional contexts) are included.

Others and environment include the following:

- noise
- wake
- safety of others
- disturbance or injury to wildlife
- disposal of waste and bilge water
- effects of detergent and anti-foul
- fuelling arrangements

Aids to small craft navigation include one (1) or more of the following:

- IALA Buoyage System 'A'
- charts
- compasses
- global positioning system (GPS)
- sounder
- tide tables
- passage plan
- marine references
- notices to mariners
- radio navigational warnings

This field allows for different work environments and conditions that may affect performance. Essential operating conditions that may be present (depending on the work situation, needs of the candidate, accessibility of the item, and local industry and regional contexts) are included.

Relevant legislation, recognised regulations and rules include the following:

- collision regulations:
  - navigating in narrow channels
  - giving way to other vessels
  - overtaking, proper lookout
  - sound signals
  - lights and shapes
  - responsibilities and duty of care
  - use of buoyage system
  - speed
  - recognition of lights and markers
  - rules of road
  - recognition of operation areas
  - specific activity rules, e.g. personal watercraft (PWCs), water skis and equipment requirements
  - accident/incident reporting
- marine regulations:
  - safety regulations
  - licensing and registration
  - speed limit restrictions
  - distance off requirements
  - port limits/rules
  - marine incident reporting
  - carrying capacity
  - drug and alcohol limits/effects
  - age of operators
- environmental and wildlife regulations as relevant and applicable to the operation of boats

Hazards and conditions include the following:

- weather
- set and drift
- effect of wind, tide and currents
- submerged objects
- other boats and wash
- restricted waters
- crossing bars

This field allows for different work environments and conditions that may affect performance. Essential operating conditions that may be present (depending on the work situation, needs of the candidate, accessibility of the item, and local industry and regional contexts) are included.

Types of anchor include one (1) or more of the following:

- Danforth
- Grapnel/Reef
- Bruce
- Plough
- Admiralty
- Sarca
- sea anchor

Anchoring systems include one (1) or more of the following:

- multiple anchors
- bow and stern anchors
- mooring buoy

Assessment Requirements for MEM50009 Safely operate a mechanically powered recreational boat

Modification History

Release 1. Supersedes and is equivalent to MEM50009B Safely operate a mechanical powered recreational boat

Performance Evidence

Evidence required to demonstrate competence in this unit must be relevant to and satisfy the requirements of the elements and performance criteria on at least two (2) occasions and include:

- following work instructions, standard operating procedures (SOPs) and safe work practices
- conducting pre-start checks
- manoeuvring and handling boat safely and accurately according to conditions and in accordance with water traffic regulations
- monitoring performance of boat and be aware of impact of boat use on others and the environment
- navigating safely, taking hazards into account using navigational aids and landmarks to determine and monitor boat position
- anchoring the boat using the type of anchor and anchoring system suitable for location.

Knowledge Evidence

Evidence required to demonstrate the required knowledge for this unit must be relevant to and satisfy the requirements of the elements and performance criteria and include knowledge of:

- safe work practices and procedures
- pre-start checks
- boating and other relevant legislation, rules and regulations
- legislative requirements regarding the use of safety equipment
- area of activity hazards and prevailing conditions
- boating information resources
- environmental awareness.

Assessment Conditions

- Assessors must:
  - have vocational competency in safely operating a mechanical powered recreational boat at least to the level being assessed with relevant industry knowledge and experience

- satisfy the assessor requirements in the Standards for Registered Training Organisations 2015 or its replacement and comply with the National Vocational Education and Training Regulator Act 2011, its replacement or equivalent legislation covering VET regulation in a non-referring state/territory as the case requires
- Where possible assessment must occur in operational workplace situations. Where this is not possible or where personal safety or environmental damage are limiting factors, assessment must occur in a sufficiently rigorous simulated environment that reflects realistic operational workplace conditions. This must cover all aspects of workplace performance, including environment, task skills, task management skills, contingency management skills and job role environment skills
- Conditions for assessment must include access to all tools, equipment, materials and documentation required, including relevant workplace procedures, product and manufacturing specifications
- Assessment processes and techniques must be appropriate to the language, literacy and numeracy requirements of the work being performed and the needs of the candidate.

MEM50010 Respond to boating emergencies and incidents

Modification History

Release 1. Supersedes and is equivalent to MEM50010B Respond to boating emergencies and incidents

Application

This unit of competency was developed by the National Marine Safety Committee (NMSC) and defines the skills and knowledge required to deal with boating emergencies and incidents, including the use of safety equipment and the provision of assistance to others in distress and includes raising alarms and dealing with on-board emergencies.

This unit is one of three core competencies that have been adopted by all government marine safety authorities to contribute to and promote the safe use of waterways and awareness of boating safety and applies to all recreational boats including personal watercraft.

Unit MEM50008 Carry out trip preparation and planning and unit MEM50009 Safely operate a mechanically powered recreational boat are the other two NMSC core units.

No licensing, legislative or certification requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

Foundation skills essential to performance are explicit in the performance criteria of this unit of competency.

Range of Conditions

This field allows for different work environments and conditions that may affect performance. Essential operating conditions that may be present (depending on the work situation, needs of the candidate, accessibility of the item, and local industry and regional contexts) are included.

Briefing information includes the following:

- vessel operation
- personnel assessment, including swimming skills, boating knowledge, medication and dietary requirements
- location and use of safety equipment
- emergency procedures
- abandoning procedures

This field allows for different work environments and conditions that may affect performance. Essential operating conditions that may be present (depending on the work situation, needs of the candidate, accessibility of the item, and local industry and regional contexts) are included.

Emergencies include one (1) or more of the following:

- fire (smoke or heat)
- grounding
- person overboard
- person retrieval from water
- capsize
- swamping
- sinking
- engine/motor breakdown or malfunction
- fouled propeller
- anchoring
- flooding
- lost
- injuries/illness
- hypothermia
- lack of fuel
- contaminated fuel

Distress signals include one (1) or more of the following:

- pyrotechnic distress flares
- flags
- radio
- hand signals
- dye markers
- International Code Signal of Distress
- sound signal including voice
- emergency position-indicating radio beacon (EPIRB)
- V-sheet
- reflective mirror
- light signals
- mobile phone

This field allows for different work environments and conditions that may affect performance. Essential operating conditions that may be present (depending on the work situation, needs of the candidate, accessibility of the item, and local industry and regional contexts) are included.

Preparation for abandoning includes the following:

- brief on-board personnel
- take drinking water
- don of life jackets
- identify location of vessel
- communicate to rescuers actions taken or to be taken
- assess and ensure readiness of life rafts/life rings
- activate emergency position indicating radio beacon (EPIRB)
- identify and collect emergency equipment, provisions and clothing
- deploy anchor or sea anchor

MSS024023 Navigate in urban, regional and remote areas

Modification History

Release 1. Updated unit code. Changes to performance criteria. Range of conditions removed. Assessment requirements amended. Equivalent outcome.

Application

This unit describes the skills and knowledge to read and interpret maps, plans and photos to locate position and navigate safe and efficient routes to urban and regional and remote destinations.

This unit applies to environmental technicians working in all industry sectors as well as a wide range of other technicians, paraprofessionals, operators and drivers.

No licensing or certification requirements exist at the time of publication. Relevant legislation, industry standards and codes of practice within Australia must be applied.

Elements and Performance Criteria

Elements describe the essential outcomes.

Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.

Element	Performance Criteria
1 Navigate in urban areas	1.1    Access relevant street directories and road maps
	1.2    Read and interpret map symbols
	1.3    Use the directory index to locate departure and destination points on map
	1.4    Trace the pre-determined or most efficient route on map and estimate distance and duration of journey

Elements describe the essential outcomes.	Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.
	1.5 Identify significant intersections and landmarks along route to assist with navigation
	1.6 Identify alternate routes in case of emergencies or significant traffic delays
	1.7 Follow selected route correctly
2 Plan routes in regional and remote areas	2.1 Locate and read relevant legislative and regulatory, workplace requirements and background information for site or project
	2.2 Select suitable maps, aerial photos, guides and charts and check their currency and accuracy
	2.3 Select navigational equipment, check that it is fit for purpose and service or replace
	2.4 Read and interpret map symbols and navigation data to identify departure and destination points, potential hazards and select an appropriate traverse route
	2.5 Estimate distance and duration of journey using map scale and available information about the terrain and vehicle
3 Navigate in regional and remote areas	3.1 Correctly orientate map with surroundings
	3.2 Identify field position and destination on map using landforms, landmarks and navigation equipment
	3.3 Correctly use navigation aids, equipment and maps to follow planned route and schedule
	3.4 Use alternate routes to avoid hazards, safely bypass obstacles or improve efficiency of route
	3.5 Maintain communication in accordance with workplace procedures

Assessment Requirements for MSS024023 Navigate in urban, regional and remote areas

Modification History

Release 1. Updated unit code. Changes to performance criteria. Range of conditions removed. Assessment requirements amended. Equivalent outcome.

Performance Evidence

There must be evidence the candidate has completed the tasks outlined in the elements and performance criteria of this unit, and:

- read and interpreted maps, plans and photos to locate own position and navigated safe and efficient routes to at least 2 different locations (urban and non-urban).

Knowledge Evidence

There must be evidence the candidate has knowledge of:

- types of maps, charts, aerial photos and advantages and disadvantages of their use
- use and manipulation of scales used on maps and plans
- symbols and representation of topographical features on maps and plans
- navigational equipment and aids
- functional components of a compass and global positioning system (GPS) and factors affecting compass and GPS accuracy
- techniques for estimating distance and taking bearings
- hazards, health, safety and environment requirements for work role, including:
  - basic survival
  - dehydration
  - biohazards (including animals, insects and plants)
  - unsealed roads.

Assessment Conditions

Skills must have been demonstrated in the workplace or in a simulated environment that reflects workplace conditions and contingencies. The following conditions must be met for this unit:

- use of facilities, equipment and resources, including:
  - navigational equipment and aids
  - maps

Assessors must satisfy the NVR/AQTF mandatory competency requirements for assessors.

PSPGEN085 Manage media relationships

Modification History

Release	Comments
1	This unit was released in PSP Public Sector Training Package release 1.0 and meets the Standards for Training Packages. This unit supersedes and is equivalent to PSPPA603A Manage media relationships. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Unit code updated</li> <li>• Content and formatting updated to comply with new standards</li> <li>• All PC transitioned from passive to active voice</li> </ul>

Application

This unit describes the skills required to manage media relationships to enable the organisation's services and achievements to be recognised and to deal with sensitive issues as they arise. It includes liaising with media personnel, negotiating media coverage, monitoring media coverage and preparing spokespersons for media interaction.

This unit applies to those working in public affairs, managing relationships with the media.

The skills and knowledge described in this unit must be applied within the legislative, regulatory and policy environment in which they are carried out. Organisational policies and procedures must be consulted and adhered to.

Those undertaking this unit would work independently in consultation with others, performing complex tasks in a range of familiar contexts.

No licensing, legislative or certification requirements apply to unit at the time of publication.

Elements and Performance Criteria

Elements describe the essential outcomes	Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element. Where bold italicised text is used, further information is detailed in the range of conditions section.
1. Liaise with media personnel	1.1 Obtain information on local, regional and national media contacts and keep up to date. 1.2 Confirm processes and procedures for dealing with the media, and establish requirements for format, presentation and deadlines for information. 1.3 Establish communication processes to develop mutual trust and cooperation, and to foster awareness of public affairs events and activities. 1.4 Provide information that is reliable and represents the current position of the organisation or situation to the media. 1.5 Handle situations where serious errors or misquoting occurs.
2. Negotiate media coverage	2.1 Assess the potential level of interest in particular events, and make activities and communications, and media selections to maximise coverage and achieve public affairs objectives. 2.2 Identify the form of information and preferred message positions to maximise media coverage. 2.3 Give notice to the media of the timing of events and activities, and provide contact information to enable confirmation of details. 2.4 Negotiate media coverage.
3. Monitor media coverage	3.1 Assess options for monitoring media coverage and select based on organisational requirements and value for money. 3.2 Develop and implement procedures for monitoring media performance, and recommend actions that address variations from expected performance. 3.3 Evaluate media coverage in terms of effectiveness in achieving message placement objectives, anticipated impact and public affairs objectives.
4. Prepare spokespersons for media interaction	4.1 Brief spokespersons on the characteristics, communication techniques and potential impact of media interviews for newspapers, radio and television. 4.2 Brief spokespersons on interview approaches and the techniques of specific interviewers.

	4.3 Establish objectives with spokespersons for interview outcomes in planned situations in order to communicate specific information. 4.4 Provide responses and techniques for achieving positive communication outcomes in unplanned media interactions. 4.5 Prepare spokespersons for crisis situations in accordance with crisis communication plans and responsibilities.

Performance Evidence

Evidence required to demonstrate competence must satisfy all of the requirements of the elements and performance criteria. If not otherwise specified, the candidate must demonstrate evidence of performance of the following on at least one occasion.

- applying legislation, regulations and policies relating to public affairs
- using communication methods and strategies with diverse groups, including consultation, liaison, advice, negotiation
- assessing and providing newsworthy information
- applying procedures relating to work health and safety and environment in the context of public affairs

Knowledge Evidence

Evidence required to demonstrate competence must satisfy all of the requirements of the elements and performance criteria. If not otherwise specified the depth of knowledge demonstrated must be appropriate to the job context of the candidate.

- public sector legislation, including work health and safety and the environment, regulations, policies, procedures and guidelines relating to public affairs
- the importance of relationships with key media contacts
- the range of media and the usefulness of each for particular information or messages

PSPPROC414A Manage contracts

Modification History

Release	TP Version	Comments
3	PSP12V1	Layout adjusted. No changes to content.
2	PSP04V4.2.	Layout adjusted. No changes to content.
1	PSP04V4.1	Primary release.

Unit Descriptor

This unit covers the ability to manage contracts. It includes undertaking preparations, establishing and maintaining contract management arrangements, monitoring and maintaining contract performance, and completing and reviewing contracts.

In practice, managing contracts overlaps with other generalist and specialist public sector work activities, such as upholding and supporting the values and principles of public service and local government, identifying and treating risks, exercising delegations, applying government processes, encouraging compliance with legislation in the public sector or local government, planning procurement, developing and distributing requests for offers and selecting providers.

Those who specialise in procurement are catered for by the units PSPPROC503B, PSPPROC504B, PSPPROC505A and PSPPROC506A, which address in depth the aspects of contract management performed by those who specialise in procurement.

No licensing, legislative, regulatory or certification requirements apply to this unit at the time of endorsement.

Application of the Unit

This unit applies to those who are not specialist contract managers, but manage contracts as part of their role rather than as their primary role.

Licensing/Regulatory Information

Not applicable.

Pre-Requisites

Not applicable.

Employability Skills Information

This unit contains employability skills.

Elements and Performance Criteria Pre-Content

Elements describe the essential outcomes of a unit of competency.

Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element. Where bold italicised text is used, further information is detailed in the range statement. Assessment of performance is to be consistent with the evidence guide.

ELEMENT

1. Prepare to manage a contract

- 1.1. Contract requirements, approvals and funding arrangements are confirmed and clarified where necessary, and obligations and limits of authority as contract manager are identified in line with contractual and organisational requirements.
- 1.2. Operational elements of the contract are confirmed and contact is made with specialists and stakeholders to clarify and assist with contract administration issues.
- 1.3. Key contract clauses are identified and their content is clarified as necessary to ensure contract requirements are understood.
- 1.4. Process, timings, and key performance indicators are identified from the contract and confirmed with stakeholders.
- 1.5. Risks are confirmed and a risk management plan is developed or reviewed in line with contract requirements and organisational policy and procedures.
- 1.6. Contract management strategy is developed or obtained and key details are entered from the contract.
- 1.7. Contract management team is formed and roles and responsibilities are allocated.

- 2.4. Relationship with contractors and stakeholders is established and managed according to organisational policy and procedures and probity requirements.
- 2.5. Specialist expertise is obtained as necessary for progress meetings and for advice on or resolution of contract issues.
- 2.6. Consideration is given to OHS, environmental and sustainability principles and corporate social responsibility principles as they apply to the contract.
- 2.7. Contract information/documentation is maintained for organisational purposes according to organisational policy and procedures.

3. Monitor and maintain performance of a contract

- 3.1. Obligations to contractor and stakeholders are met according to contractual arrangements and organisational financial management requirements.
- 3.2. Monitoring and control measures and performance indicators are used to manage performance of contract and ensure that all obligations under the agreement are being met.
- 3.3. Contract variations are managed in accordance with the contract, organisational policy and procedures, and probity requirements.
- 3.4. Disputes and complaints are investigated and resolved or referred according to contract requirements.
- 3.5. Negotiation of issues relating to the contract is managed and approvals are obtained according to stipulations in the contract proper.
- 3.6. Communication is maintained with all stakeholders on the performance of the contract according to organisational protocols and public sector standards.

4. Complete and review contract.

- 4.1. Client satisfaction with contract deliverables is confirmed.
- 4.2. Contracts are finalised, amended, cancelled or terminated according to contractual arrangements.
- 4.3. Strategies are applied to manage close-out, and ensure renewal of contract or transition to a new contract meet organisational guidelines, probity requirements and public sector standards.

- 4.4. Review is undertaken of contract management, contractor performance relevant to measures at each stage of the contract, user satisfaction and audit results, when necessary.
- 4.5. Where measures or outcomes are not met in full, variances are documented and explained.
- 4.6. Information from the review and audit is used to report on contractor performance, to review contract management practice and make recommendations for improvement.

Required Skills and Knowledge

This section describes the skills and knowledge required for this unit.

Required skills

- communication skills to:
  - consult and negotiate with contractors and stakeholders, involving complex oral and written exchanges of information
  - network, within probity boundaries, with diverse stakeholders and contractors
  - read complex documents, such as contracts, legislation and guidelines
  - provide feedback
- teamwork skills to:
  - work independently or under direction as appropriate to the situation
  - model team leadership approaches if appropriate
  - respond to diversity
  - refer issues to the correct person
- problem-solving skills to apply simple supply chain management and supplier issues management to the process of contract management
- initiative and enterprise skills to:
  - apply the content of complex documents, such as contracts, legislation and guidelines
  - apply OHS, environmental, sustainability and corporate social responsibility practices in the context of contract management
- planning and organising skills to manage contract documentation
- learning skills to keep up-to-date with relevant procurement legislation, policies and procedures
- technology skills to:

- operate organisational IT systems
- use electronic procurement templates

Required knowledge

- commonwealth, state or territory, and local government legislation, policies, practices and guidelines:
  - relating to contract management, including environmental purchasing and corporate social responsibility guidance
  - such as OHS and equity and diversity
- organisational procurement policies, practices and approval processes
- contract performance management
- privacy and confidentiality issues
- probity principles and issues
- codes of conduct, codes of practice and standards of individual behaviour relating to managing contracts and relationships with contractors
- whole-of-life considerations relating to the ownership, operation and disposal/completion of the goods or services
- equal employment opportunity
- financial and accounting issues relevant to the contract

Evidence Guide

The Evidence Guide provides advice on assessment and must be read in conjunction with the performance criteria, required skills and knowledge, range statement and the Assessment Guidelines for the Training Package.

Overview of assessment Competency must be demonstrated in the ability to manage contracts consistently in accordance with legislative and organisational requirements.

Critical aspects for assessment and evidence required to demonstrate competency in this unit

Assessment must confirm the ability to:

- develop a contract management strategy in consultation with key stakeholders
- develop a suitable contract management plan, using templates if available
- implement the contract management plan
- manage the performance of contractors
- provide contractors with performance feedback
- manage contract disputes to achieve prompt resolution and refer to higher authority when necessary
- review contracts throughout to identify opportunities for continuous improvement

- act within own delegations and refer issues to higher authority when necessary
- uphold probity standards in all dealings with contractors.

Consistency in performance

Competency should be demonstrated by providing evidence of undertaking a range of relevant work tasks in an actual or simulated procurement environment on at least two separate occasions.

Context of and specific resources for assessment

The unit of competency is to be assessed in the workplace or a simulated workplace environment.

Access may be required to:

- legislation, policy, procedures and protocols relating to procuring goods and services and managing contracts
- codes of conduct and codes of practice
- workplace scenarios and case studies relating to a range of procurement activities associated with managing contracts
- case studies that incorporate dilemmas, and probity requirements relating to managing contracts.

Method of assessment

The following assessment methods are suggested:

- questions to assess understanding of relevant legislation and procedures
- review of strategies and approaches adopted for managing contracts
- review of contract management plans, contracts, contract variations, contractor performance reports, contract closure documents and other documentation prepared by the candidate in a range of contexts
- review of stakeholder engagement approaches adopted by the candidate.

In all cases, practical assessment should be supported by questions to assess underpinning knowledge and those aspects of competency which are difficult to assess directly. Questioning techniques should suit the language and literacy levels of the candidate.

Guidance information for assessment

Evidence must be gathered over time in a range of contexts to ensure the person can achieve the unit outcome and apply the competency in different situations or environments.

Holistic assessment with other units relevant to the industry sector, workplace and job role is recommended, for example:

- PSPETHC401A Uphold and support the values and

- principles of public service
- PSPGOV417A Identify and treat risks
- PSPGOV421A Exercise delegations
- PSPLEGN401A Encourage compliance with legislation in the public sector
- PSPPROC411A Plan procurement
- PSPPROC412A Develop and distribute requests for offers
- PSPPROC413A Select providers and develop contracts.

Range Statement

The range statement relates to the unit of competency as a whole. It allows for different work environments and situations that may affect performance. Bold italicised wording, if used in the performance criteria, is detailed below. # PUAEME001 Provide emergency care

Modification History

Release 1. This is the first release of this unit of competency in the PUA Public Safety Training Package.

Application

This unit of competency involves the skills and knowledge required to provide emergency care pending the arrival of appropriately qualified personnel. It includes identifying need for emergency care, ensuring personal safety of carer and casualty, reassuring casualty, assessing casualty and implementing emergency care procedures, working cooperatively with personnel from other organisations, recovering and restoring first aid equipment and completing documentation.

The unit is applicable to all public safety personnel who are required to provide initial lifesaving emergency care at an incident. It is not designed for personnel whose primary response role is one of emergency care, first aid or pre-hospital care.

No licensing, legislative or certification requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

Evidence Guide

Critical aspects for assessment and evidence required to demonstrate competency in this unit

Competency in this unit must be established through the practical demonstration of first aid skills, maintaining universal precautions and safety awareness.

Accurate documentation and a caring approach to injured persons during first aid activities are critical.

Consistency in performance

Evidence should be gathered over a period of time in a range of actual or simulated workplace environments

Context of and specific resources for assessment

Context of assessment

Exercise or simulation, or a series of tasks are required to demonstrate competence in this unit. This may involve setting scenarios to be completed either individually or as a member of a team. Written or verbal questions may be used as supporting evidence.

Specific resources for assessment

Access to first aid equipment used in general operations is essential.

Range Statement

Elements and Performance Criteria

ELEMENTS

Elements describe the essential outcomes.

1 Assess casualty and develop management plan

PERFORMANCE CRITERIA

Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.

1.1 Assessment of casualty is undertaken including vital signs, details of incident, medical and/or casualty history, physical appearance and other signs and symptoms

- 1.2 Management plan is developed taking into account available equipment, condition of patient and specific conditions
        - 1.3 Casualty is assisted to a comfortable position suitable for implementation of management plan, where possible
        - 1.4 Casualty is encouraged and reassured, as required, to aid in the facilitation of effective treatment
        - 1.5 Medical aid is arranged as soon as possible, consistent with maintaining casualty safety
- 2 Check equipment
  - 2.1 Pre-use check of safety and potential effectiveness of equipment is undertaken, in accordance with operating procedures, industry standards and regulatory requirements
  - 2.2 Minor equipment faults are diagnosed and repairs are carried out, in accordance with organisational procedures and manufacturers' guidelines
  - 2.3 Equipment faults and defects are reported and/or recorded, in accordance with organisational procedures
- 3 Maintain unobstructed airway
  - 3.1 Airway is cleared and maintained using non-intervention techniques, where possible
  - 3.2 Steps are taken to reduce risk to self or others of contamination from the casualty's body fluids
  - 3.3 Suction apparatus is safely inserted into pharynx and suction initiated using approved techniques to avoid injuring casualty
- 4 Resuscitate casualty and use oxygen
  - 4.1 Face masks and other barriers are used, in accordance with organisational procedures and industry standards
  - 4.2 Oxygen therapy is used in the ventilation of casualty
- 5 Recover and restore equipment
  - 5.1 Equipment is cleaned, discarded or disinfected, restocked and/or replenished and stored safely, in accordance with organisational procedures

Assessment Requirements for PUAEME003 Administer oxygen in an emergency

Modification History

Release 1. This is the first release of this unit of competency in the PUA Public Safety Training Package.

Performance Evidence

Evidence required to demonstrate competence in this unit must be relevant to and satisfy all the requirements of the elements and performance criteria on at least one occasion and includes

- applying Work, Health and Safety (WHS)/Occupational Health and Safety (OHS) requirements
- assessing casualty and developing management plan
- assisting casualty to a comfortable position
- communicating with casualty to provide reassurance and comfort
- following organisational policies and procedures
- implementing approved techniques when using suction apparatus
- performing pre-use safety check of equipment and recording faults
- recovering and restoring equipment
- reducing risk to self and/or others of contamination from body fluids
- resuscitating casualty using appropriate barriers
- using non-intervention techniques when clearing and maintaining unobstructed airway
- using oxygen to provide therapy
- working with oxygen equipment and following medically endorsed protocols and manufacturers' guidelines

Knowledge Evidence

Evidence required to demonstrate competence in this unit must be relevant to and satisfy all the requirements of the elements and performance criteria and includes knowledge of

- airways
- communication techniques
- correct use of barriers
- correct use of oxygen equipment
- equipment safety checks
- industry standards including Australian Resuscitation Council Standards guidelines
- legislation covering the administration of oxygen
- manufactures' specifications non-intervention techniques when clearing airway
- organisational documentation, policies and procedures

- potential hazards
- precautions for safe storage and handling of oxygen equipment
- principles of operating equipment and identifying faults
- resuscitation techniques
- signs and symptoms of chronic obstructed breathing including vital signs, physical appearance, obstructed airway and respiratory noises
- techniques for maintenance of unobstructed airway
- Work, Health and Safety (WHS)/Occupational Health and Safety (OHS) requirements including risk mitigation

Assessment Conditions

As a minimum, assessors must satisfy applicable regulatory requirements, which include requirements in the Standards for Registered Training Organisations current at the time of assessment.

As a minimum, assessment must satisfy applicable regulatory requirements, which include requirements in the Standards for Registered Training Organisations current at the time of assessment.

Assessment processes and techniques must be appropriate to the language, literacy and numeracy requirements of the work being performed and the needs of the candidate.

Assessment must occur in workplace operational situations. Where this is not appropriate, assessment must occur in industry approved simulated workplace operational situations that reflect workplace conditions.

Resources for assessment must include access to

- a range of relevant exercises, case studies and/or simulations
- relevant and appropriate materials, equipment, tools and personal protective clothing and equipment currently used in industry including
  - resuscitation equipment, face masks and barriers
- applicable documentation including organisational procedures, industry standards, equipment specifications, regulations, codes of practice and operation manuals.

Unit Descriptor

This unit covers competency in advanced techniques for management of the administration of oxygen and ventilation of the lungs in line with the requirements of the Australian Resuscitation Council and State and Territory regulatory bodies. Expired air resuscitation is covered in the Pre-requisite unit Provide emergency care.

Application of the Unit

This unit applies to public safety workers who attend incidents where the use of oxygen in either life-saving or ongoing management of a casualty is appropriate.

Licensing/Regulatory Information

Not applicable.

Pre-Requisites

PUAEME001B Provide emergency care.

Employability Skills Information

Elements and Performance Criteria

1. Assess casualty and develop management plan	1.1 Assessment of casualty is undertaken including vital signs, details of incident, medical/casualty history, physical appearance and other signs and symptoms. 1.2 Management plan is developed taking into account available equipment, condition of patient and special requirements of certain conditions. 1.3 Where possible casualty is assisted to a comfortable position suitable for implementation of management plan. 1.4 Casualty is encouraged and reassured as necessary to facilitate effective treatment. 1.5 Medical aid is arranged as soon as possible consistent with maintaining casualty safety.
2. Check equipment	2.1 Pre-use check of safety and potential effectiveness of equipment is undertaken in accordance with operating procedures, Australian standards and regulatory requirements. 2.2 Minor faults are diagnosed and repairs are carried out in accordance with organisation procedures to restore equipment to working order. 2.3 Faults and defects are reported/recorded according to organisational procedures.
3. Maintain unobstructed airway	3.1 Airway is cleared and maintained using non-intervention techniques where possible. 3.2 Appropriate steps are taken to reduce risk to self or others of contamination by the casualty's body fluids. 3.3 Where carried, suction apparatus is safely inserted into pharynx and suction initiated using approved techniques to avoid injuring casualty.
4. Resuscitate casualty	4.1 Where appropriate face masks and other barriers are used according to ARC standards.

6. Recover and restore equipment	6.1 Equipment is cleaned, and discarded or disinfected, restocked and/or replenished and stored safely according to organisation procedures.

Required Skills and Knowledge

This describes the essential skills and knowledge and their level, required for this unit.

Required Skills

- determining oxygen pressure and volume content of cylinders
- reading oxygen content gauges
- use of resuscitation equipment

Required Knowledge

- air passages
- Australian Resuscitation Council standards
- Australian Standards relevant to resuscitation equipment
- causes of hypoxia and hypoxic hypoxia
- correct use of oxygen cylinders and devices
- disease and chronic airways lesions (COAD/CAL)
- estimation of duration of oxygen supply
- importance of oxygen to the body
- indicators of obstructed breathing
- lower airways diseases
- management of COAD/CAL casualties
- possible causes of hypoventilation
- precautions for safe storage and handling of oxygen cylinders
- principles of operation and troubleshooting
- respiratory system- lungs
- resuscitation and kits - specifications
- significance of respiratory noises
- signs and symptoms of chronic obstructed airways
- techniques for maintenance of unobstructed airway
- the mechanism of respiration

Evidence Guide

Critical aspects for assessment and evidence required to demonstrate competency in this unit

Use of oxygen equipment in accordance with relevant standards and guidelines.

Consistency in performance

Evidence will need to be gathered over time across a range of variables.

Context of and specific resources for assessment

Context of assessment

On the job or in a simulated work environment

Specific resources for assessment

- determining oxygen pressure and volume content of cylinders
- reading oxygen content gauges
- use of resuscitation equipment

Range Statement

The Range Statement relates to the Unit of Competency as a whole. It allows for different work environments and situations that may affect performance. Bold italicised wording in the Performance Criteria is detailed below.

- Pre-use check may include:
- checking existence of suitable prominent warnings about precautions to be observed
  - checking for damage
  - to replenish and/or restore

- Regulatory requirements may include:
- Australian Resuscitation Council
  - relevant State and Territory regulatory bodies

- Reporting/recording faults and damage may include:
- verbal
  - filling out and processing standard form

- Inserted into pharynx:
- no further than the back teeth

- Barriers may include:
- facemasks

PUAEME004A Provide emergency care for suspected spinal injury

Modification History

Release	TP Version	Comments
3	PUA12 V2.1	Editorial changes.
2	PUA12 V2	Layout adjusted.
1	PUA00 V8.1	Primary release.

Unit Descriptor

This unit covers the competency required to minimise further injury to a casualty when applying first aid and waiting for emergency medical aid.

Application of the Unit

The application of this unit in the workplace covers recognition and management of suspected spinal injuries while waiting for emergency medical aid.

The unit is typically relevant for personnel from emergency services and/or volunteer organisations or organisations which provide a first aid service in an environment where there is a risk of spinal injuries.

Licensing/Regulatory Information

Not applicable.

Pre-Requisites

HLTFA211A Provide basic emergency life support

Elements and Performance Criteria Pre-Content

Elements describe the essential outcomes of a Unit of Competency.

Performance Criteria describe the required performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element. Where bold italicised text is used, further information is detailed in the Range Statement. Assessment of performance is to be consistent with the Evidence Guide.

Elements and Performance Criteria

1. Identify suspected spinal injury	1.1 Signs and symptoms from a conscious casualty that may suggest a spinal injury are identified. 1.2 Signs of life in an unconscious casualty are confirmed. 1.3 Basic life support protocols are followed with care for casualty's spine where casualty exhibits no signs of life. 1.4 Likely causes of unconsciousness that may suggest a spinal injury are identified. 1.5 Emergency medical aid is requested.
2. Immobilise cervical spine	2.1 Casualty is communicated with to provide reassurance and to explain the need to minimise movement of their spine. 2.2 Casualty is measured and appropriately sized cervical collar is selected. 2.3 Cervical collar is applied ensuring correct location and tension is applied. 2.4 Conscious standing casualty is assisted to supine position in accordance with organisational procedures and availability of personnel.
3. Evaluate need to move casualty	3.1 Potential hazards to first aider and to casualty are identified. 3.2 Risk of not moving the casualty while waiting for medical aid to arrive is evaluated. 3.3 Plan to move casualty is developed.
4. Prepare casualty for transport	4.1 Casualty is communicated with to provide reassurance and the need to immobilise the casualty for transport is explained. 4.2 Equipment to immobilise the casualty's spine is

5. Transport and monitor casualty	selected. 4.3 Immobilisation equipment is applied in accordance with manufacturer's instructions and organisational procedures. 5.1 Casualty is transported away from hazards ensuring smooth movements are used by team. 5.2 Team is directed in coordinated lifting movement and lowering of casualty. 5.3 Casualty is monitored during transport.
6. Perform casualty handover	6.1 Details of incident are communicated to medical personnel. 6.2 Assistance is given to medical personnel as requested. 6.3 Debriefing with supervisor or other operational staff is undertaken. 6.4 Relevant log books are completed according to organisational requirements.

Required Skills and Knowledge

This describes the essential skills and knowledge and their level, required for this unit.

Required Skills

- assess casualty
- communicate effectively with casualty to provide reassurance
- use safe manual handling skills

Required Knowledge

- common causes of spinal injuries relevant to the work environment
- risks associated with moving a casualty with a suspected spinal injury
- safe manual handling techniques
- signs and symptoms of suspected spinal injury
- techniques for manual stabilisation
- types of spinal immobilisation equipment available

Evidence Guide

The evidence guide provides advice on assessment and must be read in conjunction with the Performance Criteria, Required Skills and Knowledge, the Range Statement and the Assessment Guidelines for this Training Package.

Critical aspects for assessment and evidence required to demonstrate competency in this unit

Assessment must confirm the ability to:

- identify casualty with a suspected spinal injury
- evaluate the need to move casualty with a suspected spinal injury
- immobilise casualty prior to moving

Consistency in performance

Competency should be demonstrated in a range of first aid incidents or scenarios requiring management of suspected spinal injuries.

Context of and specific resources for assessment

Context of assessment

Competency should be assessed by managing suspected spinal injuries during first aid scenarios.

Specific resources for assessment

Access is required to:

- equipment used in managing suspected spinal injuries

Method of assessment

In a public safety environment assessment is usually conducted via direct observation in a training environment or in the workplace via subject matter supervision and/or mentoring, which is typically recorded in a competency workbook.

Assessment is completed using appropriately qualified assessors who select the most appropriate method of assessment.

Assessment may occur in an operational environment or in an industry-approved simulated work environment.

Forms of assessment that are typically used include:

- direct observation
- interviewing the candidate
- journals and workplace documentation
- third party reports from supervisors
- written or oral questions

Range Statement

The Range Statement relates to the Unit of Competency as a whole. It allows for different work environments and situations that may affect performance. Bold italicised wording in the Performance Criteria is detailed below.

- Signs and symptoms of a suspected spinal injury may include:
- back or neck pain
  - dilated pupils
  - head injuries
  - headache or dizziness
  - increased muscle tone
  - loss of bladder/bowel control
  - loss of function in hands or feet
  - prioprism
  - tingling or lack of feeling in upper or lower limbs
- Signs of life may include:
- breathing
  - consciousness
  - movement
- Basic life support protocols include:
- Australian resuscitation council guidelines
- Likely causes of unconsciousness that may suggest a spinal injury may include:
- diving accident
  - fall from a height
  - industrial accident
  - motor vehicle accident
  - severe penetrating wounds (impaled, gunshot)
  - significant blow to the head
  - sporting accident
- Hazards may include:
- fire
  - traffic
  - water
- Transport may include:
- carrying casualty
  - using a vehicle
- Equipment may include:
- cervical collars
  - scoop stretchers
  - spine boards and strapping
  - stokes baskets
- Monitoring casualty may include:
- Assessing vital signs such as:
    - level of consciousness
    - breathing rate
    - pulse rate
    - skin colour and temperature
  - Remaining with casualty
- Details may include:
- casualty injuries
  - treatment provided
- Assistance may include:
- carrying casualty

Unit Descriptor

This unit covers the competency required to operate an automated external defibrillator (AED) to defibrillate a casualty in an emergency situation.

This unit includes advanced techniques for management of the administration of an AED in line with the requirements of the Australian Resuscitation Council and State and Territory regulatory bodies. The unit also involves working with personnel who are engaged in the resuscitation of the casualty.

Cardio pulmonary resuscitation is covered in the prerequisite unit PUAEME001B Provide emergency care.

No licensing, legislative, regulatory or certification requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

Application of the Unit

The application of this unit in the workplace covers administration of an AED according to a medically endorsed protocol, working with or without other personnel while engaged in the resuscitation of a casualty.

The unit is typically relevant for personnel from emergency services and/or volunteer organisations or organisations that provide a medically supervised first aid service.

Elements and Performance Criteria

ELEMENT

PERFORMANCE CRITERIA

1. Assess casualty and develop management plan

- 1.1 Hazards are identified, minimised and if possible removed, in accordance with state/territory regulatory requirements
- 1.2 Casualty is reassured and positioned in a suitable position
- 1.3 Evaluation of signs and symptoms is undertaken to determine the casualty's condition
- 1.4 Casualty's condition is analysed to determine treatment requirements
- 1.5 Management plan is developed based on the results of the casualty assessment and the availability of equipment
- 1.6 Medical aid is arranged as soon as possible, consistent with maintaining casualty safety

2. Check equipment

- 2.1 Pre-use check of safety and potential effectiveness of equipment is undertaken in accordance with operating procedures, Australian Standards and regulatory requirements
- 2.2 Minor faults are diagnosed and repairs are carried

	out to restore equipment to working order in accordance with organisational procedures 2.3 Faults and defects are reported/recorded in accordance with organisational procedures
3. Attach and operate equipment	3.1 Equipment is set up in accordance with manufacturer's instructions 3.2 AED is attached and operated as per manufacturer's guidelines and safety procedures 3.3 Work is undertaken cooperatively with person conducting resuscitation techniques
4. Recover and restore equipment	4.1 Equipment is cleaned, discarded or disinfected, restocked and/or replenished in accordance with organisational procedures and manufacturer's guidelines 4.2 Equipment is charged, stored and safeguarded against damage or loss in accordance with organisational procedures 4.3 Reports are completed and submitted to appropriate personnel

Required Skills and Knowledge

This describes the essential skills and knowledge and their level, required for this unit.

Required Skills

- communicate effectively
- manage self and own work
- manage time
- participate as a team member
- use resuscitation equipment and techniques

Required Knowledge

- Australian Resuscitation Council standards
- circulatory system
- common cardiac rhythms
- defibrillation safety
- duty of care
- effective adherence of pads
- electrical action of the heart
- management of COAD/CAL casualties

- mechanical action of the heart
- organisational procedures for cleaning and discarding equipment in terms of environmental management and sustainability
- positioning of electrodes pads
- precautions for safe storage and handling of defibrillator resuscitation and kits - specifications
- principles of operation and troubleshooting
- relevant Australian Standards
- relevant state/territory legislative and regulatory requirements
- respiratory system
- roles and responsibilities of team members
- SAED basic operations
- safety precautions
- shock delivery protocols
- shockable rhythms
- techniques for maintenance and battery changes
- verbal and non-verbal communication techniques

Evidence Guide

The evidence guide provides advice on assessment and must be read in conjunction with the Performance Criteria, Required Skills and Knowledge, the Range Statement and the Assessment Guidelines for this Training Package.

Critical aspects for assessment and evidence required to demonstrate competency in this unit

Assessment must confirm the ability to:

- apply safe work practices while using an AED
- manage the situation in a calm and orderly manner and to take every action to ensure the safety and comfort of the casualty.

Consistency in performance

Competency should be demonstrated over time across a range of emergency situations.

Context of and specific resources for assessment

Context of assessment

Competency should be assessed in a simulated emergency situation.

Simulation should recreate realistic emergency situations in which the individual is exposed to the full range of hazards and is placed under the same pressures and timelines associated with operating a an AED in an emergency situation.

Method of assessment*Specific resources for assessment

Access is required to:

- defibrillation equipment/kit
- appropriate resuscitation manikin
- suitable site or training area to simulate an emergency situation

In a public safety environment assessment is usually conducted via direct observation in a training environment or in the workplace via subject matter supervision and/or mentoring, which is typically recorded in a competency workbook.

Assessment is completed using appropriately qualified assessors who select the most appropriate method of assessment.

The Range Statement relates to the Unit of Competency as a whole. It allows for different work environments and situations that may affect performance. Bold italicised wording in the Performance Criteria is detailed below.

- Hazards include:
- contact with patient during defibrillation
  - conductive surfaces (water, fluids, metal)
  - explosive environments (oxygen, gases, fumes)
  - unstable environment

- Regulatory requirements may include:
- Australian Resuscitation Council requirements
  - relevant state/territory regulatory requirements

- Casualties may include:
- adults
  - children over 8 years old/25 kg

- Signs and symptoms may include:
- casualty history
  - details of incident
  - medical history

- physical appearance
  - vital signs
- Equipment* may include:
- gauze wipes
  - gloves
  - razors
  - resuscitation masks
  - SAED equipment used for delivery of external defibrillation
  - shears
  - spare AED pads
  - spare battery
- Pre-use check* may include:
- battery life
  - environmental factors that affect operation
  - existence of suitable prominent warnings about precautions to be observed
  - for damage or malfunctions
  - pad use by date
  - to replenish and/or restore
- Reporting/recording faults and defects* may include:
- filling out and processing standard forms
  - verbal communication

RGRPSH308 Provide first aid and emergency care for horses or other equines

Modification History

Release	Comments
Release 1	This version released with RGR Racing and Breeding Training Package Version 2.0.

Application

This unit of competency describes the skills and knowledge required to measure and record vital signs of horses or other equines, identify and report signs of common illnesses and injuries, provide emergency care and follow first aid policies and procedures.

The unit applies to individuals who work in a broad range of occupations in horse-related or other equine-related industries, carrying out work under broad direction within industry guidelines.

All work must be carried out to comply with workplace procedures, in accordance with applicable state/territory animal welfare and workplace health and safety legislative requirements.

No licensing or certification requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

Assessment Requirements for RGRPSH308 Provide first aid and emergency care for horses or other equines

Modification History

Release	Comments
Release 1	This version released with RGR Racing and Breeding Training Package Version 2.0.

Performance Evidence

An individual demonstrating competency in this unit must satisfy all of the elements and performance criteria of this unit.

There must be evidence that the individual has provided first aid and emergency care for at least two horses or other equines (or completed appropriate simulations), including for each:

- recognised illness or injury and carried out a safety check of the factors relating to situation, incident site and/or treatment environment
- provided appropriate first aid and treatments to horse or other equine, including:
  - responding to hoof and leg illness or injury
  - calming and/or restraining horse or other equine safely and ethically
- reported irregularities to stable nominated person in a timely manner.

Knowledge Evidence

An individual must be able to demonstrate the knowledge required to perform the tasks outlined in the elements and performance criteria of this unit. This includes knowledge of:

- principles, practices and industry terminology related to emergency care and first aid for horses or other equines
- safe handling techniques, including:
  - risks associated with catching, handling and restraining equines
  - methods of restraining horses or other equines
  - common equine behaviour, including when injured, stressed or ill
- signs and types of treatment for common illnesses and injuries in equines, including:
  - lameness
  - shock
- relevant industry rules for providing first aid and emergency care for horses, including:
  - rules for prohibited substances and alternative treatments
  - zoonosis, disease and biosecurity control

- reporting requirements, including for infectious reportable illnesses – Strangles, tetanus, EI, Hendra
- industry standards and expectations relevant to providing first aid and emergency care for horses:
  - effective working relationships, including teamwork
  - industry animal welfare requirements
  - industry safety requirements, including safe operating procedures.

Assessment Conditions

Assessment of skills must take place under the following conditions:

- physical conditions:
  - a workplace or an environment that accurately reflects performance in a real workplace setting
- resources, equipment and materials:
  - various horses or other equines requiring first aid or emergency care assessed as suitable for the skills and experience of the individual; or appropriate simulations if safety or access to injured equines is restricted
  - materials and equipment relevant to providing first aid and emergency care
  - access to trainer and/or veterinarian for instructions.

Training and assessment strategies must show evidence of guidance provided in the Companion Volume: User Guide: Safety in Equine Training.

Assessors of this unit must satisfy the requirements for assessors in applicable vocational education and training legislation, frameworks and/or standards.

This unit describes the performance outcomes, skills and knowledge required to conduct pool water tests, record test results and make visual ongoing checks.

This unit applies to those working as pool attendants or aquatic operators in aquatic environments, such as council or commercially operated aquatic and leisure centres. Work is performed according to public health regulatory requirements, organisational policies and procedures, and relevant legislation.

Work may be carried out under supervision or with some autonomy, depending on the individual situation and job role.

No occupational licensing, certification or specific legislative requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

ELEMENTS

Elements describe the essential outcomes

PERFORMANCE CRITERIA

Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.

1. Conduct pool water tests.
  - 1.1 Complete routine pool water tests according to public health regulatory requirements.
  - 1.2 Interpret test results and compare with public health regulatory requirements.
  - 1.3 Identify and report pool water test irregularities to appropriate personnel for corrective action.
  - 1.4 Respond to contamination incidents within scope of own role.
  - 1.5 Conduct regular sample collection and initiate corrective actions as required.
  - 1.6 Perform regular visual checks of pool water quality, identify issues and initiate corrective actions when required.
2. Record test results.
  - 2.1 Record pool water test results accurately.
  - 2.2 Update swimming pool log according to aquatic facility specifications.

Assessment Requirements for SISCAQU001 Test pool water quality

Modification History

Not applicable.

Performance Evidence

Evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit in the context of the job role, and:

- test pool water for the following on a minimum of four separate occasions:
  - free chlorine and/or total bromine
  - total chlorine
  - combined chlorine
  - pH
  - total alkalinity
  - cyanuric acid
  - calcium hardness
  - total hardness
  - temperature
- perform routine visual checks for pool water quality.

Knowledge Evidence

Demonstrated knowledge required to complete the tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit:

- legislation and organisational policies and procedures:
  - public health regulatory requirements in the local area
  - health acts
  - infectious diseases regulations
  - dangerous goods act and regulations
  - work health and safety/occupational health and safety
  - environmental legislation
  - local government regulation
  - roles, responsibilities and limitations of own role
- pool water chemistry terms and their meaning:
  - pH levels
  - alkalinity
  - chlorine and or bromine

- temperature
- calcium hardness
- types of pool water tests, their purpose and testing procedures
- visual checks made by pool attendants
- equipment and resources used for testing pool water quality
- responses to contamination incidents.

Assessment Conditions

Skills must be demonstrated in:

- a workplace or simulated aquatic facility with an operating pool.

Assessment must ensure use of:

- pool water testing apparatus
- public health regulatory documentation
- organisational policies and procedures.

Assessment activities that allow the individual to:

- conduct regular pool water tests within industry realistic timeframes.

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisations' requirements for assessors.

SISCAQU002 Perform basic water rescues

Modification History

Not applicable.

Application

This unit describes the performance outcomes, skills and knowledge required to perform basic water rescues in indoor or outdoor aquatic venues.

The unit applies to all workers who may be required to perform basic water rescues in a range of situations, including swimming pools. Work is performed according to accepted best practice principles of aquatic rescues, relevant legislation and organisational policies.

Specific licensing requirements relating to this competency, including requirements for refresher training, should be obtained from the relevant state/territory work health and safety regulatory authority.

Elements and Performance Criteria

ELEMENTS

Elements describe the essential outcomes

1. Identify and evaluate aquatic emergencies.

PERFORMANCE CRITERIA

Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.

- 1.1 Recognise signs and signals of a person in difficulty.
- 1.2 Assess situation to determine appropriate response in an aquatic emergency.
- 1.3 Identify and assess immediate hazards and risks to self and others.

2. Apply basic water rescue principles.
  - 2.1 Determine rescue type required and promptly formulate a rescue plan.
  - 2.2 Access and use available equipment, as required.
  - 2.3 Perform basic water rescue techniques according to emergency needs using fitness and strength levels required in own work environment.
  - 2.4 Delegate tasks when required.
  - 2.5 Identify and promptly respond to issues that arise during the rescue.
  - 2.6 Monitor the condition of the casualty and plan a course of action.
3. Communicate incident details.
  - 3.1 Convey incident details accurately to emergency response services.
  - 3.2 Report details of incident to workplace supervisor as appropriate.
  - 3.3 Provide reassurance to bystanders as required.
  - 3.4 Maintain confidentiality of records and information in line with statutory and/or organisational policies.

Assessment Requirements for SISCAQU002 Perform basic water rescues

Modification History

Not applicable.

Performance Evidence

Evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit in the context of the job role, and:

- identify, evaluate and respond to aquatic emergencies according to organisational and legislative requirements
- identify and respond to all of the following signs and signals:
  - call for help
  - vertical body position
  - minimal or non-supportive leg action
  - vigorous arm movements
  - submerged or unconscious person
- perform the following non-swimming rescues:
  - reach
  - rope throw
  - throw flotation aid
- perform the following swimming rescues demonstrating the fitness and strength to tow a person in difficulty at least 10 metres with their mouth and nose above water to a point of safety:
  - accompanied
  - wade
  - non-contact tow
  - contact tow
- incorporate appropriate adjustments for each of the above rescues to ensure safety of self and others.

Knowledge Evidence

Demonstrated knowledge required to complete the tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit:

- legislation, organisational policies and procedures and industry standards in relation to:
  - the safe conduct of water rescues
  - accurate completion of incident documentation

- common signs and signals of a person experiencing difficulties in the water and possible contributing factors:
  - call for help
  - vertical body position
  - minimal or non-supportive leg action
  - vigorous arm movements
  - submerged or unconscious person
- use and location of equipment types
- non-swimming rescue methods and techniques:
  - reach
  - rope throw
  - throw flotation aid
- swimming rescue methods and techniques:
  - accompanied
  - wade
  - non-contact tow
  - contact tow
- issues that arise during rescues and appropriate adjustments to ensure safety of self and others
- communication systems used during rescues to inform managers, other employees and emergency services of progress
- potential dangers in a range of aquatic environments and how to respond.

Assessment Conditions

Skills must be demonstrated in:

- a workplace or simulated aquatic facility or environment such as an indoor pool, outdoor pool, or shallow water venue.

Assessment must ensure use of:

- pool safety equipment:
  - flotation devices
  - first aid facilities and equipment
  - ropes
  - suitable to perform a reach rescue
- participants to enable demonstration of all water rescue techniques and scenarios, these can be:
  - participants in a workplace, or
  - individuals who participate in project activities, role plays or simulated activities, set up for the purpose of assessment, within a training organisation.

Assessment activities that allow the individual to:

- demonstrate water rescue techniques and broader emergency responses in required emergency situation timeframes
- communicate with relevant personnel and emergency response services.

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisations' requirements for assessors.

- procedures.
- 1.2 Develop and document systems for pool water maintenance in consultation with appropriate personnel.
2. Implement pool water maintenance procedures.
- 2.1 Provide accurate and current information and instruction to staff about legislative and technical requirements.
- 2.2 Delegate testing and treatment tasks according to staff skills.
- 2.3 Test pool water quality following established procedures.
- 2.4 Interpret results of tests made by self and others and identify where correction is needed.
- 2.5 Calculate the amount of chemicals required to correct chemical imbalances in pool water.
- 2.6 Select and use chemical dosing equipment for treatment of pool water according to manufacturer specifications.
- 2.7 Monitor pool water quality on ongoing basis, identify issues of concern and respond according to agreed procedures.
- 2.8 Identify and respond to emergency situations according to agreed procedures.
- 2.9 Complete accurate documentation
3. Evaluate pool water maintenance procedures.
- 3.1 Assess effectiveness of pool water maintenance procedures against testing and treatment records.
- 3.2 Identify and document potential improvements to maintenance procedures.
- 3.3 Communicate improvements and changes to relevant staff and stakeholders.

Assessment Requirements for SISCAQU004 Develop and implement pool water maintenance procedures

Modification History

Not applicable.

Performance Evidence

Evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit in the context of the job role, and:

- develop and document pool water maintenance procedures that meet regulatory requirements for at least one aquatic facility that incorporate:
  - monitoring and treatment procedures for:
    - microbiological levels
    - disinfectant levels
    - pH levels
    - clarity levels
  - staff training requirements
  - safety procedures
  - emergency response procedures
  - documentation and reporting
- implement and evaluate pool water maintenance procedures for at least one aquatic facility
- implement emergency procedures in the event of a chemical emergency on at least one occasion.

Knowledge Evidence

Demonstrated knowledge required to do the task outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit:

- legislation and industry standards relevant to aquatic facility maintenance with specific focus on local requirements:
  - work health and safety/occupational health and safety
  - dangerous goods act and regulations
  - local government regulations
  - building codes and regulations
- organisational policies and procedures:
  - standard operating conditions and levels
  - work health and safety/occupational health and safety
  - risk assessment and control

- handling of hazardous chemicals
- emergency response
- factors that affect pool water treatment needs in different contexts:
  - condition of aquatic facility
  - location
  - size
  - nature of services provided
  - availability of resources
- characteristics of water quality:
  - pH levels
  - alkalinity
  - chlorine and / or bromine
  - temperature
  - calcium hardness
  - disinfectant levels
- waterborne bacteria and how to enable these to be monitored and controlled safely:
  - pseudomonas
  - aeruginosa
- consultation and communication mechanisms to develop and implement procedural systems
- content considerations for procedure documents:
  - specific testing and treatment procedures
  - safety requirements (chemicals, plant and equipment)
  - emergency response
  - training requirements
  - documentation and reporting requirements
- water treatment processes:
  - routine pool water tests
  - pool water microbiological tests
  - superchlorination
  - shock dosing
  - dechlorination
  - ozonisation or use of sanitizer
  - pool water filtration and recirculation
  - backwashing
  - manual removal of visible contaminants
- features and sources of products for pool water quality maintenance.

Assessment Conditions

Skills must be demonstrated in:

- a workplace or simulated aquatic facility or environment.

Assessment must ensure use of:

- a pool for which a maintenance program would be developed
- information about pool water quality maintenance to allow the individual to develop a tailored system
- organisational policies and procedures
- incident reporting documentation
- resources to maintain facility and equipment.

Assessment activities that allow the individual to:

- implement and monitor pool quality maintenance over time
- respond to a chemical emergency situation.

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisations' requirements for assessors.

  - inappropriate behaviour
  - environmental
  - individual(s) experiencing difficulty in the water
  - emergency/rescue situations
- select and use communication techniques as appropriate to each of the hazardous situations:
  - clear verbal communication
  - negotiation
  - conflict resolution.

Knowledge Evidence

Demonstrated knowledge required to complete the tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit:

- legislation and organisational policies and procedures:
  - work health and safety/occupational health and safety
  - use and care of equipment
  - communication protocols
  - safety, rescue and emergency procedures
  - incident reporting
  - appropriate responses to potential risk
  - behaviour management
- industry standards that enables a low risk environment for client activities and appropriate response to emergencies
- hazardous behaviour and activities that pose risks to clients and how to identify and deal with them appropriately:
  - misusing equipment
  - swimming in unsafe areas

- behaving with disregard for the safety of others or self
- diving into shallow water
- consuming alcohol or illegal drugs
- signs and signals of people experiencing difficulties in the water and how to respond:
  - lack of movement
  - arm waving
  - calling for help
- signs and symptoms of physical injury
- environmental hazards and how to respond:
  - weather conditions
  - reflective glare
  - water clarity or turbidity
  - rips
  - shallow water
- characteristics and needs of individuals who are high risk:
  - overweight
  - elderly
  - people with a disability
  - young children
  - drug or alcohol effected
  - weak or non-swimmers
  - injured swimmers
- incidence and features of alcohol related drowning
- best practice principles of aquatic rescues:
  - accepted preventative practice adopted in aquatic industry
  - guidelines and codes of conduct
  - culture of life saving
- communication techniques
  - clear communication
  - negotiation
  - conflict resolution techniques.

Assessment Conditions

Skills must be demonstrated in:

- a workplace or simulated aquatic facility or confined natural shallow water environment.

Assessment must ensure use of:

- organisational policies and procedures appropriate to risk management
- first aid facilities and equipment

- incident reporting documentation
- participants using the aquatic facility, these can be:

Performance Evidence

Evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit in the context of the job role, and:

- identify and respond to all of the following signs and signals of aquatic emergencies according to organisational and legislative requirements:
  - call for help
  - vertical body position
  - diagonal body position
  - minimal or non-supportive leg action
  - vigorous arm movements
  - submerged or unconscious person
- use the following equipment and techniques during rescue situations:
  - spinal immobilisation equipment
  - oxygen supplemented resuscitation
  - oxygen therapy
  - safe manual handling techniques
- demonstrate correct swimming strokes, personal survival and rescue skills:
  - personal survival and defensive techniques on approach to a casualty
  - contact tow of both a conscious and unconscious casualty
  - non-contact tow of a conscious casualty
- successfully complete fitness and strength tests:
  - swim 200 metres in less than 6 minutes without using equipment

- retrieve an object from the deepest water within the aquatic environment no greater than 3 metres in depth. If depth is greater than 3 metres assistance may be used e.g. fins
- respond in a team to at least two of each of the simulated emergency scenarios contextualised to the candidate's workplace/aquatic environment:
  - assist two other team members with the removal of an unconscious person from the water
  - complete a 25 metre swim and 25 metre non-contact tow of a conscious casualty with assisted landing in less than 1minute 45 seconds
  - work as a team to perform spinal immobilisation, stabilization and removal of a suspected spinal injury casualty in both shallow and deep water:
    - immobilise and roll over as per workplace and pool depth
    - use of available spinal immobilisation equipment.

Knowledge Evidence

Demonstrated knowledge required to complete the tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit:

- legislation and organisational policies and procedures that enable the safe and appropriate conduct of all activities:
  - work health and safety/occupational health and safety
  - duty of care
  - working with children
  - communication protocols
  - rescue and emergency procedures
  - incident reporting
- factors leading to aquatic emergencies:
  - swimming ability
  - deep water
  - shallow water
  - river currents
  - surf conditions
  - strong winds
  - risk taking behaviour
- different aquatic emergencies and appropriate responses:
  - sudden unconsciousness
  - spinal injury
  - drowning
  - heart attack
  - severe bleeding
  - epileptic seizures

- severe asthma attacks
- factors contributing to aquatic emergencies to enable prompt and accurate assessment of emergency situations:
  - number of casualties
  - rescue equipment
  - number and location of other staff
- accepted best practice principles of aquatic rescues
- first aid techniques and standards to enable provision of safe and effective response and treatment of casualties
- types and characteristics of water rescue equipment used in advanced water rescue to enable safe and effective use:
  - spinal immobilisation equipment
  - oxygen supplemented resuscitation
  - oxygen therapy
- role of lifeguards and other personnel during major aquatic emergencies to enable effective emergency responses.

Assessment Conditions

Skills must be demonstrated in:

- a workplace or simulated aquatic facility or environment appropriate to the candidate's current or intended work role.

Assessment must ensure use of:

- CPR mannequins
- rescue equipment:
  - reaching aids
  - spinal immobilisation equipment
  - pool rescue equipment (rescue tubes/rings)
- suitable participants to enable demonstration of all water rescue techniques and scenarios, these can be:
  - participants in a workplace, or
  - individuals who participate in project activities, role plays or simulated activities, set up for the purpose of assessment, within a training organisation.

Assessment activities that allow the individual to:

- respond to realistic in-depth, industry-validated rescue scenarios and simulations.

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisations' requirements for assessors.

SISCAQU008 Instruct water familiarisation, buoyancy and mobility skills

Modification History

Not applicable.

Application

This unit describes the performance outcomes, skills and knowledge required to develop lesson plans and instruct a broad range of clients in water familiarisation, buoyancy and mobility skills. This involves using drills, activities and games according to best practice principles of aquatic activities.

This unit applies to those conducting learn-to-swim and water safety classes in swimming pools and confined natural shallow water venues. Work is performed according to relevant legislation including working with children and/or vulnerable people checks, organisational policies and procedures and best practice principles.

No occupational licensing, certification or specific legislative requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

Pre-requisite Unit

SISCAQU002 Perform basic water rescues

Competency Field

Aquatics

Unit Sector

Community Recreation

Elements and Performance Criteria

ELEMENTS

Elements describe the essential outcomes

PERFORMANCE CRITERIA

Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.

1. Develop lesson plans.
  - 1.1 Consider participant group characteristics and identify water familiarisation, buoyancy and mobility skills to be developed.
  - 1.2 Assess participant readiness.
  - 1.3 Determine appropriate instructional methods to acquire the relevant skills.
  - 1.4 Determine appropriate drills, activities and/or games for the participant group.
  - 1.5 Develop and document lesson plans that incorporate key instructional information.
2. Conduct lessons.
  - 2.1 Allocate sufficient space, assemble resources and check equipment for maintenance requirements.
  - 2.2 Provide clear and accurate instruction on drills, activities and/or games.
  - 2.3 Appropriately introduce participants to the water.
  - 2.4 Demonstrate skills and techniques, and monitor the participation and performance of each participant.
  - 2.5 Observe participant movement through water according to principles of movement in water and adjust or refine individual or group performance, as required.
  - 2.6 Select and use communication techniques that encourage and support participants.
  - 2.7 Modify activity, as required according to participant needs and factors that affect skills acquisition.
  - 2.8 Respond to participants experiencing difficulties and answer questions as required.
  - 2.9 Monitor time and complete drills, activities or games within time allocated.
  - 2.10 Complete lesson documentation.
3. Review and adapt instruction.
  - 3.1 Request and respond to feedback from participants.
  - 3.2 Identify aspects needing further emphasis or attention in future sessions.
  - 3.3 Review own performance and identify areas needing improvement.
  - 3.4 Implement modifications to future instruction in response to feedback and review of participant progress.

Performance Evidence

Evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit in the context of the job role, and:

- instruct water familiarisation, buoyancy and mobility skills according to legal, ethical and organisational requirements
- develop and implement at least three lesson plans that individually or cumulatively incorporate the following aspects of water familiarisation, buoyancy and mobility skills and documents the teaching points, class formations, safety and equipment:
  - water familiarisation:
    - entering, leaving and moving through water
    - getting face wet
    - submerging and opening eyes under water
    - regaining a standing position
    - breathing
  - buoyancy and mobility:
    - front, back and side floating
    - gliding
    - torpedo
    - sculling
    - treading water
    - stroke exploration
- use and modify the following instructional strategies for individuals and groups:
  - whole skill
  - whole, progressive part, whole
  - progressive part
  - demonstration
  - command and response
  - experiential or problem-solving
  - techniques to encourage the reluctant participant
- reflect on the following key aspects of instruction:
  - the lesson
  - teaching methods used

- risk management
- potential ways to enhance learning opportunities.

Knowledge Evidence

Demonstrated knowledge required to complete the tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit:

- legal, ethical and organisational requirements and responsibilities for instruction:

Elements and Performance Criteria

ELEMENTS

Elements describe the essential outcomes

1. Develop activity plans.

PERFORMANCE CRITERIA

Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.

1.1 Consider participant group characteristics and identify motor, cognitive and personal development skills to be

- developed.
- 1.2 Determine appropriate water-based activities that promote required skills.
  - 1.3 Plan and structure activities for developmental progression with equipment and resources appropriate to age and stage of development.
  - 1.4 Develop and document activity plans that incorporate key information.
2. Conduct activities.
- 2.1 Allocate sufficient space, assemble resources and check equipment for safety and maintenance requirements.
  - 2.2 Provide clear information to participants and confirm understanding using age-appropriate communication techniques.
  - 2.3 Facilitate experiences that encourage motor, cognitive and personal development.
  - 2.4 Arrange aquatic resources and equipment to provide challenge, choice and encourage independence.
  - 2.5 Provide opportunities to make limited choices and experience consequences of choices.
  - 2.6 Introduce new ideas or activities that build on existing knowledge, skills and interests.
  - 2.7 Encourage caregivers to become actively involved in introducing new aquatic experiences to participants.
  - 2.8 Monitor time and complete activities within allocated time.
  - 2.9 Complete activity documentation and progress notes.
3. Review and adapt instruction.
- 3.1 Provide clear information to caregivers.
  - 3.2 Seek and respond constructively to feedback and questions.
  - 3.3 Review own performance and identify areas needing improvement.
  - 3.4 Implement modifications to future session in response to feedback and review of participant progress.

Assessment Requirements for SISCAQU011 Promote development of infants and toddlers in an aquatic environment

Modification History

Not applicable.

Performance Evidence

Evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit in the context of the job role, and:

- promote the development of infants and toddlers according to legal, ethical and organisational requirements
- develop and implement at least three activity plans with infants, toddlers and caregivers in aquatic activities using games and activities that promote the following motor, cognitive development and personal development skills:
  - motor development:
    - fine and gross motor skills
    - reflexive movements
    - disorganised and unstable movements
    - control of breathing, coughing and swallowing
    - organised and voluntary movement
    - coordinated movements with buoyancy, head and breath control
  - cognitive development:
    - attention to details/attention span
    - classification of information
    - memory
    - imagination and conceptual development
    - problem-solving skills
    - language acquisition
    - choice and consequences
    - independence
    - environmental awareness
  - personal development:
    - opportunities to separate from caregivers
    - encouragement of caregivers to introduce new experiences
- select and use communication techniques suited to infants and toddlers
- reflect on the following key aspects of instruction
  - the lesson
  - teaching methods used

- risk management
- potential ways to enhance learning opportunities.

Knowledge Evidence

Demonstrated knowledge required to complete the tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit:

- legal, ethical and organisational requirements and responsibilities for instruction:
  - work health and safety/occupational health and safety
  - working with children
  - duty of care/safe conduct of activities
  - best practice principles of aquatic activities
  - mandatory reporting
  - implications of negligence
  - waivers and exclusion clauses
  - insurance
  - anti-discrimination and equal opportunity
  - privacy and confidentiality
  - communication protocols
  - a recognised swimming teachers code of conduct
  - swimwear and personal protective equipment
- principles of session planning to develop activity-specific plans:
  - expectations and aspirations of parents or caregivers
  - numbers of clients
  - client background, experience and developmental stage
  - staff and financial resources
  - cultural and political influences
  - involvement and interest of parents or caregivers
  - length and number of sessions
  - equipment, materials and provisions
  - precautions and other health and safety information
- instructional methods and principles:
  - whole skill strategies
  - progressive part strategies
  - demonstration strategies
  - command and response strategies
  - experiential or problem-solving strategies
  - techniques to encourage the reluctant participant
- conditions, factors and external influences that effect participant uptake of skill:
  - physical, intellectual and emotional characteristics

- environmental conditions
- other facility users
- spectators
- parents
- other instructors
- background noise and distractions
- class size
- water depth
- available water space
- temperament and personality characteristics of infants and toddlers:
  - easy child
  - slow to warm up child
  - difficult child
- development stages of infants and toddlers:
  - motor
  - cognitive
  - personal development
- aquatic activities and games to facilitate motor, cognitive and personal development in infants and toddlers
- appropriate use, care and ongoing maintenance of industry relevant equipment and resources.

Assessment Conditions

Skills must be demonstrated in:

- a workplace or simulated warm water pool.

Assessment must ensure use of:

- infant and toddler participants with differing needs and expectations
- organisational policies and procedures
- aquatic equipment and toys.

Assessment must ensure access to:

- first aid facilities and equipment.

Assessment activities that allow the individual to:

- conduct activities within industry required timeframes
- respond to problems that typically arises when working with infants and toddlers in an aquatic environment.

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisations' requirements for assessors.

SISCAQU012 Assist participants with a disability during aquatic activities

Modification History

Not applicable.

Application

This unit describes the performance outcomes, skills and knowledge required to identify the needs of participants with a disability, assist them to safely enter and exit the water and to provide appropriate support during aquatic activities.

This unit applies to those conducting learn-to-swim and water familiarisation classes in swimming pools or confined natural shallow water venues. Work is performed according to relevant legislation, public health regulatory requirements and organisational policies and procedures.

No occupational licensing, certification or specific legislative requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

Elements and Performance Criteria

ELEMENTS

Elements describe the essential outcomes

1. Identify participant needs.

PERFORMANCE CRITERIA

Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.

- 1.1 Consider participant group characteristics and suitability of environmental features to participant needs.

- 1.2 Assess the degree and type of support required.
- 1.3 Determine entry and exit requirements, and appropriate entry and exit points.
- 1.4 Report any unsuitable environmental features or entry and exit points.
2. Provide aquatic support.
  - 2.1 Select and use communication techniques suited to participants.
  - 2.2 Advise participants and caregivers of location and appropriate use of resources.
  - 2.3 Provide clear information and demonstrations to participants and caregivers and confirm understanding.
  - 2.4 Seek and respond to questions or feedback from participants and caregivers.
  - 2.5 Provide appropriate type and level of support.
  - 2.6 Observe and monitor participant responses and adjust support provided, as required.
  - 2.7 Respond to participants or caregivers experiencing difficulties.
3. Review aquatic support.
  - 3.1 Respond to participant and caregiver concerns, feedback and questions as required.
  - 3.2 Report on resources and aspects needing further emphasis, attention or intervention in future sessions.
  - 3.3 Review own performance and identify areas needing improvement and appropriate strategies as required.

Assessment Requirements for SISCAQU012 Assist participants with a disability during aquatic activities

Modification History

Not applicable.

Performance Evidence

Evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit in the context of the job role, and:

- provide support to at least three clients with different types of disability
- correctly use the following physical support techniques:
  - hands on torso
  - hands to hands
  - back hold in vertical or horizontal positions
  - short arm hold
  - cradling
  - carry hold
  - hip hold
  - prone hold
  - prone side hold
  - assisted entries and exits
- select and use communication strategies suited to individual clients, including the following:
  - active listening
  - open questioning
  - non-verbal
  - visual
  - sensory
  - tactile.

Knowledge Evidence

Demonstrated knowledge required to complete the tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit:

- legal, ethical and organisational policies and procedures:
  - work health and safety/occupational health and safety
  - duty of care
  - working with children

- communication protocols
- codes of conduct
- best practice principles of aquatic activities
- disability specific legislation
- current policies and frameworks supporting provision of services to people with a disability
- factors affecting support requirements:
  - physical disability
  - intellectual or sensory impairment
  - mobility
  - fitness
  - body type and composition
  - age
- environmental features to be considered:
  - ramps
  - hoists
  - steps
  - surface type
  - railings
  - water depth
  - available water space
- aquatic support techniques and their application to different participant requirements, as specified in the Performance Evidence
- communication techniques and the need to adapt to specific needs:
  - clear verbal communication
  - visual
  - tactile
- use, care and maintenance of equipment used to support people with a disability
- first aid and water rescue techniques to enable appropriate responses to participants or caregivers experiencing difficulties
- cardiopulmonary resuscitation techniques to enable initial response to emergencies as per Australian Resuscitation Council (ARC) guidelines.

Assessment Conditions

Skills must be demonstrated in:

- a workplace or simulated aquatic facility or confined natural shallow water environment.

Assessment must ensure use of:

- participants with a disability to whom services are provided

- organisational policies and procedures appropriate to risk management
  - incident reporting documentation.

Assessment must ensure access to:

- first aid facilities and equipment.

Assessment activities that allow the individual to:

- respond to typical challenges that arise when providing support to people with a disability.

SISCAQU014 Operate self-contained breathing apparatus in an aquatic facility

Modification History

Not applicable.

Application

This unit describes the performance outcomes, skills and knowledge required to identify and respond to emergency situations requiring the use of self-contained breathing apparatus (SCBA).

This unit applies to those working at aquatic facilities where chlorine gas is used. The Australian and New Zealand Safety Standard 2927 requires a SCBA to be kept at any public swimming pool or public place where chlorine is stored or used. The Western Australian Code of Practice for the Design, Construction, Operation, Management and Maintenance of Aquatic Facilities imposes conditions on Pool Operators of Group 1 Swimming Pools to hold this Unit of Competence.

With regard to other states and territories, no licensing, regulatory or certification requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

Elements and Performance Criteria

ELEMENTS

Elements describe the essential outcomes

PERFORMANCE CRITERIA

Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.

1. Identify and evaluate emergency situations.
  - 1.1 Identify emergencies requiring the use of self-contained breathing apparatus.
  - 1.2 Communicate initial assessment of emergency to appropriate personnel and determine an appropriate response.
2. Use self-contained breathing apparatus.
  - 2.1 Check self-contained breathing apparatus unit is operational.
  - 2.2 Fit and operate self-contained breathing apparatus unit according to manufacturer instructions.
  - 2.3 Connect chlorine gas regulator to cylinder or drum installation.
  - 2.4 Perform leak detection test on chlorine gas regulator.
  - 2.5 Record and report details of routine maintenance.
  - 2.6 Isolate chlorine gas equipment in an emergency situation and notify emergency personnel in line with organisational requirements.
3. Check and maintain self-contained breathing apparatus.
  - 3.1 Check self-contained breathing apparatus unit, report faults and take corrective action when required.
  - 3.2 Clear and store the self-contained breathing apparatus unit after use if no maintenance action required.
  - 3.3 Remove, replace or repair faulty equipment and defective parts according to manufacturer instructions and scope of responsibility.
4. Complete post-emergency responsibilities.
  - 4.1 Record and report details of emergency incident according to organisational procedures.
  - 4.2 Evaluate emergency procedures and recommend any changes required to improve response.

Foundation Skills

Foundation skills essential to performance in this unit, but not explicit in the performance criteria are listed here, along with a brief context statement.

SKILLS

DESCRIPTION

- Reading skills to:
- interpret technical documents such as manufacturer instructions for the use, care and maintenance of self-contained breathing apparatus units.
- Numeracy skills to:
- determine air supply limits of self-contained breathing apparatus units.

SISCCR001 Facilitate community recreation initiatives

Modification History

Not applicable.

Application

This unit describes the performance outcomes, skills and knowledge required to develop, deliver and evaluate community recreation initiatives. Community recreation initiatives are diverse in nature and this unit is relevant to any type of community recreation initiative using community development principles around consultation, access and equity. Initiatives can be as targeted as increasing participation in local populations, or as broad as implementing a nationally recognised need within the community.

This unit applies to middle managers and volunteer coordinators who work autonomously in community recreation environments. Work is performed according to relevant legislation and organisational policies and procedures.

No occupational licensing, certification or specific legislative requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

1.1 Consult with stakeholders to identify community

- recreation initiatives. characteristics, needs and expectations.
- 1.2 Identify community groups with specific requirements.
  - 1.3 Conduct meetings and consultations with community members to confirm needs and expected outcomes.
  - 1.4 Identify barriers and risks to participation and develop appropriate strategies.
  - 1.5 Develop and document strategies for communication and implementation of initiatives.
  - 1.6 Prepare and distribute marketing materials to target group.
2. Deliver community recreation initiatives.
    - 2.1 Identify and organise appropriate resources to implement initiatives.
    - 2.2 Implement delivery strategies that ensure safety of participants.
    - 2.3 Monitor access, participation and safety and adjust initiatives according to responses of specific community.
    - 2.4 Encourage participants to provide feedback on initiatives.
  3. Evaluate community recreation initiatives.
    - 3.1 Seek and acknowledge feedback from relevant stakeholders.
    - 3.2 Evaluate relevant components of initiatives against expected outcomes.
    - 3.3 Identify potential areas for improvement and consult with key stakeholders to determine future directions.

Performance Evidence

Evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit in the context of the job role, and:

- develop, deliver and evaluate at least two different recreation initiatives for two different target groups.

Knowledge Evidence

Demonstrated knowledge required to complete the tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit:

- legislation and organisational policies and procedures that inform planning and delivery of recreation initiatives:
  - work health and safety
  - anti-discrimination and equal opportunity
  - privacy
  - working with children
  - communication protocols
- principles of social justice and advocacy
- social, political, cultural and historical issues relevant to specific communities and groups to a level required to develop appropriate initiatives:
  - cultural and linguistic diversity
  - urban, rural or remote location
  - family systems
  - schooling

  - financial
  - time and resource constraints
- potential outcomes of initiatives:
  - increased participation
  - increased retention level
  - feelings of inclusiveness
- evaluation processes to enable improvements to be made to the program.

Assessment Conditions

Skills must be demonstrated in:

- an appropriate facility or venue within a community setting such as a community hall, aquatic or sport centre
- a simulated community recreation environment.

Assessment must ensure use of:

- participants for the recreation initiative; these can be:
  - participants in a community setting, or
  - individuals who participate in project activities, role plays or simulated activities, set up for the purpose of assessment, within a training organisation
- equipment and resources required for the implementation of the initiative
- industry, community or organisational documentation such as community recreation plans, forms relating to resource and equipment, evaluation tools
- legislation and organisational policies and procedures in relation to the conduct of recreational activities.

Assessment activities that allow the individual to:

Assessment Requirements for SISCCRO001 Plan and conduct recreation programs for older persons

Modification History

Not applicable.

Performance Evidence

Evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit in the context of the job role, and:

- plan, conduct and evaluate at least three different programs for older people, including both frail and moderately active participants
- conduct programs that individually or cumulatively incorporate at least three of the following activity types:
  - stretching and mobility
  - strengthening or conditioning
  - posture
  - balance
  - chair-based work
  - floor work
- use the following communication skills:
  - clear verbal communication
  - modelling and demonstration
  - motivational techniques.

Knowledge Evidence

Demonstrated knowledge required to complete the tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit:

- legislative and regulatory requirements that support and facilitate safe conduct of recreation programs for older participants:
  - work health and safety/occupational health and safety
  - privacy and confidentiality
  - duty of care
  - equal opportunity and anti-discrimination
  - sexual harassment
- organisational policies and procedures for planning and conducting an recreation programs for older participants:
  - appropriate use of equipment and venues
  - work health and safety/occupational health and safety

- risk minimisation
- privacy
- duty of care
- extent and limitations of responsibilities
- time constraints and scheduling requirements
- budget allocation
- use of modified equipment
- use of aids
- screening processes of older persons for entry into programs or activities:
  - interviews with participants and carers
  - medical history
  - physical ability tests
- general contraindications for participation
- factors affecting participation in programs for older persons
- potential types of participant needs and their impact on program planning:
  - physical
  - emotional
  - motivational
- program planning techniques and information to be included in plans
- psychological stages and impact of ageing on participation in recreation activities and the variations in older people's abilities
- risk analysis processes for assessing the potential impact of a planned recreation program on participant safety:
  - level of challenge and difficulty
  - behaviour of other participants
  - equipment failure
- activity specific knowledge to match activities with client needs and capabilities:
  - suitable exercises for older persons:
    - stretching and mobility exercises
    - strengthening or conditioning
    - confidence building
    - posture
    - balance
    - chair based
    - floor work
  - variations in status of participants:
    - impact of medication
    - chronological age
    - physiological age
    - medical conditions

- factors affecting group dynamics, conflict resolution and communication strategies:
  - verbal
  - modelling or demonstration
  - hand or arm signals
  - braille
- modified equipment and aids for older participants and equipment testing and checking techniques
- evaluation processes.

Assessment Conditions

Skills must be demonstrated in:

- a workplace or simulated environment.

Assessment must ensure use of:

- equipment and resources required for the delivery of the program:
  - modified equipment and aids
- industry or organisational documentation such as program plans, forms relating to equipment checks and equipment damage
- legislation and organisational policies and procedures in relation to the conduct of programs for older persons
- older participants to undertake recreation programs; these can be:
  - participants in a community setting, or
  - individuals who participate in project activities, role plays or simulated activities, set up for the purpose of assessment, within a training organisation.

Assessment activities that allow the individual to:

- plan and conduct programs of a duration that reflects current industry practice.

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisations' requirements for assessors.

SISFFIT001 Provide health screening and fitness orientation

Modification History

Not applicable.

Application

This unit describes the performance outcomes, skills and knowledge required to identify client fitness requirements, administer a pre-exercise health screening questionnaire and advise clients of appropriate fitness programs, services and facilities. This involves using industry endorsed risk stratification procedures when determining the provision of suitable advice regarding services and referral requirements.

This unit applies to fitness instructors who work in a variety of fitness locations such as fitness, leisure and community centres. These individuals typically work independently with some level of autonomy in a controlled environment. Work is performed according to relevant legislation and organisational policies and procedures.

No occupational licensing, certification or specific legislative requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.

1.1 Question clients to confirm fitness goals, expectations

- requirements. and preferences.
- 1.2 Confirm current and past physical activity participation.
  - 1.3 Describe available programs, services and facilities relevant to client needs and expectations.
2. Administer pre-exercise health screening questionnaire.
    - 2.1 Explain purpose of pre-exercise health screening questionnaire and risk stratification to client.
    - 2.2 Provide and administer an industry standard pre-exercise health screening questionnaire to client.
    - 2.3 Discuss client preferences and outcomes of pre-exercise health screening.
    - 2.4 Refer client to medical practitioner or other appropriate professionals for further appraisal as required.
  3. Advise benefits of fitness activities and exercise prescription.
    - 3.1 Explain benefits of fitness activities and fitness programs.
    - 3.2 Advise client regarding processes and suitability of relevant activities and programs, as required.
    - 3.3 Document and update records of fitness orientation, pre-exercise screening and advice provided to client.

Foundation Skills

Foundation skills essential to performance in this unit, but not explicit in the performance criteria are listed here, along with a brief context statement.

SKILLS	DESCRIPTION
Reading skills to:	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• interpret pre-exercise health screening questionnaire requirements and processes to determine client level of risk</li> <li>• interpret pre-exercise health screening questionnaire and accompanying documentation regarding its use, implementation and risk stratification processes.</li> </ul>
Writing skills to:	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• prepare referral letters with appropriate information from client consultation and pre-exercise health screening questionnaire to general practitioners, personal trainers or advanced personal trainers.</li> </ul>
Oral communication skills to:	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• provide client with a justified explanation for referral and identify with the client the appropriate person, such as the client's general practitioner, for the referral</li> <li>• use active listening and open and closed probe questioning to interact with clients in a polite and friendly manner.</li> </ul>
Numeracy skills to:	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• conduct measurements and calculations, such as body mass index within industry standard pre-exercise health screening questionnaire</li> </ul>

- provide clients with advice on appropriate exercise intensity guidelines and heart rate calculations based on pre-exercise health screening questionnaire results.
- Problem-solving skills to:
- determine need for client referral to a general practitioner or a personal trainer or an advanced personal trainer.

Assessment Requirements for SISFFIT001 Provide health screening and fitness orientation

Modification History

Not applicable.

Performance Evidence

Evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit in the context of the job role. This must include a period(s) totalling at least three hours of fitness orientation and health screening work comprising at least five different client contact sessions and:

- use a risk stratification process for each client contact session for clients with differing needs, goals and preferences
- conduct calculations and measurements to adequately complete health screening procedures:
  - waist circumference
  - waist to hip ratio
  - body mass index
- explain available programs, services and facilities to match each client's needs, goals and preferences
- prepare referral letters with supporting pre-exercise health screening documentation for at least two clients to a relevant medical or appropriate allied health professional when guidance and feedback is required regarding exercise participation
- prepare referral letter for at least one client to a more highly qualified fitness professional, such as a personal trainer, when either the:
  - client requests personal training services
  - client's needs, goals and preferences are suited to the scope of practice of a fitness professional more highly qualified than a fitness instructor
- interact with all clients in a professional manner
- use appropriate communication strategies and organisational channels to collect and handle sensitive information.

Knowledge Evidence

Demonstrated knowledge required to complete the tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit:

- legislation and regulatory requirements:
  - appropriate collection and storage of client information
  - application of legal and ethical limitations of own role
  - work health and safety/occupational health and safety

- industry endorsed client pre-exercise health screening processes
- industry endorsed risk stratification procedures, exercise implications and referral requirements
- features and benefits of fitness facilities, exercise programs and services
- essential information and protocols for completion of referrals:
  - client details
  - rationale for referral
  - guidance being sought
  - a copy of the pre-exercise health screening tool
- role of medical or allied health professionals for referral processes
- role of relevant personnel for referral processes:
  - personal trainer
  - advanced personal trainer
- considerations to be aware of in the following specific population client presentations:
  - asthma
  - children and their developmental stages
  - continence issues
  - depression
  - high cholesterol
  - hypertension
  - knee injuries
  - lower back pain
  - menopause
  - metabolic disease or conditions, including diabetes mellitus
  - neck issues
  - obesity
  - older populations and conditions associated with ageing process
  - osteoarthritis
  - osteoporosis
  - overweight
  - pre and postnatal
  - rheumatoid arthritis.

Assessment Conditions

Skills must be demonstrated in:

- a fitness industry workplace or simulated environment with clients with real or simulated fitness needs and expectations, including new and existing clients.

Assessment must ensure use of:

- industry standard pre-exercise health screening questionnaire
- informed consent forms
- client record forms
- referral letter
- clients; these can be:
  - clients in an industry workplace, or
  - individuals who participate in role plays or simulated activities, set up for the purpose of assessment, in a simulated industry environment operated within a training organisation.

Assessment must ensure access to:

- legislation and organisational policies and procedures in relation to health screening and fitness orientation.

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisation's requirements for assessors, and:

- have achieved a Certificate IV in Fitness or above; and
- have at least 1 year consecutive post qualification fitness industry experience in the application of the skills and knowledge of the Certificate IV in Fitness.

SISFFIT003 Instruct fitness programs

Modification History

Not applicable.

Application

This unit describes the performance outcomes, knowledge and skills required to plan, instruct and evaluate a variety of fitness programs and circuit sessions aimed at the health-related components of fitness. It involves programming and instruction of cardiovascular, resistance and flexibility programs for low or moderate risk clients who have completed industry endorsed pre-exercise screening and risk stratification procedures.

This unit applies to fitness instructors who work in a variety of fitness locations such as fitness, leisure and community centres. These individuals typically work independently with some level of autonomy in a controlled environment. Work is performed according to relevant legislation and organisational policies and procedures.

No occupational licensing, certification or specific legislative requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

PERFORMANCE CRITERIA

Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.

1.1 Consider and confirm client needs, expectations and

- requirements.
- preferences using suitable questioning techniques.
- 1.2 Review and advise client of outcomes of pre-exercise health screening procedures.
  - 1.3 Refer client to medical or allied health professionals as required.
  - 1.4 Identify potential barriers to participation.
  - 1.5 Develop and document client profile for re-evaluation purposes.
2. Develop program plans.
    - 2.1 Determine type of training, training methods and equipment required to achieve client goals.
    - 2.2 Calculate total training volume required to achieve client goals.
    - 2.3 Develop and document program plans that incorporate key instructional information to target components of fitness.
    - 2.4 Develop customised training sessions that include a variety of exercises and equipment to meet client needs.
3. Conduct exercise sessions.
    - 3.1 Allocate sufficient space, assemble resources and check equipment for safety and maintenance requirements.
    - 3.2 Provide clear exercise instructions and confirm client understanding.
    - 3.3 Demonstrate exercises, techniques and equipment to client.
    - 3.4 Monitor participation and performance to identify signs of exercise intolerance and modify as required.
    - 3.5 Select and use communication techniques that encourage and support clients.
    - 3.6 Modify session as required considering basic mechanics, safety and fitness outcomes.
    - 3.7 Respond to clients experiencing difficulties and answer questions as required.
    - 3.8 Complete session documentation and progress notes.
4. Evaluate program.
    - 4.1 Monitor and evaluate exercise program at appropriate intervals.
    - 4.2 Request and respond to feedback from clients.
    - 4.3 Review own performance and identify areas needing improvement.
    - 4.4 Identify aspects needing further emphasis or attention in future sessions.
    - 4.5 Evaluate program or activities and discuss modifications to program.
    - 4.6 Document and update records of evaluation and modification of programs.

Assessment Requirements for SISFFIT003 Instruct fitness programs

Modification History

Not applicable.

Performance Evidence

Evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit in the context of the job role. This must include period(s) totalling at least eight hours comprising at least eight different client contact sessions, and:

- plan, document, implement and evaluate at least five fitness programs using the principles of program design to suit the needs of clients with goals related to health-related components of fitness
- plan, document, implement and evaluate at least three circuit training sessions with interrelated components
- conduct sessions that individually or cumulatively incorporate:
  - demonstration, explanation, and instruction in the following:
    - cardiovascular exercises
    - dynamic warm-up and cool-down components
    - resistance exercises:
      - squat
      - static lunge
      - push-up
      - triceps dips
      - prone back extension
      - shoulder press
      - abdominal crunches
      - bent over row
      - lateral raise
      - modified dead lift
      - prone hover
    - flexibility exercises – static and dynamic stretches
  - injury prevention strategies specific to client needs and program
- modify programs for clients, addressing at least three of the following:
  - technical requirements
  - changing needs due to fitness adaptations
  - changing goals
  - client needs, objectives, likes and dislikes

- technical difficulty adjustments of exercises.

Knowledge Evidence

Demonstrated knowledge required to complete the tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit:

- legislative and regulatory requirements regarding fitness programs, sessions and circuit sessions:
  - work health and safety/occupational health and safety
  - duty of care
- organisational policies and procedures in regards to:
  - pre-session screening
  - overcrowding
  - ventilation and/or climate control
  - hygiene
  - participant to instructor ratio
  - emergency
  - risk management
  - standards of personal presentation
  - participant's clothing and footwear
  - use, care and maintenance of equipment
- principles of program design:
  - FITT
  - overload
  - progression
  - specificity
- fitness program planning for improvement of health-related components of fitness:
  - body composition
  - muscle endurance
  - muscle strength
  - cardiorespiratory endurance
  - flexibility
- program design and variables relevant to health-related components of fitness and factors affecting program design
- components of a circuit training session plan:
  - phases:
    - preparation
    - conditioning
    - recovery
    - adaptation

- rest intervals
- required equipment
- floor plan for equipment arrangement
- circuit training session planning considerations and inclusions:
  - equipment
  - layout
  - number of participants
  - phases of session
- training methods and consideration of intensity, program types, sets and reps, circuits, matrices, super-sets, pre-fatigue and interval training
- benefits of fitness sessions and circuit sessions
- contraindications and precautions to participation in session, and suitable modification options for participants where the safety of the participant is not compromised
- exercises and programming requirements for:
  - flexibility:
    - dynamic or active range of motion
    - static
  - muscular endurance and strength:
    - balance and coordination
    - body weight
    - equipment
  - cardiorespiratory endurance
- effects of different exercises on the major body systems:
  - cardiovascular
  - muscular
  - nervous
  - skeletal
- methods of monitoring exercise intensity, techniques and progression:
  - heart rate
  - rate of perceived exertion
  - observation of technique
  - completed sets and repetitions
  - loads lifted
- manufacturer and exercise equipment specifications for safe use and techniques
- signs and symptoms of exercise intolerance
- motivational techniques and exercise adherence strategies.

Assessment Conditions

Skills must be demonstrated in:

- a fitness industry workplace or simulated environment with clients with real or simulated health and fitness goals..

Assessment must ensure access to:

- legislation and organisational policies and procedures in relation to fitness programs and circuit training
- industry endorsed risk stratification procedures.

Assessment must ensure use of:

- a variety of fitness industry standard equipment:
  - resistance
    - free weights
    - machines
    - proprioception and stability training equipment
  - cardiovascular training
- an appropriate area for the delivery of circuit training sessions
- client record forms
- documented session plans with inclusion of identified modifications/adjustments needed
- clients; these can be:
  - clients in an industry workplace, or
  - individuals who participate in role plays or simulated activities, set up for the purpose of assessment, in a simulated industry environment within a training organisation.

Assessment activities that allow the individual to:

- develop a variety of fitness programs over a period of time suitable for ensuring adequate time for the client to achieve several health-related components of fitness goals
- demonstrate ability to instruct a variety of circuit sessions, catering for :
  - beginners, intermediate and advanced participants
  - low and high impact.

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisation's requirements for assessors, and:

- have achieved a Certificate IV in Fitness or above; and

PERFORMANCE CRITERIA

Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.

1. Consolidate understanding of anatomy and physiology.
  - 1.1 Source and access information on anatomy and physiology relevant to fitness outcomes.
  - 1.2 Use knowledge of anatomy and physiology in day-to-day professional practice.
  - 1.3 Discuss/explain how understanding of anatomy and physiology contribute to safe/optimum technique and skill development.
  - 1.4 Use a wide range of anatomical terminology relevant to injury prevention and fitness outcomes.
  - 1.5 Identify how anatomical structures respond to physical activity.
  - 1.6 Apply a sound understanding of injury prevention techniques to fitness instruction and programming.
2. Apply knowledge to own professional practice.
  - 2.1 Assess ways in which knowledge of anatomy and physiology may be used, adapted or challenged in instruction and provision of fitness advice.
  - 2.2 Identify current and emerging knowledge of anatomy and physiology relevant to development of own professional practice.
  - 2.3 Modify approach to fitness programming activities and advice as required.
3. Maintain and update knowledge of anatomy principles.
  - 3.1 Identify and use opportunities to update and expand own knowledge of anatomy and physiology.
  - 3.2 Monitor response to changes made to own professional practice or instruction.
  - 3.3 Continue to adjust own practice to optimise results.

  - respiratory
  - musculoskeletal, with attention to:
    - bone strength
    - muscle endurance
    - muscle strength
  - nervous
  - digestive
- explain and demonstrate:
  - the major movements of the body, while identifying major muscles
  - actions of major joints during exercise
  - relevant information regarding structure and function of skeletal muscle, and process of muscle contraction during exercise
  - muscle actions and functions during different types of contractions.

Knowledge Evidence

Demonstrated knowledge required to complete the tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit:

- anatomical terminology:
  - anatomical position
  - superior
  - inferior
  - proximal
  - distal
  - lateral
  - medial

- superficial
- deep
- planes of movement – sagittal, frontal, horizontal
- movement terminology and muscle actions:

- energy systems, pathways and substrates and relevant recovery options
- thermoregulation of the human body:
  - consideration of the methods of cooling and warming
  - current environmental conditions
- exercises to promote ideal postural alignment and prevent development of pathological postures, with consideration of:
  - spinal curves
  - muscle balance
  - joint alignment.

Assessment Conditions

Skills must be demonstrated in:

- a workplace or simulated fitness industry environment that offers a variety of fitness services and facilities for clients.

Assessment must ensure access to:

- anatomical and physiological information and resources
- anatomical models or images.

Assessment must ensure use of:

- planning and evaluation documentation with inclusion of identified improvements to professional practice
- clients for the purposes of explanation and demonstration in instruction; these can be:
  - clients in the workplace, or

SISFFIT005 Provide healthy eating information

Modification History

Not applicable.

Application

This unit describes the performance outcomes, skills and knowledge required to provide healthy eating information and support healthy attitudes to eating and body composition. This is undertaken in accordance with recommended guidelines within industry endorsed scope of practice.

The scope of practice of a fitness instructor does not include:

- the provision of specific or individualised dietary analysis or advice, or information regarding:
  - specific diets
  - fad diets
  - nutritional supplementation
  - sports foods
  - ergogenic aids
  - nutrition for exercise or sports performance
- the provision of information or advice to people with medical conditions requiring specialised dietary advice, or to frail elderly people who are at risk of malnutrition
- the provision of dietary information or advice for infants and toddlers.

The fitness instructor must refer clients to an Accredited Practising Dietitian, Accredited Sports Dietitian, or General Practitioner as appropriate.

This unit applies to fitness instructors who work in a variety of fitness locations such as fitness, leisure and community centres. These individuals typically work independently with some level of autonomy in a controlled environment. Work is performed according to relevant legislation and organisational policies and procedures.

No occupational licensing, certification or specific legislative requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

Elements and Performance Criteria

ELEMENTS

Elements describe the essential outcomes

1. Provide healthy eating information.
2. Support positive attitudes to eating and body composition.

PERFORMANCE CRITERIA

Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.

- 1.1 Access and provide information regarding healthy eating, health and fitness to clients.
- 1.2 Explain adverse effects of poor nutrition to clients.
- 1.3 Show sensitivity to cultural and social differences influencing food choices.
- 1.4 Identify and refer clients with specific dietary requirements or dietary concerns to an Accredited Practising Dietitian, Accredited Sports Dietitian or General Practitioner, as required.
- 1.5 Maintain records of client consultations.
- 2.1 Discuss with clients the relationship between body composition and physical and mental health.
- 2.2 Incorporate an understanding of the relationship between attitudes to eating and physical and mental health in client interactions.
- 2.3 Model healthy eating behaviours and attitudes in personal practice.
- 2.4 Refer client to an Accredited Practising Dietitian, Accredited Sports Dietitian or General Practitioner, as required.

Foundation Skills

Foundation skills essential to performance in this unit, but not explicit in the performance criteria are listed here, along with a brief context statement.

SKILLS

DESCRIPTION

- Reading skills to:
- extract applicable information from identified healthy eating resources.
- Oral communication skills to:
- use open and closed probe questioning techniques in a sensitive and appropriate manner, to:
    - determine the influences of social and cultural factors on food choices
    - clarify with the client the extent of information requested in order to determine the need to refer to an Accredited Practising Dietitian, Accredited Sports Dietitian or General Practitioner.
- Learning skills to:
- maintain current knowledge of the Australian Dietary Guidelines and any related updates.
- Technology skills to:
- access, download and print healthy eating information from identified healthy eating guidelines resources.

Assessment Requirements for SISFFIT005 Provide healthy eating information

Modification History

Not applicable.

Performance Evidence

Evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit in the context of the job role. This must include period(s) totalling at least two hours comprising at least five different client contact sessions, and:

- access and provide each client with:
  - current healthy eating information from identified current healthy eating information resources
  - information on healthy eating related to the maintenance of health and prevention of chronic disease
- answer client queries and concerns regarding interpretation of healthy eating information
- collaborate with clients to implement healthy eating habits
- identify and prepare referrals for at least five clients to an Accredited Practising Dietitian, Accredited Sports Dietitian and/or General Practitioner as required:
  - clients who have specific dietary requirements or dietary concerns
  - clients who need support regarding positive attitudes to eating.

Knowledge Evidence

Demonstrated knowledge required to complete the tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit:

- information to promote positive attitudes to eating and body composition:
  - relationship between fitness, health and appearance
  - relationship between healthy eating, physical and mental health
  - realistic expectations of nutrition and goal attainment
  - link between healthy eating and common client health conditions
- current healthy information resources:
  - National Health and Medical Research Council (NHMRC) – Australian Dietary Guidelines
- relevant current healthy eating information as outlined in the Australian Dietary Guidelines:
  - food groups and nutrients
  - balanced diet
- own role and limitations in providing healthy eating information

- role of Accredited Practising Dietitian, Accredited Sports Dietitian and General Practitioner for referring clients
- effects of cultural and social influences on food choices
- referral requirements for:
  - dietary trends
  - fad or popular diets
  - nutritional supplementation
  - sports foods
  - ergogenic aids
- concept of metabolism and the factors affecting metabolism.

Assessment Conditions

Skills must be demonstrated in:

- a fitness industry workplace or simulated environment with clients with real or simulated healthy eating and fitness goals.

Assessment must ensure use of:

- documented organisational policies and procedures related to providing nutrition information
- workplace documents and systems for the documenting of client consultation and referral letters, as required
- learning and assessment tools validated by:
  - an Accredited Practising Dietitian or an Accredited Sports Dietitian with at least two consecutive years experience in clinical practice
- current healthy information resources:
  - National Health and Medical Research Council (NHMRC) – Australian Dietary Guidelines
- clients and medical or allied health professionals for referral processes; these can be:
  - clients, and medical or allied health professionals in the workplace, or
  - individuals who participate in project activities, role plays or simulated activities, set up for the purpose of assessment, within a training organisation

Assessment activities that allow the individual to:

- provide clients with current healthy eating information from identified resources within commercially realistic consultation timing
- identify at least five situations whereby the client's requirements are beyond the scope of a fitness instructor, and refer client to an Accredited Practising Dietitian, Accredited Sports Dietitian and/or General Practitioner, as appropriate.

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisation's requirements for assessors, and:

- have achieved a Certificate IV in Fitness or above; and
- have at least 1 year consecutive post qualification fitness industry experience in the application of the skills and knowledge of the Certificate IV in Fitness.

SISFFIT006 Conduct fitness appraisals

Modification History

Not applicable.

Application

This unit describes the performance outcomes, skills and knowledge required to plan and conduct fitness appraisals, related to the health-related components of fitness. It requires the ability to determine positive behavioural change strategies in preparation for an exercise program and use fitness appraisal equipment according to manufacturer guidelines.

This occurs after the completion of an industry endorsed risk stratification process and the subsequent referral of clients where required.

This unit applies to fitness instructors who work in a variety of fitness locations such as fitness, leisure and community centres. These individuals typically work independently with some level of autonomy in a controlled environment. Work is performed according to relevant legislation and organisational policies and procedures.

No occupational licensing, certification or specific legislative requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

Assessment Requirements for SISFFIT006 Conduct fitness appraisals

Modification History

Not applicable.

Performance Evidence

Evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit in the context of the job role. This must include period(s) totalling at least five hours comprising at least five different client contact sessions, and:

- plan and conduct health and fitness appraisals incorporating the following assessments for each client:
  - cardiorespiratory endurance (submaximal oxygen consumption)
  - blood pressure
  - range of movement/flexibility
  - strength
  - weight
  - height
  - body mass index
  - waist to hip ratio
  - girth measurements
- use the following fitness appraisal equipment appropriately and safely:
  - tape measure
  - scales
  - sit and reach tools
  - bicycle, treadmill or rowing ergometer
  - heart rate monitor
  - blood pressure equipment – sphygmomanometer
  - stop watch.

Knowledge Evidence

Demonstrated knowledge required to complete the tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit:

- legislation and regulatory requirements relevant to:
  - fitness assessments and collection of client information
  - negligence and duty of care
  - appropriate collection and storage of client information

- application of legal and ethical limitations of own role
- work health and safety/occupational health and safety
- organisational policies and procedures relevant to:
  - fitness assessments and collection of personal information
  - conduct of fitness appraisals
- industry endorsed client pre-exercise health screening processes
- industry endorsed risk stratification procedures, exercise implications and referral requirements
- features and benefits of fitness facilities, exercise programs and services
- role of medical or allied health professionals for referral processes
- health-related components of fitness:
  - body composition
  - muscle endurance
  - muscle strength
  - cardiovascular endurance
  - flexibility
- contraindications and precautions to participation in health and fitness assessments
- benefits of fitness appraisal procedures and testing
- signs and symptoms of exercise intolerance
- interpretation of results from the following health and fitness assessments:
  - cardiorespiratory endurance (maximal and sub-maximal oxygen consumption)
  - blood pressure
  - range of movement/flexibility
  - strength
  - weight
  - height
  - body mass index
  - waist to hip ratio
  - girth measurements
  - skin fold measurements
- methods for measuring exercise intensity:
  - heart rate response
  - respiration rate response
  - rate of perceived exertion
  - work output
- products and services available in the fitness industry that could be used to meet client goals
- exercise adherence and behavioural change strategies:
  - habits
  - intrinsic and extrinsic motivation

- goal setting.

Assessment Conditions

Skills must be demonstrated:

- a fitness industry workplace or simulated environment with clients with real or simulated health and fitness goals.

Assessment must ensure access to:

- legislation and organisational policies and procedures in relation to fitness appraisals
- manufacturer guidelines on equipment safety and usage.

Assessment must ensure use of:

- client record forms
- fitness industry standard appraisal equipment suitable for assessing health-related components of fitness:
  - heart rate monitor
  - tape measure
  - scales
  - sit and reach tools
  - bicycle, treadmill, rowing ergometer or step-up box
  - sphygmomanometer
  - stop watch
- clients; these can be:
  - clients in an industry workplace, or
  - individuals who participate in role plays or simulated activities, set up for the purpose of assessment, in a simulated industry environment operated within a training organisation.

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisation's requirements for assessors, and:

- have achieved a Certificate IV in Fitness or above; and
- have at least 1 year consecutive post qualification fitness industry experience in the application of the skills and knowledge of the Certificate IV in Fitness.

SISFFIT007 Instruct group exercise sessions

Modification History

Not applicable.

Application

This unit describes the performance outcomes, skills and knowledge required to plan, instruct, monitor and evaluate group exercise sessions, with or without music. It requires the ability to plan the selection, sequencing and progression of exercises and appropriate music to ensure safe participation in activities.

This unit applies to fitness instructors who work in a variety of fitness locations such as fitness, leisure and community centres. These individuals typically work independently with some level of autonomy in a controlled environment. Work is performed according to relevant legislation and organisational policies and procedures.

No occupational licensing, certification or specific legislative requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

1. Develop session plans.

PERFORMANCE CRITERIA

Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.

1.1 Consider participant group characteristics and identify expected fitness outcomes and session type.

- 1.2 Determine appropriate phases, exercises or choreography to meet group needs.
  - 1.3 Select and sequence music, as required, according to duration, concepts and phases of session.
  - 1.4 Incorporate motivational techniques to maximise exercise program adherence.
  - 1.5 Develop and document session plans that incorporate instructional information.
2. Conduct session.
- 2.1 Confirm availability of area, assemble resources and prepare environment appropriately.
  - 2.2 Check equipment for maintenance requirements, as required.
  - 2.3 Confirm capacity to independently participate in session and modify as required to suit specific needs.
  - 2.4 Provide clear instructions using effective communication and instructional principles.
  - 2.5 Demonstrate exercises, techniques and equipment, and monitor participation and performance of each participant.
  - 2.6 Modify activity, as required to cater for a multi-level group.
  - 2.7 Respond to participants experiencing difficulties and answer questions as required.
  - 2.8 Encourage group cohesion and manage conflicts as they arise.
3. Evaluate session.
- 3.1 Seek and acknowledge feedback from participants.
  - 3.2 Evaluate participant response and feedback.
  - 3.3 Evaluate own performance and identify areas needing improvement.
  - 3.4 Implement modifications to future sessions where relevant to meet participant needs.
  - 3.5 Update session documentation.

Foundation Skills

Foundation skills essential to performance in this unit, but not explicit in the performance criteria are listed here, along with a brief context statement.

SKILLS

DESCRIPTION

Reading skills to:

- interpret manufacturer guidelines to maintain and use equipment.

- Numeracy skills to:
- use the beat of the music to time sessions, ensure safety and enjoyment, as well as effective exercise
  - monitor intensity of exercise using methods such as heart rate or rate of perceived exertion, if required.
- Learning skills to:
- maintain current knowledge of group exercise training session methods.
- Problem-solving skills to:
- manage participant conflicts and behavioural concerns
  - identify participant problems during session and implement modifications required
  - implement injury prevention strategies.

  - safe and effective instructional techniques
  - modification of exercise options to meet individual needs
  - music to match participant needs
- monitor exercise intensity during every session using at least one of the following methods:
  - heart rate response
  - perceived rate of exertion
  - talk test
- use the following communication skills:
  - clear verbal communication
  - modelling and demonstration
- use motivational techniques.

Knowledge Evidence

Demonstrated knowledge required to complete the tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit:

- legislative and regulatory requirements regarding group exercise sessions and group circuit sessions:
  - work health and safety/occupational health and safety
  - duty of care
  - copyright
  - licensing
- organisational policies and procedures in regards to:
  - pre-session screening
  - overcrowding

- ventilation and/or climate control
- hygiene
- participant to instructor ratio
- emergency
- risk management
- standards of personal presentation
- participant's clothing and footwear
- use, care and maintenance of equipment
- benefits of group exercise sessions
- contraindications and precautions to participation in selected group exercise session, and suitable modification options for participants where the safety of the participant is not compromised
- industry accepted guidelines and recommendations for determining contra-indications and precautions
- potentially harmful practices to be avoided:
  - hyperextension of joints
  - exercising while sick
  - exercising in extremes of temperature
  - ballistic movements
  - high impact movements for clients with incontinence or musculoskeletal conditions
- intervention strategies:
  - stopping or modifying the exercise
  - modifying equipment or its use
- variations to group exercise sessions:

SISFFIT008 Instruct water-based fitness activities

Modification History

Not applicable.

Application

This unit describes the performance outcomes, knowledge and skills required to plan, instruct, monitor and evaluate group water-based exercise sessions. It requires the ability to use aquatic exercise and instructional techniques, and hydrodynamic principles to ensure safe and effective fitness outcomes. This unit does not apply to the provision of hydrotherapy.

This involves using industry endorsed risk stratification procedures when determining the provision of suitable advice regarding services and referral requirements.

This unit applies to fitness instructors who work in a variety of fitness or aquatic locations such as fitness, leisure and community centres. These individuals typically work independently with some level of autonomy in a controlled environment. Work is performed according to relevant legislation and organisational policies and procedures.

Application

This unit describes the performance outcomes, skills and knowledge required to instruct pre-choreographed or prescribed group exercise to music classes according to the training guidelines provided by the program developer. Program evaluation remains the responsibility of the approving authority.

This unit applies to group exercise leaders who are required to use appropriately licensed music.

This unit applies to group exercise leaders working in a variety of locations and with a range of clients in diverse environments including aquatic, recreation, leisure, fitness, gym and community centres. These individuals typically work independently with some level of autonomy in a controlled environment. Work is performed according to relevant legislation and organisational policies and procedures.

No occupational licensing, certification or specific legislative requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

Elements and Performance Criteria

ELEMENTS

PERFORMANCE CRITERIA

Elements describe the essential outcomes

Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.

1. Prepare for group exercise to music class delivery.
  - 1.1 Confirm licensing and provider requirements of the program.
  - 1.2 Confirm facility and resource requirements for program delivery.
  - 1.3 Confirm access to venue or facility meets needs and requirements of clients.
  - 1.4 Determine exercise repertoire or choreography, using appropriate movement terminology and application of relevant anatomical and physiological principles.
  - 1.5 Access, select and sequence music according to training guidelines.
  - 1.6 Prepare movement sequences and choreography.
2. Conduct pre-choreographed group exercise to music class.
  - 2.1 Confirm availability of area, assemble resources and prepare environment appropriately.
  - 2.2 Check equipment for maintenance requirements according to program guidelines, as required.
  - 2.3 Confirm capacity to independently participate in session and modify as required to suit specific needs.
  - 2.4 Provide clear instructions according to program requirements using effective communication and instructional principles.
  - 2.5 Demonstrate exercises, techniques and equipment, and monitor participation and performance of each participant.
  - 2.6 Modify activity, as required to cater for a multi-level group according to program guidelines.
  - 2.7 Respond to participants experiencing difficulties and answer questions as required.
  - 2.8 Encourage group cohesion and manage conflicts as they arise.
3. Evaluate program delivery.
  - 3.1 Seek and acknowledge feedback from participants.
  - 3.2 Evaluate participant response and feedback.
  - 3.3 Evaluate own performance and identify areas needing improvement.
  - 3.4 Update session documentation.
  - 3.5 Maintain records of sessions according to program guidelines.

Foundation Skills

Foundation skills essential to performance in this unit, but not explicit in the performance criteria are listed here, along with a brief context statement.

SKILLS	DESCRIPTION

Assessment Requirements for SISFFIT010 Deliver pre-choreographed or prescribed group exercise to music

Modification History

Not applicable.

Performance Evidence

Evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit in the context of the job role, and:

- instruct three pre-choreographed or prescribed group exercise to music classes that incorporate:
  - pre-session instructions:
    - verbal pre-screen
    - personal introduction
    - type of session
    - modifications and recovery
    - spacing and organisation of equipment
  - safe and effective instructional techniques:
    - demonstration and explanation of exercise
    - well-timed cueing
    - establishing rapport
    - teaching positioning
    - session organisation and formation
    - visual and verbal cueing
  - communication techniques:
    - clear verbal communication
    - body language
    - mirror imaging
    - monitoring and encouraging session response
    - negotiation
    - conflict resolution
  - appropriate movement sequences:
    - combinations
    - movement breakdown techniques
    - use of learning curves
  - modification of exercise options to meet individual needs
  - regular encouragement and feedback to clients during session

- monitor exercise intensity during every session using at least one of the following methods:
  - heart rate response
  - perceived rate of exertion
  - talk test
- use the following communication skills:
  - clear verbal communication
  - modelling and demonstration
  - motivational techniques.

Knowledge Evidence

Demonstrated knowledge required to complete the tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit:

- legislative and regulatory requirements regarding pre-choreographed or prescribed group exercise to music classes:
  - work health and safety/occupational health and safety
  - duty of care
  - copyright
  - licensing
- organisational policies and procedures in regards to:
  - pre-session screening
  - overcrowding
  - ventilation and/or climate control
  - hygiene
  - participant to instructor ratio
  - emergency
  - risk management
  - standards of personal presentation
  - participant's clothing and footwear
  - use, care and maintenance of equipment
  - venue hire
  - recording and reporting requirements
  - communication protocol
  - security
- pre-choreographed or prescribed group exercise to music benefits:
  - purpose
  - aims
  - target group
  - acceptable program modifications

- equipment requirements and safe usage
- instructional techniques to enable effective delivery and monitoring of session
- injury prevention strategies to maximise client participation in the program
- potentially harmful practices to be avoided:
  - hyperextension of joints
  - exercising while sick
  - exercising in extremes of temperature
  - ballistic movements
  - high impact movements for clients with incontinence or musculoskeletal conditions
- intervention strategies:
  - stopping or modifying the exercise
  - modifying equipment or its use
- variations to pre-choreographed or prescribed group exercise to music classes:
  - choreographed to music
  - with equipment
  - without equipment
- phases of pre-choreographed or prescribed group exercise to music classes:
  - warm-up:
    - pulse raise
    - mobility
  - main cardiovascular workout:
    - using aerobic curve
    - pulse raise
    - main workout
    - build down
  - muscle strength and endurance
  - flexibility
- function and safety of equipment suitable for group exercise to music
- current industry guidelines relevant to pre-choreographed or prescribed group exercise to music classes
- principles of exercise program design:
  - muscle action
  - loading and volume
  - exercise selection and order
  - rest periods
  - repetition velocity
  - frequency
- the use of music in a group exercise to music session or group circuit session, with consideration of appropriate use of:
  - beats per minute

- rhythm
- phrasing
- volume
- realistic timings of choreography for sessions, in regards to:
  - add on
  - 32 count phrase
  - verse and chorus
  - layering.

Assessment Conditions

Skills must be demonstrated in:

- a fitness industry workplace or simulated environment with clients with real or simulated health and fitness goals.

Assessment must ensure access to:

- legislation and organisational policies and procedures in relation to pre-choreographed or prescribed group exercise to music classes
- manufacturer guidelines regarding equipment usage and safety, as required.

Assessment must ensure use of:

- equipment and resources required for the delivery of the session:
  - appropriate music and music equipment, as required
  - appropriate area for instruction of pre-choreographed or prescribed group exercise to music class
- group exercise participants; these can be:
  - group exercise participants in the workplace, or
  - individuals who participate in project activities, role plays or simulated activities, set up for the purpose of assessment, within a workplace.

Assessment activities that allow the individual to:

- demonstrate the ability to instruct a variety of pre-choreographed or prescribed group exercise to music classes:
  - with music
  - with and without equipment
  - catering for :
    - beginners, intermediate and advanced participants
    - low and high impact.

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisation's requirements for assessors, and:

- have at least 2 years consecutive industry experience in the application of the skills and knowledge of this unit.

SISFFIT012 Instruct movement programs to children aged 5 to 12 years

Modification History

Not applicable.

Application

This unit describes the performance outcomes, skills and knowledge required to plan, instruct and evaluate movement programs for children aged between five and twelve years. It requires the ability to supervise young children in small groups participating in movement programs designed to promote functional movement, physical activity and general health.

This unit does not apply to the instruction of children in the use of fitness or gym equipment typically found in gyms and other fitness facilities.

This unit applies to fitness instructors who work in a variety of fitness locations such as fitness, leisure and community centres. These individuals typically work independently with some level of autonomy in a controlled environment. Work is performed according to relevant legislation including working with children and/or vulnerable people checks, and organisational policies and procedures.

Elements and Performance Criteria

ELEMENTS

PERFORMANCE CRITERIA

Elements describe the essential outcomes

Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.

1. Determine the movement requirements of children.

- 1.1 Consider and confirm needs, expectations and preferences of participants, parents and/or carers using suitable questioning techniques.
- 1.2 Implement appropriate pre-exercise screening or assessment procedures for children prior to participation in movement program.
- 1.3 Clarify any risk factors or precautions identified in pre-exercise screening or assessment in consultation with parents and/or carers.
- 1.4 Refer children to medical or allied health professionals as required.
- 1.5 Select and use appropriate baseline functional activity assessments, as required.

2. Plan movement session.

- 2.1 Determine type of training, training methods and equipment required to achieve movement program goals.
- 2.2 Identify and discuss the need for parent/carer assistance and/or attendance during the session.
- 2.3 Select suitable functional movement activities and games for active play to meet participant needs.
- 2.4 Determine instructional techniques appropriate to participants.
- 2.5 Develop and document movement session plans that incorporate consideration of precautions and instructional information.

3. Instruct movement session.

- 3.1 Allocate sufficient space, assemble resources and check equipment for safety and maintenance requirements.
- 3.2 Provide clear exercise instructions and communicate benefits of movement and active play for participants and parents and/or carers.
- 3.3 Demonstrate movement techniques, activities or games including equipment where appropriate.
- 3.4 Monitor participation and provide children with assistance to perform movements, activities or games as required.
- 3.5 Select and use communication techniques that encourage a fun, interactive and inclusive environment for participation.
- 3.6 Monitor participation to ensure safety and optimise

- effectiveness and enjoyment and modify as required.
- 3.7 Identify signs of intolerance during movement activity and modify or cease as appropriate.
- 3.8 Respond to children and parents and/or carers questions as required.
- 3.9 Complete movement session documentation.
4. Evaluate movement session.
- 4.1 Monitor and evaluate movement session at appropriate intervals.
- 4.2 Evaluate exercise session according to participant, parent or carer feedback, professional judgement and outcomes of sessions.
- 4.3 Review own performance and identify areas needing improvement.
- 4.4 Identify aspects needing further emphasis or attention in future sessions.
- 4.5 Evaluate program or activities and discuss modifications to future sessions with parent and/or carer.
- 4.6 Document and update records of evaluation and modification.

Modification History

Not applicable.

Performance Evidence

Evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit in the context of the job role, and:

- plan, document, implement and evaluate at least five suitable movement programs based around active play and promotion of movement experience for children
- conduct small group movement sessions that incorporate:
  - use of industry endorsed pre-exercise screening or assessment procedures for children prior to participation
  - functional movements, games and play that reflect appropriate developmental stages of children:
    - throwing
    - jumping
    - kicking
    - running
    - skipping
    - hopping
    - climbing
  - demonstration, explanation, and instruction of activities and games relevant to age group
  - suitable order and sequence of activities
  - appropriate session structure variations
  - suitable duration, intensity, volume
  - appropriate equipment, if applicable
  - appropriate music selection, where appropriate
  - developmental stages of children and adolescents and age variations in physical, mental and social abilities
  - movement correction, as required
- modify movement programs, addressing at least two of the following:
  - feedback received from children, parents and/or carers
  - signs and symptoms of intolerance
  - physical changes and health conditions
  - accommodation of the social changes that occur with children.

Knowledge Evidence

Demonstrated knowledge required to complete the tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit:

- legislative and regulatory requirements regarding specific population exercise participation:
  - working with children and vulnerable people
  - privacy
  - anti-discrimination
  - work health and safety/occupational health and safety
  - duty of care
- organisational policies and procedures in regards to specific population exercise participation:
  - overcrowding
  - ventilation and/or climate control
  - hygiene
  - emergency
  - standards of personal presentation
  - participant's clothing and footwear
  - use, care and maintenance of equipment
- industry endorsed client pre-exercise screening processes
- industry endorsed risk stratification procedures, exercise implications and referral requirements for:
  - low-risk clients
  - moderate risk clients
  - higher risk clients
  - when there are extreme or multiple risk factors present and professional judgement to decide whether further medical advice is required identification of clients at high or higher risk of an adverse event occurring during exercise
  - physical activity and exercise intensity and frequency guidelines
- signs and symptoms of exercise intolerance and appropriate management strategies
- anatomy and physiology related to children:
  - thermoregulation
  - cardiovascular system
  - musculoskeletal system
  - nervous system
  - respiratory system
- principles of paediatric and exercise science to enable selection of exercises appropriate to participant characteristics and needs:
  - growth and maturation
  - coordination development and control

- stability
- posture in children
- fundamental skills
- aerobic capacity
- stages of growth and development in children to enable effective planning of programs and selection of games or activities:
  - physical
  - social
  - emotional
- principles of exercise program design to enable development of a program for a specific age group
- signs and symptoms of injuries typical to children aged twelve years and under:
  - sprains
  - osteochondroses (severs, patellofemoral pain syndrome, legg-calve-perthes)
  - shoulder instability
  - joint hypermobility
- appropriate considerations for the selection of exercise repertoire relevant to stages of growth and development, age variation and risk of injury to participants incorporating:
  - contraindications and modifications
  - variations to provide different intensities
  - level of participant skill required
  - potential for combinations
- movement implications of age and stages of growth and development:
  - changes in growth rate
  - effect of exercise on:
    - growth and development
    - social development
    - coordination and motor development
    - behavioural change and social needs
  - physiological characteristics of the child through developmental stages
  - communication and instructional skill difficulties
  - movement requirements for different stages of development
- injury risks related to movement participation of children:
  - inadequate skill and physical preparation
  - overtraining
  - biomechanics and movement technique
  - physical and mental preparation
  - fatigue and recovery
- suitable alternative options to suggest to parents and/or careers in situations where the child:

- cannot participate safely
- negatively affects the safety of other participants
- has needs beyond the aims of the program
- motivational techniques suitable for children:
  - goal setting
  - positive feedback
  - foundation of play in session prescription.

Assessment Conditions

Skills must be demonstrated in:

- a fitness industry workplace or simulated environment that offers a variety of appropriate services and facilities and equipment suitable for children.

Assessment must ensure use of:

- a variety of equipment appropriate for use by children, e.g. balls and skipping ropes
- organisational policies and procedures related to working with children
- manufacturer guidelines on equipment safety and usage
- industry endorsed risk stratification procedures
- session plan templates with space to identify modifications/adjustments needed
- an appropriate area for the delivery of movement programs
- participants; these can be:
  - participants in the workplace, or
  - individuals who participate in project activities, role plays or simulated activities, set up for the purpose of assessment, within a training organisation.

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisation's requirements for assessors, and:

- have achieved a Certificate IV in Fitness or above; and
- have at least 1 year consecutive post qualification fitness industry experience in the application of the skills and knowledge of the Certificate IV in Fitness.

SISFFIT013 Instruct exercise to young people aged 13 to 17 years

Modification History

Not applicable.

Application

This unit describes the performance outcomes, skills and knowledge required to plan, instruct and evaluate exercise for young people aged thirteen to seventeen years. It requires the ability to supervise young people using fitness facilities and relevant equipment to promote functional capacity and fitness.

It involves using industry endorsed risk management protocols when determining the provision of suitable exercise services. This may include guidance from relevant medical or allied health professionals.

This unit applies to personal trainers who work in a variety of fitness locations such as fitness, leisure and community centres. These individuals typically work autonomously in controlled and uncontrolled fitness environments.

Work is performed according to relevant legislation including working with children or vulnerable people checks, and organisational policies and procedures.

No occupational licensing, certification or specific legislative requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

PERFORMANCE CRITERIA

Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.

1.1 Consider and discuss needs, expectations and preferences using suitable questioning techniques.

1.2 Review and advise participant and parent or carer of outcomes of pre-exercise health screening procedures.

1.3 Refer participant to medical or allied health professionals as required.

1.4 Select and use appropriate baseline functional capacity or fitness assessments, as required.

1.5 Identify potential barriers to participation.

1.6 Develop and document client profile for re-evaluation purposes.

2.1 Determine type of training, training methods and equipment required to achieve participant goals.

2.2 Gain parent or carer consent for participation in specified exercise program.

2.3 Develop and document program plans that incorporate participant goals, abilities, and stage of growth and development within instructional information.

2.4 Develop customised training sessions that include a variety of exercises and equipment to meet participant needs.

3.1 Allocate sufficient space, assemble resources and check equipment for safety and maintenance requirements.

3.2 Provide clear exercise instructions and confirm participant understanding.

3.3 Demonstrate exercises, techniques and equipment to participant.

3.4 Monitor participation and performance to identify signs of exercise intolerance and modify as required.

3.5 Select and use communication techniques that encourage and support participants.

3.6 Modify session as required considering basic mechanics, safety and fitness outcomes.

3.7 Respond to participants experiencing difficulties and answer questions as required.

3.8 Complete session documentation and progress notes.

4. Evaluate exercise session.
- 4.1 Monitor and evaluate exercise session at appropriate intervals.
  - 4.2 Evaluate exercise session according to participant, parent or carer feedback, professional judgement and outcomes of sessions.
  - 4.3 Review own performance and identify areas needing improvement.
  - 4.4 Identify aspects needing further emphasis or attention in future sessions.

  - developmental stages of children and adolescents and age variations in physical, mental and social abilities
  - monitoring of client intensity, techniques, posture and safety
  - technique correction
- use the following communication skills:
  - clear verbal communication
  - modelling and demonstration
  - motivational techniques.

Knowledge Evidence

Demonstrated knowledge required to complete the tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit:

- legislative and regulatory requirements regarding safe and appropriate conduct of exercise for children and young adolescents:

- work health and safety/occupational health and safety
- duty of care
- working with children and/or vulnerable people
- privacy
- anti-discrimination
- organisational policies and procedures in regards to:
  - industry endorsed risk management protocols, exercise implications and referral requirements
  - ventilation and/or climate control
  - hygiene
  - emergency
  - risk management
  - standards of personal presentation
  - participant's clothing and footwear
  - use, care and maintenance of equipment
  - equipment use and maintenance
  - client supervision
  - incident reporting
- exercise programming and progression principles:
  - FITT
  - overload
  - specificity
  - phasing
  - warm-up
  - conditioning
  - cool down
- health-related components of fitness:
  - cardiorespiratory endurance
  - muscular endurance
  - muscular strength
  - flexibility
  - body composition
- functional exercises for motor skills related to participant needs:
  - hopping, jumping, throwing, kicking, running, walking, skipping
  - agility, proprioception, balance, reaction time and speed based exercises
- purpose and use of gym equipment:
  - free weights
  - pin-loaded resistance equipment
  - skipping ropes
  - balls, including medicine and fit balls

- resistance bands
- mats
- cardiovascular equipment, for example treadmill and stepper
- anatomy and physiology related to children and adolescents:
  - thermoregulation
  - cardiovascular system
  - musculoskeletal system
  - nervous system
  - respiratory system
- principles of paediatric and exercise science to enable selection of exercises appropriate to participant characteristics and needs:
  - growth and maturation
  - coordination development and control
  - stability
  - posture in children
  - fundamental skills
  - aerobic capacity
- stages of growth and development in children and adolescents to enable effective planning of programs and selection of exercises:
  - physical
  - social
  - emotional
- exercise implications of age and stages of growth and development:
  - changes in growth rate
  - effect of exercise on growth and development
  - social development
  - physiological characteristics of the child through developmental stages
  - session structures for different ages and/or abilities
  - coordination and motor development
  - communication and instructional skill difficulties
  - behavioural change and social needs
  - exercise requirements for different stages of development
- signs and symptoms of major types of injuries typical to children and young adolescents:
  - sprains
  - osteochondroses (severs, patellofemoral pain syndrome, legg-calve-perthes)
  - shoulder instability
  - joint hypermobility
- injury risks related to exercise participation of children and young adolescents
- motivational techniques which incorporate:
  - goal setting

- positive feedback
- foundation of play in exercise prescription
- signs and symptoms of exercise intolerance and appropriate management strategies
- the medical and allied health sector to enable appropriate recommendations or referrals be made to parents or carers.

Assessment Conditions

Skills must be demonstrated in:

- a fitness industry workplace or simulated environment that offers a variety of appropriate services and facilities suitable for youth aged 13-17 years.

Assessment must ensure use of:

- a variety of equipment appropriate for use by children and young adolescents
- industry endorsed risk stratification procedures
- organisational policies and procedures related to working with children
- session plan templates with space to identify modifications/adjustments needed
- participants aged 13-17 years; these can be:
  - participants in the workplace, or
  - individuals who participate in project activities, role plays or simulated activities, set up for the purpose of assessment, within a training organisation.

Assessment must ensure access to:

- manufacturer guidelines on equipment safety and usage.

Assessment activities that allow the individual to:

- use fitness industry endorsed risk stratification procedures and conduct baseline assessments suitable for adolescents aged 13 years and over:
  - functional motor skills, i.e. hopping, jumping, throwing, kicking, running, walking, skipping
  - cardiovascular endurance
  - muscle strength and endurance
  - agility
  - flexibility
  - body composition, if appropriate.

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisation's requirements for assessors, and:

- have achieved a Diploma of Fitness or above; and

- have at least 1 year consecutive post qualification fitness industry experience in the application of the skills and knowledge of the Diploma of Fitness.

SISFFIT014 Instruct exercise to older clients

Modification History

Not applicable.

Application

This unit describes the performance outcomes, skills and knowledge required to plan, instruct and evaluate exercise for male clients aged forty five and over, and female clients aged fifty five and over. It requires the ability to provide instruction of exercise programs aimed at improving health and fitness for older clients, with consideration of aspects of healthy ageing. It also covers promotion of incidental physical activity to clients to minimise the risk of developing sedentary lifestyle behaviours. It involves using industry endorsed risk stratification procedures when determining the provision of suitable advice and referral requirements.

This unit applies to fitness instructors who work in a variety of fitness locations such as fitness, leisure and community centres. These individuals typically work independently with some level of autonomy in a controlled environment.

Work is performed according to relevant legislation and organisational policies and procedures.

No occupational licensing, certification or specific legislative requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

Elements and Performance Criteria

ELEMENTS

PERFORMANCE CRITERIA

Elements describe the essential outcomes

Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.

1. Identify client fitness requirements.

- 1.1 Consider and confirm client needs, expectations and preferences using suitable questioning techniques.
- 1.2 Review and advise client of outcomes of pre-exercise health screening procedures.
- 1.3 Refer client to medical or allied health professionals as required.
- 1.4 Select and use appropriate baseline functional capacity or fitness assessments, as required.
- 1.5 Identify common barriers to exercise participation by older clients.
- 1.6 Recognise and explain benefits of exercise for older populations and the role of exercise in reducing risks associated with ageing.
- 1.7 Receive guidance from medical or allied health professionals for exercise participation, as required.
- 1.8 Develop and document client profile for re-evaluation purposes.

2. Develop program plans.

- 2.1 Identify settings and program considerations that support safe and sustainable exercise participation for older clients.
- 2.2 Determine type of training, training methods and equipment required to achieve client goals.
- 2.3 Develop and document program plans that incorporate instructional information and guidance from medical or allied health professionals if required.
- 2.4 Explain benefits of exercise and anticipated structural and physiological adaptations as they relate to client goals and needs.
- 2.5 Develop customised training sessions that include a variety of exercises and equipment to meet client needs.
- 2.6 Discuss and confirm client understanding of potential signs and symptoms of intolerance contraindications to exercise and recommended precautions.

3. Instruct exercise session.

- 3.1 Allocate sufficient space, assemble resources and check equipment for safety and maintenance requirements.
- 3.2 Provide clear exercise instructions and confirm client understanding.
- 3.3 Demonstrate exercises, techniques and equipment to client.

- 3.4 Explain any precautions for exercise relevant to client age, ability and risk status.
  - 3.5 Monitor participation and performance to identify signs of exercise intolerance and modify as required.
  - 3.6 Monitor client intensity, techniques, posture and safety, and modify program as required.
  - 3.7 Seek ongoing guidance from, or refer client to, medical or allied health professionals, as appropriate.
  - 3.8 Select and use communication techniques that encourage and support clients.
  - 3.9 Modify session as required considering basic mechanics, safety and fitness outcomes.
  - 3.10 Respond to clients experiencing difficulties and answer questions as required.
  - 3.11 Complete session documentation and progress notes.
4. Evaluate program.
- 4.1 Monitor and evaluate exercise program at appropriate intervals.
  - 4.2 Provide written and verbal feedback to medical or allied health professionals, as required.
  - 4.3 Request and respond to feedback from clients.
  - 4.4 Review own performance and identify areas needing improvement.
  - 4.5 Identify aspects needing further emphasis or attention in future sessions.
  - 4.6 Evaluate program or activities and discuss modifications to program.
  - 4.7 Document and update records of evaluation and modification of programs.

Foundation Skills

Foundation skills essential to performance in this unit, but not explicit in the performance criteria are listed here, along with a brief context statement.

SKILLS	DESCRIPTION
Reading skills to:	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• interpret and evaluate pre-exercise screening and baseline assessment results.</li> </ul>
Oral communication skills to:	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• explain course of action, including referral and fitness services, as required.</li> </ul>

- Numeracy skills to:
- use heart rate calculations or other monitoring techniques during training, where relevant
  - use body mass index calculations during pre-exercise screening, where relevant.

Assessment Requirements for SISFFIT014 Instruct exercise to older clients

Modification History

Not applicable.

Performance Evidence

Evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit in the context of the job role. This must include period(s) totalling at least five hours comprising at least five different client contact sessions and:

- use industry endorsed pre-exercise screening tools and risk stratification processes to identify the risk level of at least ten older clients
- prepare referral letters to relevant medical or appropriate allied health professionals with supporting pre-exercise health screening documentation for at least two older clients
- plan, document, implement and evaluate suitable exercise programs within scope of practice for older clients:
  - three clients that don't require guidance or instruction provided by medical or allied health professionals
  - two clients in response to guidance or instruction provided by medical or allied health professionals
- conduct sessions that incorporate:
  - appropriate selection and monitoring of a range of equipment appropriate for the client's functional ability, according to industry guidelines
  - demonstration, explanation, and instruction of exercises
  - injury prevention strategies specific to client needs and to minimise the risk of falls
  - suitable order and sequence of activities
  - session components that target the needs and goals of the individual
  - suitable duration, intensity, volume
  - ongoing clear and constructive feedback to clients and, where required, medical or allied health professionals
  - use of evidence based exercise adherence strategies
  - minimise the risk of falls
  - variations and structure suitable to the needs of the older client
  - provision of hydration and rest opportunities as required
  - explanation of the role of exercise and incidental physical activity in prevention of chronic diseases and functional decline that may or may not be associated with ageing and reducing the risk of falls
- modify programs for clients, addressing at least three of the following:
  - technical requirements

- changing needs due to fitness adaptations
- changing goals
- client needs, objectives, likes and dislikes
- technical difficulty adjustments of exercises
- medical or allied health professional feedback
- conduct periodic ongoing evaluation of outcomes from fitness programs in accordance with the established program goals and industry best practice.

Knowledge Evidence

Demonstrated knowledge required to complete the tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit:

- legislative and regulatory requirements regarding specific population exercise participation:
  - privacy
  - anti-discrimination
  - work health and safety/occupational health and safety
  - duty of care
- organisational policies and procedures in regards to specific population exercise participation:
  - industry endorsed risk management protocols, exercise implications and referral requirements
  - overcrowding
  - ventilation and/or climate control
  - hygiene
  - emergency
  - standards of personal presentation
  - participant's clothing and footwear
  - use, care and maintenance of equipment
- precautions to exercise relevant to the older adults in accordance with industry guidelines where applicable
- signs and symptoms of exercise intolerance and appropriate management strategies
- situations where cessation of exercise program is required, this may include but is not limited to:
  - chest pain at rest or during activity
  - severe breathlessness/feeling faint/dizziness/loss of balance
  - unusual fatigue or shortness of breath
  - asthma aggravation/attack
  - significant muscle, bone or joint pain (beyond what is normally expected during exercise)

- situation whereby the fitness professional makes a judgement that continuing the session is beyond their professional capabilities and scope of practice, and could potentially compromise client health and safety
- role of medical or allied health professionals for referral processes:
  - accredited exercise physiologist
  - accredited practising dietician
  - chiropractor
  - continence nurse advisor
  - general practitioner
  - occupational therapist
  - osteopath
  - physiotherapist
  - podiatrist
  - psychologist
  - remedial massage therapist
  - sports doctor
- typical anatomical and physiological considerations for older adults
- common barrier to exercise participation:
  - perceived versus actual barriers
  - initial low fitness level
  - time and access to facilities
  - self-consciousness in client
- methods to overcome barriers to exercise adherence:
  - goal setting
  - feedback
  - healthy habits
- health-related components of fitness:
  - body composition
  - flexibility
  - muscle strength
  - muscle endurance
  - cardiovascular endurance
- awareness of major types of injuries or conditions that may present in older clients that may require referral to a relevant medical or appropriate allied health professional:
  - sprains
  - musculoskeletal
  - cardiovascular
  - respiratory
  - other
- importance of strength and balance training in falls prevention

- exercise considerations in regards to the following components of ageing process, injuries and conditions:
  - physiological
  - biomechanical
  - psychological
  - behavioural change and social needs
  - lifestyle and cultural
  - general population characteristics
- awareness of the following injury risks or considerations that may be related to older clients:
  - inadequate skill and physical preparation
  - overtraining
  - biomechanics and exercise technique
  - physical and mental preparation
  - poor core and postural awareness
  - fatigue and recovery
  - history of falls
  - incontinence
- benefits of exercise related to older populations:
  - increased muscle mass
  - maintenance of bone health
  - joint health
  - minimising fat levels to prevent disease
  - improved ability to function in everyday tasks and reduced risk of functional decline that is often associated with ageing
  - prevention of chronic disease related to sedentary lifestyles and ageing
  - reduced risk of falls
- concepts of healthy ageing
- risks of leading a sedentary ageing lifestyle:
  - falls
  - low bone density
  - cardiovascular deficiency.

Assessment Conditions

Skills must be demonstrated in:

- a fitness industry workplace or simulated environment with clients with real or simulated health and fitness goals.

Assessment must ensure access to:

- organisational policies and procedures related to older clients
- manufacturer guidelines on equipment safety and usage.

Assessment must ensure use of:

- a variety of equipment appropriate for use by older clients
- industry endorsed risk stratification procedures
- session plan templates with space to identify modifications/adjustments needed
- older clients; these can be:
  - older clients in an industry workplace, or
  - individuals who participate in role plays or simulated activities, set up for the purpose of assessment, in a simulated industry environment operated within a training organisation.

Assessment activities that allow the individual to:

- develop a variety of exercise programs for older clients over a period of time, ensuring adequate time to allow for the implementation of required modifications
- provide advice regarding fitness services and facilities for older clients
- complete and update client records:
  - pre-exercise screening documents
  - program as prescribed
  - modifications
  - client consent
  - copies of any communications.

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisation's requirements for assessors, and:

- have achieved a Certificate IV in Fitness or above; and
- have at least 1 year consecutive post qualification fitness industry experience in the application of the skills and knowledge of the Certificate IV in Fitness.

Evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit in the context of the job role, and:

- prepare referral letters for at least ten clients across a range of the following appropriate medical or allied health professionals when guidance and feedback is required regarding exercise participation:
  - accredited exercise physiologist
  - accredited practising dietician
  - chiropractor
  - continence nurse advisor
  - general practitioner
  - occupational therapist
  - osteopath
  - physiotherapist
  - podiatrist
  - psychologist
  - remedial massage therapist
  - sports physician
- deliver at least five suitable exercise programs in response to guidance or instruction provided by medical or allied health professionals
- maintain and store the following professional records:
  - parental or guardian consent, if relevant
  - pre-exercise screening results
  - other client health information
  - client informed consent
  - documented guidance provided by medical or allied health professional
  - clinical test results, as required
  - fitness test results, as required
  - exercise program
  - client participation

- provide ongoing clear and constructive feedback to clients and medical or allied health professionals, in a timely manner and in accordance with industry endorsed referral and communication reporting procedures including:
  - client health and fitness status
  - program progress
  - questions and concerns, if any
  - client response to exercise
  - client goals.

Knowledge Evidence

Demonstrated knowledge required to complete the tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit:

- legislative and regulatory requirements regarding:
  - privacy
  - anti-discrimination
  - work health and safety/occupational health and safety
  - duty of care
  - business licenses and practices

- motivate clients during exercise programs using:
  - principles of goal setting
  - arousal control techniques
  - positive feedback.

Knowledge Evidence

Demonstrated knowledge required to complete the tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit:

- organisational policies and procedures in relation to:
  - work health and safety/occupational health and safety
  - confidentiality of client information
  - ethical considerations
- strategies to promote exercise behaviour change:
  - contracting
  - prompts

- reinforcement
- perceived choice
- feedback
- rewards
- self-monitoring
- goal setting
- social support
- decision balance sheet
- physical setting
- exercise variety
- minimised discomfort and injury
- group training
- enjoyment
- periodic fitness and health assessment
- progress charts
- components of motivation to enable effective assessment of progress:
  - direction of effort
  - intensity of effort
  - persistence of behaviour
- role of intrinsic and extrinsic motivation in exercise behaviour
- methods of evaluating self-motivation, self-efficacy and stages of change
- personal and situational factors that may affect behaviour and/or exercise adherence:
  - family, cultural and social situation
  - habits
  - lifestyle
  - personality
  - self concept
- stages of change:
  - pre-contemplation
  - contemplation
  - preparation
  - action
  - maintenance
  - relapse
- principles of goal setting:
  - short, medium and long term goals
  - SMART goals
  - outcome, process and performance goals
  - goal achievement strategies
  - goal support

- evaluation and feedback
- recording goals
- arousal control techniques:
  - anxiety management
  - progressive relaxation
  - stress management
  - visualisation
  - self-talk
- common barriers to exercise participation:
  - perceived versus actual barriers
  - initial low fitness level
  - time and access to facilities
  - self-consciousness in client
- methods of collecting information about client's attitude towards exercise
- scope of practice for a personal trainer.

Assessment Conditions

Skills must be demonstrated in:

- a fitness industry workplace or simulated environment with clients with real or simulated health and fitness goals.

Assessment must ensure access to:

- motivation and behaviour change information and resources.

Assessment must ensure use of:

- planning and evaluation templates with space to identify improvements to professional practice
- client record forms:
  - appropriate documentation suitable for acquiring client information regarding exercise and lifestyle factors
  - appropriate documentation for goal setting and monitoring of client progress and changes
- clients; these can be:
  - clients in an industry workplace, or
  - individuals who participate in role plays or simulated activities, set up for the purpose of assessment, in a simulated industry environment operated within a training organisation.

Assessment activities that allow the individual to:

- demonstrate ability to incorporate motivation and behaviour change knowledge into the instruction of sessions, catering for:
  - beginners, intermediate and advanced participants
- improve client exercise adherence and motivate clients within industry realistic timeframes.

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisation's requirements for assessors, and:

- have achieved a Diploma of Fitness or above; and
- have at least 1 year consecutive post qualification fitness industry experience in the application of the skills and knowledge of the Diploma of Fitness.

SISFFIT018 Promote functional movement capacity

Modification History

Not applicable.

Application

This unit describes the performance outcomes, skills and knowledge required to assess client movement and exercise capacity and develop an appropriate exercise program. It requires the use of functional movement knowledge in day-to-day professional practice to encourage healthy posture, effective movement patterns and safe exercise technique for clients.

This unit applies to personal trainers who offer exercise programs to improve functional movement for general populations, including older adults and young people. These clients are those with no unstable health conditions, pain or injury as identified through industry endorsed pre-exercise screening and risk stratification protocols.

This unit does not apply to the provision of postural assessment, advice or treatment for an injury, disease or condition. The personal trainer is expected to refer clients requiring guidance, advice or treatment to an appropriate allied health professional.

This unit applies to personal trainers who typically work autonomously in controlled and uncontrolled fitness environments. Work is performed according to relevant legislation and organisational policies and procedures.

No occupational licensing, certification or specific legislative requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

Assessment Requirements for SISFFIT018 Promote functional movement capacity

Modification History

Not applicable.

Performance Evidence

Evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit in the context of the job role. This must include period(s) totalling at least eight hours comprising at least five different client contact sessions, and:

- observe and analyse functional movement capacity for at least five clients in line with accepted movement and technique standards incorporating the following for each client:
  - at least three functional movements
  - movement and exercise observation in the following movement patterns and scenarios:
    - push
    - pull
    - squat
    - lunge
    - rotate
    - overhead press
    - overhead pull
    - with and without equipment
    - loaded and unloaded
  - identification of joint mobility or movement restrictions against typical range of movement for major joint complexes, with consideration of:
    - joint movement
    - muscle action
    - passive range
    - active range
    - functional range
    - joint and muscle interactions
  - stability of major joint complexes, relevant to the client's needs, level of risk and experience
  - balance and coordination, relevant to the client's needs, level of risk and experience
  - a variety of functional movement measurement tools to support dynamic posture analysis:
    - flexometer
    - goniometer

- plumb line
  - grid
  - plurimeter
  - pressure biofeedback unit
  - photographic technology
  - video analysis
  - tape measure
- identify each client's capacity to activate and achieve good muscle function in all of the following muscle groups, using at least three muscle activation exercises per client:
    - core abdominals
    - glutes
    - hamstrings
    - hip flexors
    - rotator cuff
    - chest
    - back
  - modify incorrect client exercise technique and poor dynamic posture of at least three clients
  - explain and document functional movement observations and encourage a healthy posture for all clients:
    - identified posture, movement, strength and neuromuscular deviations, limitations and imbalances
    - significance of results for exercise programming, technique and prevention of injury
    - precautions to exercise relevant to functional movement observations and client risk status, in accordance with industry guidelines or guidance from medical or allied health professionals where applicable
  - recommend appropriate exercise strategies to clients to promote functional movement and reduce the likelihood of injury, in accordance with functional movement observations and client risk status, including the following strategies:
    - flexibility
    - functional strength training
    - proprioception development
    - education to develop correct exercise techniques or daily living postures.

Knowledge Evidence

Demonstrated knowledge required to complete the tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit:

- legislative obligations and organisational policies and procedures in relation to:
  - duty of care
  - work health and safety/occupational health and safety
  - confidentiality of client information

- professional ethics
- appropriate collection and storage of client information
- the relationship between injury, injury prevention and the following postural variances:
  - structural and functional variances
  - kyphosis
  - rounded shoulders
  - winging of scapula
  - increased or decreased lordosis
  - excessive posterior or anterior pelvic tilt
  - scoliosis
  - genu varum or genu valgum
  - increased pronation of foot or ankle complex
  - increased supination of foot or ankle complex
  - hyperextension of knees
  - lateral tilt of pelvis or head
  - forward head posture
  - rotated patella
- ideal postural alignment:
  - normal spinal curves
  - straight line running through:
    - ear lobe
    - anterior shoulder joint
    - vertebral bodies of L1-5
    - posterior hip joint
    - anterior knee joint
    - anterior ankle joint
    - transverse abdominus
    - pelvic floor muscles
- relationship of poor posture and risk of injury and muscular deficits:
  - diminished muscle strength or endurance
  - increased muscle tension/tone
  - limited flexibility
  - limited function
- postural influences affecting dysfunctional movement patterns and exercise technique
- typical range of movement for major joint complexes
- deviations in posture or functional limitations at commencement, during, at completion of exercise or movement:
  - asymmetrical muscle tone
  - spinal curvature – lordosis, kyphosis, scoliosis
  - scapula setting:

- winging of scapula
- anterior tipping/tilting
- upward/downward rotation
- pelvis position:
  - anterior/posterior
  - rotation
- knee alignment:
  - varus/valgus
- foot alignment:
  - internal/external rotation
  - pronation/supination
- forward head
- sitting/standing/supine
- locomotive gait – walking, jogging, running
- role of muscles in contractions:
  - agonist/prime mover
  - antagonist
  - fixator
  - assistor/synergist
- causes of poor posture:
  - congenial abnormalities of the musculoskeletal system
  - poor muscle strength
  - poor muscle endurance
  - muscle imbalance
  - lack of mobility
  - damage to bony structures
  - damage to connective tissue including ligaments and cartilage
- muscle activation, correct execution, and teaching points for primal functional movement patterns:
  - push
  - pull
  - squat
  - lunge
  - rotate
  - overhead press
  - overhead pull
- role of muscle activation in functional movement and exercise performance:
  - muscle sensory reception
  - reciprocal inhibition
- normal range of movement for major joint complexes

- characteristics of balance and balance exercise:
  - base of support
  - centre of gravity
  - limits of stability
  - components of balance maintenance
  - variation of stance
  - variation of surfaces or equipment
  - balance disturbance
  - progression of balance exercises
- characteristics of coordination and agility:
  - fine motor skills
  - gross motor skills
  - hand-eye skills
  - progression of coordination or agility exercises
- changes to centre of gravity caused by:
  - pregnancy
  - overweight
  - inappropriate footwear
  - behaviours
  - work practices
  - sport or leisure activities
- industry endorsed scope of practice for a personal trainer
- industry endorsed pre-exercise screening and risk stratification protocols
- role of medical or allied health professionals for referral or guidance
- reasons for referral to an appropriate medical or allied health professional:
  - pain upon presentation to initial session/induction
  - history of uncontrolled/unresolved pain
  - abnormal/inconsistent pain patterns which may point towards a pathology
  - pain during movement or exercise
  - static postural deviations
  - an inability to correct static or dynamic posture
  - restricted joint range of movement, strength imbalance or balance, stability or coordination concern that is limiting function
  - a diagnosed muscle, bone or joint problem with medical or allied health advice that the problem could be made worse by participating in physical activity/exercise
  - identified through industry endorsed pre-exercise screening and risk stratification.

Assessment Conditions

Skills must be demonstrated in:

- a fitness industry workplace or simulated environment with clients with real or simulated health and fitness goals.

Assessment must ensure access to:

- legislation and organisational policies and procedures in relation to functional movement observation and improvement
- industry endorsed risk stratification procedures.

Assessment must ensure use of:

- a variety of appropriate equipment to demonstrate and observe functional movement patterns, dynamic posture, joint range of movement, muscle activation and strength, balance, stability and coordination:
  - flexometer
  - goniometer
  - plumb line
  - grid
  - pluriometer
  - tape measure
- client record forms
- documented plans with inclusion of identified modifications/adjustments needed
- photographic technology
- video analysis
- clients; these can be:
  - clients in an industry workplace, or
  - individuals who participate in role plays or simulated activities, set up for the purpose of assessment, in a simulated industry environment operated within a training organisation.

Assessment activities that allow the individual to:

- observe multiple clients functional movement, identify issues and provide functional exercise strategies within the scope of practice.

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisation's requirements for assessors; and

- have achieved a Diploma of Fitness or above; and
- have at least 1 year consecutive post qualification fitness industry experience in the application of the skills and knowledge of the Diploma of Fitness.

SISFFIT020 Instruct exercise programs for body composition goals

Modification History

Not applicable.

Application

This unit describes the performance outcomes, skills and knowledge required to design exercise plans and programs to change and maintain desired and realistic body composition of clients.

It applies to exercise programs aimed at health-related components of fitness, with particular attention to body composition. This unit does not directly apply to provision of healthy eating information regarding body composition goals, however it does cover the calculation of energy expenditure to enable planning and instruction of appropriate programs to achieve identified goals.

This unit applies to the planning of programs for clients who have completed industry endorsed pre-exercise screening and risk stratification procedures.

This unit applies to personal trainers who typically work autonomously in controlled and uncontrolled fitness environments. Work is performed according to relevant legislation and organisational policies and procedures.

No occupational licensing, certification or specific legislative requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

Elements and Performance Criteria

ELEMENTS

PERFORMANCE CRITERIA

Elements describe the essential outcomes

Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.

1. Identify client body composition requirements.

- 1.1 Consider and confirm client body composition goals, expectations and preferences using suitable questioning techniques.
- 1.2 Review and advise client of outcomes of pre-exercise health screening procedures.
- 1.3 Refer client to medical or allied health professionals as required.
- 1.4 Identify potential barriers to achieving needs and goals.
- 1.5 Provide information to client on the relationship between healthy eating, exercise and health.
- 1.6 Determine daily energy expenditure of client.
- 1.7 Measure body composition of client using anthropometric standards.
- 1.8 Develop and document client profile for re-evaluation purposes.

2. Develop exercise plan to improve body composition.

- 2.1 Determine type of training, training methods and equipment required to achieve client body composition goals.
- 2.2 Develop client personalised strategies to increase exercise adherence.
- 2.3 Develop and document program plans that incorporate key instructional information and short and long-term body composition goals.
- 2.4 Set realistic guidelines and confirm exercise plan with client.
- 2.5 Develop customised training sessions that include a variety of exercises and equipment to meet client goals.

3. Implement exercise plan.

- 3.1 Instruct client in specific programs and exercises.
- 3.2 Select and use motivational techniques that encourage exercise, and healthy eating adherence.
- 3.3 Respond to clients experiencing difficulties and answer questions as required.
- 3.4 Monitor and record client progress.

4. Evaluate exercise plan.

- 4.1 Monitor and evaluate exercise program at appropriate intervals.
- 4.2 Reappraise client body composition at agreed stages of program.

- 4.3 Review client short and long-term goals and exercise plan.
- 4.4 Evaluate program or activities and discuss modifications to program.
- 4.5 Modify exercise plan for client and document evaluation and modification of programs.

Foundation Skills

Foundation skills essential to performance in this unit, but not explicit in the performance criteria are listed here, along with a brief context statement.

Assessment Requirements for SISFFIT020 Instruct exercise programs for body composition goals

Modification History

Not applicable.

Performance Evidence

Evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit in the context of the job role. This must include period(s) totalling at least ten hours comprising at least ten different client contact sessions, and:

- plan, document, implement and evaluate at least five exercise plans that meet specific body composition needs and goals of individual clients
- conduct sessions that consider each client's:
  - training schedule
  - likes and dislikes
  - financial constraints
  - specific responses to questionnaire
  - religious restrictions
  - injuries
  - medical and exercise history
  - functional limitations
- correctly measure body composition for each client using appropriate measures:
  - weight
  - height
  - hip circumference
  - waist circumference
  - skin folds
  - bioelectrical impedance analysis
  - body mass indices
- appropriately use and apply anthropometric standards:
  - somatotypes
  - skin fold indices
  - body mass indices
  - waist-hip ratios
  - healthy weight range charts
- use appropriate and motivating instructional techniques with each client to increase exercise adherence and positive health and fitness habits:
  - goal setting

- intrinsic and extrinsic motivation
- establishment of habits
- positive reinforcement.

Knowledge Evidence

Demonstrated knowledge required to complete the tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit:

- legislative and regulatory requirements regarding exercise planning for body composition goals:
  - work health and safety/occupational health and safety
  - duty of care
  - privacy
  - anti-discrimination
  - Australian consumer law
  - business registration and licences
- organisational policies and procedures in regards to:
  - ventilation and/or climate control
  - hygiene
  - emergency
  - risk management
  - standards of personal presentation
  - participant's clothing and footwear
  - use, care and maintenance of equipment
  - client supervision
  - communication protocols
  - records management and security
- industry endorsed client pre-exercise health screening processes
- industry endorsed risk stratification procedures, exercise implications and referral requirements
- client considerations for planning exercise programs to target body composition goals:
  - training schedule
  - likes and dislikes
  - financial constraints
  - specific responses to questionnaire
  - religious restrictions
  - injuries
  - medical and exercise history
  - functional limitations
- exercise programming principles to target body composition goals:
  - muscle hypertrophy

- fat loss
- lean body mass
- barriers to achieving goals:
  - unhealthy eating
  - physically inactive
  - exercise patterns
  - lack of good quality sleep
  - stress management
- management of body composition:
  - metabolism
  - energy expenditure
  - energy intake
  - balance between energy intake and energy expenditure
  - resting metabolic rate
  - thermogenesis
  - adaptive thermogenesis
  - thermic effect of food
  - thermic effect of exercise
  - changes to body composition
  - fat loss
  - muscle gain
- factors affecting 'weight' on scales:
  - lean body mass
  - water
  - fat
  - clothing
- role of medical or allied health professionals in relation to body composition programming
- motivational techniques and strategies to support body composition goals:
  - building rapport
  - questioning techniques
  - feedback
  - goal setting
  - reinforcement
- benefits and limitations of body composition appraisal methods.

Assessment Conditions

Skills must be demonstrated in:

- a fitness industry workplace or simulated environment with clients with real or simulated body composition goals.

Assessment must ensure access to:

- industry endorsed risk stratification procedures
- manufacturer guidelines on equipment safety and usage
- current industry endorsed best practice for client pre-exercise health screening and risk stratification.

Assessment must ensure use of:

- organisational policies and procedures:
  - privacy
  - work health and safety/occupational health and safety
  - confidentiality
  - referral forms and processes
  - recording and storage of information
- body composition appraisal methods to suit the goals of clients
- anthropometric standards
- current fitness industry recognised methods for achieving body composition outcomes
- session plan templates with space to identify modifications/adjustments needed
- client record forms
- clients; these can be:
  - clients in an industry workplace, or
  - individuals who participate in role plays or simulated activities, set up for the purpose of assessment, in a simulated industry environment operated within a training organisation.

Assessment activities that allow the individual to:

- develop a variety of body composition exercise programs over a period of time suitable for ensuring adequate time for the client to achieve several health and fitness-related body composition goals including:
  - fat loss
  - muscle hypertrophy
- demonstrate ability to instruct sessions that cater for:
  - beginners, intermediate and advanced participants
  - low and high impact.

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisation's requirements for assessors, and:

- have achieved a Diploma of Fitness or above; and
- have at least 1 year consecutive post qualification fitness industry experience in the application of the skills and knowledge of the Diploma of Fitness.

Elements and Performance Criteria

ELEMENTS

Elements describe the essential outcomes

1. Identify client fitness requirements.

PERFORMANCE CRITERIA

Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.

- 1.1 Consider and confirm client needs, expectations and preferences using suitable questioning techniques.

- 1.2 Review and advise client of outcomes of pre-exercise health screening procedures and fitness appraisal.
- 1.3 Refer client to medical or allied health professionals as required.
- 1.4 Identify potential barriers to achieving needs and goals.
- 1.5 Develop and document client profile for re-evaluation purposes.
2. Develop personal training exercise plan and program.
  - 2.1 Determine type of training, training methods and equipment required to achieve client goals.
  - 2.2 Develop client personalised strategies to increase exercise adherence.
  - 2.3 Develop and document program plans that incorporate key instructional information to match client preferences.
  - 2.4 Develop customised training sessions that include a variety of exercises and equipment to meet client needs.
  - 2.5 Select appropriate session assessment techniques.
  - 2.6 Obtain permission for use of public spaces if required.
  - 2.7 Document personal training plans for client.
3. Conduct personal training sessions.
  - 3.1 Allocate sufficient space, assemble resources and check equipment for safety and maintenance requirements.
  - 3.2 Determine client prior knowledge and skills in the fitness activity.
  - 3.3 Provide clear exercise instructions and confirm client understanding.
  - 3.4 Demonstrate exercises, techniques and equipment to client.
  - 3.5 Relate location and function of major bones and major joints to movement when instructing client.
  - 3.6 Identify major target muscles acting at major joints when instructing clients through exercises.
  - 3.7 Monitor participation and performance to identify signs of exercise intolerance and modify as required.
  - 3.8 Monitor client intensity, techniques, posture and safety, and modify program as required.
  - 3.9 Select and use motivational techniques that increase client performance and adherence to exercise.
  - 3.10 Respond to clients experiencing difficulties and answer questions as required.
  - 3.11 Complete session documentation and progress notes.
4. Evaluate personal training program.
  - 4.1 Monitor and evaluate exercise program at appropriate intervals.

- 4.2 Request and respond to feedback from client.
- 4.3 Conduct follow up client fitness assessments as required.
- 4.4 Review own performance and identify areas needing improvement.
- 4.5 Identify aspects needing further emphasis or attention in future sessions.
- 4.6 Evaluate program or activities and discuss modifications to program.
- 4.7 Modify personal training plan for client and prepare new exercise program.
- 4.8 Document and update records of evaluation and modification of program.

Foundation Skills

Foundation skills essential to performance in this unit, but not explicit in the performance criteria are listed here, along with a brief context statement.

Assessment Requirements for SISFFIT021 Instruct personal training programs

Modification History

Not applicable.

Performance Evidence

Evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit in the context of the job role. This must include period(s) totalling at least ten hours comprising at least ten different client contact sessions in a mixture of controlled and uncontrolled environments, and:

- plan, document, implement and evaluate at least five personal training plans that meet specific needs and goals of individual clients
- conduct sessions that individually or cumulatively incorporate:
  - a variety of indoor and outdoor training environments, methods, and equipment:
    - ensures promotion of sustainability of the environment
    - choice of resources to minimise environmental impact
    - permission for use of public spaces, as required
    - flexibility training:
      - dynamic
      - static
      - proprioceptive neuromuscular facilitation
  - resistance training:
    - free weights
    - gym equipment
    - body weight resistance only
  - cardiovascular training techniques:
    - continuous
    - interval
  - demonstration, explanation, and instruction of exercises
  - injury prevention strategies specific to client needs and program
  - appropriate and motivating instructional techniques to increase exercise adherence and positive health and fitness habits:
    - goal setting
    - intrinsic and extrinsic motivation
    - establishment of habits
    - positive reinforcement
- modify personal training plans for clients, addressing at least three of the following:

- technical requirements
- changing needs due to fitness adaptations
- changing goals
- client needs, objectives, likes and dislikes
- technical difficulty adjustments of exercises.

Knowledge Evidence

Demonstrated knowledge required to complete the tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit:

- legislative and regulatory requirements regarding personal training, equipment use and selection:
  - work health and safety/occupational health and safety
  - duty of care
  - privacy
  - anti-discrimination
  - working with children and/or vulnerable people check
- organisational policies and procedures in regards to:
  - ventilation and/or climate control
  - hygiene
  - emergency
  - risk management
  - standards of personal presentation
  - participant clothing and footwear
  - use, care and maintenance of equipment
  - client supervision
  - communication protocols
  - records management and security
- industry endorsed client pre-exercise health screening processes
- industry endorsed risk stratification procedures, exercise implications and referral requirements
- program planning for improvement of health- and skill-related components of fitness:
  - body composition
  - muscle endurance
  - muscle strength
  - flexibility
  - cardiovascular endurance
  - balance
  - reaction time
  - coordination
  - power

- speed
- agility
- proprioception
- safety and preparation considerations for the use of plyometric training in personal training
- program design and variables relevant to the combination of health- and skill-related components of fitness in the client's program:
  - muscle actions
  - loads and volumes
  - exercise selection and order
  - rest periods
  - repetition velocity
  - frequency
- suitable training and monitoring techniques and exercises to achieve improved functioning of:
  - musculoskeletal system
  - cardiovascular system
  - nervous system
- training principles relevant to the health- and skill-related components of fitness in the client's program:
  - overload
  - progression
  - adaptation
  - specificity
  - individualisation
  - maintenance
- training methods and consideration of intensity, program types, sets and reps, circuits, matrices, super-sets, pre-fatigue and interval training
- types of conditioning and training, and expected adaptations, including timing, for:
  - speed
  - power
  - strength
  - flexibility
  - cardiovascular endurance
  - hypertrophy
  - muscle endurance
  - weight loss
  - agility
  - reaction time
  - balance
  - coordination

- client considerations and needs:
  - client details
  - fitness levels and goals
  - training history
  - targeted adaptations
  - anticipated rate of client adaptation
  - number and nature of session programs
  - equipment requirements
  - facility requirements
  - review dates
- application of exercise science, anatomy, physiology, biomechanics considerations to fitness activities and personal training programs:
  - aerobic endurance and responses
  - hypertrophy training and types of muscle fibres
  - muscle tension
  - local muscle endurance training and recovery
  - neuromuscular coordination training, safety, skill and recovery
  - strength training, recovery times and techniques
  - stretching and flexibility methods, techniques and recovery times
  - predicted rate of adaptation
  - progression
  - recovery rate
  - reversibility
  - specificity
  - training threshold
- manufacturer and exercise equipment specifications for safe use and techniques
- signs and symptoms of exercise intolerance and appropriate management strategies
- common barriers to exercise participation:
  - perceived versus actual barriers
  - initial low fitness level
  - time and access to facilities
  - self-consciousness in client
- different learning styles of clients and methods to adapt training to suit these learning styles
- motivational techniques:
  - goal setting
  - intrinsic an extrinsic motivation
  - establishment of habits
  - positive reinforcement.

Assessment Conditions

Skills must be demonstrated in:

- a fitness industry workplace or simulated environment with clients with real or simulated health and fitness goals.

Assessment must ensure access to:

- industry endorsed risk stratification procedures
- manufacturer guidelines on equipment safety and usage
- current industry endorsed best practice for client pre-exercise health screening and risk stratification
- organisational policies and procedures regarding the use of equipment and locations for personal training sessions.

Assessment must ensure use of:

- client record forms
- equipment and resources required for the delivery of the personal training program:
  - resistance equipment
  - program cards
  - resistance bands
  - gym and fitness equipment
- session plan templates with space to identify modifications/adjustments needed
- clients; these can be:
  - clients in an industry workplace, or
  - individuals who participate in role plays or simulated activities, set up for the purpose of assessment, in a simulated industry environment operated within a training organisation.

Assessment activities that allow the individual to:

- develop a variety of personal training programs over a period of time suitable for ensuring adequate time for the client to achieve several health and fitness related goals
- demonstrate ability to instruct a variety of personal training sessions where a variety of exercise modes and equipment are available:
  - weights gym
  - exercise room
  - an outdoor environment
- demonstrate ability to instruct sessions that cater for:
  - beginners, intermediate and advanced participants
  - low and high impact.

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisation's requirements for assessors, and:

- have achieved a Diploma of Fitness or above; and
- have at least 1 year consecutive post qualification fitness industry experience in the application of the skills and knowledge of the Diploma of Fitness.

SISFFIT022 Instruct aquatic sessions for specific population groups

Modification History

Not applicable.

Application

This unit describes the performance outcomes, skills and knowledge required to plan and deliver safe and effective aquatic exercise sessions to specific population groups. It requires the ability to understand anatomical and physiological considerations and apply that understanding to client exercise participation aimed at improving health-related components of fitness.

This unit applies to fitness instructors working within the industry endorsed scope of practice when providing advice regarding fitness services and referral requirements for clients from the following specific population groups:

- children
- women
- older adults
- clients with a disability
- culturally and linguistically diverse (CALD) groups.

This unit does not apply to provision of exercise to higher risk specific population clients, or inappropriate exercise prescription for moderate risk clients. This unit does not apply to the provision of hydrotherapy.

This unit applies to fitness instructors who work in a variety of fitness or aquatic locations such as fitness, leisure and community centres. These individuals typically work independently with some level of autonomy in a controlled environment. Work is performed according to relevant legislation, including working with children and/or vulnerable people checks, and organisational policies and procedures.

No occupational licensing, certification or specific legislative requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

Elements and Performance Criteria

ELEMENTS

Elements describe the essential outcomes

1. Identify client fitness requirements.
2. Develop aquatic exercise plan and program.
3. Conduct aquatic session.

PERFORMANCE CRITERIA

Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.

- 1.1 Consider and confirm client needs, expectations and preferences using suitable questioning techniques.
- 1.2 Review and advise client of outcomes of pre-exercise health screening procedures.
- 1.3 Refer client to medical or allied health professionals as required.
- 1.4 Assess suitability of pool environment for participants and development strategies to maximise participant safety and enjoyment.
- 1.5 Explain benefits of aquatic exercise and identify potential barriers to participation.
- 1.6 Develop and document client profile for re-evaluation.
- 2.1 Determine type of aquatic training methods and equipment required to achieve client goals.
- 2.2 Develop and document program plans that incorporate key instructional information.
- 2.3 Incorporate guidance/advice from medical or allied health professionals into the provision of fitness advice/or planning of aquatic instruction.
- 2.4 Develop customised training sessions that include a variety of aquatic exercises and equipment to meet needs and characteristics of client.
- 3.1 Allocate sufficient space, assemble resources and check equipment for safety and maintenance requirements.
- 3.2 Provide clear exercise instructions and confirm client understanding.
- 3.3 Demonstrate exercises, techniques and equipment to client.
- 3.4 Monitor participation and performance to identify signs

- of exercise intolerance and modify as required.
- 3.5 Provide movement pattern alternatives for participants that present with limited water familiarisation, mobility or ability in an aquatic environment.
  - 3.6 Monitor client technique and safety within appropriate hydrodynamic principles, and modify as required.
  - 3.7 Seek ongoing guidance from, or refer client to, medical or allied health professionals, as appropriate.
  - 3.8 Select and use communication techniques that encourage and support clients.
  - 3.9 Respond to clients experiencing difficulties and answer questions as required.
  - 3.10 Complete session documentation and progress notes.
4. Evaluate program.
- 4.1 Monitor and evaluate exercise program at appropriate intervals.
  - 4.2 Provide written and verbal feedback to medical or allied health professionals, as required.
  - 4.3 Request and respond to feedback from clients.
  - 4.4 Review own performance and identify areas needing improvement.
  - 4.5 Identify aspects needing further emphasis or attention in future sessions.
  - 4.6 Evaluate program or activities and discuss modifications to program.
  - 4.7 Document and update records of evaluation and modification of programs.

Foundation Skills

Foundation skills essential to performance in this unit, but not explicit in the performance criteria are listed here, along with a brief context statement.

SKILLS	DESCRIPTION
Reading skills to:	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• interpret best practice principles of aquatic activities, organisational policies and procedures and legislation requirements.</li> </ul>
Oral communication skills to:	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• provide suitable modifications to participant exercises, use of equipment and spacing as required.</li> </ul>
Learning skills to:	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• maintain current knowledge of water-based fitness activities, training methods and water safety principles and codes of practice.</li> </ul>

- Problem-solving skills to:
- determine how to effectively instruct water-based fitness activities from outside of the pool considering hydrodynamic principles which emulate demonstration of exercises at water speed
  - apply principles of hydrodynamics to the adjustment of client aquatic activities and implementation of contingencies when problems arise, or other changes are required such as:
    - client inability to cope with session or activities
    - client inability to cope with turbulence in water
    - client inability to cope with level of support provided
    - client requires more energetic movements to achieve a more effective workout
  - determine level of support required for each client in the water as determined by individual needs, aquatic environment and hydrodynamic principles.

Assessment Requirements for SISFFIT022 Instruct aquatic sessions for specific population groups

Modification History

Not applicable.

Performance Evidence

Evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit in the context of the job role, and:

- plan, document, implement and evaluate suitable aquatic exercise programs within scope of practice for specific population clients:
  - five clients that don't require guidance or instruction provided by medical or allied health professionals
  - five clients in response to guidance or instruction provided by medical or allied health professionals
- conduct aquatic sessions that individually or cumulatively incorporate:
  - appropriate selection and monitoring of client use of a range of water-based fitness equipment
  - demonstration, explanation, and instruction of exercises
  - injury prevention strategies specific to client needs and program
  - suitable order and sequence of activities
  - session components that target the needs and goals of the individual
  - suitable duration, intensity, volume
  - ongoing clear and constructive feedback to clients and, where required, medical or allied health professionals
  - use of evidence based exercise adherence strategies specific to the population groups
  - safe and effective instructional techniques in water-based fitness:
    - formations
    - instructor preservation techniques
    - visual and verbal cueing
    - mirror imagine
    - emulating water movements
    - anchored and weighted movements
    - active and energetic movements
    - propulsion or turbulent actions
    - suspended movements in deep or shallow water
    - efficient learning curves
    - appropriate teaching positioning in regards to clients, pool and deck, sound system and sun glare

- clear and encouraging instructions
- modify programs for clients, addressing at least three of the following:
  - technical requirements
  - changing needs due to fitness adaptations
  - changing goals
  - client needs, objectives, likes and dislikes
  - technical difficulty adjustments of exercises
  - medical or allied health professional feedback.

Knowledge Evidence

Demonstrated knowledge required to complete the tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit:

- legislation and regulatory requirements in regards to:
  - work health and safety/occupational health and safety
  - duty of care
- organisational policies and procedures to ensure safety of clients and other facility users in regards to:
  - overcrowding
  - ventilation
  - hygiene
  - climate control
  - energy
  - standards of personal presentation
  - swimwear and pool footwear
  - use, care and maintenance of pool equipment
- properties of water:
  - mass
  - density
  - viscosity
  - hydrostatic pressure
- forces that act upon the body in water:
  - buoyancy
  - resistance
  - turbulence
  - propulsion
  - inertia
- industry endorsed client pre-exercise health screening processes
- industry endorsed risk stratification procedures, exercise implications and referral requirements for:

- low-risk clients
- moderate risk clients
- higher risk clients
- when there are extreme or multiple risk factors present and professional judgement to decide whether further medical advice is required identification of clients at high or higher risk of an adverse event occurring during exercise
- physical activity and exercise intensity and frequency guidelines
- common barrier to exercise participation
- contraindications and precautions that may affect water based participation
- participant cultural and social differences and potential impacts of participation
- precautions to exercise relevant to the specific population in accordance with industry guidelines where applicable
- benefits versus risk of participation
- situations where cessation of exercise program is required, this may include but is not limited to:
  - chest pain at rest or during activity
  - severe breathlessness/feeling faint/dizziness/loss of balance
  - unusual fatigue or shortness of breath
  - asthma aggravation/attack
  - significant muscle, bone or joint pain (beyond what is normally expected during exercise)
  - a situation whereby the fitness professional makes a judgement that continuing the session is beyond their professional capabilities and scope of practice, and could potentially compromise client health and safety
- signs and symptoms of poor exercise tolerance or unstable condition
- role of medical or allied health professionals for referral processes:
  - accredited exercise physiologist
  - accredited practising dietician
  - chiropractor
  - continence nurse advisor
  - general practitioner
  - occupational therapist
  - osteopath
  - physiotherapist
  - podiatrist
  - psychologist
  - remedial massage therapist
  - sports doctor
  - sports physician
- typical anatomical and physiological considerations for the following specific population groups:

- children
- women
- older adults
- clients with a disability
- CALD groups
- appropriate management for signs and symptoms of intolerance or an unstable condition:
  - cease or modify exercise
  - refer to a medical or allied health professional
  - call an ambulance if required
- potential or actual effect of the condition on exercise behaviour
- exercise adherence strategies. instructional strategies appropriate to risk status for participant group to enable effective and safe conduct of aquatic activities:
  - visual and or verbal and or aural and or tactile communication
  - multi-sensory
  - guided discovery
  - repeating instructions
  - breaking tasks into smaller activities
  - positive reinforcement
  - directive
- best practice principles of aquatic activities
- effective teaching strategies appropriate to specific population group:
  - breaking tasks into smaller activities
  - directive
  - guided discovery
  - multi-sensory
  - positive reinforcement
  - repeating instructions
  - visual, verbal, aural and tactile.

Assessment Conditions

Skills must be demonstrated in:

- an industry workplace or simulated environment that offers aquatic services and facilities suitable for specific population clients.

Assessment must ensure use of:

- an industry workplace with the appropriate environmental features:
  - indoor or outdoor swimming pool in a controlled environment
  - swimming pool entry and exit points
  - wet decks

- ramps
- steps
- bulk heads
- surface of pool and concourse
- pool floor gradient
- water temperature
- railings
- chemical additives
- ambient temperature
- safety equipment relevant to local regulatory and organisational policies and procedures
- a variety of equipment appropriate for use in water by specific population clients
- industry endorsed risk stratification procedures
- session plan templates with space to identify modifications/adjustments needed
- appropriate organisational documentation and resources such as equipment checklists and session plan templates
- specific population clients and medical or allied health professionals for referral processes; these can be:
  - clients, and medical or allied health professionals in the workplace, or
  - individuals who participate in project activities, role plays or simulated activities, set up for the purpose of assessment, within a training organisation.

Assessment must ensure access to:

- documentation such as manufacturer specifications for equipment use and maintenance
- legislation, best practice principles, and organisational policies and procedures in relation to aquatic activities.

Assessment activities that allow the individual to:

- develop a variety of aquatic exercise programs for specific population clients over a period of time, ensuring adequate time to allow for the implementation of required modifications
- demonstrate the ability to instruct a variety of water based fitness sessions:
  - using industry realistic timeframes
  - catering for:
    - beginners, intermediate and advanced participants
    - low and high impact
  - taking into consideration:
    - participant characteristics, specific population conditions and functional ability
    - participant goals
    - depth of water
    - fitness and ability of participant

- water safety and awareness.

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisation's requirements for assessors, and:

- have at least 2 years consecutive industry experience in the application of the skills and knowledge of this unit.

SISFFIT023 Instruct group personal training programs

Modification History

Not applicable.

Application

This unit describes the performance outcomes, skills and knowledge required to plan, instruct and evaluate group personal training programs for a variety of clients in both controlled and uncontrolled environments. It requires the ability to plan individualised programs for clients who have completed industry endorsed pre-exercise screening and risk stratification procedures.

It requires the ability to instruct personal training sessions and programs to a group of people, whilst taking into account individual goals, programming requirements, personality and fitness level. The personal trainer ensures that the supervision ratio to client adheres to organisation policies and procedures.

This unit applies to personal trainers who typically work autonomously in controlled and uncontrolled fitness environments. Work is performed according to relevant legislation and organisational policies and procedures.

- 3.11 Respond to clients experiencing difficulties and answer questions as required.
- 3.12 Complete session documentation and progress notes.
4. Evaluate personal training program.
  - 4.1 Monitor and evaluate exercise program at appropriate intervals.
  - 4.2 Request and respond to feedback from clients.
  - 4.3 Perform follow up fitness assessments on each client, individually or as a group, as required.
  - 4.4 Review own performance and identify areas needing improvement.
  - 4.5 Identify aspects needing further emphasis or attention in future sessions.
  - 4.6 Evaluate program or activities and discuss modifications to program.
  - 4.7 Modify personal training plan for individual clients, or group, as required and prepare new exercise program.
  - 4.8 Document and update records of evaluation and modification of program.

Assessment Requirements for SISFFIT023 Instruct group personal training programs

Modification History

Not applicable.

Performance Evidence

Evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit in the context of the job role. This must include period(s) totalling at least ten hours comprising at least ten different client contact sessions in a mixture of controlled and uncontrolled environments, and:

- plan, document, implement and evaluate at least three group personal training plans and exercise programs for groups of three to twelve people that meet specific needs and goals of each individual within the group
- conduct sessions that individually or cumulatively incorporate:
  - a variety of indoor and outdoor training environments, methods, and equipment:
    - ensures promotion of sustainability of the environment
    - choice of resources to minimise environmental impact
    - permission for use of public spaces, as required
  - flexibility training:
    - dynamic
    - static
    - proprioceptive neuromuscular facilitation
  - resistance training:
    - free weights
    - gym equipment
    - body weight resistance only
  - cardiovascular training techniques:
    - continuous
    - interval
  - adequate spacing between clients
  - appropriate line of sight for clients
  - appropriate motivating instructional techniques to increase exercise adherence and positive health and fitness habits of the group:
    - goal setting
    - intrinsic and extrinsic motivation
    - establishment of habits
    - positive reinforcement

- modify personal training plans for clients, addressing at least three of the following:
  - technical requirements
  - changing needs due to fitness adaptations
  - changing goals
  - client needs, objectives, likes and dislikes
  - technical difficulty adjustments of exercises.

Knowledge Evidence

Demonstrated knowledge required to complete the tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit:

- legislative and regulatory requirements regarding group personal training, equipment use and selection:
  - work health and safety/occupational health and safety
  - duty of care
  - privacy
  - anti-discrimination
  - working with children and/or vulnerable people check
- organisational policies and procedures in regards to:
  - ventilation and/or climate control
  - hygiene
  - emergency
  - risk management
  - standards of personal presentation
  - participant clothing and footwear
  - use, care and maintenance of equipment
  - client supervision
  - communication protocols
  - records management and security
  - maximum number of clients within a group
  - client supervision in a group
- industry endorsed client pre-exercise screening processes
- industry endorsed risk stratification procedures, exercise implications and referral requirements
- program planning for improvement of health- and skill-related components of fitness:
  - body composition
  - muscle endurance
  - muscle strength
  - flexibility
  - cardiovascular endurance
  - balance

- reaction time
- coordination
- power
- speed
- agility
- proprioception
- safety and preparation considerations for the use of plyometric training in group personal training
- suitable training and monitoring techniques and exercises to achieve improved functioning of:
  - musculoskeletal system
  - cardiovascular system
  - nervous system
- training principles relevant to the health- and skill-related components of fitness in the client's program:
  - overload
  - progression
  - adaptation
  - specificity
  - individualisation
  - maintenance
- training methods and consideration of intensity, program types, sets and reps, circuits, matrices, super-sets, pre-fatigue and interval training
- types of conditioning and training, and expected adaptations, including timing, for:
  - speed
  - power
  - strength
  - flexibility
  - cardiovascular endurance
  - hypertrophy
  - muscle endurance
  - weight loss
  - agility
  - reaction time
  - balance
  - coordination
- client considerations and needs:
  - client details
  - fitness levels and goals
  - training history

- targeted adaptations
- anticipated rate of client adaptation
- number and nature of session programs
- equipment requirements
- facility requirements
- review dates
- application of exercise science, anatomy, physiology, biomechanics considerations to fitness activities and group personal training programs:
  - aerobic endurance and responses
  - hypertrophy training and types of muscle fibres
  - muscle tension
  - local muscle endurance training and recovery
  - neuromuscular coordination training, safety, skill and recovery
  - strength training, recovery times and techniques
  - stretching and flexibility methods, techniques and recovery times
  - predicted rate of adaptation
  - progression
  - recovery rate
  - reversibility
  - specificity
  - training threshold
- manufacturer and exercise equipment specifications for safe use and techniques
- signs and symptoms of exercise intolerance and appropriate management strategies
- common barriers to exercise participation:
  - perceived versus actual barriers
  - initial low fitness level
  - time and access to facilities
  - self-consciousness in client
- different learning styles of clients and methods to adapt training to suit these learning styles
- motivational techniques:
  - goal setting
  - intrinsic and extrinsic motivation
  - establishment of habits
  - positive reinforcement.

Assessment Conditions

Skills must be demonstrated in:

- a fitness industry workplace or simulated environment with clients with real or simulated health and fitness goals.

Assessment must ensure access to:

- industry endorsed risk stratification procedures
- manufacturer guidelines on equipment safety and usage
- current industry endorsed best practice for client pre-exercise screening and risk stratification
- organisational policies and procedures regarding the use of equipment and locations for group personal training sessions.

Assessment must ensure use of:

- client record forms
- equipment and resources required for the delivery of the group personal training program:
  - resistance equipment
  - program cards
  - resistance bands
  - gym and fitness equipment
- session plan templates with space to identify modifications/adjustments needed
- clients; these can be:
  - clients in an industry workplace, or
  - individuals who participate in role plays or simulated activities, set up for the purpose of assessment, in a simulated industry environment operated within a training organisation.

Assessment activities that allow the individual to:

- develop a variety of group personal training programs over a period of time suitable for ensuring adequate time for group to achieve several health and fitness related goals
- demonstrate ability to instruct a variety of group personal training sessions where a variety of exercise modes and equipment are available:
  - weights gym
  - exercise room
  - an outdoor environment
- demonstrate ability to instruct sessions that cater for:
  - beginners, intermediate and advanced participants
  - low and high impact.

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisation's requirements for assessors, and:

- have achieved a Diploma of Fitness or above; and
- have at least 1 year consecutive post qualification fitness industry experience in the application of the skills and knowledge of the Diploma of Fitness.

SISFFIT025 Recognise the dangers of providing nutrition advice to clients

Modification History

Not applicable.

Application

This unit describes the performance outcomes, skills and knowledge required to identify when the provision of nutritional advice is beyond the scope of practice of a personal trainer.

It requires the ability to recognise the dangers of providing nutrition advice in a fitness setting and when a client requires referral to an Accredited Practising Dietitian, Accredited Sports Dietitian or General Practitioner.

This unit covers recognition of appropriate information sources to apply to the provision of food advice, and when the provision of such advice is unethical and beyond the scope of practice.

This unit applies to personal trainers who typically work autonomously in controlled and uncontrolled fitness environments. Work is performed according to relevant legislation and organisational policies and procedures.

No occupational licensing, certification or specific legislative requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

Assessment Requirements for SISFFIT025 Recognise the dangers of providing nutrition advice to clients

Modification History

Not applicable.

Performance Evidence

Evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit in the context of the job role, and:

- identify at least ten client situations when referral to an Accredited Practising Dietitian, Accredited Sports Dietitian or General Practitioner is required:
  - record the details of the client situation/reason for referral
  - identify the appropriate health professional for the situation.

Knowledge Evidence

Demonstrated knowledge required to complete the tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit:

- purpose, use and limitations of the Australian Dietary Guidelines:
  - food groups
  - guidelines
  - Australian guide to healthy eating and the template for adaptation for clients
- the role and professional boundaries of the personal trainer, medical and allied health professionals in providing nutritional advice, weight loss support and exercise prescription
- the role of the personal trainer in providing nutritional advice within appropriate guidelines of Eat for Health Program incorporating the Australian Dietary Guidelines
- situations when referral to an Accredited Practising Dietitian, Accredited Sports Dietitian or General Practitioner is required, and which professional is most appropriate for the situation:
  - when individuals ask for specific information regarding weight management or indicate interest in more information on weight loss
  - when clients have specific questions regarding dieting, diet trends and supplementation
  - when clients have specific questions regarding the suitability of participating in an available nutrition program when specific health indicators demonstrate increased health risks after pre-exercise screening and client reporting
  - when the client's eating patterns are extreme and not meeting nutritional requirements e.g. removing / limiting inappropriately food groups
  - when the client may benefit from attending a structured support program
  - when the client is having difficulty achieving weight loss goals

- when the client has high intensity or high level training or sports performance requirements
- when the client needs support regarding attitudes to eating and may benefit from additional assistance
- risks of providing nutritional information to the following specific population clients:
  - pregnant or lactating women
  - very underweight, overweight or obese
  - impaired Glucose Tolerance, Impaired Fasting Glucose or strong family history of Type 2 Diabetes
  - Type 1 or Type 2 diabetes
  - cardiovascular disease, Renal disease or Liver disease
  - food allergies and intolerances
  - diagnosed with, undergoing treatment for, or recovering from cancer
  - frail elderly
  - mental illness
  - high intensity and high volume exercise or sport
  - other health conditions affected by nutrition.

Assessment Conditions

Skills must be demonstrated in:

- a fitness industry workplace or simulated environment where clients are seeking information regarding health and fitness, including nutrition information and guidance.

Assessment must ensure use of:

- documented organisational policies and procedures
- industry endorsed scope of practice for the role and scope of a personal trainer
- workplace documents and systems for client consultations and referral letters
- scope of practice documents of medical and allied health professionals
- current healthy information resources:
  - National Health and Medical Research Council (NHMRC) – Australian Dietary Guidelines
- up-to-date resources for researching the role of various health professionals and the risks of providing nutritional information to various clients
- learning and assessment tools validated by:
  - an Accredited Practising Dietitian or an Accredited Sports Dietitian with at least two consecutive years experience in clinical practice
- clients and medical or allied health professionals for referral processes; these can be:
  - clients, and medical or allied health professionals in the workplace, or
  - individuals who participate in project activities, role plays or simulated activities, set up for the purpose of assessment, within a training organisation.

Assessment activities that allow the individual to:

- identify situations where the client must be referred to a medical or allied health professional for nutritional or other lifestyle advice
- recognise the dangers of providing nutritional information to clients in at least ten client situations or interactions.

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisation's requirements for assessors, and:

- have achieved a Diploma of Fitness or above; and
- have at least 1 year consecutive post qualification fitness industry experience in the application of the skills and knowledge of the Diploma of Fitness.

SISFFIT026 Support healthy eating through the Eat for Health Program

Modification History

Not applicable.

Application

This unit describes the performance outcomes, skills and knowledge required to use the Eat for Health Program to support clients who do not have special dietary needs. It covers assisting clients to adapt the Australian Dietary Guidelines to suit their lifestyles and food choice influences using the Eat for Health Program as a guide.

This unit requires the ability to provide healthy eating information and assist clients within industry endorsed scope of practice following completion of industry endorsed pre-exercise screening.

The scope of practice of a personal trainer does not include:

- the provision of specific or individualised dietary analysis or advice, or information regarding:
  - specific diets
  - fad diets
  - nutritional supplementation
  - sports foods
  - ergogenic aids
  - nutrition for exercise or sports performance
- the provision of information or advice to people with medical conditions requiring specialised dietary advice, or to frail elderly people who are at risk of malnutrition
- the provision of dietary information or advice for infants and toddlers.

The personal trainer must refer clients to an Accredited Practising Dietitian, Accredited Sports Dietitian, or General Practitioner as appropriate.

This unit applies to personal trainers who typically work autonomously in controlled and uncontrolled fitness environments. Work is performed according to relevant legislation and organisational policies and procedures.

No occupational licensing, certification or specific legislative requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

Elements and Performance Criteria

ELEMENTS

Elements describe the essential outcomes

1. Identify client needs within the Eat for Health Program.
2. Develop client profiles of food choices and eating patterns.
3. Provide eating pattern and health status information.
4. Influence healthier eating patterns.

PERFORMANCE CRITERIA

Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.

- 1.1 Consider and confirm client goals, expectations and preferences using suitable questioning techniques.
- 1.2 Identify current sedentary and incidental physical activity patterns of client.
- 1.3 Explain benefits of combining regular moderate intensity physical activity and healthy eating.
- 1.4 Explain limitations as a personal trainer in providing the Eat for Health Program to a client.
- 1.5 Refer client to an Accredited Practising Dietitian or Accredited Sports Dietitian, as required.
- 2.1 Determine daily eating patterns of client in format of the Australian Dietary Guidelines.
- 2.2 Identify influences of food choices using the Eat for Health Educator Guide.
- 3.1 Compare client eating patterns with recommendations in the Eat for Health Educator Guide.
- 3.2 Provide feedback on eating patterns and alignment with Australian Dietary Guidelines to client.
- 3.3 Discuss advantages and disadvantages of eating patterns using the Eat for Health Educator Guide.
- 4.1 Assist client to make changes to eating patterns to more closely align with their goals using the template for adapting the Australian Guide to Healthy Eating.

4.2 Educate client regarding food labels to support healthy choices using the Eat for Health Educator Guide.

4.3 Maintain records of all assistance provided to client.

Assessment Requirements for SISFFIT026 Support healthy eating through the Eat for Health Program

Modification History

Not applicable.

Performance Evidence

Evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit in the context of the job role. This must include period(s) totalling at least five hours comprising at least five different client contact sessions, and:

- identify the daily eating patterns of at least five clients in the format of the Australian Dietary Guidelines
- compare each client's eating patterns with the recommendations in the Eat for Health Educator Guide relative to their goals, body composition, lifestyle group, and current level of physical activity, using Foundation and Total Diets
- provide suggestions for achieving healthy dietary patterns to each client in accordance with the Eat for Health Educator Guide
- apply organisational policies and procedures and legal and ethical limitations to client contact sessions:
  - maintain client confidentiality
  - maintain clear and accurate records of client consultations
- identify the need for and prepare referrals for at least five clients to an Accredited Practising Dietitian, Accredited Sports Dietitian and/or medical practitioner as required:
  - clients who have specific dietary requirements or dietary concerns
  - clients who are not achieving their goals when following the Australian Dietary Guidelines
  - clients who need support regarding attitudes to eating.

Knowledge Evidence

Demonstrated knowledge required to complete the tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit:

- purpose and use of the Australian Dietary Guidelines:
  - food groups
  - guidelines
  - Australian guide to healthy eating and the template for adaptation for clients
- purpose and use of the Eat for Health Program and Eat for Health Educator Guide to:
  - support implementation of the Australian Dietary Guidelines
  - use concepts such as the Foundation Diet and Total Diet that assist clients to plan healthy eating

- how to read and understand food labels to support healthy food choices according to the Eat for Health Educator Guide
- how to use the template for adapting the Australian guide to healthy eating to assist clients to make informed food choices
- role of Accredited Practising Dietitian, Accredited Sports Dietitian and General Practitioner for referring clients
- referral requirements for:
  - clients with very high volume or high intensity training loads, or participation in organised sport,
  - clients with specific or special dietary needs
  - clients seeking information or advice about:
    - dietary trends
    - fad or popular diets
    - nutritional supplementation
    - sports foods
    - ergogenic aids
- scope of practice of a personal trainer in regards to providing nutritional information
- the modelling of Foundation diets on a weekly basis in the Eat for Health Educator Guide allowing for flexibility in their daily implementation
- the benefits of combining healthy eating and moderate physical activity
- use of the Eat for Health Program, within Scope of Practice, according to the lifestyle group and different levels of physical activity:
  - sedentary activities
  - light activities
  - moderate activities
  - vigorous activities.

Assessment Conditions

Skills must be demonstrated in:

- a fitness industry workplace or simulated environment with clients with real or simulated healthy eating and fitness goals.

Assessment must ensure access to:

- documented organisational policies and procedures related to providing nutrition information.

Assessment must ensure use of:

- industry endorsed scope of practice for a personal trainer
- current healthy information resources:

- National Health and Medical Research Council (NHMRC) – Australian Dietary Guidelines
- Eat for Health Educator Guide
- workplace documents and systems for the documenting of client consultation and referral letters
- learning and assessment tools validated by:
  - an Accredited Practising Dietitian or an Accredited Sports Dietitian with at least two consecutive years experience in clinical practice
- clients and medical or allied health professionals for referral processes; these can be:
  - clients, and medical or allied health professionals in the workplace, or
  - individuals who participate in project activities, role plays or simulated activities, set up for the purpose of assessment, within a training organisation.

Assessment activities that allow the individual to:

- provide clients with current healthy eating information from identified resources
- identify situations whereby the client's nutritional requirements are beyond the scope of a personal trainer, and refer client to an Accredited Practising Dietitian or Accredited Sports Dietitian as appropriate.

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisation's requirements for assessors, and:

- have achieved a Diploma of Fitness or above; and
- have at least 1 year consecutive post qualification fitness industry experience in the application of the skills and knowledge of the Diploma of Fitness.

Assessment Conditions

Skills must be demonstrated in:

- a fitness industry workplace or simulated environment that offers a variety of fitness services and facilities for clients.

Assessment must ensure access to:

- organisational policies and procedures relevant to using research to support and improve professional practice.

Assessment must ensure use of:

- suitable technology for the research processes
- established and reputable primary and secondary sources of information
- planning and evaluation templates with space for inclusion of evidence-based improvements to professional practice
- clients; these can be:
  - clients in an industry workplace, or
  - individuals who participate in role plays or simulated activities, set up for the purpose of assessment, in a simulated industry environment operated within a training organisation.

Assessment activities that allow the individual to:

- demonstrate ability to incorporate evidence based information into contemporary exercise programs, catering for:
  - beginners, intermediate and advanced participants
  - low and high impact.

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisation's requirements for assessors, and:

- have achieved a Diploma of Fitness or above; and
- have at least 2 years consecutive post qualification fitness industry experience in the application of the skills and knowledge of the Diploma of Fitness.

SISOEQU001 Handle horses

Modification History

Not applicable

Application

This unit describes the performance outcomes, skills and knowledge required to safely handle horses, particularly those used in equestrian sport or recreational riding programs but it could have wider application to other equine settings.

Horses are handled in contained areas including stables, fenced arenas, yards, round yards and paddocks.

It requires knowledge of horse temperament, behaviour and body language to safely interact with horses and the ability to catch, lead, tie up and release horses.

This unit applies to a range of organisations including those involved in equestrian sport, instructional and recreational riding programs. It applies to people working at all levels who handle horses as part of their regular work activities.

No occupational licensing, certification or specific legislative requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

Pre-requisite Unit

Nil

Competency Field

Equine

Unit Sector

Outdoor Recreation

Elements and Performance Criteria

ELEMENTS

Elements describe the essential outcomes

1. Assess risks for horse

PERFORMANCE CRITERIA

Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.

1.1. Identify known temperament, behaviour and level of

- handling activities. education of horse prior to handling.
- 1.2. Identify current environmental factors that may affect horse senses and behaviour.
  - 1.3. Observe and interpret horse body language and vocalisations to assess current horse behaviour.
  - 1.4. Identify and assess risks associated with the particular activity, horse enclosure and horse.
  - 1.5. Identify safe handling practices and confirm required organisational safety and emergency response procedures.
2. Approach and catch horses.
- 2.1. Identify horses to be caught by their features.
  - 2.2. Check and confirm horses are aware of presence of handler prior to approach.
  - 2.3. Move safely around any horses lying down without encroaching danger zones.
  - 2.4. Catch an individually housed horse.
  - 2.5. Catch a horse from within a group of horses.
  - 2.6. Approach horses with halter and lead, using body language that minimises adverse horse reactions.
  - 2.7. Fit halter and lead assuming safe body position in relation to horses.
3. Lead, tie up and untie horses.
- 3.1. Assume safe body position in relation to horses and use cues to start, stop and turn horse.
  - 3.2. Lead horse, under control, on its own through doorways and gates.
  - 3.3. Lead and stand horse single file in a group, and control to ensure horse and own safety.
  - 3.4. Lead horse under control past others leading a horse.
  - 3.5. Lead horse under control through, and out of a group of horses.
  - 3.6. Secure horse to tie up point.
  - 3.7. Check and confirm horse is aware of handler, move around avoiding danger zones, untie and lead horse.
4. Release horses.
- 4.1. Remove halter and lead, assuming safe body position in relation to horse.
  - 4.2. Release horse into enclosure for a single horse; confirm security of enclosure before and after release.
  - 4.3. Release horse into enclosure housing groups of horses;

confirm security of enclosure before and after release.

4.4. Release horse as part of a group of handlers releasing horses; confirm security of enclosure before and after release.

5. Respond to immediate safety risks.

5.1. Monitor horse behaviour during all handling activities and respond to adverse behaviour.

5.2. Complete on-the-spot risk assessment as hazards arise during activities to avoid injury to self, others and horse.

5.3. Use techniques to calm and control horse throughout activities and amend or cease activities as required.

Foundation Skills

Foundation skills essential to performance in this unit, but not explicit in the performance criteria are listed here, along with a brief context statement.

SKILLS

DESCRIPTION

Reading skills to:

- interpret detailed and familiar organisational safety and emergency response procedures for handling horses.

Oral communication skills to:

- ask open and closed probe questions and actively listen to clarify and confirm handling conditions, hazards and risk control practices
- interact with other handlers clearly to support a positive and safe handling environment.

Assessment Requirements for SISOEQU001 Handle horses

Modification History

Not applicable.

Performance Evidence

Evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit in the context of the job role, and:

- use safe practices and organisational safety procedures to catch, lead, tie up and release horses on four different occasions using a different horse on each occasion
- work within a group of minimum three and maximum six handlers on each occasion
- during all handling activities, consistently respond to horse behaviour and control horses.

Knowledge Evidence

Demonstrated knowledge required to complete the tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit:

- organisational safety and emergency response procedures for handling horses
- identifying features of horses:
  - points of the horse
  - colour and markings
  - brands
  - gender
  - size
- meaning of horse temperament and various descriptions used
- key features of horse instinct and how this impacts on behaviour in different situations
- various levels of education for horses and indicators of education level
- known temperament, behaviour and level of education of horses to be handled
- environmental conditions that can unsettle horses to include:
  - wind and other weather features
  - fire and smoke
  - noise from people, machinery and vehicles
  - presence of other horses and animals
  - containment within fenced areas or stalls
- how horse senses can influence their behaviour and reactions with emphasis on:
  - smell
  - sight - field of vision, perception of depth
  - touch sensitivity
  - hearing

- horse posture, body and tail movements, facial expressions and vocalisations that indicate a horse is:
  - relaxed
  - alert
  - unsettled or stressed
  - agitated or aggressive
  - frightened, in a state of flight response
- human body language and behaviour to avoid when around horses
- positive human body language and behaviour that minimises adverse horse reactions
- cues used to start, stop and turn horses
- safe handler body positions used in relation to horse when:
  - catching; fitting and removing halters
  - leading and releasing horses
  - tying up and untying horses
- meaning of danger zones around horses:
  - within kicking or striking range of horses' legs
  - within head butting, biting or tail swish range of horses
  - within area where horse is rising from lying down
  - within confined areas where a horse may crush handler
- purpose, features of and techniques used to fit and adjust equipment to ensure correct fit, comfort for horse and safety of handler to include:
  - halters
  - leads
  - ropes
- risks associated with the following horse handling activities and techniques used to control and ensure welfare of horses and safety of handler:
  - catching
  - leading
  - tying up and untying
  - releasing.

Assessment Conditions

Skills must be demonstrated in contained horse handling environments which must include:

- small fenced enclosures
- large fenced enclosures
- areas containing doorways and gates.

Horse matching prior to all assessments involving horse interaction is essential. Assessors must:

- complete, participate in or validate a risk assessment of both the candidate's and other participant handlers' characteristics and level of horse handling skills
- match, or validate the matching of, horses of suitable history, size and temperament to both the candidate and other participants to ensure that handler and horse combination is safe.

Assessment must ensure use of:

- a group of minimum three and maximum six handlers including the candidate
- horses, matched to all handlers as above; these must be:
  - calm, consistent and obedient horses for the first, second and third assessment occasion
  - compliant and manageable horses for the fourth assessment occasion
- equipment used to catch, lead and tie up horses:
  - halters
  - leads
  - tie up points
- organisational safety and emergency response procedures for handling horses.

Assessment must ensure access to:

- human and equine first aid equipment
- communication equipment for emergency response.

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisations requirements for assessors, and:

- hold a qualification or Statement of Attainment which includes this unit of competency, SISOEQU001 Handle horses, or a qualification or Statement of Attainment which includes a unit of competency that has been superseded by this unit, and
- have at least three years' experience in a role involving handling horses where they have applied the skills and knowledge covered in this unit of competency, and
- hold accreditation relevant to assessing handling skills covered by this unit; accreditation refers to:
  - accreditation offered by equine sporting organisations recognised by the Australian Sports Commission (ASC), or
  - certification offered by equine organisations which are Registered Training Organisations (RTOs) or whose training is managed by an affiliated RTO.

SISOEQU002 Ride horses using fundamental skills

Modification History

Not applicable.

Application

This unit describes the performance outcomes, skills and knowledge required to ride horses at walk, trot and canter to a fundamental skill level.

Horses are only ridden in fenced arenas. During all activities, riders are under the direct instruction of qualified instructors who are proficient riders.

This unit applies to individuals who are new and or inexperienced horse riders and who are developing their initial riding skills. They would progressively develop additional riding skills required for work, recreational or competitive activities after achieving the foundation competency described by this unit.

No occupational licensing, certification or specific legislative requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

Pre-requisite Unit

SISOEQU001 Handle horses

Competency Field

Equine

Unit Sector

Outdoor Recreation

Elements and Performance Criteria

ELEMENTS

Elements describe the essential outcomes

1. Prepare for safe riding activities.

PERFORMANCE CRITERIA

Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.

1.1. Assess, with instructor, horse behaviour and suitability for riding activity and own skill level.

1.2. Assess, with instructor, level of horse education and suitability for riding activity and own skill level.

- 1.3. Discuss and identify, with instructor, potential hazards and associated risks for riding environment, weather, horse and riding activity.
    - 1.4. Confirm activity safety and emergency response procedures to ensure compliance during horse handling and riding activities.
  2. Select and prepare tack, horse and personal equipment.
    - 2.1. Check condition of assigned horse, report any signs of illness or injury, select grooming equipment and groom before fitting tack.
    - 2.2. Select tack and personal equipment to match riding conditions, and check it is in safe working condition.
    - 2.3. Fit and adjust tack and personal equipment to self and horse to ensure comfort and safety.
    - 2.4. Present horse and self to instructor for check prior to mounting.
  3. Mount and ride horses.
    - 3.1. Follow all instructions and safety directions to control horse throughout riding activities.
    - 3.2. Mount horse safely and to ensure balance; check and adjust equipment as required.
    - 3.3. Interpret behavioural signals, use positive body language and aids to direct, communicate with and control horse.
    - 3.4. Use upright seat to walk, trot and canter horse calmly and maintain rider balance throughout.
    - 3.5. Control horse line of direction and speed at halt, walk, trot and canter.
    - 3.6. Ride horse under control in a group and alone, through a range of movements.
    - 3.7. Control horse line of direction and speed to safely approach and avoid hazards.
    - 3.8. Maintain safe zones and communication protocols during group riding activities.
  4. Dismount, cool down and release horse.
    - 4.1. Dismount horse safely to ensure balance, lead horse, ensuring safety of horse and self.
    - 4.2. Remove equipment from horse according to organisational safety procedures.
    - 4.3. Cool horse down as necessary.
    - 4.4. Release horse to enclosure according to organisational safety procedures.
    - 4.5. Check equipment for wear or breakage, and report any faults.

5. Evaluate riding techniques.

5.1. Evaluate riding skills after each ride and discuss techniques and adherence to safety requirements with instructor.

5.2. Identify improvements for future activities.

Foundation Skills

Foundation skills essential to performance in this unit, but not explicit in the performance criteria are listed here, along with a brief context statement.

SKILLS

DESCRIPTION

Reading skills to:

- interpret detailed and familiar organisational safety and emergency response procedures.

Oral communication skills to:

- ask open and closed probe questions and actively listen to clarify and confirm riding conditions, instructions, directions and feedback
- clearly interact verbally and non-verbally with other riders to maintain a positive and safe riding environment.

Learning skills to:

- modify and use new techniques according to riding conditions and horse behaviour.

Assessment Requirements for SISO EQU002 Ride horses using fundamental skills

Modification History

Not applicable.

Performance Evidence

Evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit in the context of the job role, and:

- complete three rides under direct instruction in an arena on three different calm, consistent and obedient horses
- ride within a group of minimum two and maximum eight riders during each ride
- across the three rides, cumulatively use the following fundamental handling and riding skills:
  - saddling and adjusting tack; unsaddling
  - bridling and adjusting tack; unbridling
  - mounting and dismounting with assistance
  - holding, lengthening and shortening the reins
  - maintaining gaps between horses during group rides
  - using a balanced, independent upright seat position
  - starting and stopping
  - techniques to stop horse in an emergency
  - walking horses including:
    - maintaining balance and control
    - halt-walk transitions and walk-halt transitions
    - turning and guiding the horse at the walk
  - trotting horses including:
    - maintaining balance and control
    - rising trot
    - turning and guiding the horse at the trot
    - walk-trot and trot-walk transitions
  - cantering horses including:
    - maintaining balance and control
    - turning and guiding the horse at the canter
    - cantering on correct lead
    - trot-canter and canter-trot transitions
  - providing direction to the horse using the following aids:
    - legs

- reins
- seat
- riding movements:
  - straight lines
  - diagonal lines
  - circles
- riding towards and away from the group
- cooling down horses
- during each ride, consistently:
  - use safe horse handling and riding practices and techniques to effectively control the horse
  - follow instructions and safety directions.

Knowledge Evidence

Demonstrated knowledge required to complete the tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit:

- organisational safety and emergency response procedures for riding activities
- factors that affect the matching of horses to riders at a fundamental level of understanding to include:
  - rider's age, size, weight, physical capabilities and skill level
  - horse age, size, behaviour and level of education
- a range of potential hazards connected to the arena environment, weather and horse, and commonly used control measures
- communication protocols for group rides
- the meaning of safe zone for riding in a group and techniques used to maintain gaps between horses
- common behaviour patterns of horses during group rides
- basic indicators of horse illness and injury
- reasons for grooming horses prior to fitting tack and risks associated with not grooming
- safe grooming techniques, purpose, features and use of grooming equipment used before fitting tack
- purpose, features of, and techniques used to fit and adjust tack to ensure correct fit, comfort for horse and safety of rider to include:
  - saddles
  - saddles cloths
  - bridles
  - reins
  - bits
  - stirrups with safety features
- safe techniques used to unsaddle and unbridle horses
- purpose and features of personal protective equipment for riders to include:

- clothing
- footwear
- helmets
- fundamental horse riding techniques used to control horses safely and effectively to include those for:
  - mounting and dismounting with assistance
  - holding, lengthening and shortening the reins
  - maintaining gaps between horses during group rides
  - using a balanced, independent upright seat position
  - starting and stopping
  - techniques to stop horse in an emergency
  - walking horses including:
    - maintaining balance and control
    - halt-walk transitions and walk-halt transitions
    - turning and guiding the horse at the walk
  - trotting horses including:
    - maintaining balance and control
    - rising trot
    - turning and guiding the horse at the trot
    - walk-trot and trot-walk transitions
  - cantering horses including:
    - maintaining balance and control
    - turning and guiding the horse at the canter
    - cantering on correct lead
    - trot-canter and canter-trot transitions
  - providing direction to the horse using the following aids:
    - legs
    - reins
    - seat
  - riding movements:
    - straight lines
    - diagonal lines
    - circles
  - riding towards and away from the group
  - cooling down horses.

Assessment Conditions

Skills must be demonstrated within a fenced horse riding arena with a safe surface for the horse riding exercises.

Horse matching prior to all assessments involving horse interaction is essential. Assessors must:

- complete, participate in or validate a risk assessment of both the candidate's and other participant riders' characteristics and level of horse handling and riding skills
- match, or validate the matching of, horses of suitable history, size and temperament to both the candidate and other participants to ensure that rider and horse combination is safe.

Assessment must ensure use of:

- a group of minimum two and maximum eight riders, including the candidate
- calm, consistent and obedient horses, matched to all riders as above, and educated for recreational purposes and inexperienced riders
- mounting blocks or ramps
- grooming equipment to include:
  - dandy and body brushes
  - plastic or rubber curry combs
  - mane or tail brush
  - hoof picks
- tack to include:
  - saddles
  - saddle cloths
  - bridles
  - reins
  - bits
  - stirrups with safety features
- personal protective equipment to include:
  - riding boots
  - Australian Standard, or equivalent, compliant helmets
- organisational safety and emergency response procedures for riding activities.

Assessment must ensure access to:

- human and equine first aid equipment
- communication equipment for emergency response.

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisations requirements for assessors, and:

- hold a qualification or Statement of Attainment which includes this unit of competency, SISOEQU002 Ride horses using fundamental skills, or a qualification or Statement of Attainment which includes a unit of competency that has been superseded by this unit, and
- hold a qualification or Statement of Attainment which includes the unit SISOEQU008 Instruct fundamental horse riding skills, or a qualification or Statement of Attainment which includes a unit of competency that has been superseded by that unit, and
- have at least three years' experience in a role involving equestrian, outdoor recreational or instructional riding where they have applied the skills and knowledge covered in this unit of competency, and
- hold accreditation relevant to assessing riding skills covered by this unit; accreditation refers to:
  - accreditation offered by equine sporting organisations recognised by the Australian Sports Commission (ASC), or

SISOEQU003 Ride horses on tracked trail rides

Modification History

Unit Release 2. No change to unit content from Release 1; mapping updated for accuracy.

Application

This unit describes the performance outcomes, skills and knowledge required to ride horses on basic trail rides along tracked areas with reasonably level terrain, no steep ascents, descents or gullies and some known simple terrain hazards.

These personal riding skills are required by support staff, guides and trail bosses to lead participants on basic trail rides offered by outdoor recreation operators.

No occupational licensing, certification or specific legislative requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

Pre-requisite Unit

Competency Field

Equine

Unit Sector

Outdoor Recreation

Elements and Performance Criteria

ELEMENTS

Elements describe the essential outcomes

1. Select and prepare tack, horse and personal equipment.

PERFORMANCE CRITERIA

Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.

1.1. Confirm activity safety and emergency response procedures to ensure compliance during horse handling and riding activities.

1.2. Assess horse and select to match own skill level and riding conditions.

1.3. Check condition of horse, confirm soundness and groom

- before fitting tack.
- 1.4. Select tack and personal equipment to match riding conditions, and check it is in safe working condition.
  - 1.5. Fit and adjust tack and personal equipment to self and horse to ensure comfort and safety.
2. Ride horses in tracked trail ride environments.
- 2.1. Mount and dismount horse safely in tracked trail ride environments without assistance according to organisational safety procedures.
  - 2.2. Interpret behavioural signals, use positive body language and aids to direct, communicate with and control horse.
  - 2.3. Use appropriate posture for horse riding, and safely and effectively handle the horse in a range of movements.
  - 2.4. Establish and maintain an appropriate rhythm and pace.
  - 2.5. Maintain safe zones and communication protocols during group riding activities.
  - 2.6. Use practices to minimise impact of horse riding on the environment according to organisational policies and procedures.
3. Negotiate environmental obstacles and inclines.
- 3.1. Choose, and maintain riding position appropriate for negotiating obstacles and grade of incline.
  - 3.2. Control horse resistance, line of direction and speed to safely approach, avoid or negotiate obstacles.
  - 3.3. Control line of direction and speed of horse using appropriate gait to negotiate ascending and descending inclines of mild grades.

Foundation Skills

Foundation skills essential to performance in this unit, but not explicit in the performance criteria are listed here, along with a brief context statement.

SKILLS

DESCRIPTION

Reading skills to:

- interpret detailed familiar organisational policies and procedures which can include those for safety, emergency response and minimal impact to the environment.

Oral communication skills to:

- clearly interact verbally and non-verbally with other riders to maintain a positive and safe riding environment.

Planning and organising skills to:

- manage own timing to complete trail ride within planned timeframes.

Assessment Requirements for SISO EQU003 Ride horses on tracked trail rides

Modification History

Unit Release 2. No change to unit content from Release 1; mapping updated for accuracy.

Performance Evidence

Evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit in the context of the job role, and:

- complete two different trail rides, each lasting for a minimum of one hour, on two different compliant and manageable horses
- ride within a group of minimum five and maximum ten participants during each trail ride
- during each ride:
  - walk, trot and canter the horse under control on the flat
  - negotiate ascending and descending inclines of mild grades under control
  - provide direction to the horse using the following aids:
    - legs
    - reins
    - seat
    - voice
  - ride the horse through this range of movements:
    - turns
    - halts
  - ride towards and away from the group
  - ride towards, around and away from hazards
  - consistently use safe horse riding practices and techniques to effectively control the horse.

Knowledge Evidence

Demonstrated knowledge required to complete the tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit:

- organisational safety and emergency response procedures for riding horses in tracked environments
- organisational policies, procedures and codes for minimal impact of horse riding activities to the environment
- factors that affect the selection of horses, tack, especially saddles, and personal protective equipment to suit trail guides leading groups in tracked areas
- communication protocols for group trail rides in tracked environments

- the meaning of safe zone for group trail rides in tracked environments and techniques used to maintain gaps between horses
- common behaviour patterns of horses during group trail rides
- horse riding techniques used to control horses safely and effectively in tracked environments to include those for:
  - mounting and dismounting without assistance in the open
  - starting and stopping
  - different seat positions for ascending and descending inclines which are not steep
  - walking, trotting and cantering horses on the flat
  - negotiating ascending and descending inclines of mild grades
  - aids to direct the horse:
    - legs
    - reins
    - seat
    - voice
  - riding movements:
    - turns
    - halts
  - riding towards and away from the group
  - riding towards, around and away from hazards
- typical hazards and obstacles found in tracked environments and techniques used to safely negotiate these.

Assessment Conditions

Skills must be demonstrated in a horse trail riding environment meeting the following conditions:

- tracked areas with reasonably level terrain
- no steep ascents, descents or gullies
- known simple terrain hazards.

Horse matching prior to all assessments involving horse interaction is essential. Assessors must:

- complete, participate in or validate a risk assessment of both the candidate's and other participant riders' characteristics and level of horse handling and riding skills
- match, or validate the matching of, horses of suitable history, size and temperament to both the candidate and other participants to ensure that rider and horse combination is safe.

Assessment must ensure use of:

- a group of minimum five and maximum ten riders, including the candidate

- compliant and manageable horses, matched to the candidate as above, and educated for trail ride conditions
- calm, consistent and obedient horses, matched to participant riders as above, and educated for trail ride conditions
- grooming equipment to include:
  - dandy and body brushes
  - plastic or rubber curry combs
  - mane or tail brush
  - hoof picks
- tack to include:
  - saddles which can be stock, hybrid or western saddles
  - saddle cloths
  - bridles
  - reins
  - bits
  - stirrups with safety features
- personal protective equipment to include:
  - riding boots
  - Australian Standard, or equivalent, compliant helmets
- organisational safety and emergency response procedures for riding horses in tracked environments
- organisational policies, procedures and codes for minimal impact of horse riding activities to the environment.

Assessment must ensure access to:

- breastplates and cruppers
- human and equine first aid equipment
- communication equipment for emergency response.

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisations requirements for assessors, and:

- hold a qualification or Statement of Attainment which includes this unit of competency, SISO EQU003 Ride horses on tracked trail rides, or a qualification or Statement of Attainment which includes a unit of competency that has been superseded by this unit, and
- hold a qualification or Statement of Attainment which includes the unit SISO EQU009 Instruct the advancement of recreational horse riding skills, or a qualification or Statement of Attainment which includes a unit of competency that has been superseded by that unit, and
- have at least three years' experience as a trail guide or trail boss where they have applied the skills and knowledge covered in this unit of competency, and

- hold accreditation relevant to assessing riding skills covered by this unit; accreditation refers to:
  - accreditation offered by equine sporting organisations recognised by the Australian Sports Commission (ASC), or
  - certification offered by equine organisations which are Registered Training Organisations (RTOs) or whose training is managed by an affiliated RTO.

SISOEQU004 Ride horses on untracked trail rides

Modification History

Unit Release 2. No change to unit content from Release 1; mapping updated for accuracy.

Application

This unit describes the performance outcomes, skills and knowledge required to ride horses on complex trail rides along untracked areas with steep or difficult terrain, numerous obstacles and or environmental extremes. Rides would typically involve overnight stays and this unit requires the ability to manage horses overnight.

These personal riding skills are required by support staff, guides and trail bosses to lead participants on complex trail rides offered by outdoor recreation operators.

No occupational licensing, certification or specific legislative requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

PERFORMANCE CRITERIA

Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.

1.1. Confirm activity safety and emergency response procedures to ensure compliance during horse handling and riding activities.

1.2. Assess horse and select to match own skill level and riding conditions.

- 1.3. Check condition of horse, confirm soundness and groom before fitting tack.
  - 1.4. Select tack and personal equipment to match riding conditions for difficult untracked terrain, and check it is in safe working condition.
  - 1.5. Fit and adjust tack and personal equipment to self and horse to ensure comfort and safety.
2. Ride horses in untracked trail ride environments.
    - 2.1. Mount and dismount horse safely in untracked trail environments without assistance according to organisational safety procedures.
    - 2.2. Interpret behavioural signals, use positive body language and aids to direct, communicate with and control horse.
    - 2.3. Use appropriate posture for horse riding in difficult terrain and safely and effectively handle the horse in a range of movements.
    - 2.4. Instigate a gait appropriate to the terrain, establish and maintain an appropriate rhythm and adjust according to conditions and terrain.
    - 2.5. Maintain safe zones according to the terrain and environmental hazards.
    - 2.6. Maintain communication protocols during group riding activities.
    - 2.7. Use practices to minimise impact of horse riding on the environment according to organisational policies and procedures.
  3. Negotiate environmental obstacles and steep inclines.
    - 3.1. Consistently control horse to safely approach and negotiate constant and unpredictable environmental hazards and obstacles.
    - 3.2. Choose appropriate gait, and control horse resistance, line of direction and pace to ride over uneven and unstable ground, to ride through water, and to negotiate ascending and descending steep inclines.
    - 3.3. Monitor horse behaviour towards obstacles and use techniques to maintain horse confidence and calmness.
  4. Manage horses overnight.
    - 4.1. Assess prevailing conditions and select suitable site for containing or tethering horses.
    - 4.2. Set up temporary horse containment area or tethering systems to ensure security and welfare overnight.
    - 4.3. Check condition and health of horses and treat as required.
    - 4.4. Monitor safety and security of horses through the night.

4.5. Store equipment securely to avoid damage and exposure to weather conditions.

4.6. Return site to equal or greater standard on departure to minimise impact on environment.

Foundation Skills

Foundation skills essential to performance in this unit, but not explicit in the performance criteria are listed here, along with a brief context statement.

SKILLS	DESCRIPTION
Reading skills to:	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>interpret detailed familiar organisational policies and procedures which can include those for safety, emergency response and minimal impact to the environment.</li></ul>
Oral communication skills to:	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>clearly interact verbally and non-verbally with other riders to maintain a positive and safe riding environment.</li></ul>
Teamwork skills to:	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>work cooperatively with other riders to set up horse containment and monitor horse security and welfare.</li></ul>
Planning and organising skills to:	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>manage own timing to complete trail ride within planned timeframes.</li></ul>

Assessment Requirements for SISO EQU004 Ride horses on untracked trail rides

Modification History

Unit Release 2. No change to unit content from Release 1; mapping updated for accuracy.

Performance Evidence

Evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit in the context of the job role, and:

- complete two different trail rides, each lasting for a minimum of four hours, on two different compliant and manageable horses
- ride within a group of minimum five and maximum ten participants during each trail ride
- during each ride:
  - walk, trot and canter the horse under control within the terrain covered
  - provide direction to the horse using the following aids:
    - legs
    - reins
    - seat
    - voice
  - ride the horse through this range of movements:
    - turns
    - halts
    - laterals
    - backing up the horse
  - ride towards and away from the group
  - consistently use safe horse handling and riding practices and techniques to effectively control the horse.

Knowledge Evidence

Demonstrated knowledge required to complete the tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit:

- organisational safety and emergency response procedures for riding horses in untracked areas
- organisational policies, procedures and codes for minimal impact of horse riding activities to the environment
- factors that affect the selection of horses, tack, especially saddles, and personal protective equipment to suit trail guides leading groups in untracked areas with difficult terrain
- communication protocols for group trail rides in untracked environments

- the meaning of safe zone for group trail rides in untracked areas and how these can vary according to the terrain and environmental hazards
- common behaviour patterns of horses during group trail rides in untracked areas with difficult terrain
- horse riding techniques used to control horses safely and effectively in untracked environments with difficult terrain to include those for:
  - mounting and dismounting without assistance in the open
  - different seat positions and when these are required by the terrain
  - starting and stopping
  - walking, trotting and cantering horses and which gait is suitable for particular environmental features and obstacles
  - aids to direct the horse:
    - legs
    - reins
    - seat
    - voice
  - riding movements:
    - turns
    - halts
    - laterals
    - backing up the horse
  - riding towards and away from the group
- hydrological features of rivers, creeks and oceans including direction and speed of flow, currents and eddies, hazards they present and impacts on where horses can safely cross
- typical hazards, obstacles and environmental features found in untracked areas with difficult terrain and techniques used to safely negotiate these:
  - dense vegetation
  - unstable ground
  - rivers and creeks
  - beach sand and water
  - steep inclines
- procedures for safely crossing public roads and travelling along them
- purpose, features and secure set up of:
  - temporary yards
  - high lines
  - picket lines
  - hobbles
  - ground tethers
- daily fluid and nutritional requirements for horses operating in difficult terrain for long distances.

Assessment Conditions

Skills must be demonstrated in a horse trail riding environment meeting the following conditions:

- untracked areas with difficult terrain
- steep ascents and descents
- numerous environmental obstacles.

Horse matching prior to all assessments involving horse interaction is essential. Assessors must:

- complete, participate in or validate a risk assessment of both the candidate's and other participant riders' characteristics and level of horse handling and riding skills
- match, or validate the matching of, horses of suitable history, size and temperament to both the candidate and other participants to ensure that rider and horse combination is safe.

Assessment must ensure use of:

- a group of minimum five and maximum ten riders, including the candidate
- compliant and manageable horses, matched to all riders as above, and educated for untracked trail ride conditions
- grooming equipment to include:
  - dandy and body brushes
  - plastic or rubber curry combs
  - mane or tail brush
  - hoof picks
- tack to include:
  - saddles which can be stock, hybrid or western saddles
  - saddle cloths
  - bridles
  - reins
  - bits
  - stirrups with safety features
  - saddle bags
- personal protective equipment to include:
  - sun protection and wet weather clothing
  - riding boots
  - Australian Standard, or equivalent, compliant helmets
- horse equipment for overnight stays which can include:
  - halters
  - leads

- bags, nets or bins used to feed horses
- temporary yards
- high lines
- picket lines
- hobbles
- ground tethers
- food and water resources for horses
- organisational safety and emergency response procedures for riding horses in untracked areas
- organisational policies, procedures and codes for minimal impact of horse riding activities to the environment.

Assessment must ensure access to:

- breastplates and cruppers
- human and equine first aid equipment
- navigation equipment
- communication equipment for emergency response.

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisations requirements for assessors, and:

- hold a qualification or Statement of Attainment which includes this unit of competency, SISOEQU004 Ride horses on untracked trail rides, or a qualification or Statement of Attainment which includes a unit of competency that has been superseded by this unit, and
- hold a qualification or Statement of Attainment which includes the unit SISOEQU009 Instruct the advancement of recreational horse riding skills, or a qualification or Statement of Attainment which includes a unit of competency that has been superseded by that unit, and
- have at least three years' experience as a trail guide or trail boss where they have applied the skills and knowledge covered in this unit of competency, and
- hold accreditation relevant to assessing riding skills covered by this unit; accreditation refers to:
  - accreditation offered by equine sporting organisations recognised by the Australian Sports Commission (ASC), or
  - certification offered by equine organisations which are Registered Training Organisations (RTOs) or whose training is managed by an affiliated RTO.

SISOEQU005 Guide horse trail rides in tracked areas

Modification History

Unit Release 2. No change to unit content from Release 1; mapping updated for accuracy.

Application

This unit describes the performance outcomes, skills and knowledge required to guide participants on basic trail rides along tracked areas with reasonably level terrain, no steep ascents, descents or gullies and some known simple terrain hazards.

It requires the ability to demonstrate, to participants, basic horse riding techniques appropriate for undemanding terrain, and to manage group riding for basic trail rides. To do this, guides must be proficient horse riders.

This unit applies to guides and trail bosses who work for outdoor recreation operators which provide basic trail rides of varying duration.

No occupational licensing, certification or specific legislative requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

Pre-requisite Unit

SISOEQU001 Handle horses

SISOEQU010 Identify hazards, assess and control safety risks for horse handling and riding activities

Competency Field

Equine

Unit Sector

Outdoor Recreation

Elements and Performance Criteria

ELEMENTS

Elements describe the essential outcomes

1. Confirm operational details for trail rides.

PERFORMANCE CRITERIA

Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.

1.1. Interpret activity plans and risk assessments for trail ride and confirm suitability.

- 1.2. Access and interpret current weather and environmental information to ascertain impacts on riding activity.
  - 1.3. Make adjustments to route and activity as required, and inform relevant personnel of route and anticipated timings before departure.
2. Prepare and pack equipment for rides.
    - 2.1. Select communication equipment suitable for destinations and check for safe working condition.
    - 2.2. Prepare first aid, other equipment and resources for horses and riders according to operational requirements of trail ride.
  3. Prepare tack, horses and participants.
    - 3.1. Select horses of suitable history, size and temperament to match participant capabilities and obtain participant disclaimer.
    - 3.2. Confirm participants have clothing and footwear appropriate for the ride and forecasted weather conditions.
    - 3.3. Select riding equipment to match riders and riding conditions and check it is in safe working condition.
    - 3.4. Fit and adjust tack and personal equipment to participants and horses to ensure comfort and safety.
    - 3.5. Assist with mounting of horses, check and adjust rider equipment.
  4. Brief and instruct participants.
    - 4.1. Communicate instructions and information about ride in a manner appropriate to participants and encourage questions and advice before and during ride.
    - 4.2. Provide information on practices to minimise impact of horse riding on the environment.
    - 4.3. Inform participants of known and anticipated risks, safety procedures, safe behaviour, safe areas and boundaries.
    - 4.4. Advise participants of order of ride procedures and communication protocols to use during ride.
    - 4.5. Provide information to participants about their horses and behaviour pattern.
    - 4.6. Demonstrate correct horse handling and riding techniques appropriate for undemanding terrain.
    - 4.7. Check and confirm participant ability to start and stop horse and control horse direction and speed before departure.
    - 4.8. Check matching of rider to horse and adjust as required.
  5. Lead rides in tracked areas.
    - 5.1. Lead horses from designated order of ride position, adjusting position and role as required.
    - 5.2. Provide clear demonstrations and concise directions to participants during ride to negotiate undemanding terrain.

5.3. Monitor individual participant performance and provide directions to improve techniques and control of horse.

5.4. Monitor participant adherence to order of ride and safety procedures and assertively correct breaches.

5.5. Monitor horse behaviour and interaction and promptly control aggressive, misbehaved and frightened horses.

5.6. Monitor riding conditions and hazards, including signs of rider and horse difficulty, to ensure rider and horse safety and welfare during ride.

5.7. Lead a mounted rider from horseback when required.

5.8. Implement required modifications to activity, speed and route to ensure participant safety and comfort and completion within ride timelines.

5.9. Respond to emergency situations according to organisational safety, emergency response and first aid procedures.

6. Complete post ride responsibilities.

6.1. Notify relevant personnel of ride completion.

6.2. Retrieve equipment, inspect for wear or breakage, tag faults and store in designated area.

6.3. Check condition of horses and deal with any injuries according to organisational procedures.

6.4. Document any equipment faults, horse injuries and safety incidents.

6.5. Evaluate the ride through a debrief and identify improvements for future activities.

Foundation Skills

Foundation skills essential to performance in this unit, but not explicit in the performance criteria are listed here, along with a brief context statement.

SKILLS

Reading skills to:

DESCRIPTION

- interpret complex and sometimes unfamiliar documents and information which can include:
  - activity plans and risk assessments
  - organisational policies and procedures
  - weather and other environmental information.

- Writing skills to:
- use fundamental sentence structure to complete forms that require factual information; these can include:
    - safety checklists
    - equipment faults
    - incident reports.
- Oral communication skills to:
- provide clear and unambiguous instructions to participants using language and terms easily understood by riders
  - ask open and closed probe questions and actively listen to determine participants' understanding of instructions.
- Teamwork skills to:
- pro-actively and cooperatively work within teams of guides, support staff and base operational staff to organise ride logistics, solve operational problems and deliver a quality ride experience to participants.
- Planning and organising skills to:
- manage own timing and that of participants to complete trail rides within organisational service times.

Assessment Requirements for SISO EQU005 Guide horse trail rides in tracked areas

Modification History

Unit Release 2. No change to unit content from Release 1; mapping updated for accuracy.

Performance Evidence

Evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit in the context of the job role, and:

- guide two different trail rides, each lasting for a minimum of one hour, on two different compliant and manageable horses
- during each of the rides, at different times, assume the position of both front rider guide and drag or roving rider guide
- guide a minimum of five and a maximum of ten participants during each trail ride
- during each ride:
  - consistently control participant adherence to safety procedures and practices
  - consistently monitor and control horse behaviour
  - consistently ensure riders are in control of their horse and provide assistance with riding techniques as required
- according to scenarios:
  - provide responses to two emergency situations and complete two incident reports
  - complete two reports on equipment faults.

Knowledge Evidence

Demonstrated knowledge required to complete the tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit:

- organisational safety, emergency response and first aid procedures for guiding horse trail rides
- organisational policies, procedures and codes for minimal impact of horse riding activities to the environment
- basic aspects of applicable state, territory, local government or land manager environmental regulations sufficient to know where trail rides may be operated in tracked areas and under what conditions
- sources of information on weather and environmental conditions and how to use to ascertain riding conditions
- the effects of weather on riding conditions, route and selection of personal equipment and tack
- purpose, features and safe set up of horse riding tack for trail rides:

- saddles of different types and their suitability for different riders and trails with undemanding terrain
- equipment to ensure security of saddle position on varying terrain including breastplates and cruppers
- halters and ropes and techniques for securing during travel
- factors that affect the selection of tack and personal protective equipment to suit individual riders
- key features of different types of communication equipment used for basic trail rides, and factors that affect choice:
  - global positioning systems (GPS)
  - two-way radios
  - mobile phones and applications
- clothing requirements for trail rides to protect against sunburn, heat stroke, wet and cold weather
- waterproofing and stowing techniques used to keep clothing and equipment dry during ride
- communication protocols for group trail rides in tracked environments
- order of ride procedures for group trail rides to include positioning and roles of:
  - front rider
  - drag roving rider guide
  - assistant guides and support staff
  - participant riders
- behavioural history of individual horses chosen for the ride
- common behavioural problems of horses during group trail rides
- techniques used to control adverse horse behaviour while maintaining welfare of the horse and safety of rider.

- calm, consistent and obedient horses, matched to participant riders as above, and educated for trail ride conditions
- tack to include:
  - halters
  - leads
  - ropes
  - saddles which can be stock, hybrid or western saddles
  - saddle cloths
  - bridles
  - reins
  - bits
  - stirrups with safety features
- personal protective equipment to include:
  - riding boots
  - Australian Standard, or equivalent, compliant helmets
- communication equipment including equipment for emergency response
- activity plans
- risk assessments for trail rides to include known and anticipated hazards, safety risks and control measures
- hard copy or online information on weather and other environmental conditions
- template:
  - safety checklists
  - participant disclaimers
  - equipment fault reports
  - incident reports
- organisational safety, emergency response and first aid procedures for guiding horse trail rides
- organisational policies, procedures and codes for minimal impact of horse riding activities to the environment
- plain English documents issued by state, territory, local government regulators or land managers describing regulations for operating horse trail rides in tracked areas.

Assessment must ensure access to:

SISO EQU007 Instruct horse handling skills

Modification History

Not applicable.

Application

This unit describes the performance outcomes, skills and knowledge required to teach handlers and riders to safely handle horses, particularly those used in equestrian sport or recreational riding programs but it could have wider application to other equine settings.

It requires the ability to plan, organise and deliver individual training sessions within an overall learning program designed to progressively develop participants' horse handling skills.

This unit applies to instructors and coaches who work for a range of organisations including those involved in equestrian sport, instructional, recreational riding and other programs.

No occupational licensing, certification or specific legislative requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

Pre-requisite Unit

SISO EQU001 Handle horses

SISO EQU010 Identify hazards, assess and control safety risks for horse handling and riding activities

Competency Field

Equine

Unit Sector

Outdoor Recreation

Elements and Performance Criteria

ELEMENTS

Elements describe the essential outcomes

1. Plan instructional sessions.

PERFORMANCE CRITERIA

Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.

1.1. Determine objectives of individual sessions to allow progression of skills within overall learning program.

1.2. Identify and evaluate participant needs, characteristics and

- current horse handling skills.
- 1.3. Develop session plans to include appropriate activities for learner requirements and stage of skills acquisition.
  - 1.4. Identify suitable environment, horses and equipment for handling session.
  - 1.5. Complete session specific risk assessment and determine safety, emergency response and first aid procedures.
2. Prepare for session.
    - 2.1. Set up area for activities and complete safety checks on environment.
    - 2.2. Select horses of suitable history, size and temperament to match participant capabilities.
    - 2.3. Select gear and equipment to match handling activities, and check it is in safe working condition.
    - 2.4. Confirm participants have clothing and footwear appropriate for handling session
  3. Brief participants.
    - 3.1. Communicate instructions and information about session in a manner appropriate to participants.
    - 3.2. Encourage participants to ask questions and seek advice before and during session.
    - 3.3. Inform participants of known and anticipated risks, safety procedures, safe behaviour, safe areas and boundaries.
    - 3.4. Advise participants of communication protocols to use during activities.
  4. Instruct horse handling sessions.
    - 4.1. Implement teaching and coaching techniques to impart skills and knowledge for handling techniques.
    - 4.2. Provide clear and accurate exercise instructions and horse handling demonstrations throughout the session.
    - 4.3. Facilitate effective group communication and interaction to maintain group control, engagement and safety.
    - 4.4. Observe and monitor participant performance of handling techniques and provide corrective instruction.
    - 4.5. Monitor participant adherence to safety procedures and assertively correct breaches.
    - 4.6. Monitor horse behaviour and interaction and promptly control aggressive, misbehaved and frightened horses.
    - 4.7. Supervise safe departure of participants from horse enclosure.
  5. Evaluate the session.
    - 5.1. Debrief and encourage participants to identify personal skill progression and satisfaction with session.

5.2. Provide feedback on techniques and adherence to safety requirements.

5.3. Self-evaluate session against learning objectives and identify areas for future improvement.

Foundation Skills

Foundation skills essential to performance in this unit, but not explicit in the performance criteria are listed here, along with a brief context statement.

SKILLS	DESCRIPTION
Reading skills to:	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>interpret detailed familiar organisational safety, emergency response and first aid procedures.</li> </ul>
Writing skills to:	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>prepare detailed session plans incorporating correct terminology and jargon for the activities</li> <li>use fundamental sentence structure to complete safety checklists that require factual information.</li> </ul>
Oral communication skills to:	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>provide clear and unambiguous instructions to learners using language and terms easily understood by novice handlers</li> <li>ask open and closed probe questions and actively listen to determine learners' understanding of handling techniques.</li> </ul>
Planning and organising skills to:	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>manage own timing and that of participants to complete instructional sessions within organisational service times.</li> </ul>

Assessment Requirements for SISOEQU007 Instruct horse handling skills

Modification History

Not applicable.

Performance Evidence

Evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit in the context of the job role, and:

- develop three session plans for three different horse handling instructional sessions
- deliver three instructional sessions according to the session plans developed:
  - deliver one session to a single learner handler
  - deliver two sessions to a group of minimum three and maximum six learners
- across the three instructional sessions, cumulatively incorporate activities to develop the following horse handling skills for learners:
  - approaching horses with halters and leads
  - catching horses alone and in groups, and fitting halters and leads
  - using cues to start, stop and turn horses
  - leading horses through confined spaces
  - leading horses alone and in groups
  - holding horses in position when lined up in groups
  - tying up and untying horses
  - releasing horses alone and in groups
- during all instructional activities:
  - consistently control participant adherence to safety procedures
  - consistently monitor and control horse behaviour.

Knowledge Evidence

Demonstrated knowledge required to complete the tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit:

- organisational safety, emergency response and first aid procedures for horse handling instructional sessions
- requirements of overall learning program and how sessions are sequenced to progressively develop handling skills
- format and contents of session plans
- how characteristics of participants affect the choice of sessional activities:
  - age
  - current horse handling experience and skill level

- skill development needs
- fitness level and physical capabilities
- injuries and medical conditions
- suitable environments for delivery of horse handling activities
- factors that affect the selection of equipment to suit handlers and activities
- clothing and footwear requirements for horse handlers
- communication protocols used between participants, instructors and horses during instructional sessions
- teaching and coaching techniques applicable to horse handling and a range of ages and learning abilities
- techniques used to provide constructive feedback to learners
- a range of instructional activities used to develop the following horse handling skills:
  - approaching horses with halters and leads
  - catching horses alone and in groups, and fitting halters and leads
  - using cues to start, stop and turn horses
  - leading horses through confined spaces
  - leading horses alone and in groups
  - holding horses in position when lined up in groups
  - tying up and untying horses
  - releasing horses alone and in groups
- common behavioural problems of horses when being handled
- techniques used to control adverse horse behaviour while maintaining welfare of the horse and safety of handler.

Assessment Conditions

Skills must be demonstrated in contained horse handling environments which must include:

- small fenced enclosures
- large fenced enclosures
- areas containing doorways and gates.

Horse matching prior to all assessments involving horse interaction is essential. Assessors must:

- complete, participate in or validate a risk assessment of both the candidate's and participant learners' characteristics and level of horse handling skills
- match, or validate the matching of, horses of suitable history, size and temperament to both the candidate and participant learners to ensure that handler and horse combination is safe.

Assessment must ensure use of:

- learners whom the candidate instructs; for group sessions, a minimum three and maximum six learners
- horses, matched to all handlers as above; these must be:
  - calm, consistent and obedient horses for the first and second instructional sessions delivered by the candidate
  - compliant and manageable horses for the third instructional session delivered by the candidate
- equipment used to handle horses:
  - halters
  - leads
  - tie-up points
- template:
  - session plans
  - safety checklists
- participant profiles to include:
  - age and size
  - current horse handling experience and skill level
  - skill development needs
  - fitness level and physical capabilities
  - injuries and medical conditions
- organisational safety, emergency response and first aid procedures for horse handling instructional sessions

Assessment must ensure access to:

- human and equine first aid equipment
- communication equipment for emergency response.

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisations requirements for assessors, and:

- hold a qualification or Statement of Attainment which includes this unit of competency, SISO EQU007 Instruct horse handling skills, or a qualification or Statement of Attainment which includes a unit of competency that has been superseded by this unit, and
- have at least three years' experience as a horse handling instructor where they have applied the skills and knowledge covered in this unit of competency, and
- hold accreditation relevant to assessing instructional skills covered by this unit; accreditation refers to:
  - accreditation offered by equine sporting organisations recognised by the Australian Sports Commission (ASC), or
  - certification offered by equine organisations which are Registered Training Organisations (RTOs) or whose training is managed by an affiliated RTO.

SISOEQU008 Instruct fundamental horse riding skills

Modification History

Unit Release 2. No change to unit content from Release 1; mapping updated for accuracy.

Application

This unit describes the performance outcomes, skills and knowledge required to teach new and or inexperienced riders the fundamental skills of horse riding.

It requires the ability to plan, organise and deliver individual training sessions within an overall learning program designed to progressively develop participants' fundamental riding skills.

This unit applies to instructors and coaches who facilitate the acquisition of initial riding skills required by recreational and equestrian sport riders before they can progress to higher order skills required for work, recreational or competitive activities. To do this, instructors and coaches must be proficient horse riders.

No occupational licensing, certification or specific legislative requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

Pre-requisite Unit

SISOEQU010 Identify hazards, assess and control safety risks for horse handling and riding activities

Competency Field

Equine

Unit Sector

- 1.2. Identify and evaluate participant needs, characteristics and current riding skills.
  - 1.3. Develop session plans to include appropriate exercises for learner requirements and stage of skills acquisition.
  - 1.4. Identify suitable environment, horses and equipment for riding session.
  - 1.5. Complete session specific risk assessment and determine safety, emergency response and first aid procedures.
2. Prepare tack, horses and participants.
- 2.1. Set up equipment for exercises and complete safety checks on environment and equipment.
  - 2.2. Select horses of suitable history, size and temperament to match participant capabilities.
  - 2.3. Check participants' own personal equipment and tack, if provided, and confirm it is in safe working condition.
  - 2.4. Select organisation's tack and personal equipment to match riders and exercises, and check it is in safe working condition.
  - 2.5. Direct and assist participants to groom horse, fit and adjust tack and personal equipment; check comfort and safety of fit.
3. Brief participants.
- 3.1. Communicate instructions and information about session in a manner appropriate to participants.
  - 3.2. Encourage participants to ask questions and seek advice before and during session.
  - 3.3. Inform participants of known and anticipated risks, safety procedures, safe behaviour, safe areas and boundaries.
  - 3.4. Advise participants of communication protocols to use during exercises.
4. Instruct fundamental horse riding skills.
- 4.1. Assist with mounting of horses, check and adjust rider equipment, and prepare horses and participants using safe warm up exercises.
  - 4.2. Implement teaching and coaching techniques to impart skills and knowledge for fundamental horse riding skills.
  - 4.3. Provide clear and accurate exercise instructions and or demonstrations throughout the session.
  - 4.4. Facilitate effective group communication and interaction to maintain group control, engagement and safety.
  - 4.5. Observe and monitor participant riding performance and provide corrective instruction.
  - 4.6. Monitor participant adherence to safety procedures and assertively correct breaches.

4.7. Monitor horse behaviour and interaction and promptly control aggressive, misbehaved and frightened horses.

5. Evaluate the session.

- common behavioural problems of horses during group rides
- techniques used to control adverse horse behaviour while maintaining welfare of the horse and safety of rider.

Assessment Conditions

Skills must be demonstrated within a fenced horse riding arena with a safe surface for the horse riding exercises.

Horse matching prior to all assessments involving horse interaction is essential. Assessors must:

- complete, participate in or validate a risk assessment of both the candidate's and participant learners' characteristics and level of horse handling and riding skills
- match, or validate the matching of, horses of suitable history, size and temperament to both the candidate and participant learners to ensure that rider and horse combination is safe.

Assessment must ensure use of:

- learners whom the candidate instructs; these must be experienced riders who role play inexperienced riders during simulated activities
- for group rides, a minimum of four and maximum eight riders
- calm, consistent and obedient horses, matched to all riders as above, and educated for recreational purposes and inexperienced riders
- mounting blocks or ramps
- equipment used for exercises
- tack to include:
  - saddles
  - saddle cloths
  - bridles
  - reins

  - age, size and weight
  - current horse riding experience and skill level
  - skill development needs
  - fitness level and physical capabilities
  - injuries and medical conditions
- organisational safety, emergency response and first aid procedures for horse riding instructional sessions.

Assessment must ensure access to:

- human and equine first aid equipment
- communication equipment for emergency response.

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisations requirements for assessors, and:

- hold a qualification or Statement of Attainment which includes this unit of competency, SISOEQU008 Instruct fundamental horse riding skills, or a qualification or Statement of Attainment which includes a unit of competency that has been superseded by this unit, and
- have at least three years' experience in a role involving equestrian or outdoor recreational instructional riding where they have applied the skills and knowledge covered in this unit of competency, and
- hold accreditation relevant to assessing instructional skills covered by this unit; accreditation refers to:
  - accreditation offered by equine sporting organisations recognised by the Australian Sports Commission (ASC), or
  - certification offered by equine organisations which are Registered Training Organisations (RTOs) or whose training is managed by an affiliated RTO.

SISO EQU010 Identify hazards, assess and control safety risks for horse handling and riding activities

Modification History

Not applicable.

Application

This unit describes the performance outcomes, skills and knowledge required to identify hazards, assess associated safety risks, take measures to eliminate or control those risks and document all processes. It covers the processes necessary to manage the significant safety risks associated with horse handling, instructing, coaching, guiding and riding activities.

This unit applies to a range of organisations including those involved in equestrian sport, instructional and recreational riding programs. Risk assessments are usually completed by those responsible for the activity including instructors, coaches, guides, and trail bosses. They may complete risk assessments independently, in consultation with others or through a team effort.

No occupational licensing, certification or specific legislative requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

1. Identify hazards for horse handling or riding

PERFORMANCE CRITERIA

Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.

1.1. Use hazard identification and risk assessment templates, independently or with other personnel to complete assessments.

- activities.
- 1.2. Use a range of methods to identify current and foreseeable hazards with potential to harm health and safety of anyone involved in or present during activities.
  - 1.3. Identify man-made or environmental obstacles and hazards in areas where horse handling or riding activities are scheduled.
  - 1.4. Gather and interpret weather and environmental information to ascertain impacts on handling or riding conditions.
  - 1.5. Identify hazards, including biosecurity issues, associated with handling or riding horses for program activities.
  - 1.6. Identify features of and potential hazards for tack and all other equipment to be used.
  - 1.7. Record identified hazards according to organisational procedures and legal requirements.
2. Assess safety risks associated with hazards.
- 2.1. Consult with other personnel, as required, for input into risk assessments.
  - 2.2. Collect sufficient evidence of the type and level of risk posed by identified hazards.
  - 2.3. Use commonly accepted methods to complete risk analysis and risk assessments.
  - 2.4. Document outcomes of risk assessments and proposed actions to eliminate or control risks.
  - 2.5. Maintain records of risk assessments according to organisational procedures and legal requirements.
3. Assess risks associated with horse and handler or rider combination.
- 3.1. Use organisational templates designed to match horses to handlers or riders.
  - 3.2. Identify handler or rider characteristics and level of horse handling or riding skills.
  - 3.3. Identify known behaviour and education level of horses available for the activity and consider potential hazards.
  - 3.4. Assess and select horses of suitable history, size and temperament to match handler or rider characteristics and skill level.
  - 3.5. Assess handler or rider's own horse, when self-provided, and ensure horse and handler or rider combination is safely matched.
  - 3.6. Maintain records of assessments according to organisational procedures.
4. Plan activities to eliminate or control risks.
- 4.1. Evaluate and determine ways to eliminate hazards from horse handling or riding activity.

- 4.2. Evaluate and determine ways that safety risks can be effectively controlled for horse handling or riding activity.
  - 4.3. Take measures to eliminate or control risks, within scope of responsibility or refer for authorisation.
  - 4.4. Incorporate risk control processes into documented plans or procedures for horse handling or riding activities.
5. Respond to immediate safety risks.
- 5.1. Monitor horse behaviour and handler or rider control during activities and adjust horse and handler or rider combination as required.
  - 5.2. Respond immediately to safety situations and stimuli causing adverse horse reactions as they arise.
  - 5.3. Complete on-the-spot risk assessment to avoid injury to handlers or riders and horses.
  - 5.4. Amend or cease activities if hazard or safety risk is determined to be extreme.

Assessment Requirements for SISOEQU010 Identify hazards, assess and control safety risks for horse handling and riding activities

Modification History

Not applicable.

Performance Evidence

Evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit in the context of the job role, and:

- for particular equestrian sport, instructional or recreational handling or riding programs:
  - complete one horse suitability audit
  - complete two risk assessments for different activities within the relevant program
  - incorporate risk control processes into documented plans or safety procedures for the above two activities
  - complete three risk assessments to match horses to handlers or riders, each using different horses and for different handlers or riders
- according to three different scenarios, provide responses to immediate safety risks that have arisen during handling or riding activities.

Knowledge Evidence

Demonstrated knowledge required to complete the tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit:

- requirements under the local state or territory work health and safety law for:
  - organisational and worker responsibility to ensure safety of self, other workers and other people in the workplace
  - when, where and how hazards must be identified
  - when, where and how risk assessments must be conducted
  - consultation in the hazard identification and risk assessment process
  - record keeping
- for equestrian sport, instructional or recreational organisations:
  - what constitutes the workplace including environments where horse handling and riding activities occur
  - what constitutes a worker including paid and volunteer workers
  - what constitutes other people present in the workplace including participant handlers or riders and spectators
- organisational work health and safety procedures for:
  - identifying hazards

- assessing risks
- assessing horse and handler or rider combination
- a range of methods that can be used to identify hazards for horse handling and riding activities to include:
  - inspecting the workplace, tack and all equipment used for the activity and completing safety checklists
  - gathering and evaluating weather and environmental information including terrain when relevant
  - identifying the known behaviour and education level of horses available for the activity
  - completing periodic horse suitability audits
  - completing biosecurity checks
  - identifying handler or rider characteristics and level of horse handling and or riding skills
  - reviewing near miss incidents and accidents
  - evaluating the complexity of activities
- features of commonly used risk assessment methods which can include:
  - identifying potential injuries, illness and consequences
  - determining the exposure
  - estimating probability
  - determining overall risk level
- features of commonly used methods for controlling risks which can include:
  - substituting systems or equipment with something safer
  - isolating the hazard
  - introducing engineering or administrative or procedural controls
  - using personal protective equipment
  - implementing combined controlled measures to minimise risks
- for the particular sport, instructional or recreational riding activity:
  - industry association safety standards or codes of practice
  - safety standards or codes of practice issued by national, state or territory work health and safety authorities
- format, content and use of templates to:
  - identify and record hazards, complete horse suitability audits and biosecurity checks
  - assess and record associated risks and control methods
  - match horses to handlers and or riders
- factors that affect the matching of horses to handler or rider capabilities to include:
  - horse:
    - age and gender
    - size
    - health and fitness
    - tractability and temperament

- level of education
- history
- behaviour patterns
- participant characteristics:
  - age, size and weight
  - current horse handling or riding experience and skill level
  - fitness level and physical capabilities
  - injuries and medical conditions
  - emotional, behavioural and intellectual ability or disability.

Assessment Conditions

In order to demonstrate the physical hazard identification components of this unit, access to the following is required:

- the environment where the particular equestrian sport, instructional or recreational riding programs are conducted
- tack and all equipment used for the activity.

Assessment must ensure use of:

- hazard identification and risk assessment templates specific to horse handling and riding activities, including those for horse suitability audits and biosecurity issues
- weather and environmental information including terrain when relevant
- horse profiles to include:
  - age and gender
  - size
  - health and fitness
  - tractability and temperament
  - level of education
  - history
  - behaviour patterns
- participant profiles to include:
  - age, size and weight
  - current horse handling or riding experience and skill level
  - fitness level and physical capabilities
  - injuries and medical conditions
- templates designed to match horses to handlers or riders
- organisational work health and safety procedures for:
  - identifying hazards
  - assessing risks
  - assessing horse and handler or rider combination

- for the particular equestrian sport, instructional or recreational riding activity:
  - industry association safety standards or codes of practice
  - safety standards or codes of practice issued by national, state or territory work health and safety authorities.

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisations requirements for assessors, and:

- hold a qualification or Statement of Attainment which includes this unit, SISOEQU010 Identify hazards, assess and control safety risks for horse handling and riding activities, or demonstrate competency in this unit, and
- have at least three years' experience with an organisation involved in equestrian sport, instructional or recreational riding programs where they have applied the skills and knowledge covered in this unit of competency.

SISO EQU011 Manage horse illness and injury in remote areas

Modification History

Unit Release 2. Pre-requisite unit updated.

Application

This unit describes the performance outcomes, skills and knowledge required to assess horse illness and injury and to provide emergency treatment in situations where veterinary care is not readily available.

This unit applies to outdoor recreation operators and to guides and trail bosses who are responsible for the welfare of horses when on remote area trail rides.

No occupational licensing, certification or specific legislative requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

Pre-requisite Unit

RGRPSH308 Provide first aid and emergency care for horses or other equines.

Competency Field

Equine

Unit Sector

Outdoor Recreation

Elements and Performance Criteria

ELEMENTS

Elements describe the essential outcomes

1. Assess the situation and horse condition.

PERFORMANCE CRITERIA

Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.

1.1. Recognise symptoms of illness or injury, use safe practices to calm and restrain horse and assess severity of condition.

1.2. Identify hazards promptly, and manage to avoid injury to self, others and horses.

1.3. Access available first aid equipment and determine suitability to treat illness or injury.

- 1.4. Ascertain need for and availability of veterinary advice.
- 1.5. Determine ability of veterinarian to attend site or ability to return horse to base.
2. Treat illness or injury.
  - 2.1. Make contact with base and veterinarian as required.
  - 2.2. Relay accurate factual information about horse illness or injury.
  - 2.3. Improvise use of available first aid and other resources according to needs of sick or injured horse.
  - 2.4. Use infection control practices to prevent infection from horse.
  - 2.5. Administer emergency treatments independently or according to veterinarian instructions.
  - 2.6. Nurse horse to reduce impact of shock, distress and pain.
  - 2.7. Isolate horse if contagious or zoonotic disease is suspected and alert base of need to report.
3. Monitor horse condition.
  - 3.1. Monitor and record horse vital signs at regular intervals.
  - 3.2. Monitor horse condition and response to treatment; record observations and treatments.
  - 3.3. Report ongoing horse condition to base and seek ongoing input of veterinarian, as required.
  - 3.4. Continue with treatments, adjusting as required to ensure health and safety of horse.
  - 3.5. Assess need to evacuate or euthanise horse and alert base to implement procedures if required.
4. Debrief and complete reports.
  - 4.1. Participate in incident management de-brief and identify future response improvements.
  - 4.2. Complete required incident and treatment reports according to organisational procedures.

Foundation Skills

Foundation skills essential to performance in this unit, but not explicit in the performance criteria are listed here, along with a brief context statement.

SKILLS

DESCRIPTION

Reading skills to:

- interpret detailed familiar organisational policies and

- procedures for providing emergency horse treatment.
- Writing skills to:
- record detailed and accurate factual information about horse illness and injury and treatments using correct terminology to describe anatomy, physiology and condition.
- Oral communication skills to:
- make accurate verbal reports about horse injuries and health problems using correct terminology to describe anatomy, physiology and condition.
- Self-management skills to:
- critically analyse all circumstances and implications to coordinate a considered response to horse illness and injury in remote locations.

Assessment Requirements for SISO EQU011 Manage horse illness and injury in remote areas

Modification History

Unit Release 2. Pre-requisite unit updated.

Performance Evidence

Evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit in the context of the job role, and:

- provide emergency treatments to horses suffering illness or injury or according to scenarios during simulated activities involving well horses
- identify symptoms, assess horse condition, and select and provide treatments for:
  - allergic reactions
  - wounds
  - bleeding
  - bruising
  - inflammation
  - colic
  - unidentified illness
  - distress and shock
  - pain
- administer real or mock medications according to dose instructions to include:
  - oral medications
  - intramuscular injections
- monitor horse response to three different real or scenario based treatments and adjust treatments
- measure and record the following vital signs for three different horses:
  - temperature level
  - heart rate (pulse)
  - respiration rate
  - capillary refill time
  - hydration status
- during all activities, consistently use safe horse handling and restraint techniques, and infection control practices
- write a brief plan for the emergency evacuation of a sick or injured horse from a remote location for a scenario based event
- complete three emergency treatment reports and three incident reports for real or scenario based events for three different horse injuries or illnesses.

Knowledge Evidence

Demonstrated knowledge required to complete the tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit:

- organisational policies and procedures for:
  - providing emergency horse treatment
  - horse euthanasia
- safe horse handling and restraint techniques specific to handling sick or injured horses
- methods for safely moving around a recumbent horse
- common circumstances where a horse may become trapped and common responses after release
- hygiene and personal protection practices to prevent infection from sick or injured horses
- practices for safely disposing of clinical waste and hypodermic needles and syringes
- biosecurity measures for contagious or zoonotic diseases including practices for isolation, use of personal protection equipment and reporting requirements
- common ailments and injuries, including correct terminology, that occur in remote outdoor areas involving demanding terrain or heavy horse workloads
- signs and symptoms of horse illness, injury and distress:
  - behavioural
  - physiological
- vital signs to include temperature levels, heart rate (pulse) respiration rate, capillary refill time and hydration status for horses:
  - when resting
  - when under exertion
  - that indicate illness, stress, pain or shock
- treatment options for:
  - allergic reactions
  - wounds
  - bleeding
  - bruising
  - inflammation
  - dehydration
  - colic
  - unidentified illness
  - distress and shock
  - pain
- features, functions and use of emergency communication equipment.

Assessment Conditions

Skills can be demonstrated in any environment where emergency treatment is provided to horses. This does not need to be a remote area provided simulated activities and scenarios concentrate on the significance of remote area circumstances.

Horse matching prior to all assessments involving horse interaction is essential. Assessors must:

- complete, participate in or validate a risk assessment of the candidate's characteristics and level of horse handling skills
- match, or validate the matching of, horses of suitable history, size and temperament to the candidate to ensure that handler and horse combination is safe.

Assessment must ensure use of:

- calm, consistent and obedient horses, matched to the candidate as above, and which can be ill or injured or can be healthy and used for simulated activities
- communication equipment for emergency response
- equine first aid kit
- personal protective equipment used when treating horses
- real or mock equine medications
- dosage and disposal instructions for equine medications
- template:
  - emergency treatment reports
  - incident reports
- organisational policies and procedures for:
  - providing emergency horse treatment
  - horse euthanasia.

Assessment must ensure access to:

- human first aid equipment
- other people with whom the individual can interact which can include other staff and veterinarians.

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisations requirements for assessors, and:

- hold a qualification or Statement of Attainment which includes this unit of competency, SISO EQU011 Manage horse illness and injury in remote areas, or a qualification or Statement of Attainment which includes a unit of competency that has been superseded by this unit, and
- have at least three years' experience in a role involving the emergency treatment of horses where they have applied the skills and knowledge covered in this unit of competency.

SISOEQU012 Assess horses for sport or recreational performance

Modification History

Not applicable.

Application

This unit describes the performance outcomes, skills and knowledge required to assess horses for their potential to perform effectively in equestrian sport or recreational riding programs. It requires a fundamental knowledge of horse anatomy and physiology and the impacts of conformation on horse performance.

This unit applies to a range of organisations involved in equestrian sport, instructional and recreational riding programs. It applies to experienced senior staff who work autonomously but in consultation with others to acquire, condition and train horses for programs. This can include trainers, guides, trail bosses, instructors and coaches.

No occupational licensing, certification or specific legislative requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

	1.2. Identify connection between horse conformation, performance and soundness.
2. Assess horse suitability for intended use.	2.1. Identify intended sport or recreational use and performance requirements of horses.
	2.2. Use safe practices and follow organisational safety procedures during horse assessment to avoid injury to self, others and horse.
	2.3. Examine horses for functional conformation and observe movement.
	2.4. Identify functional conformation faults and potential to affect performance of horses.
	2.5. Assess suitability of individual horses for different sport or recreational uses according to their conformation and movement.
	2.6. Evaluate and complete written reports on performance potential for intended sport or recreational use.

Assessment Requirements for SISO EQU012 Assess horses for sport or recreational performance

Modification History

Not applicable.

Performance Evidence

Evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit in the context of the job role, and:

- develop a portfolio of information on the key features and functions of the following anatomical and physiological horse systems and their role in effective horse performance:
  - respiratory system
  - circulatory system
  - musculoskeletal system
  - digestive system
  - nervous system
  - reproductive system for male and female horses
- assess three different horses for conformation and movement suitable for their sport or recreational purpose and cumulatively use the following techniques:
  - visual and physical examination
  - flexion test
  - observing the horse being ridden
  - observing the horse being trotted up
- during all horse assessments, consistently use safe horse handling practices
- write a brief report, on each of the three horses, to include:
  - intended sport or recreational use and performance requirements
  - description of horse including age, breed, height
  - functional conformation assessment, positive and negative features
  - any indicators of horse unsoundness
  - evaluation of potential performance problems
  - recommendations on the suitability of the horse for particular sport or recreational activities and performance requirements.

Knowledge Evidence

Demonstrated knowledge required to complete the tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit:

- organisational safety procedures for handling horses

- safe horse handling and restraint techniques specific to examining horses for movement and conformation
- points of a horse and correct terminology
- key features and functions of the following anatomical and physiological horse systems and their role in effective horse performance:
  - respiratory system
  - circulatory system
  - musculoskeletal system
  - digestive system
  - nervous system
  - reproductive systems of male and female horses
- features and factors of horse anatomy and physiology used to determine the suitability of individual horses for different sport or recreational purposes
- functional horse conformation to perform well in a range of sport or recreational activities
- common conformation faults for sport or recreational horses and the effects on horse movement, soundness and performance
- examination techniques used to assess horse movement and conformation:
  - visual and physical examination
  - flexion test
  - riding or driving the horse; observing horse being ridden or driven
  - trotting up the horse; observing horse being trotted up
  - lunging the horse or observing horse being lunged
- meaning of horse soundness and indicators of unsoundness that can be observed during horse movement and conformation examinations.

Assessment Conditions

Skills can be demonstrated in any indoor or outdoor environment where horses are examined and assessed for their potential to perform effectively in sport or recreational activities.

Horse matching prior to all assessments involving horse interaction is essential. Assessors must:

- complete, participate in or validate a risk assessment of the candidate's characteristics and level of horse handling skills
- match, or validate the matching of, horses of suitable history, size and temperament to the candidate to ensure that handler and horse combination is safe.

Assessment must ensure use of:

- horses of differing conformation matched to the candidate as above; these can be
- calm, consistent and obedient horses or
- compliant and manageable horses

- halters and leads
- organisational safety procedures for handling horses.

Assessment must ensure access to:

- human and equine first aid equipment
- communication equipment for emergency response.

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisations requirements for assessors, and:

- hold a qualification or Statement of Attainment which includes this unit of competency, SISOEQU012 Assess horses for sport or recreational performance, or a qualification or Statement of Attainment which includes a unit of competency that has been superseded by this unit, and

SISOEQU013 Condition horses for sport or recreational performance

Modification History

Not applicable.

Application

This unit describes the performance outcomes, skills and knowledge required to plan and implement conditioning programs for horses used in equestrian sport or recreational riding programs to optimise performance in their given role.

This unit applies to a range of organisations involved in equestrian sport, instructional and recreational riding programs. It applies to experienced senior staff who work independently but in consultation with others. This can include trainers, guides, trail bosses, instructors and coaches who are proficient horse riders.

No occupational licensing, certification or specific legislative requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

PERFORMANCE CRITERIA

Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.

1.1. Identify and assess needs of individual horses according to

- conditioning programs. their intended sport or recreational use and performance requirements.
- 1.2. Assess level of fitness of horses and weight carrying capacity.
  - 1.3. Identify functional conformation faults and past injuries of horses.
  - 1.4. Consult with stakeholders to identify and confirm goals of program.
  - 1.5. Select conditioning techniques appropriate to individual horse health and fitness levels.
  - 1.6. Design and document conditioning programs to optimise performance of horses.
  - 1.7. Identify and confirm availability of equipment and resources for program.
2. Implement conditioning programs.
- 2.1. Implement conditioning program using chosen techniques appropriate to individual horse.
  - 2.2. Monitor health and welfare of horse according to organisational policies and procedures and animal welfare guidelines.
  - 2.3. Record progress of horse at various stages of program and provide ongoing feedback to stakeholders.
  - 2.4. Recognise signs and symptoms of horse illness and injury and consult with veterinarian as required.
  - 2.5. Monitor feeding and conditioning regimes to confirm suitability for horse and performance goals.
  - 2.6. Implement modifications to program to suit horse condition and optimise performance.
  - 2.7. Present horses in industry accepted condition to meet intended sport or recreational use.
3. Evaluate conditioning program.

Assessment Requirements for SISO EQU013 Condition horses for sport or recreational performance

Modification History

Not applicable.

Performance Evidence

Evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit in the context of the job role, and:

- assess the conditioning needs of two individual horses, according to their sport or recreational role and environment
- develop individual conditioning programs for those two horses
- condition those two horses to optimise performance for their sport or recreational role
- during all conditioning activities, consistently use safe horse handling or riding practices and techniques
- complete the following documents for each of the two horses conditioned:
  - horse conditioning program
  - feeding regimes
  - history of illness, injury and treatments
  - horse progress
  - results.

Knowledge Evidence

Demonstrated knowledge required to complete the tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit:

- organisational policies and procedures for health and welfare of horses
- range of stakeholders involved in conditioning programs for sport or recreational horses and their roles
- principles of conditioning horses for the performance requirements of different sport or recreational purposes
- techniques used to condition horses for specific sport or recreational use and performance goals, and associated benefits and disadvantages
- purpose, features and safe set up of equipment used to condition horses for specific sport or recreational use
- behaviour patterns of horses and implications for selection of conditioning methods
- common conformation faults for sport or recreational horses and conditioning methods suited to those faults
- the impact of conditioning on anatomical and physiological horse systems

- fitness indicators of individual horses at various stages of use in a sport or recreational program
- spelling requirements for sport or recreational horses to promote health and welfare
- common ailments and injuries related to conditioning of horses and correct terminology
- signs and symptoms of horse illness and injury:
  - behavioural

- match, or validate the matching of, horses of suitable history, size and temperament to the candidate to ensure that handler or rider and horse combination is safe.

Assessment must ensure use of:

- horses used for sport or recreational riding purposes and of varying physical condition, matched to the candidate as above; these can be:
  - calm, consistent and obedient horses or
  - compliant and manageable horses
- equipment used to condition horses for specific sport or recreational use
- personal protective equipment to include:
  - riding boots
  - Australian Standard, or equivalent, compliant helmets
- templates for recording:
  - horse conditioning programs
  - feeding regimes
  - history of illness, injury and treatments

- horse progress
- results
- organisational policies and procedures for health and welfare of horses.

Assessment must ensure access to:

- human and equine first aid equipment
- communication equipment for emergency response.

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisations requirements for assessors, and:

- hold a qualification or Statement of Attainment which includes this unit of competency, SISOEQU013 Condition horses for sport or recreational performance, or a qualification or Statement of Attainment which includes a unit of competency that has been superseded by this unit, and
- have at least three years' experience in a role involving conditioning sport or recreational horses where they have applied the skills and knowledge covered in this unit of competency.

ELEMENTS

Elements describe the essential outcomes

1. Assess nutritional requirements of sport or recreational horses.

PERFORMANCE CRITERIA

Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.

1.1. Identify and assess nutritional requirements for individual horse needs in consultation with relevant personnel.

1.2. Select feed for quality, nutritional and economic value to meet nutritional requirements of specific horses.

- |  |   |
|--|---|
| 2. Assess food supplements for horses.               | 2.1. Determine need to provide supplements to individual horses. 2.2. Identify, as required, supplements that contravene rules for horse purpose. 2.3. Assess suitability of supplements for individual horses and their workloads.  |
| 3. Establish and monitor individual feeding regimes. | 3.1. Create rations and determine feeding regimes to meet individual horse needs, for the range of horses in care. 3.2. Use safe practices when feeding horses individually and in groups to avoid injury to self, others and horses. 3.3. Prepare feed and supplements, feed horses at appropriate times and monitor individual feeding regimes. 3.4. Monitor food rations and confirm they meet nutritional requirements of individual horses. 3.5. Monitor and evaluate the effects of supplements on the work performance of horses. 3.6. Provide paddocked horses with suitable pasture and supplementary feed according to their needs. 3.7. Document, for individual horses, eating behaviour, food intake and work level. 3.8. Adjust feeding regime in response to changing horse behaviour and needs. |

Foundation Skills

Foundation skills essential to performance in this unit, but not explicit in the performance criteria are listed here, along with a brief context statement.

SKILLS	DESCRIPTION
Reading skills to:	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• interpret material describing complex nutritional ingredients of feed and supplements.</li> </ul>
Writing skills to:	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• use fundamental sentence structure to complete horse feeding, behavioural and nutritional records that require factual information.</li> </ul>
Numeracy skills to:	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• complete complex calculations to compare costs for different feed, supplements and quantities</li> <li>• calculate and document individual quantities, measure and weigh feed and supplements for multiple horses.</li> </ul>

Assessment Requirements for SISO EQU014 Determine nutritional requirements for sport or recreational horses

Modification History

Not applicable.

Performance Evidence

Evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit in the context of the job role, and:

- assess the nutritional requirements of three different sport or recreational horses
- create a ration for each of the three horses
- determine a monthly feeding regime to include feed and supplements
- cost the monthly provision of feed and supplements for each of the three horses
- feed the three horses according to the predetermined ration and regime on three occasions
- consistently use safe work practices when feeding horses
- complete documentation for each of the three horses to include:
  - food intake
  - eating behaviour
  - work level
  - any recommended changes to feeding regime.

Knowledge Evidence

Demonstrated knowledge required to complete the tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit:

- common behaviour of horses when fed individually and in groups
- safe horse handling techniques specific to feeding horses in these situations:
  - stables
  - yards
  - paddocks
  - groups of horses
- basic function of horse digestive system
- types of feed suitable for horses
- types of supplements suitable for horses and their value to horse performance
- types of supplements that contravene rules for horses used in competitive sports
- sources and importance of the following to horse nutrition:
  - protein
  - fat
  - trace elements

- fibre
- minerals
- factors that determine the nutritional and energy requirements of horses:
  - age
  - gender
  - pregnancy and lactation
  - weight
  - condition
  - work purpose
  - workload
  - stage of training
  - spelling
  - environmental conditions of work and housing
- natural grazing and browsing behaviours of horses
- poisonous plants and their effects on grazing horses
- nutritional value of pasture
- common horse eating disorders, feeding behavioural problems and methods to correct
- indicators of need to adjust feeding regime which can include:
  - colic
  - diarrhoea
  - changes in horse eating behaviour
  - behavioural changes during work
- feed safety requirements:
  - environmental conditions for storage of feed and supplements to avoid contamination
  - cleaning requirements for food storage, preparation, feeding and watering equipment.

Assessment Conditions

Skills can be demonstrated in any indoor or outdoor environment where horses are fed. Environments must include paddocked areas.

Horse matching prior to all assessments involving horse interaction is essential. Assessors must:

- complete, participate in or validate a risk assessment of the candidate's characteristics and level of horse handling skills
- match, or validate the matching of, horses of suitable history, size and temperament to the candidate to ensure that handler and horse combination is safe.

Assessment must ensure use of:

- horses matched to the candidate as above; these can be:

- calm, consistent and obedient horses; or
- compliant and manageable horses
- equipment used to weigh and measure feed and supplements
- bags, nets and bins used to feed horses
- a range of equine feed and supplements
- information about:
  - the nutritional ingredients of feed and supplements
  - costs of feed, additives and supplements
- template feeding records.

Assessment must ensure access to:

- organisational safety procedures for feeding horses
- human and equine first aid equipment
- communication equipment for emergency response.

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisations requirements for assessors, and:

- hold a qualification or Statement of Attainment which includes this unit of competency, SISOEQU014 Determine nutritional requirements for sport or recreational horses, or a qualification or Statement of Attainment which includes a unit of competency that has been superseded by this unit, and
- have at least three years' experience in a role involving the care of sport or recreational horses where they have applied the skills and knowledge covered in this unit of competency.

SISOEQU015 Acquire and educate horses for sport or recreational programs

Modification History

Not applicable.

Application

This unit describes the performance outcomes, skills and knowledge required to acquire and educate horses to suit the needs of equestrian sport or recreational riding programs.

It requires the ability to assess horse history, behaviour and health pre-purchase, and to plan and deliver education programs for individual horses to ensure their appropriate and safe behaviour.

This unit applies to a range of organisations involved in equestrian sport, instructional and recreational riding programs. It applies to experienced senior staff who work autonomously but in consultation with others. This can include trainers, guides, trail bosses, instructors and coaches who are proficient horse riders.

No occupational licensing, certification or specific legislative requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

5. Evaluate horse education.

5.1. Evaluate and record progress or continuing issues throughout all phases of education program, according to organisational procedures.

5.2. Adjust education regime or discontinue horse education as required.

Foundation Skills

Foundation skills essential to performance in this unit, but not explicit in the performance criteria are listed here, along with a brief context statement.

SKILLS

DESCRIPTION

Reading skills to:

- interpret complex and sometimes unfamiliar documents which can include:
- organisational policies and procedures
- purchase agreements and horse reports.

Writing skills to:

- develop and document complex horse education programs
- record detailed information describing horse progress to desired behaviour.

Planning and organising skills to:

- manage own timing and productivity to source and acquire horses, test and educate them to meet organisational program schedules.

Self-management skills to:

- take responsibility for horse selection and education from initial research through to presentation of horse which matches operational and program needs.

Assessment Requirements for SISOEQU015 Acquire and educate horses for sport or recreational programs

Modification History

Not applicable.

Performance Evidence

Evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit in the context of the job role, and:

- research the purchase of two different horses to meet the requirements of a sport or recreational program
- for at least one of the horses sourced, complete the following pre-purchase assessments:
  - history of horse use
  - current level of education
  - current health status
  - behaviour and temperament, via seller reports and testing
- assess the education needs of two individual horses, according to their sport or recreational role and environment
- develop individual education programs for those two horses
- educate the two horses to:
  - meet program specific behavioural requirements
  - program activities, exercises or disciplines
- during all activities, consistently use safe horse handling or riding practices and techniques
- complete the following documents for each of the two horses:
  - education program
  - horse progress and ongoing behavioural issues
  - educational outcomes.

Knowledge Evidence

Demonstrated knowledge required to complete the tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit:

- organisational policies and procedures for acquiring and education horses including those for safety and emergency response
- factors that affect the suitability and selection of horses for sport and recreational use:
  - purchase prices and ongoing maintenance costs
  - size
  - age and gender

- health
- functional conformation
- sport or recreational program experience and history
- previous education
- tractability
- vices
- temperament
- methods for obtaining health checks
- pre-purchase testing techniques used to assess suitability of horses
- factors that affect the education of horses for sport and recreational use:
  - range of activities offered by the organisation
  - environments where activities are completed
  - types of terrain and obstacles covered by programs
  - characteristics of client profile including age and horse handling or riding skill level
  - tack and equipment used for different programs
- unwanted and unsafe behaviour of horses used for sport and recreational activities to include:
  - bolting
  - biting
  - rearing
  - bucking
  - kicking
  - shying
  - propensity to fight
- animal welfare based behaviour modification techniques for unwanted and unsafe behaviour of horses
- current scientific research findings on equine cognition, intelligence, ethology and learning ability and recommended education techniques
- techniques used to educate horses for program specific activities, exercises or disciplines
- format and contents of documents which record:
  - purchase arrangements
  - education programs
  - horse progress and ongoing behavioural issues
  - education outcomes.

Assessment Conditions

Skills can be demonstrated in any indoor or outdoor environment where horses are tested and educated for sport or recreational purposes.

Horse matching prior to all assessments involving horse interaction is essential. Assessors must:

- complete, participate in or validate a risk assessment of the candidate's characteristics and level of horse handling or riding skills
- match, or validate the matching of, horses of suitable history, size and temperament to the candidate to ensure that handler or rider and horse combination is safe.

Assessment must ensure use of:

- horses matched to the candidate as above; these can be:
  - calm, consistent and obedient horses; or
  - compliant and manageable horses
- tack to include:
  - halters
  - leads
  - saddles
  - saddle cloths
  - bridles
  - reins
  - bits
  - stirrups with safety features
- personal protective equipment to include:
  - riding boots
  - Australian Standard, or equivalent, compliant helmets
- sample budgets for purchasing horses
- online or hard copy information about horses for sale
- sample written reports covering history of horse use, education and behaviour
- sample purchase agreements or contracts
- templates for:
  - horse education programs
  - recording horse progress and ongoing issues
  - reporting educational outcomes
- organisational policies and procedures for acquiring and education horses including those for safety and emergency response.

Assessment must ensure access to:

- human and equine first aid equipment
- communication equipment for emergency response.

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisations requirements for assessors, and:

- hold a qualification or Statement of Attainment which includes this unit of competency, SISOEQU015 Acquire and educate horses for sport or recreational programs, or a qualification or Statement of Attainment which includes a unit of competency that has been superseded by this unit, and
- have at least three years' experience in a role involving acquiring and educating sport or recreational horses where they have applied the skills and knowledge covered in this unit of competency.

SISOODR506A Evaluate policy for an outdoor organisation

Modification History

Not Applicable

Unit Descriptor

This unit describes the performance outcomes, skills and knowledge required to evaluate policy and procedures for an outdoor recreation business or organisation and to suggest modifications, where appropriate. This includes researching the need and purpose for policy and procedures, conducting consultative processes with appropriate staff to review policy, drafting new or modified policy, where required, and supporting implementation.

Application of the Unit

This unit applies to those working in management or leadership roles in the outdoor recreation sector with responsibilities for planning, implementing and evaluating outdoor recreation programs and activities across a range of activity areas. This could include operations managers, program managers or adventure guides.

This may include outdoor recreation leaders working for outdoor education or adventure providers; volunteer groups; not-for-profit organisations or government agencies.

Licensing/Regulatory Information

No licensing, regulatory or certification requirements apply to this unit at the time of endorsement.

Pre-Requisites

Nil

Employability Skills Information

This unit contains employability skills.

Elements and Performance Criteria Pre-Content

Elements and Performance Criteria

ELEMENT

PERFORMANCE CRITERIA

Elements describe the essential outcomes of a unit of competency.

Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element. Where bold italicised text is used, further information is detailed in the required skills and knowledge section and the range statement. Assessment of performance is to be consistent with the Evidence Guide.

1. Determine the context of organisational policies and procedures.

- 1.1. Access and interpret relevant legislation that impacts on the operation of the outdoor organisation.
- 1.2. Establish the scope of policy and or procedures that contribute to enhanced organisational performance.
- 1.3. Identify and document the desired outcomes to be achieved through the implementation of policy and or procedures.
- 1.4. Determine the relationship between the policy and or procedures and the organisation's strategic or corporate plan and responsibilities.

2. Prepare to review current policy and or procedures.

- 2.1. Determine whether procedures exist for reviewing the impact of policy and or procedures on the organisation's performance.
- 2.2. Develop criteria to evaluate policy and or procedures as required, including timeframes for the evaluation process.
- 2.3. Identify and access resources required for the review of organisational policy and or procedures.
- 2.4. Identify relevant parties to be included in the review of organisational policy and or procedures.
- 2.5. Prepare terms of reference and guidelines for the review and make available to personnel contributing to the review.

3. Review the organisation's policy and procedures.

- 3.1. Identify and document the objectives of the policy and or procedures and rationale for their development.
- 3.2. Consult with appropriate personnel to determine whether the policy and or procedures comply with relevant legal and ethical responsibilities of the outdoor recreation organisation.
- 3.3. Determine whether the policy and or procedures clearly define individual responsibilities and duties in relation to the implementation of organisational objectives.
- 3.4. Determine whether the policy and or procedures incorporate responses to the possible impact of outside influences and changes in direction and or new trends.
- 3.5. Apply evaluation criteria to assess the effectiveness of the

ELEMENT	PERFORMANCE CRITERIA
	policy and or procedures in achieving the organisation's business aims.
	3.6. Seek feedback from relevant personnel to identify implementation issues in relation to specific areas and identify improvements to policy and or procedures.
	3.7. Recommend, where appropriate, modifications to policy and or procedures.
4. Prepare draft policy and or procedures.	4.1. Draft new or modified policy and or procedures which comply with all relevant legislation and are consistent with organisational objectives, taking into account availability of resources and timeframes for implementation.
	4.2. Identify personnel responsible for implementing policy and or procedures within the organisation.
	4.3. Determine the feasibility of establishing a team or infrastructure to communicate details of policy and or procedures and implement them within the organisation.
	4.4. Establish or modify performance management processes for monitoring the implementation of policy and or procedures within the organisation.
	4.5. Establish a record keeping system to document issues which are relevant to the implementation of organisational policies and procedures.
5. Implement new or revised policy and or procedures.	5.1. Advise all relevant parties of their responsibilities under the new or modified policy and or procedures.
	5.2. Provide education and training opportunities to all relevant parties as required to support implementation.
	5.3. Monitor activities to ensure that policy and or procedures are adopted effectively.
	5.4. Implement procedures for ongoing assessment of policy and or procedures within systems of work in the organisation or business.

Required Skills and Knowledge

This section describes the skills and knowledge required for this unit.

Required skills

- communication skills to:
  - elicit information from key personnel to inform the evaluation of organisational policies and procedures

- seek feedback on implementation issues
- literacy skills to:
  - access, collate, interpret and document information to inform the review process and outcomes
- research and establish relevant information impacting on policy or procedure review
  - develop evaluation criteria for the review
  - draft and document new or modified policies and procedures
- problem-solving skills to:
  - identify and evaluate areas of non-compliance and issues impacting on implementation of policies and procedures
  - make recommendations on improvements to support the implementation of new or modified policies and procedures
- planning and organising skills to undertake preparation for the review process, such as staff and resources, within identified timeframes
- numeracy skills to conduct the review within time and budgetary constraints.

Required knowledge

- legislation impacting on the operations of an outdoor business or organisation to enable the development and implementation of policies and procedures to address the legal obligations of the business
- organisational policies and procedures of the outdoor business or organisation to enable the effectiveness of these to be assessed and improved
- strategic business and operational plans of the outdoor organisation or business to enable the development of policies and procedures to achieve business objectives
- data collection and research methods to enable the identification and collection of relevant data and information to inform the development of new policies
- internal organisational and management systems and external operating environments to enable understanding of the environment in which policies and procedures are implemented
- organisation's prime objectives, functions and operations and key activity areas and structures
- financial management and budgeting to enable the review to be completed within budgetary constraints.

Evidence Guide

The evidence guide provides advice on assessment and must be read in conjunction with the performance criteria, required skills and knowledge, range statement and the Assessment Guidelines for the Training Package.

Overview of assessment

Critical aspects for assessment and evidence required to demonstrate competency in this unit

Evidence of the following is essential:

- develops systemic review procedures to undertake an evaluation of policies and procedures of an outdoor organisation that complies with relevant legislation and aligns with organisational operational requirements and responsibilities
- accesses and clarifies information to inform conduct and outcomes of the review and development of new or modified organisational policies and procedures
- documents draft policies and procedures in a format consistent with organisational requirements and uses communication strategies to inform and support personnel with implementation
- applies contingency management techniques to ensure compliance of policies and procedures is maintained in light of organisational changes and emerging implementation issues or changes in business direction.

Context of and specific resources for assessment

Assessment must ensure leading of a policy review and continuous improvement process on multiple occasions, that is of sufficient breadth to demonstrate competency and consistency of performance.

Assessment must also ensure access to:

- an outdoor recreation organisation or business with employees and or volunteers
- relevant legislative requirements for an outdoor organisation
- business information relevant to the management of the organisation
- relevant parties contributing to the review process.

Method of assessment

A range of assessment methods should be used to assess practical skills and knowledge. The following examples are appropriate for this unit:

- observation of leadership of preparation and conduct of review process
- oral or written questioning to assess knowledge of relevant legislation impacting on the operations of an outdoor organisation
- portfolio of records and reports documenting evidence of review criteria and draft policies and procedures
- third-party reports from a supervisor detailing work performance.

Holistic assessment with other units relevant to the industry sector, workplace and job role is recommended, for example:

- SISXOHS503A Establish and maintain Occupational Health and Safety systems.

Range Statement

The range statement relates to the unit of competency as a whole. It allows for different work environments and situations that may affect performance. Bold italicised wording, if used in the performance criteria, is detailed below. Essential operating conditions that may be present with training and assessment (depending on the work situation, needs of the candidate, accessibility of the item, and local industry and regional contexts) may also be included.

- Relevant legislation may include:
- occupational health and safety
  - permits or permission for access
  - environmental regulations
  - marine regulations.
- Policy and or procedures may include:
- administration
  - equal employment opportunity
  - occupational health and safety
  - performance assessment
  - grievance
  - training
  - recruitment
  - industrial relations
  - dealing with media
  - client confidentiality
  - privacy
  - staff dress
  - staff code of behaviour
  - client complaints
  - records maintenance
  - purchasing of supplies and equipment
  - counselling or disciplinary processes.
- Outcomes may include:
- customer service
  - staff performance
  - client satisfaction.
- Resources may include:
- human
  - physical

- Relevant parties may include:
- financial.
  - employees
  - clients
  - supporters
  - sponsors
  - members
  - volunteers
  - facility owners
  - government.
- Appropriate personnel may include:
- waterways departments
  - surf rescue
  - authorities
  - supervisors.
- Feedback may include:
- verbal
  - written.

SISSCO513 Plan and implement high performance training and recovery programs

Modification History

The release details of this endorsed unit of competency set are in the table below. The latest information is at the top.

Release	Comments
1	Replaces but is not equivalent to SISXCAI507A Implement high-performance training programs. Competency outcome changed. Re-categorised from Cross-Sector Coaching and Instruction field to Sport Specific Sport Coaching Field. Aspects from SISSCGP412A Implement recovery programs and SISSCGP414A Implement water based training programs have been included to reflect the more holistic approach that is now used by high performance coaches.

Unit Descriptor

This unit describes the performance outcomes, skills and knowledge required to apply sport-specific knowledge to implement a high-performance training program designed to refine the skills and performance of individuals participating at a high level.

Application of the Unit

This unit applies to coaches working with individuals or teams at a minimum of state representative level.

Licensing/Regulatory Information

No licensing, legislative, regulatory or certification requirements apply to this unit at the time of endorsement.

Required Skills and Knowledge

This section describes the skills and knowledge required for this unit.

Required skills

- communication skills to:
  - ensure requirements of athletes are understood and included in planning
  - ensure aspects of a training program are understood and agreed upon by the athletes
- planning and organising skills to enable the planning of a high-performance training program to meet identified athlete needs
- literacy and numeracy skills to effectively schedule, document and evaluate results of high-performance training programs
- research skills to obtain information on trends, innovations and best practice principles of the sport and high-performance training methods
- teamwork skills to:
  - coach and motivate an individual in a high-performance training program
  - liaise effectively with support personnel.

Required knowledge

- relevant activity or sport-specific knowledge, including rules and regulations, to coach the skills being included in the training program

- advanced principles of skill acquisition in order to plan and deliver high-performance training programs to meet identified needs
- anatomy, physiology and biomechanics to enable effective and safe planning and implementation of high-performance training programs, including:
  - type and the structure of joints as they relate to joint mobility, joint integrity and risk of injury
  - major muscles, their actions, and the role of muscles during contraction
  - structure and function of the musculoskeletal system
  - structure of the cardio-respiratory system and the relationship between exercise intensity and circulatory and ventilation responses
- organisational policies and procedures to enable the safe and appropriate conduct and recording of long-term training programs and maintain confidentiality of participant information
- National Sporting Organisation (NSO) best practice principles
- equipment manufacturer information and organisational requirements to enable the safe and effective use of exercise and training equipment.

Evidence Guide

The evidence guide provides advice on assessment and must be read in conjunction with the performance criteria, required skills and knowledge, range statement and the Assessment Guidelines for the Training Package.

Overview of assessment

Critical aspects for assessment and evidence required to demonstrate competency in this unit

Evidence of the ability to:

- assess athlete needs and develop and implement a training program to meet objectives for high-performance situations in line with current trends, innovations and best practice principles of the sport
- plan training sessions that meet athlete expectations, comply with legislative and organisation requirements, and allow the individual to demonstrate the use of training techniques used during a high-performance training program
- apply knowledge of anatomy, physiology and biomechanics and principles of recovery to the development of a high-performance training program
- evaluate and modify the training program according to feedback received and the results of evaluation procedures
- monitor and manage competitive and or performance situations during a long-term program.

Context of and specific resources for assessment

Assessment must ensure:

- development and implementation of multiple high-performance training programs that are of sufficient duration and breadth to demonstrate competency and consistency of performance.

Assessment must also ensure access to:

- an environment with appropriate facilities, equipment and materials
- a range of athletes with real or simulated training goals
- documentation such as athlete performance history and manufacturer specifications for equipment use.

Method of assessment

A range of assessment methods should be used to assess practical skills and knowledge. The following examples are appropriate for this unit:

- observation of preparing and planning for a long-term training program, including the assessment of athletes
- observation of interacting with a range of athletes, including conveying information for safe participation in training program sessions and monitoring the use of equipment
- oral and or written questioning to assess knowledge of the body systems being developed through the implementation of a range of exercises
- portfolio of training plans and evaluation measures
- third-party reports from a supervisor detailing appropriate work performed by the individual.

Guidance information for assessment

Holistic assessment with other units relevant to the industry sector, workplace and job role is recommended, for example:

- SISSCO304 Customise coaching for athletes with specific needs
- SISXCAI305A Conduct individualised long-term training programs.

Range Statement

The range statement relates to the unit of competency as a whole. It allows for different work environments and situations that may affect performance. Bold italicised wording, if used in the performance criteria, is detailed below. Essential operating conditions that may be present with training and assessment (depending on the work situation, needs of the individual, accessibility of the item, and local industry and regional contexts) may also be included.

Requirements of high-level performance may include:

- physiological and fitness targets

Required Skills and Knowledge

This section describes the skills and knowledge required for this unit.

Required skills

- communication skills to:
  - instruct effective strength and conditioning techniques
  - give and receive feedback
- teamwork skills to be able to coach and mentor an athlete through a strength and conditioning program
- technology skills to assess athletes and select exercises and drills for use within the program
- planning and organising skills to implement a plan for strength and conditioning for an individual or group
- literacy and numeracy skills to enable the review of training diaries and the timely completion of sessions.

Required knowledge

- motivational techniques to provide appropriate feedback to athletes
- the major body systems, bones, joints muscles and their function to enable the selection, instruction and adjustment of appropriate exercises to meet the needs of athletes

- legislation and organisational policies and procedures to enable the safe delivery of exercise programs including the safe use of equipment and a safe learning environment
- drills, activities and games to teach the techniques of strength and conditioning
- physiological, psychological and biomechanical changes that occur with strength and conditioning training to enable informed planning and instruction of sessions and prompt response to athlete difficulties during the class.

Evidence Guide

The evidence guide provides advice on assessment and must be read in conjunction with the performance criteria, required skills and knowledge, range statement and the Assessment Guidelines for the Training Package.

Overview of assessment

Critical aspects for assessment and evidence required to demonstrate competency in this unit

Evidence of the following is essential:

- instructs strength and conditioning classes that meet athlete expectations, comply with legislative and organisational requirements, and are of sufficient duration to allow the candidate to demonstrate the use of drills, activities and games to instruct in strength and conditioning techniques
- assesses athletes current training status and needs and applies knowledge of human anatomy and physiology to select and modify an appropriate program
- carries out tasks responsibly and safely using an athlete centred approach to encourage athlete participation using appropriate motivational and communication strategies.

Context of and specific resources for assessment

Assessment must ensure the conduct of multiple strength and conditioning sessions that meet the needs of individuals, groups or sports and are of sufficient breadth and duration to demonstrate competency and consistency of performance.

Assessment must also ensure access to:

- an environment with appropriate facilities, equipment and materials such as free weight or hydraulic equipment
- a range of athletes with real or simulated strength and conditioning goals

- documentation such as strength and conditioning programs and manufacturer's specifications for equipment use.

Method of assessment

A range of assessment methods should be used to assess practical skills and knowledge. The following examples are appropriate for this unit:

- observation of preparation and instruction of a strength and conditioning session, including the selection of exercises for a program
- observation of interaction with a range of participants, including conveying information for safe participation in strength and conditioning sessions and motivating athletes to achieve desired outcomes
- oral or written questioning to assess knowledge of physiological, psychological and biomechanical changes that occur during strength and conditioning training
- third-party reports from a supervisor detailing work performance.

Holistic assessment with other units relevant to the industry sector, workplace and job role is recommended, for example:

- SISSSTC402A Develop strength and conditioning programs.

Range Statement

The range statement relates to the unit of competency as a whole. It allows for different work environments and situations that may affect performance. Bold italicised wording, if used in the performance criteria, is detailed below. Essential operating conditions that may be present with training and assessment (depending on the work situation, needs of the candidate, accessibility of the item, and local industry and regional contexts) may also be included.

Testing protocols may include:

- core stability
- aerobic performance
- anaerobic performance.

Athlete or Athletes may include:

- different ages
- those with specific conditioning goals
- experienced or inexperienced
- female or male
- competitor in team or individual sports

Training background and exercise history may include:

- amateur or professional.
- type of training program
- length of recent regular participation in previous training programs
- level of intensity involved in previous training programs
- exercise technique experienced.

Techniques of strength and conditioning may include:

- resistance training:
  - whole body or compound exercises for specific muscle groups or isolation
- aerobic endurance
- anaerobic endurance:
  - high intensity short interval training
- flexibility:
  - stretching
- elastic energy
- abdominal
- core stability.

Support personnel may include:

- administrators
- coaches
- sports scientists
- sports medicine providers
- parents or guardians.

Core lifts and exercises may include:

- abdominal
- roll outs
- reverse crunches
- side bends
- prone and hold
- back:
  - bent over row
  - lateral pull down
- biceps:
  - biceps curl
  - hammer curl
- calves and ankles:
  - standing calf or heel raise
  - peroneal flexions and wobble board
- chest:
  - flat bench press and dumbbell version
  - incline dumbbell press and barbell version
- forearms:

- wrist curl
- hip or thigh:
  - hip sled
  - back squat
  - forward lunge
- shoulders:
  - seated shoulder press
  - machine shoulder press
- triceps:
  - lying triceps extension
  - triceps pushdown
- power exercises:
  - push press and push jerk
  - clean and power clean
- proprioception and neuromuscular coordination exercises.
- occupational health and safety
- athlete assessment procedures
- use, checking and storage of equipment
- tagging faulty or damaged equipment
- emergency procedures
- confidentiality of participant information
- time constraints and scheduling requirements.
- hand grips
- stable body and limb positioning
- movement range of motion and speed
- breathing
- spotting.
- cardiovascular equipment
- free weight equipment
- hydraulic equipment
- exercise balls
- bars
- steps
- bands
- resistance equipment
- pin loaded equipment
- electronically braked equipment
- air braked equipment
- pool based equipment.

Organisational policies and procedures may include:

Exercise techniques may include:

Equipment may include:

Benefits may include:

- physiological
- psychological
- social
- improved performance in chosen sport or competition.

Common types of injuries may include:

- muscle or soft tissue injury
- back injury.

Best practice principles of strength and conditioning training may include:

- the sport's coaches or instructors code of conduct policy developed by the peak bodies responsible for the development of teaching and coaching
- Australian Sports Commission Harassment-free Sport policy
- Australian Sports Commission's drugs in sport policy
- National Activity Organisation's regulations and guidelines.

Instructional techniques may include:

- establishing a rapport
- verbal and non-verbal communication
- demonstration strategies
- motivational strategies.

Motivation techniques may include:

- goal setting
- positive feedback.

Unit Descriptor

This unit describes the performance outcomes, knowledge and skills required to develop, implement and evaluate a strength and conditioning program. It focuses on the skills needed to develop a program which meets the needs of individual athletes or groups of athletes according to their sport-specific needs or those undertaking fitness programs to achieve personal fitness goals.

Application of the Unit

This unit applies to coaches working with individuals or teams. It also applies to fitness instructors who provide a range of fitness programs and services to individuals or groups. The unit is applicable to those working with sporting groups, in fitness centres, gyms or autonomously in the fitness industry.

Licensing/Regulatory Information

No licensing, regulatory or certification requirements apply to this unit at the time of endorsement.

Required Skills and Knowledge

This section describes the skills and knowledge required for this unit.

Required skills

- communication skills to:
  - liaise with other coaches and trainers
  - give and receive feedback from athletes
- problem-solving skills to select appropriate techniques and strategies for the program to meet the stated objectives
- planning and organising skills to schedule the strength and conditioning program
- technology skills to assess the fitness and condition of athletes and other participants
- literacy skills to:
  - document evaluation methods
  - record feedback

- read and understand policies and procedures information.

Required knowledge

- the major body systems, bones, joints, muscles and their function to enable the selection, instruction and adjustment of appropriate exercises to meet the needs of athletes
- anatomical, physiological and biomechanical differences of athletes including age and sex
- physiological adaptation to strength and conditioning training
- current strength and conditioning training techniques
- exercise prescription and exercise order principles
- physical constraints that may affect planning for strength and conditioning program
- legislation organisational policies and procedures to enable the safe delivery of exercise programs including the safe use of equipment and a safe learning environment.

Evidence Guide

The evidence guide provides advice on assessment and must be read in conjunction with the performance criteria, required skills and knowledge, range statement and the Assessment Guidelines for the Training Package.

Overview of assessment

Critical aspects for assessment and evidence required to demonstrate competency in this unit

Evidence of the following is essential:

- assesses athlete's or athletes' current training status and needs and applies knowledge of human anatomy and physiology to develop programs to meet stated objectives for strength and conditioning
- plans strength and conditioning classes that meet athlete expectations, comply with legislative and organisational requirements, and are of sufficient duration to allow the candidate to demonstrate the use of strength and conditioning techniques
- evaluates and modifies the training program according to feedback received and the results of evaluation procedures.

Context of and specific resources for assessment

Assessment must ensure development and implementation of multiple strength and conditioning programs to demonstrate competency and consistency of performance in the provision of core strength and conditioning techniques according to the specific needs of individuals, groups or sports.

Assessment must also ensure access to:

- an environment with appropriate facilities, equipment and materials such as free weight or hydraulic equipment
- a range of athletes with real or simulated strength and conditioning goals
- documentation such as athlete's performance history and manufacturer's specifications for equipment use.

Method of assessment

A range of assessment methods should be used to assess practical skills and knowledge. The following examples are appropriate for this unit:

- observation of preparation and planning for a strength and conditioning program, including the assessment of athletes
- observation of interaction with a range of participants, including conveying information for safe participation in strength and conditioning sessions and monitoring the use of equipment
- oral or written questioning to assess knowledge of physiological, psychological and biomechanical changes that occur during strength and conditioning training
- third-party reports from a supervisor detailing work performance.

Holistic assessment with other units relevant to the industry sector, workplace and job role is recommended, for example:

- SISSSTC301A Instruct strength and conditioning techniques
- SISXCAI405A Conduct individualised long term training programs.

Range Statement

The range statement relates to the unit of competency as a whole. It allows for different work environments and situations that may affect performance. Bold italicised wording, if used in the performance criteria, is detailed below. Essential operating conditions that may be present with training and assessment (depending on the work situation, needs of the candidate, accessibility of the item, and local industry and regional contexts) may also be included.

Needs and requirements may

- competition performance
- pre-adolescent

include:

- mature aged
- disability
- reconditioning
- rehabilitation.

Profiles may include:

- physical
- psychological
- tactical
- technical
- leadership skills.

Assessment measures may include:

- discussion with trainees
- physical ability tests
- trials
- performances in familiar environment
- performances in unfamiliar environment
- field assessments of fitness components
- performance history.

Objectives may include:

- enjoyment
- competition or performance
- selection
- tapering
- peaking
- maintenance.

Athlete or Athletes may include:

- experienced or inexperienced
- female or male
- competitor in team or individual sports
- amateur or professional.

Support personnel may include:

- administrators
- coaches
- sports scientists
- sports medicine providers
- parents or guardians.

Career phase may include:

- novice
- intermediate
- advanced.

Training phase may include:

- macro-cycles
- micro-cycles
- meso-cycles
- pre-season
- in-season
- post-season
- four year Olympic cycle.

Techniques of strength and conditioning may include:

- resistance training
- aerobic endurance
- anaerobic endurance
- flexibility and stretching
- elastic energy
- abdominal
- core stability.

Organisational policies and procedures may include:

- occupational health and safety
- athlete assessment procedures
- confidentiality of athlete information
- emergency procedures
- time constraints and scheduling requirements
- use of venue
- equal opportunity.

Fixed points may include:

- structure and subdivision of performance levels
- availability of facilities
- rules of the activity
- rules of the competition or performance
- intended peaks
- selection dates and criteria
- availability of support personnel.

Exercise selection may include:

- types of resistance training exercises
- movement analysis of sport
- athlete's exercise technique experience
- available equipment and training time.

- Exercise order may include:
- core followed by assisted exercises
  - pre-exhaustion method
  - alternated upper and lower body exercise
  - supersets and compound sets.
- Equipment may include:
- cardiovascular equipment
  - free weight equipment
  - hydraulic equipment
  - innovative equipment
  - exercise balls
  - bars
  - steps
  - bands
  - plyometric training systems
  - resistance equipment
  - pool based equipment.
- Resource requirements may include:
- ratio of coaches to athletes
  - ratio of equipment to athletes
  - access to first aid facilities
  - access to equipment
  - appropriate facilities.
- Evaluation methods may include:
- fitness assessments
  - lab assessments
  - discussion with participants
  - training and competitive performances
  - training diaries.
- Strength and conditioning training methods may include:
- work duration, rest periods and frequency
  - periodisation
  - training load, repetition and volume
  - rehabilitation and reconditioning
  - core stability.
- Best practice principles of strength and conditioning training may include:
- the sports coaches' or instructors' code of conduct policy developed by the peak bodies responsible for the development of teaching and coaching
  - Australian Sports Commission Harassment-free Sport policy
  - Australian Sports Commission's drugs in sport policy
  - National Activity Organisation's regulations and guidelines.

Elements and Performance Criteria

ELEMENTS

Elements describe the essential outcomes

1. Determine travel requirements.

PERFORMANCE CRITERIA

Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.

- 1.1 Determine travel requirements and needs of participants in consultation with appropriate staff.
- 1.2 Identify resource and logistical requirements for travel.
- 1.3 Determine and review travel costs and identify budget and resource constraints.

- 1.4 Identify risks associated with travel arrangements and develop contingency plans.
- 1.5 Obtain approval for travel according to organisational procedures.
2. Make travel arrangements.
  - 2.1 Plan and document travel schedule according to participant needs and activity requirements.
  - 2.2 Access and interpret information about different options for travel and other services required.
  - 2.3 Select preferred services and finalise costings within available budget.
  - 2.4 Book and confirm travel arrangements with appropriate staff and external agencies.
  - 2.5 Communicate information about travel arrangements to participants and relevant members of staff.
  - 2.6 Source and check accuracy of travel documents for participants.
3. Supervise travel arrangements.
  - 3.1 Monitor travel schedule and modify as appropriate during activities.
  - 3.2 Secure equipment and travel documents.
  - 3.3 Complete and maintain travel related documentation.
  - 3.4 Maintain expenditure levels according to budget requirements.
  - 3.5 Select and use communication strategies for group management.
  - 3.6 Implement contingency plans to manage scheduling and other travel related difficulties.
4. Review travel arrangements.
  - 4.1 Conduct review of travel arrangements including feedback from participants.
  - 4.2 Identify and propose recommendations for future travel based on review outcomes.
  - 4.3 Review own work performance and identify potential improvements.

Assessment Requirements for SISXADM001 Organise and supervise participant travel

Modification History

Not applicable.

Performance Evidence

Evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit in the context of the job role, and:

- organise and supervise travel arrangements for at least three different groups of participants and their associated equipment for a sport or recreation activity.

Knowledge Evidence

Demonstrated knowledge required to complete the tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit:

- organisational policies and procedures for making travel arrangements:
  - work health and safety/occupational health and safety
  - duty of care
  - roles and responsibilities of staff
  - communication protocols
  - liability
  - insurance
  - codes of behaviour
  - protocols for making travel arrangements
  - reporting obligations
- legislation related to the organisation of travel:
  - work health and safety/occupational health and safety
  - anti-discrimination
  - road safety and transport
  - conditions of carriage
  - working with children
  - privacy
  - consumer law
- sources of information on travel options for different types of trips and groups
- logistical issues involved in organising travel:
  - booking systems
  - insurance

- medical assistance
- meals
- departure and arrival times
- comfort and hygiene
- general supervision and support
- risk management planning for:
  - disruption to travel arrangements
  - injury or illness
  - alterations to schedules
  - misplaced, lost or damaged equipment and belongings
  - accidents
- communication strategies for managing groups:
  - head counts
  - rolls
  - buddy systems or travel partners
  - codes of behaviour
  - communication strategies.

Assessment Conditions

Skills must be demonstrated in:

- a sport, fitness or recreation environment. This can be a workplace or simulated environment.

Assessment must ensure use of:

- legislation and organisational policies and procedures such as travel booking procedures, communication protocols, privacy and confidentiality
- industry or organisation documentation for travel
- logistical resources and equipment required for travel
- groups of participants for whom travel is organised; participants can be:
  - individuals in sport or recreation organisations, or
  - individuals who participate in project activities, role plays or simulated activities, set up for the purpose of assessment, within a training organisation.

Assessment activities that allow the individual to:

- organise travel arrangements within realistic time constraints
- supervise travel arrangements of a duration that reflects typical trip duration in the area of work.

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisations' requirements for assessors.

Assessment Requirements for SISXCAI001 Provide equipment for activities

Modification History

Not applicable.

Performance Evidence

Evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit in the context of the job role, and:

- set up, demonstrate, use, dismantle, and store at least ten different pieces of equipment for activities over at least three different sessions
- demonstrate the use of:
  - appropriate equipment suitable to the activity and participant requirements
  - appropriate personal protection equipment such as helmets, gloves, shin pads
- convey information about essential safety aspects of all equipment
- complete the appropriate documentation to record:
  - a variety of equipment issued to participants
  - at least one missing piece of equipment
  - at least one damaged piece of equipment.

Knowledge Evidence

Demonstrated knowledge required to complete the tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit:

- strategies to access and provide equipment for the relevant sessions
- basic aspects of legislation that enable safe equipment use, maintenance and storage:
  - work health and safety/occupational health and safety requirements
- organisational policies and procedure to enable safe equipment use, maintenance and storage
  - safety procedures
  - communication protocols
  - roles and responsibilities of different people, and types of tasks undertaken
  - reporting channels
  - managing payments and refunds for equipment hire
  - equipment hire
  - frequency and scope of equipment checks
  - reporting and record keeping
- equipment specifications and instructions to enable the selection and safe use of appropriate equipment for identified activities

- equipment testing and checking techniques, as specified by manufacturer, for:
  - damage
  - missing parts
  - failure to operate
  - structural faults.

Assessment Conditions

Skills must be demonstrated in:

- a sport, fitness or recreation environment with access to required equipment for participants. This can be a workplace or simulated environment.

Assessment must ensure use of:

- up-to-date equipment currently used in the sport, fitness or recreation industries, to ensure:
  - safety, e.g. helmets, head gear, gloves
  - the participant can participate in activities to suit their goals, e.g. racquets, bats, balls
- workplace documents currently used in the sport, fitness or recreation industries:
  - equipment hiring documentation
  - safety and maintenance of equipment checklists and report forms
- organisational policies and procedures related to reporting and record keeping.
- activity supervisor and participants in a sport, fitness or recreation activity; supervisor and participants can be:
  - staff and participants in an industry workplace who are assisted by the individual during the assessment process or
  - individuals who participate in role plays or simulated activities, set up for the purpose of assessment, in a simulated industry environment operated within a training organisation.

Assessment activities that allow the individual to:

- provide equipment for sport, fitness or recreation sessions for a range of participants over a period of time that adequately reflects the workplace role, for example: pre-season of a sport; a community health program delivered over several weeks; or a gym program delivered over a period of time to achieve goals.

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisations' requirements for assessors.

Assessment Requirements for SISXCAI002 Assist with activity sessions

Modification History

Not applicable.

Performance Evidence

Evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit in the context of the job role, and:

- assist a supervisor to plan and conduct at least five different sport, fitness or recreation sessions involving:
  - completion of allocated tasks according to instructions of supervisor and session plan
  - communication of essential information:
    - content of activity
    - timing and sequencing of components
    - appropriate apparel and footwear
    - safe use of equipment
    - instructions to complete an activity
    - potential hazards
- use the following communication skills:
  - clear verbal communication
  - modelling and demonstration
  - motivational techniques
- contribute to each session evaluation:
  - provision of personal feedback
  - collection of participant feedback:
    - suitability and safety of facilities and equipment
    - content of session
    - structure and content of the activity or session
    - participant progress.

Knowledge Evidence

Demonstrated knowledge required to complete the tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit:

- basic aspects of legislation related to planning, conducting and evaluating sport, fitness or recreation sessions:
  - work health and safety/occupational health and safety requirements

- equal opportunity and anti-discrimination
- privacy and confidentiality
- working with children requirements
- organisational policies and procedures related to planning, conducting and evaluating sport, fitness or recreation sessions:
  - safety procedures
  - communication protocols
  - roles and responsibilities of different people, and types of tasks undertaken
  - reporting channels
  - reporting and record keeping
  - frequency and scope of equipment checks
- the aims of sport, fitness or recreation sessions:
  - maximise participation
  - inspire confidence
  - provide motivation
  - assist with self-improvement
  - make lifestyle adjustments
  - entertainment
  - social opportunities
  - develop team work
  - develop gross motor skills
- components of sport, fitness or recreation session plans:
  - objectives
  - equipment
  - time
  - location
  - content
  - order
  - phases: warm-up, conditioning, cool-down
- potential hazards associated with activities and strategies to maximise safe participation
- techniques and skills appropriate to the session:
  - warm-up techniques
  - cool-down techniques
- equipment specifications and instructions to enable the selection and safe use of appropriate equipment for identified activities
- techniques to motivate participants to encourage interaction and participation
- organisational referral and reporting requirements, to a supervisor or other appropriate personnel, in cases where there is:
  - sudden illness
  - aggressive behaviour

- bullying
- harassment
- participant behaviour
- inappropriate activity type or duration
- equipment failure.

Assessment Conditions

Skills must be demonstrated in:

- a sport, fitness or recreation environment with access to required equipment for participants. This can be a workplace or simulated environment.

Assessment must ensure use of:

- up-to-date equipment currently used in the sport, fitness or recreation industries, to ensure:
  - safety, e.g. helmets, head gear, gloves
  - the participant can participate in activities to suit their goals, e.g. racquets, bats, balls
- workplace documents currently used in the sport, fitness or recreation industries:
  - session plans
  - session and equipment checklists
  - participant feedback or evaluation forms
- organisational policies and procedures related to:
  - preparing, conducting and evaluating activity sessions
  - roles and responsibilities of leaders or supervisors, and assistants
- activity supervisor and participants in a sport, fitness or recreation activity; supervisor and participants can be:
  - staff and participants in an industry workplace who are assisted by the individual during the assessment process or
  - individuals who participate in role plays or simulated activities, set up for the purpose of assessment, in a simulated industry environment operated within a training organisation.

Assessment activities that allow the individual to:

- assist a leader or supervisor in the conduct of sport, fitness or recreation sessions over a period of time, that adequately reflects the workplace role, for example: pre-season of a sport; a community health program delivered over several weeks; or a gym program delivered over a period of time to achieve goals.

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisations' requirements for assessors.

Performance Evidence

Evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit in the context of the job role, and:

- facilitate the inclusion of at least three people with different disabilities in sport, fitness or recreation activities
- select and use communication strategies suited to individual clients, including the following:
  - active listening
  - open questioning
  - non-verbal
  - visual
  - sensory
  - tactile
- apply principles and practices of social justice, anti-discrimination and equal access to identify the needs and opportunities for participation in recreation activities
- identify strategies to align recreational opportunities with the specific requirements and needs of people with a disability.

Knowledge Evidence

Demonstrated knowledge required to complete the tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit:

- legislation and organisational policies and procedures that:
  - enable non-discriminatory treatment of people with a disability using community inclusion principles
  - identify and meet individual preferences according to the principles and practices of social justice
- social, political, cultural and historical issues that affect, or are relevant to, access and participation issues for people with a disability
- principles and practices of:
  - access and equity
  - confidentiality
  - empowerment/disempowerment in relation to people with a disability

- communication needs, strategies and resources in relation to people with a disability
- key issues facing people with a disability and their carers
- barriers that affect the access and participation of people with a disability:
  - cultural
  - family
  - religious
  - community perceptions
  - impact of disability on participation
  - communication difficulties
  - transport
  - time and resource constraints
  - confidence
  - support services available
- community inclusion principles to enable effective participation of people with a disability
- strategies that support people with disabilities to exercise their rights and independence
- types of requirements likely to be associated with different developmental and acquired disabilities:
  - acquired brain injury
  - autism spectrum disorder
  - cognitive disability
  - developmental delay
  - intellectual disability
  - neurological impairment
  - physical disability
  - sensory disability, including hearing, vision impairment
  - speech/language disability
- resources required for the effective participation of people with a disability
- recreation opportunities and activities that may be appropriate for people with different types of disability
- modified equipment and activities appropriate to people with a disability.

Assessment Conditions

Skills must be demonstrated in:

- a sport, fitness or recreation environment. This can be a workplace or simulated environment.

Assessment must ensure use of:

- people with differing disability needs and expectations who require appropriate support, services, and facilities
- documented organisational policies and procedures concerning inclusion processes

- technology for the storage and processing of client information
- sources of information about recreational services and options for people with a disability.

Assessment activities that allow the individual to:

- respond to challenges typical in work to support recreational inclusion for people with a disability.

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisations' requirements for assessors.

Elements and Performance Criteria

ELEMENTS

Elements describe the essential outcomes

PERFORMANCE CRITERIA

Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.

1. Establish needs and expectations.
  - 1.1 Interpret information about participant characteristics, needs and special requirements.
  - 1.2 Encourage participants to articulate their own needs and expectations.
  - 1.3 Make assessments of participant capacity in consultation with relevant support personnel and within scope of own responsibility.
  - 1.4 Identify potential barriers to participation.
  - 1.5 Advise participants of factors preventing participation in a program.
2. Plan programs for people.
  - 2.1 Access and interpret relevant information to plan programs for people with a disability.
  - 2.2 Assess the likely demands of the program on the participants in consultation with appropriate staff.
  - 2.3 Select and access equipment and resources appropriate for the program.
  - 2.4 Design and document a program plan to meet the identified needs and abilities of participants.
  - 2.5 Determine range of activities and strategies for inclusion appropriate to the context, participant needs and capabilities.
  - 2.6 Recognise risks to participant safety and act to eliminate or minimise risks.
  - 2.7 Identify and incorporate injury prevention strategies and support requirements.
  - 2.8 Seek agreement on the program plan from relevant staff, participants and organisations where relevant.
3. Prepare for programs.
  - 3.1 Inspect and confirm set-up of location and equipment; report issues to person responsible.
  - 3.2 Provide clear and accurate instructions and information using communication techniques suited to participants.
  - 3.3 Confirm understanding and encourage participants to seek clarification as required.
  - 3.4 Issue required equipment and aids and provide assistance with fitting where necessary.
  - 3.5 Modify equipment for use by different participant groups.
  - 3.6 Identify emerging risks to participant safety and take action to minimise these.
4. Conduct programs.
  - 4.1 Encourage participants to warm up and cool down through safe and appropriate exercises.
  - 4.2 Monitor technique, correct use of equipment and aids and provide feedback and assistance to participants.
  - 4.3 Encourage participants to seek and provide feedback regarding their progress during the program and modify as - required.

- 4.4 Use techniques that motivate participants to maintain an appropriate participation rate.
5. Conclude programs.
- 5.1 Conclude program at a pace appropriate to participants, their level of involvement and duration of the program.
- 5.2 Inform participants of follow-up programs, sources of information and further opportunities.
- 5.3 Collect and check issued equipment for damage and wear and report problems to appropriate staff.
6. Evaluate programs.
- 6.1 Request and respond to feedback from participants and identify further needs.
- 6.2 Evaluate program components and record outcomes.
- 6.3 Identify and document potential areas for improvement in future programs.
- 6.4 Review own performance and identify potential improvements.

Assessment Requirements for SISXEMR001 Respond to emergency situations

Modification History

Not applicable.

Performance Evidence

Evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit in the context of the job role, and:

- respond to at least five of the following emergency situations, relevant to the individual's current or intended work situation:
  - fire
  - hazardous release
  - bomb threat
  - medical
  - accidents
  - panic and other emotional responses
  - equipment failure
  - lost party member
  - changing environmental conditions
  - activity specific
- use the necessary emergency equipment for each situation in an appropriate manner.

Knowledge Evidence

Demonstrated knowledge required to complete the tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit:

- organisational policies and procedures related to emergency responses:
  - communication lines
  - debrief procedures
  - duty of care
  - emergency procedures
  - environment protection
  - exit and assembly points
  - hazardous substances and dangerous goods
  - industry codes of practice
  - reporting incidents
  - work health and safety/occupational health and safety

- reporting and managing customer incidents
- appropriate responses to emergency situations, as specified in the Performance Evidence
- safe use of emergency equipment required for emergency responses:
  - fire extinguisher
  - fire blanket
  - first-aid kit
  - emergency-signalling devices
  - portable emergency shelter
  - thermal blankets and sheets
  - emergency lighting
  - dehydration equipment
- the role of appropriate personnel in the workplace:
  - work health and safety/occupational health and safety representative
  - human resources personnel
  - team leader
  - manager

- role of communication systems:
  - emergency warning and alarm systems
  - hand signals
  - telephone and radio communications
  - whistles
  - flares
- communication techniques for supporting and reassuring customers
- range of formats for and inclusions of incident reports.

Assessment Conditions

Skills must be demonstrated in:

- a sport, fitness or recreation environment where the individual is exposed to simulated emergencies requiring response. This can be a workplace or simulated environment.

Assessment must ensure access to:

- current industry procedures for reporting and managing emergency situations
- legislation relevant to emergencies:
  - occupational health and safety/work health and safety
  - duty of care
  - environment protection
  - hazardous substances and dangerous goods
  - public health and safety
  - industry codes of practice.

Assessment must ensure use of:

- equipment and resources to ensure adequate response to emergencies relevant to work role and workplace, for example:
  - hoses
  - ladders
  - rescue equipment
  - monitors
  - foam equipment and extinguishers
  - blankets
  - spill kits
  - personal protective clothing and equipment
  - salvage gear
  - first aid and evacuation equipment
- a variety of clients and/or participants requiring an emergency response, clients and participants can be:
  - clients and participants in a sport, fitness or recreation industry workplace who are assisted by the individual during the assessment process or
  - individuals who participate in role plays or simulated activities, set up for the purpose of assessment, in a simulated industry environment operated within a training organisation.

Assessment activities that allow the individual to:

- coordinate participant movement during emergency situations
- respond to a range of emergencies in a sport, fitness or recreation environment, within the required, but realistic, timeframe
- use the required emergency equipment to respond to emergency situations.

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisations' requirements for assessors.

Assessment Requirements for SISXFAC002 Maintain sport, fitness and recreation facilities

Modification History

Not applicable.

Performance Evidence

Evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit in the context of the job role, and:

- select and safely use cleaning agents and equipment to clean at least two of the following areas over three service periods:
  - outdoor
  - indoor
  - dry or wet recreation centre
  - built and non-built
- complete the above in response to at least three of the following hazards:
  - leaking or damaged containers
  - defects in the storage area
  - contamination
  - spillages
  - unsecured equipment
  - breakages
- complete above cleaning tasks to required standards while:
  - conserving resources in the cleaning process
  - disposing of or recycling waste
  - using correct manual-handling and cleaning techniques
  - using hygienic cleaning practices
  - within commercially-realistic timeframes
  - minimising disruption to clients
- complete all required documentation according to policies and procedures and with the following information:
  - dates and times
  - areas cleaned
  - staff member involvement.

Knowledge Evidence

Demonstrated knowledge required to complete the tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit:

- cleaning chemicals, equipment and procedures for wet and dry surfaces and materials:
  - wet:
    - toilets
    - basins
    - walls
  - dry:
    - carpet
    - laminate
    - soft furnishings
    - woodwork
- safe operational practices using essential functions and features of equipment used to clean wet and dry areas
- role and use of safety data sheets (SDS)
- safe manual-handling techniques when:
  - carrying
  - lifting
  - pulling
  - pushing
- safe handling requirements for hazardous cleaning products, including their disposal
- hygiene procedures and requirements:
  - hygiene responsibilities of cleaning staff
  - hygiene hazards for cleaning, including potential food contamination and transmission of airborne illnesses
  - cleaning practices that minimise hygiene risks
- ways of minimising negative environmental impacts in the cleaning process:
  - resource conservation – energy and water
  - waste disposal
- standards for presentation of premises and organisational procedures to achieve them
- hazards associated with cleaning agents and methods of minimising these:
  - leaking or damaged containers
  - defects in the storage area
  - contamination
  - spillages
  - unsecured equipment
  - breakages.

Assessment Conditions

Skills must be demonstrated in:

- a sport, fitness or recreation facility. This can be a workplace or simulated facility.

Assessment must ensure access to:

- fixtures, large equipment and wet and dry areas to be cleaned, that include a range of different hard and soft surfaces
- cleaning equipment:
  - electrically operated equipment:
    - polishers
    - scrubbers
    - vacuum cleaners
  - garbage receptacles
  - manual equipment:
    - brushes
    - buckets
    - dusters
    - mops
    - pans
    - toilet brushes
  - range of cloths:
    - dry
    - dusting
    - lint-free
    - polishing
    - wet
- cleaning agents and chemicals for hard and soft surfaces:
  - acid-based products
  - agents for specialised surfaces:
    - glass
    - wood
  - cream cleansers
  - deodorisers
  - disinfectants
  - multi-surface cleaners
  - sanitisers
  - spot cleaning agents
  - pesticides
- personal protective clothing:

- aprons
- breathing apparatus
- gloves
- goggles and masks
- headwear
- jackets
- overalls
- waterproof clothing and footwear
- organisational specifications:
  - equipment manufacturer instructions
  - organisational procedures for cleaning premises and equipment
  - standards for presentation of premises.

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisations' requirements for assessors.

SISXFAC003 Implement facility maintenance programs

Modification History

Not applicable.

Application

This unit describes the performance outcomes, skills and knowledge required to implement a maintenance program for a facility, including monitoring equipment, supplies and assets.

This unit applies to recreation or grounds assistants under supervision in a range of roles and settings in the sport, fitness or recreation industry. This includes providing support in the provision of grounds and facilities maintenance and routine housekeeping in locations such as fitness centres, outdoor sporting grounds or complexes, aquatic centres and community recreation centres. Work is performed according to relevant legislation and organisational policies and procedures.

No occupational licensing, certification or specific legislative requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

Elements and Performance Criteria

ELEMENTS

Elements describe the essential outcomes

1. Identify maintenance program requirements.

PERFORMANCE CRITERIA

Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.

- 1.1 Access relevant organisational maintenance programs for the facility.

- 1.2 Clarify responsibilities with appropriate personnel as required.
  - 1.3 Identify maintenance schedules and budgets.
  - 1.4 Offer suggestions that support the effective implementation of the maintenance program.
  - 1.5 Identify strategies to minimise impact of maintenance activities on facility users.
2. Implement a maintenance program.
  - 2.1 Conduct routine maintenance activities within scheduled timeframes and budgets.
  - 2.2 Maintain facility function without interruption where possible.
  - 2.3 Maintain safety of facility users at all times.
  - 2.4 Respond promptly to requests for maintenance assistance.
  - 2.5 Research and seek feedback from facility users on effectiveness of maintenance program.
  - 2.6 Report recommendations to the responsible person, which contribute to the increased efficiency of maintenance.
3. Respond to failed or unsafe equipment.
  - 3.1 Identify faulty equipment and erect clear and noticeable warning signs.
  - 3.2 Assess failed or unsafe equipment.
  - 3.3 Perform repairs within designated responsibility.
  - 3.4 Tag and isolate unsafe equipment, which cannot be repaired within own area of responsibility, promptly.
  - 3.5 Report unsafe equipment promptly to the responsible person and document as required.
  - 3.6 Complete reports on all repair work undertaken.
4. Monitor supplies and records.
  - 4.1 Maintain supply and stock levels to ensure ongoing availability.
  - 4.2 Purchase, receipt, store and issue supplies.
  - 4.3 Reconcile supply and stocks levels with paperwork and rectify or report discrepancies to nominated person within designated timelines.
  - 4.4 Maintain supply records and update.
5. Monitor function and value of assets.
  - 5.1 Check condition of assets regularly against criteria to ensure retention of function and value.
  - 5.2 Respond to identify problems promptly.
  - 5.3 Determine value of supplies and stock.

Assessment Requirements for SISXFAC003 Implement facility maintenance programs

Modification History

Not applicable.

Performance Evidence

Evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit in the context of the job role, and:

- implement facility maintenance programs that meet scheduled timeframes for at least one facility that incorporates:
  - organisational schedules for short and long-term maintenance programs for four of the following facilities and equipment:
    - capital items
    - fittings and fixtures
    - equipment
    - premises
    - plant
    - motor vehicles
    - environment
  - maintenance requests and feedback from facility users
  - budget restrictions
- maintain records according to organisational requirements and manage discrepancies.

Knowledge Evidence

Demonstrated knowledge required to complete the tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit:

- legislation to enable:
  - safe implementation of maintenance operations
  - reporting of unsafe equipment
- organisational policies and procedures to enable maintenance programs to be carried out efficiently, safely and responsibly:
  - isolation procedures for failed or unsafe equipment
  - purchasing and receipting procedures
  - reporting of unsafe equipment
- own responsibilities within maintenance program to enable tasks to be carried out responsibly
- suppliers for specific products, supplies and services

- purchase specifications to enable the purchase of quality stock
- strategies to minimise disruptions to facility users when carrying out maintenance requirements
- techniques to enable routine maintenance tasks to be completed safely and efficiently
- basic gardening techniques and operations to carry out maintenance schedules as required
- basic principles of supply and demand to ensure optimum stock levels are maintained.

Assessment Conditions

Skills must be demonstrated in:

- a sport, fitness or recreation facility. This can be a workplace or simulated facility.

Assessment must ensure use of:

- a facility for which a maintenance program would be implemented
- organisational policies and procedures on which procedures are based
- reporting documentation
- resources to maintain facility and equipment.

Assessment must ensure access to:

- maintenance equipment
- supplies and stock:
  - first aid
  - pool chemicals (where applicable)
  - office supplies
  - hygiene and sanitary supplies (where applicable)
  - cleaning supplies
  - activity-specific equipment
- organisational policies and procedures in relation to facility maintenance:
  - work health and safety/occupational health and safety
  - documents relating to purchase, receipt, storage and issue
  - record keeping
  - maintenance timeframes and schedules
  - roles and responsibilities of staff
  - isolation and reporting of failed or unsafe equipment
- relevant legislation:
  - work health and safety/occupational health and safety
  - building codes and regulations
  - fire regulations
  - health acts
  - industrial relations

- environment legislation
- local government regulations
- Australian tax office regulations
- information on equipment safety specifications
- appropriate personnel such as facility managers and supervisors; these can be:
  - personnel in an industry workplace who are assisted by the individual during the assessment process or
  - individuals who participate in role plays or simulated activities, set up for the purpose of assessment, in a simulated industry environment operated within a training organisation.

Assessment activities that allow the individual to:

- implement and monitor maintenance of a facility over time.

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisations' requirements for assessors.

SISXFAC004 Coordinate facility and equipment acquisition and maintenance

Modification History

Not applicable.

Application

This unit describes the performance outcomes, skills and knowledge required to develop a maintenance plan for a facility and coordinate the implementation and review of acquisition and maintenance requirements. It does not include specialist skills, but focuses on the need for managers to proactively plan for and manage the acquisition and maintenance of physical assets.

This unit applies to facility or operations managers in locations such as fitness centres, outdoor sporting grounds or complexes, aquatic centres or community recreation centres. These individuals are responsible for managing the implementation of a broad range of facility maintenance systems and staff, and have a high degree of autonomy. Work is performed according to relevant legislation and organisational policies and procedures.

No occupational licensing, certification or specific legislative requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

    - existing status
    - frequency
  - formal and informal customer and staff feedback
  - procedures for integrating day-to-day condition reports
    - scheduled
    - internal or external inspections or audits
  - implementation of maintenance plan and any alterations to the plan as required
- develop and maintain a current register for above assets.

Knowledge Evidence

Demonstrated knowledge required to complete the tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit :

- legislation to enable:
  - safe coordination and implementation of maintenance operations
  - reporting of unsafe equipment
- organisational policies and procedures to enable maintenance programs to be planned and implemented efficiently, safely and responsibly
- types of physical assets required by industry and the organisation
- maintenance requirements for different types of physical assets
- formats for and inclusions of asset registers specified in performance evidence
- features and benefits of different financing options for asset acquisition:
  - hire purchase
  - lease
  - purchase
  - rent
- depreciation that can be applied to different types of physical assets
- practices to support environmental sustainability using different types of physical assets
- safety standards of equipment and maintenance techniques relevant to the equipment being maintained
- contract and legal requirements for outsourced repairs
- schedule of facility operations to enable maintenance to be carried out with minimum disruption
- re-order levels for consumables
- criteria for assessing the safety of materials and equipment.

Assessment Conditions

Skills must be demonstrated in:

- a sport, fitness or recreation facility for which physical assets are monitored and maintained. This can be a workplace or simulated facility.

Assessment must ensure use of:

- resources and equipment to implement maintenance plan,
- current commercial purchase specifications, supplier product and cost information and contractual documentation used for the purchase of assets
- suppliers with whom the individual can interact and negotiate; these can be:
  - suppliers in an industry workplace or
  - individuals who participate in role plays or simulated activities, set up for the purpose of assessment, in a simulated industry environment operated within a training organisation.

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisations' requirements for assessors.

Assessment Requirements for SISXMG001 Develop and maintain stakeholder relationships

Modification History

Not applicable.

Performance Evidence

Evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit in the context of the job role, and:

- develop, implement and evaluate strategies to promote effective stakeholder relationships with at least two of the following stakeholder types:
  - government agencies
  - funding agencies
  - community organisations
  - peak bodies
  - boards of management
  - enterprises
  - industry associations
- select and use at least three different techniques and methods for stakeholder communication.

Knowledge Evidence

Demonstrated knowledge required to complete the tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit:

- key stakeholders likely to impact the organisation and the types of strategies and communication methods for building relationships, as specified in the Performance Evidence
- roles and functions of different stakeholders in the industry and how these are changing in relation to:
  - funding
  - management
  - decision-making
  - sponsorship
- organisational policies and procedures for stakeholder relationship management:
  - stakeholder consultation and engagement
  - communication protocols and methods for different situations
  - evaluation measures and criteria
  - conflict resolution procedures

- information management and security
- strengths and weaknesses of different types of stakeholder communication
- barriers to effective communication with stakeholders and ways to respond
- information and resources of stakeholders:
  - facilities
  - equipment
  - grants or funding
  - personnel
  - services
- legislative requirements relating to communication of information.

Assessment Conditions

Skills must be demonstrated in:

- a workplace or simulated industry environment.

Assessment must ensure use of:

- legislative information related to communication of information
- information about stakeholder groups / organisations
- individuals and groups with whom the candidate builds relationships; these can be:
  - individuals in industry organisations, or
  - individuals who participate in project activities, role plays or simulated activities, set up for the purpose of assessment, within a training organisation.

Assessment activities that allow the individual to:

- plan and implement strategies over time.

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisations' requirements for assessors.

SISXRES001 Conduct sustainable work practices in open spaces

Modification History

Not applicable.

Application

This unit describes the performance outcomes, skills and knowledge required to plan and conduct work in open spaces while upholding sustainable practices. This unit requires the ability to conduct research of the current land condition, capability, uses and practices, and develop and implement strategies to achieve sustainable practices for outdoor programs and activities.

This unit applies to operation or program managers who are responsible for planning, implementing and evaluating sport, recreation or fitness programs and activities across a range of activity areas. They work autonomously with responsibility for management of resources and upholding of sustainable work practices.

No occupational licensing, certification or specific legislative requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

SITTGDE002 Work as a guide

Modification History

Not applicable.

Application

This unit describes the performance outcomes, skills and knowledge required to work effectively as a guide. It covers key legal, ethical, safety, environmental and professional development issues that guides must consider in their day-to-day work.

This unit applies to guides who may work across multiple industry sectors as employees, volunteers, or independent contractors. They may operate within a single site, or in a particular city, region or tourist precinct, but often move across sites, cities and regions.

Guides apply discretion and judgement within established organisational procedures, and when guiding a tour or activity they take a lead role without supervision. Sometimes guides are the owner-operators of small tour operations.

Tour guides, residing anywhere in Australia, are required to undertake training and assessment prescribed by Parks Australia to guide within Kakadu and Uluru–Kata Tjuta National Parks in the Northern Territory.

When working in Queensland, all guides, regardless of their place of residence, are subject to the Queensland Tourism Services Act 2003.

No other occupational licensing, certification or specific legislative requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

1.1. Identify key guide information sources and contacts.

1.2. Review required roles and responsibilities for prospective guiding activity.

1.3. Plan resource, labour and logistical aspects of the guiding activity.

1.4. Use industry knowledge and guide networks to enhance the quality of guiding services provided to customers.

2.1. Liaise with internal and external stakeholders to organise all aspects of the guiding activity.

2.2. Achieve mutual understanding and agree on details relevant to guiding activities.

2.3. Provide accurate information and explanations about customer requirements and special requests.

2.4. Identify nature and key facts of operational problems and provide appropriate solutions in consultation with tourism operator.

3.1. Conduct guiding activities according to legal, industry and safety requirements.

3.2. Actively participate in risk assessment as an integral part of work activities.

3.3. Take account of ethical considerations for particular contexts.

3.4. Support sustainable work practices.

4.1. Identify and use opportunities to update knowledge and skills required by guides.

4.2. Maintain knowledge of technologies used by guides.

4.3. Identify and access sources of guide support when required.

4.4. Share knowledge with colleagues to enhance quality of service provided to customers.

  - economic:
    - business profitability
  - environmental:
    - minimal impact practices
    - waste minimisation
  - social:
    - host community interactions
    - Australian Indigenous contexts.

Assessment Conditions

Skills must be demonstrated in an operational guiding environment. This can be:

- a real guiding activity
- a simulated industry environment or activity.

Assessment must ensure access to:

- environments in which guiding activities take place:
  - tourist attractions
  - visitor sites
  - on board various forms of transportation
- organisational specifications:
  - codes of conduct
  - procedures for liaising with tourism industry operators that are involved in the operation of guided activities
  - running sheets for tours and activities
  - incident report templates
  - passenger lists
  - risk assessment template
- microphone
- props and signage

- customer groups of a size and nature that reflect the commercial environment in which the guide operates
- tourism industry operators with whom the individual can interact; these can be:
  - those involved in organising a tour or activity who interact with the individual during the assessment process; or
  - individuals who participate in role plays or simulated activities set up for the purpose of assessment in an operational touring context
- participants undertaking a tour or activity for whom the individual can act as guide; participants can be:
  - those participating in a tour or activity who interact with the individual during the assessment process; or
  - individuals who participate in role plays or simulated activities set up for the purpose of assessment in an operational touring context.

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisations' requirements for assessors; and:

- have worked in industry for at least three years where they have applied the skills and knowledge of this unit of competency.

SITTGDE004 Lead tour groups

Modification History

Not applicable.

Application

This unit describes the performance outcomes, skills and knowledge required to coordinate a tour group. It focuses on the communication and leadership skills required by guides, and the ability to coordinate the physical movement of groups.

This unit can apply to any situation where a guide or tour manager is involved in delivering a tour or activity to a group of customers. This could include tours of single sites or tours that include multiple products and sites.

It is relevant in industries where group tours or activities take place in museums, galleries, libraries, places of historical or cultural significance, performing arts centres or zoos; to sport and recreation industries where groups participate in outdoor and adventure activities, such as guided bushwalking; and to any industry that operates tours for business or promotional purposes.

Leading tour groups requires organisational and communication skills and guides who perform this function operate independently or with limited guidance from others.

Tour guides, residing anywhere in Australia, are required to undertake training and assessment prescribed by Parks Australia to guide within Kakadu and Uluru–Kata Tjuta National Parks in the Northern Territory.

When working in Queensland, all guides, regardless of their place of residence, are subject to the Queensland Tourism Services Act 2003.

No other occupational licensing, certification or specific legislative requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

Assessment Requirements for SITTGDE004 Lead tour groups

Modification History

Not applicable.

Performance Evidence

Evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit in the context of the job role, and:

- coordinate and lead at least three tours with different customer groups from among the following durations:
  - short tours (three hours or less)
  - half or full day tours
  - overnight tours
  - extended tours (two or more nights)
- demonstrate use of techniques to build group cohesion during each of the above tours.

Knowledge Evidence

Demonstrated knowledge required to complete the tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit:

- techniques to build group cohesion:
  - encouraging interaction between group members
  - focusing the group on shared activities
  - use of group activities or games
  - inviting individuals to address the group
  - using seat rotation systems
  - using the skills of individual group members in the operation of the tour
- organisational procedures for locating lost or late group members and coordinating reunion with the group
- minimal impact practices relevant to the specific site or location where each tour is conducted
- types of conflict, people management issues and group problems (interpersonal and operational) likely to arise in a group touring situation:
  - typical causes
  - appropriate responses.

Assessment Conditions

Skills must be demonstrated in an operational touring environment that reflects the nature of tours commercially available in the relevant city or region. This can be:

- a commercial environment where tour guide activities are conducted
- a simulated commercial environment or activity where tour guide activities are conducted.

Assessment must ensure access to:

- organisational specifications:
  - running sheets for tours and activities
  - incident report templates
  - passenger lists
- real or simulated touring activities
- microphone
- props and signage
- customer groups of a size and nature that reflect the commercial environment in which the guide operates
- participants undertaking a tour or activity for whom the individual can act as guide; participants can be:
  - those participating in a tour or activity who interact with the individual during the assessment process; or
  - individuals who participate in role plays or simulated activities set up for the purpose of assessment in an operational touring context.

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisations' requirements for assessors; and:

- have worked in industry for at least three years where they have applied the skills and knowledge of this unit of competency.

SITGDE005 Prepare and present tour commentaries or activities

Modification History

Not applicable.

Application

This unit describes the performance outcomes, skills and knowledge required to construct commentaries or activities and to use effective interpretation and presentation techniques to ensure customer participation and enjoyment in tours or activities. Guides may be presenting generalist or specialist information.

It is relevant in industries where group tours or activities take place in museums, galleries, libraries, places of historical or cultural significance, performing arts centres or zoos; to sport and recreation industries where groups participate in outdoor and adventure activities, such as guided bushwalking; and to any industry that operates tours for business or promotional purposes.

This unit applies in any context where individuals develop and present commentaries or activities that involve creative approaches to the preparation and delivery of information. Guides of all types working independently with limited supervision undertake this role.

Tour guides, residing anywhere in Australia, are required to undertake training and assessment prescribed by Parks Australia to guide within Kakadu and Uluru–Kata Tjuta National Parks in the Northern Territory.

When working in Queensland, all guides, regardless of their place of residence, are subject to the Queensland Tourism Services Act 2003.

No other occupational licensing, certification or specific legislative requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

SITTGDE006 Develop and maintain the general and regional knowledge required by guides

Modification History

Not applicable.

Application

This unit describes the performance outcomes, skills and knowledge required to research information on Australia and local regions for presentation to customers. It requires broad general knowledge of Australia plus some regional and location-specific knowledge. It highlights the need for ongoing research to update and expand knowledge.

This unit applies to all guides regardless of the context in which they work. Wherever guides are located or travel, they must maintain and expand their general knowledge base as a key professional development activity. In this context, they work independently or under limited guidance from others.

No occupational licensing, certification or specific legislative requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

SITTGDE007 Research and share general information on Australian Indigenous cultures

Modification History

Not applicable.

Application

This unit describes the performance outcomes, skills and knowledge required to research and share information about Australian Indigenous cultures in an appropriate way. It focuses on information that is widely available to the general community.

The unit recognises that there is no single Australian Indigenous culture and emphasises the importance of culturally appropriate behaviour and local community consultation.

This unit applies across many industry sectors. It is particularly relevant to cultural tourism operations and to individuals who work in customer service and guiding roles with differing levels of responsibility. Information could apply to Australian Indigenous communities and cultures across Australia, or to a specific Australian Indigenous community and culture.

Tour guides, residing anywhere in Australia, are required to undertake training and assessment prescribed by Parks Australia to guide within Kakadu and Uluru–Kata Tjuta National Parks in the Northern Territory.

When working in Queensland, all guides, regardless of their place of residence, are subject to the Queensland Tourism Services Act 2003.

No other occupational licensing, certification or specific legislative requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

SITTGDE009 Prepare specialised interpretive content on marine environments

Modification History

Not applicable.

Application

This unit describes the performance outcomes, skills and knowledge required to research and critically analyse specialised information on marine environments to develop interpretive themes and messages. It highlights the need for ongoing research to update and expand knowledge.

This unit applies across many industry sectors and has particular application to guides who work in marine parks, aquaria, on cruise or dive boats or in resort areas where there is strong visitor interest in the marine environment. In this context, guides work independently to research and prepare interpretive content.

No occupational licensing, certification or specific legislative requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

Assessment Requirements for SITTGDE009 Prepare specialised interpretive content on marine environments

Modification History

Not applicable.

Performance Evidence

Evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit in the context of the job role, and:

- prepare three different presentations, with each presentation:
  - using at least four credible and reliable sources of information
  - demonstrating knowledge of marine environments as listed in the knowledge evidence
  - using appropriate ecological terminology and concepts
  - incorporating interpretive themes and messages
  - organising information in a logical and suitable manner for presentation.

Knowledge Evidence

Demonstrated knowledge required to complete the tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit:

- role of interpretation in creating a powerful customer experience
- current interpretive theory, methods and media
- sources of information on the local marine environment
- key marine environments in the local area:
  - beach
  - lagoon estuarine
  - mangrove
  - marsh
  - reef
  - river estuarine
  - rock platform
- key ecological terminology and concepts:
  - biodiversity and abundance
  - biotic and physical factors
  - carbon cycle
  - community relations
  - energy flow
  - food web

- life cycles
- nutrient cycle
- populations
- succession
- water cycle
- zonation
- interrelationships between parts of the ecosystem in a marine context
- developmental processes related to the formation of different local marine environments and biogeography
- major species of animals and plant life within the local marine environment:
  - characteristics
  - commonalities
  - interactions between species and the environment
  - nature of species and where it is found
  - nutrition and life cycles
  - potentially hazardous marine organisms
  - roles of individual species within the ecosystem
- identification techniques for marine plants and animals
- environmental influences that affect the local marine environment
- nature of human impact on the local marine environment:
  - positive impacts
  - negative impacts:
    - types of boats and ships and their impact
    - fishing and its impact
- management and catchment management regimes for local marine environments, relevant authorities and codes of practice
- Australian Indigenous perspective on the local marine environment

SITTGDE011 Coordinate and operate tours

Modification History

Not applicable.

Application

This unit describes the performance outcomes, skills and knowledge required to conduct a tour for groups or individuals that includes multiple products, services and sites. It requires the ability to manage the tour logistics of a prearranged itinerary. The coordination of tour delivery requires significant planning and organisational skills as well as the ability to liaise with suppliers and industry colleagues to maximise tour efficiency and customer service quality.

This unit has particular application to guides engaged by tour operators, inbound tour operators and tour wholesalers. Sometimes these individuals are called driver guides or coach captains. In an extended touring context, the unit applies to tour managers who accompany tour groups on longer tours and manage the logistics of group movements and touring arrangements at each destination. The unit does not apply to guides working at a single site.

Individuals performing this function work independently in the field, within established organisational procedures.

Tour guides, residing anywhere in Australia, are required to undertake training and assessment prescribed by Parks Australia to guide within Kakadu and Uluru–Kata Tjuta National Parks in the Northern Territory.

When working in Queensland, all guides, regardless of their place of residence, are subject to the Queensland Tourism Services Act 2003.

No other occupational licensing, certification or specific legislative requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

SITTGDE012 Manage extended touring programs

Modification History

Not applicable.

Application

This unit describes the performance outcomes, skills and knowledge required to coordinate touring programs of more than one day duration. It requires the ability to manage all tour logistics and to solve touring and group member problems. It also requires skills to ensure the ongoing welfare and satisfaction of tour group members and to develop and maintain group cohesion and rapport.

This unit applies to tour operations, inbound tour operations and tour wholesaling sectors, and to tour managers, tour directors, tour leaders and tour escorts employed by those companies. These individuals may lead extended tours in Australia or overseas, and are responsible for logistical management of touring programs that usually include multiple destinations. They work independently in the field, within established organisational procedures. When on tour, they take a lead role without supervision, only referring problems to the tourism operator when absolutely necessary.

Tour guides, residing anywhere in Australia, are required to undertake training and assessment prescribed by Parks Australia to guide within Kakadu and Uluru–Kata Tjuta National Parks in the Northern Territory.

When working in Queensland, all guides, regardless of their place of residence, are subject to the Queensland Tourism Services Act 2003.

No other occupational licensing, certification or specific legislative requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

Elements and Performance Criteria

ELEMENTS

PERFORMANCE CRITERIA

Elements describe the essential outcomes.

Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.

1. Manage touring arrangements.

- 1.1. Manage touring program logistics in a holistic way taking account of legal, ethical, safety and sustainability considerations.
- 1.2. Conduct touring program according to prearranged itinerary.
- 1.3. Make forward reconfirmations and bookings progressively.
- 1.4. Reconfirm or arrange operational details progressively.
- 1.5. Make adjustments to touring arrangements when required within the scope of individual responsibility.
- 1.6. Make major adjustments within budget according to controlling office guidelines.
- 1.7. Maintain ongoing contact with controlling office and forward suppliers as required.

2. Liaise and negotiate with others.

- 2.1. Maximise operational efficiency and customer service levels by effective liaison and negotiation with those contributing to program operations.
- 2.2. Conduct negotiations in a professional manner in relevant cultural context.
- 2.3. Select negotiation style appropriate to circumstance and use negotiation and communication techniques to maximise chances of an acceptable outcome for all parties.
- 2.4. Conduct negotiations in context of entire touring program to take account of overall relationship between the organisation and other stakeholders.
- 2.5. Confirm agreements in writing as required.
- 2.6. Provide relevant information to controlling office as required.

3. Develop and maintain group rapport.

- 3.1. Develop and maintain a team spirit for duration of program.
- 3.2. Gain trust and confidence of group through demonstration of professional competence and integrity.
- 3.3. Use leadership and communication skills to foster group cohesion.
- 3.4. Encourage customer participation and group interaction.
- 3.5. Identify and assess potential conflicts within the group and should conflict arise, take appropriate action to resolve.

4. Resolve problems that arise on tour.
- 4.1. Identify and consider problems from an operational and customer service perspective in the context of the entire touring program.
  - 4.2. Initiate short-term action to resolve immediate problems where appropriate.
  - 4.3. Analyse problems for long-term commercial impact and assess and action solutions.
  - 4.4. Present a positive image of organisation and its contracted suppliers at all times.
  - 4.5. Take responsibility for resolving problems within scope of individual authority and to ensure customer satisfaction.
  - 4.6. Consult controlling office to resolve problems outside scope of guidelines and responsibility.
  - 4.7. Take appropriate follow-up action to monitor effectiveness of chosen solutions.

SITTPPD002 Develop interpretive activities

Modification History

Not applicable.

Application

This unit describes the performance outcomes, skills and knowledge required to develop interpretive activities for different customer groups. It requires the ability to establish educational, interpretive and commercial objectives for an activity; develop operational aspects; and evaluate the success of the activity. The actual presentation of activities is covered in the unit SITTGDE005 Prepare and present tour commentaries or activities.

The unit applies to many industry sectors and has particular relevance in tourism, sport and recreation, and cultural contexts. Interpretive activities take place on historical, cultural, heritage or nature-based tours, in attractions and theme parks, in national parks or in locations such as museums, galleries, libraries, performing arts centres and zoos. Activities could be virtual.

Planning and developing interpretive activities may be for a series of activities in a venue or tour operation or for a one-off activity. It could be the responsibility of the person delivering the activity or be developed by senior operational or supervisory personnel. The planning role applies to those who work independently with limited guidance from others. This could include senior guides, activities coordinators, or owner-operators of small organisations.

No occupational licensing, certification or specific legislative requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

Elements and Performance Criteria

ELEMENTS

PERFORMANCE CRITERIA

Elements describe the essential outcomes.

Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.

1. Establish need for activities.

1.1. Identify need for interpretive activities, based on customer, organisation and community needs.

1.2. Establish educational, interpretive and commercial objectives in consultation with appropriate colleagues.

2. Create activities.

2.1. Identify and evaluate a range of potential information and resources, including other specialists as required.

2.2. Develop interpretive framework for activities.

2.3. Generate and select ideas for potential messages, themes and storylines.

2.4. Identify relationships between themes, storylines and the site.

2.5. Incorporate interpretive media that matches the site.

2.6. Conduct a risk assessment and incorporate controls into activity development.

2.7. Evaluate and integrate legal, ethical and sustainability considerations.

2.8. Develop resources to support activities.

2.9. Develop activity within budget to meet agreed objectives.

3. Evaluate activities.

3.1. Obtain formal and informal feedback from customers and colleagues during piloting or conduct of activities.

3.2. Modify activities according to feedback received.

3.3. Establish and implement ongoing review mechanisms to ensure continuous improvement of activities in line with its objectives.

Foundation Skills

Foundation skills essential to performance in this unit, but not explicit in the performance criteria are listed here, along with a brief context statement.

SKILLS

DESCRIPTION

Reading skills to:

- evaluate wide ranging information and tease out creative themes and messages for activities
- analyse and interpret complex information and communicate it creatively to customers.

Oral communication

- consult with colleagues about development issues for interpretive

skills to: activities.

Numeracy skills to: • calculate costs in order to work within established budgets.

Planning and organising skills to: • coordinate creative and practical aspects of activities.

Assessment Requirements for SITTPD002 Develop interpretive activities

Modification History

Not applicable.

Performance Evidence

Evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit in the context of the job role, and:

- plan and develop one single interpretive activity and one series comprising at least three interpretive activities combined into an overall program, for at least two of the following:
  - attractions
  - guided activities or walks
  - sporting activities
  - theme parks
  - virtual activities
- plan and develop the above interpretive activities using at least two of the following themes:
  - cultural
  - heritage
  - historical
  - nature
- ensure above interpretive activities include key messages that reflect subject matter knowledge and meet the needs of different customer groups and commercial and operational constraints
- identify review mechanisms for above interpretive activities.

Knowledge Evidence

Demonstrated knowledge required to complete the tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit:

- subject matter around which activities are developed
- influential principles and theories of interpretation
- physical and digital interpretive media
- resource considerations for the development of interpretive activities:
  - apps and other digital content
  - costumes
  - guest speakers
  - handouts

- information and communications technology
- natural resources
- props
- professional organisations
- special interest organisations
- specialists:
  - actors and performers
  - creative designers
  - cultural advisers
  - designers
  - environmental educators
  - heritage specialists
  - historians
  - interpretation consultants
  - marketers
  - subject matter experts
  - technical experts
- practical processes that support activity development:
  - budgeting
  - evaluation
  - needs analysis
  - resource development
  - scheduling
- creative communication techniques for interpretive activities:
  - games
  - illustrated talks
  - role-playing
  - sensory awareness exercises
  - storytelling
  - use of apps, podcasts, near response codes, quick response codes
- safety requirements specific to activities
- risk assessment processes:
  - determining overall risk level
  - determining exposure to the risk
  - estimating probability of negative impacts
  - identifying consequences that could result from the identified risk
- legal, ethical and sustainability considerations for activity development:
  - cultural appropriateness
  - duty of care
  - minimal impact

- minimising waste and conserving resources.

Assessment Conditions

Skills must be demonstrated in an operational tourism environment. This can be:

- an industry workplace
- a simulated industry environment set up for the purposes of assessment.

Assessment must ensure access to:

- a real or simulated environment for which interpretive activities can be planned and developed
- information sources on subject matter of interpretive activities, resources and other specialists
- current technology for use in activity development
- customers sufficient in number to reflect different customer, organisational or community needs and locations for interpretive activities; these can be:
  - customers in an industry workplace who are assisted by the individual during the assessment process; or
  - individuals who participate in role plays or simulated activities, set up for the purpose of assessment, in a simulated industry environment operated within a training organisation.

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisations' requirements for assessors; and:

- have worked in industry for at least three years where they have applied the skills and knowledge of this unit of competency.

SITTOP002 Provide outdoor catering

Modification History

Release	Comments
Release 2	Pre-requisite added: SITXFSA001 Use hygienic practices for food safety

Application

This unit describes the performance outcomes, skills and knowledge required to provide catering for tour participants in an outdoor environment. It requires the ability to plan menus and ensure that food is stored, prepared and served in a safe and hygienic manner.

The unit applies to tour operators who operate tours involving the provision of meals at temporary or semi-permanent sites, picnic areas and rest sites. Outdoor catering may be provided for a day tour or on tours that involve one or more overnight stays. Individuals working independently in the field undertake this role. This could include guides, camp site cooks or owner-operators of small organisations.

No occupational licensing, certification or specific legislative requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

Assessment Requirements for SITTOP002 Provide outdoor catering

Modification History

Release	Comments
Release 2	Pre-requisite added: SITXFSA001 Use hygienic practices for food safety

Performance Evidence

Evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit in the context of the job role, and:

- safely and hygienically prepare food for one day tour and one tour involving one or more overnight stays in each of the following outdoor environments:
  - temporary or semi-permanent site
  - picnic area or rest site
- use at least three of the following cooking techniques when providing above catering:
  - barbecuing
  - boiling
  - frying
  - grilling
  - roasting
- set up, operate and break down equipment for each of the above outdoor catering.

Knowledge Evidence

Demonstrated knowledge required to complete the tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit:

- general nutritional principles and features of a balanced diet in terms of the food options available for outdoor catering, the need for different food groups, and appropriate quantities
- touring and participant considerations:
  - availability of supplies
  - budget
  - climate
  - duration of trip
  - facilities and equipment available for cooking

- number of participants
- catering for those with different dietary requirements:
  - belief-based diets
  - those with food preferences
  - those with food intolerances and allergies
- key features and operation of common outdoor catering equipment
- food preparation techniques commonly used in an outdoor environment
- preparation and cooking techniques commonly used in an outdoor environment as specified in the performance evidence
- hygiene and food safety issues and hazards that relate to outdoor catering and how to respond to:
  - potential for contaminated water
  - minimal or no facilities to properly wash perishable foodstuffs or cooking and storage equipment
  - lack of access to refrigeration or appropriate cooling facilities for perishable goods
  - cleanliness of preparation areas
  - personal hygiene
  - storage and cross contamination risks
- safety issues associated with outdoor catering equipment, and the use of fires and gas
- environmentally sound disposal methods for catering waste
- basic aspects of national, state or territory food safety laws, standards and codes, especially as they relate to off-site catering:
  - actions that must be adhered to by businesses
  - employee responsibility to participate in hygienic practices
  - role of local government regulators
  - ramifications of failure to observe food safety law and organisational policies and procedures
  - meaning of hazardous foods and major causes of contamination and cross-infection in foods used in the organisation
  - methods of food storage, production, display, service and disposal for food used by the organisation, especially appropriate temperature levels for each of these processes
  - environmental conditions for storage of main food types used in the organisation.

Assessment Conditions

Skills must be demonstrated in a tourism environment or activity where outdoor catering is provided. This can be:

- an industry workplace
- a simulated industry environment set up for the purposes of assessment.

Assessment must ensure access to:

- an outdoor environment
- appropriate outdoor catering equipment
- food and beverage supplies used for preparing and providing outdoor meals, that are:
  - canned
  - convenience
  - dehydrated
  - fresh
  - frozen
  - long-life
  - vacuum-packed
- storage equipment suitable for outdoor catering:
  - dry goods storage containers
  - ice boxes
  - refrigeration
- sufficient numbers of people to be catered for to reflect local industry needs and product profile.

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisations' requirements for assessors; and:

- have worked in industry for at least three years where they have applied the skills and knowledge of this unit of competency.

  - 5.2 Reflect on and evaluate operational problems.
  - 5.3 Provide recommendations for improvements to future event management practices.

Required Skills and Knowledge

This section describes the skills and knowledge required for this unit.

Required skills

- communication skills to:
  - provide clear and accurate verbal briefings to event team and contractors about operational details of event staging
  - liaise with clients to ensure satisfaction with service delivery
  - provide precise instructions to event team members and contractors throughout the operation of the event
  - negotiate solutions and provide clear instructions when problems arise
- critical thinking skills to:
  - analyse event requirements and develop plans and procedures to facilitate effective event staging
  - quickly evaluate problems as they arise and determine solutions
  - evaluate feedback from clients and event personnel and use to benefit future events
- literacy skills to:
  - read and interpret complex event planning documentation
  - write complex and detailed, yet easily accessible, event operational documents
- numeracy skills to:
  - interpret event budgets and event service agreement costings to ascertain correct on-site supply of contracted services
  - work quickly and accurately with budget figures to calculate effect on event profitability when resolving on-site problems
- planning and organising skills to collate event staging documentation and finalise all operational aspects of event within designated deadlines
- problem-solving skills to:
  - identify operational problems as they arise, make quick evaluations and resolve all issues immediately
  - negotiate solutions with clients, internal and external personnel under pressure where time constraints play a key factor

- self-management skills to take responsibility for the finalisation of event plans and on-site coordination of the delivery of the event
- teamwork skills to:
  - lead a team of event staging personnel and external contractors to effectively deliver events
  - consult with team members and take account of suggested solutions to on-site staging problems
- technology skills to use calculators, computers, software programs and printers for processing event documentation and two-way communication equipment for on-site management.

Required knowledge

- characteristics of different types of events; their purpose, format and running order
- roles and responsibilities and hierarchy of controls and reporting, for event staging, of:
  - corporate clients
  - internal event team members, venue personnel and external contractors
  - on-site event manager
- features and functions of a range of two-way communication equipment used to facilitate communication between event personnel
- techniques for managing stress and time during operation of events
- key features and functions of event staging products and services including:
  - catering
  - displays, stands and signage
  - exhibitor services
  - security
  - talent:
    - entertainers
    - speakers
  - technical equipment and services:
    - audio-visual

    - rigging
    - sets
    - sound
    - special effects
    - stage design
  - venue or site:
    - furniture
    - layouts
    - registration areas and equipment
    - styling

- a range of styles for setting up venue rooms and their different purposes including:
  - banquet
  - classroom
  - conference
  - theatre
  - u shape
- a range of formats for, inclusions and uses of:
  - operational plans and procedures used to manage on-site event logistics
  - event documentation issued to operational personnel and contractors including, briefing papers, running sheets for delivery of event, registration reports and layout plan for venue or site
  - event service agreements
- key environmental and social impacts of event delivery and minimal impact procedures to reduce these including issues surrounding:
  - lifestyle of neighbouring residents
  - maintenance of natural and cultural integrity
  - recycling and disposal of all waste, especially hazardous substances
  - safety for crowds and the movement of large numbers of attendees
  - use of energy, water and other resources during event set up, operation and break down.

Evidence Guide

The evidence guide provides advice on assessment and must be read in conjunction with the performance criteria, required skills and knowledge, range statement and the Assessment Guidelines for the Training Package.

Overview of assessment

Critical aspects for assessment and evidence required to demonstrate competency in this unit

Evidence of the ability to:

- manage on-site event operations for events involving:
  - comprehensive event plans
  - dedicated event budgets
  - formal communications plans
  - multiple operational components
  - an event operations team
  - a wide range of stakeholders
- efficiently manage on-site operations of multiple and diverse events including overseeing event set up, operation and break down

- develop accurate and comprehensive plans, procedures and operational documentation for staging events
- integrate knowledge of:
  - purpose, format and running order for different types of events
  - key features and functions of event staging products and services
  - roles and responsibilities of different personnel in event staging
  - formats for and inclusions of event documentation
- manage on-site events in live time where commercially realistic time pressures and constraints play a key factor.

Context of and specific resources for assessment

Assessment must ensure use of:

- actual events for which on-site event operations are managed. Events may be created for the specific purpose of skills assessment, but must still meet the requirements outlined under Critical aspects of assessment, and have commercial, community or business relevance. Small personal events are not appropriate as a means of assessing an individual's skills and knowledge
- venues and sites where events are operated; these can be:
  - real event venues and sites
  - event venues and sites operated within a training organisation such as auditoria, exhibition areas, conference rooms, restaurants and sporting facilities where real events are staged
- customers with whom the individual can interact
- internal event team members, venue personnel and external contractors with whom the individual can interact
- computers, software programs and printers currently used by the events industry to prepare event documentation
- two-way communication equipment for on-site management
- comprehensive event plans
- dedicated event budgets
- industry current template documents:
  - documents used to manage on-site event logistics including plans, procedures briefing papers, running sheets event, registration reports and layout plans for venues or sites
  - event service agreements.

Method of assessment

A range of assessment methods should be used to assess practical skills and knowledge. The following examples are appropriate for this unit:

- direct observation, using role plays, of the individual:

- providing pre-event briefing to event personnel
- interacting with internal venue staff and external contractors to facilitate effective event delivery
- evaluation of the operational efficiency and service quality at an event site-managed by the individual
- evaluation of reports prepared by the individual on the on-site event management process, including the issues and challenges associated with delivering effective outcomes
- review of documents prepared by the individual:
  - operational plans and procedures used to manage on-site event logistics
  - briefing papers and running sheets for delivery of event
- case studies and problem-solving exercises to allow the individual to analyse and respond to different staging deficiencies and discrepancies
- written or oral questioning to assess knowledge of:
  - purpose, format and running order for different types of events
  - key features and functions of event staging products and services
  - roles and responsibilities of different personnel in the event staging process
  - formats for and inclusions of event documentation
- review of portfolios of evidence and third-party workplace reports of on-the-job performance by the individual.

Guidance information for assessment

The assessor should design integrated assessment activities to holistically assess this unit with other units relevant to the industry sector, organisation and job role, for example:

- BSBWRT401A Write complex documents
- SITXCCS501 Manage quality customer service
- SITXMGT401 Monitor work operations
- SITXWHS301 Identify hazards, assess and control safety risks.

Range Statement

The range statement relates to the unit of competency as a whole. It allows for different work environments and situations that may affect performance. Bold italicised wording, if used in the performance criteria, is detailed below. Essential operating conditions that may be present with training and assessment (depending on the work situation, needs of the candidate, accessibility of the item, and local industry and regional contexts) may also be included.

Event may include:

- business and corporate
- entertainment and leisure
- exhibitions, expositions and fairs
- festivals
- fundraising
- government and civic
- marketing
- meetings and conventions
- social

- transportation and timelines
- work health and safety.
- briefing papers
- contact numbers for:
  - contractors
  - emergency services
- copies of agreements with:
  - contractors
  - clients
- event program and scheduled time for activities
- event orders
- itemised lists of resources, suppliers and costs
- layout plan for venue or site
- plans and procedures
- registration reports:
  - attendance lists per session, site, venue or table
  - name lists
  - special requests
- running sheet for delivery of event
- service vouchers
- signage
- site maps
- staffing rosters.
- clients
- contractors
- event operational team
- exhibitors
- internal personnel
- merchandisers
- organising committee
- sponsors
- suppliers
- venue coordinators or duty managers

Relevant personnel may include:

Event briefings may:

- volunteers.
- be:
  - face-to-face
  - in writing
  - on telephone
- involve clarification of:
  - access times for service personnel, client and attendees
  - client expectations
  - client role in event management
  - event program and scheduled time for activities
  - hierarchy of responsibility for instructions, controls and resolution of problems during event operation
  - procedures for event staging
  - regulatory compliance and roles and responsibilities of individual team members
  - roles and responsibilities of internal staff, contractors and volunteers
  - service expectations
  - staffing rosters.

Contractors may include:

- caterers
- display suppliers
- entertainers
- food and beverage personnel
- florists
- equipment hire companies
- registration and ticket sales specialist companies
- security personnel
- speakers and facilitators
- suppliers of technical equipment and services:
  - audio-visual
  - pyrotechnics
  - rigging
  - sound and lighting
  - special effects
  - stage design and construction
  - venue styling
- venue coordinators or duty managers.

Deficiencies and discrepancies may include:

- client dissatisfaction
- delays
- faulty or unavailable technical equipment

- inadequate supplies
- incorrect set up of:
  - client displays and livery
  - exhibitor or sponsor stands
  - merchandising stands
  - on-site registration area
  - seating
  - tables
  - technical equipment and services
  - venue styling
- inappropriate space for on-site registration areas
- inappropriate management of risk to personnel, participants and the site environment
- lack of equipment to manage displays and signage
- non-arrival of key talent or speakers
- non-compliance with environmental and social sustainability practices
- non-compliance with legislative requirements and local council requirements
- shortage of or incorrect food and beverage
- staff shortages.
- guidelines on hierarchy of control and reporting lines during the event
- operational procedures
- regularity of updates to:
  - clients
  - event managers.

Communication and control mechanisms may include:

Event break down may involve:

- correct removal of infrastructure and facilities to ensure site is left in good condition
- debriefing participants, exhibitors and contractors
- directing event team member participation
- liaising with venue and site personnel
- overseeing recycling and environmentally sound disposal of waste
- packing and removing items.

Modification History

The version details of this endorsed unit of competency set are in the table below. The latest information is at the top.

Version	Comments
1.0	N Replaces but not equivalent to SITXEV T009A Develop event concepts. Re-written and based on BSBCRT501A Originate and develop concepts. Unit now more fully articulates the creative process of developing event concepts.

Unit Descriptor

This unit describes the performance outcomes, skills and knowledge required to explore and refine ideas for event concepts, and to progress those concepts to the point where they can be made operational.

Application of the Unit

Events are diverse in nature and this unit is relevant to any type of event coordinated in any industry context, including the tourism, hospitality, sport, cultural and community sectors. Sometimes the concept development phase is undertaken in parallel with feasibility analysis or the event bidding process.

This unit applies to event managers who operate with significant autonomy and who are responsible for making a range of strategic event management decisions.

They may work in event management companies, in event venues, or in organisations that organise their own events.

The unit does not include the specialist concept development undertaken by experts such as writers, technical specialists or lighting, sound, exhibition, set or costume designers. Consultation with relevant experts, however, may be a key aspect of overall event concept development.

Licensing/Regulatory Information

No licensing, legislative, regulatory or certification requirements apply to this unit at the time of endorsement.

Required Skills and Knowledge

This section describes the skills and knowledge required for this unit.

Required skills

- communication skills to:
  - consult and liaise on potentially complex concepts and planning issues
  - engage in a collaborative process of ideas generation and refinement
- critical thinking skills to analyse, develop and refine complex information and ideas
- initiative and enterprise skills to develop innovative ideas for events
- literacy skills to analyse complex information from varied sources
- planning and organisational skills to:
  - integrate practical considerations into the concept development process
  - create implementation specifications for concepts
- numeracy skills to estimate costs and develop broad budgetary scenarios
- problem-solving skills to develop and adjust ideas in response to varied creative, management and operational challenges.

Required knowledge

- techniques for exploring, generating and testing creative ideas, and for translating these ideas into workable concepts
- internal and external factors that affect event concept development:
  - market factors:

- competitive environment
- potential levels of participation and interest
- media interest
- operational considerations:
  - access
  - climate
  - regulatory requirements
  - risk
- resource availability, constraints and potential:
  - human
  - physical
  - financial
- sustainability
- different creative, promotional, technical and operational options to consider when developing an event concept
- key stakeholders for different types of event.

Evidence Guide

The evidence guide provides advice on assessment and must be read in conjunction with the performance criteria, required skills and knowledge, range statement and the Assessment Guidelines for the Training Package.

Overview of assessment

Critical aspects for assessment and evidence required to demonstrate competency in this unit

Evidence of the ability to:

- engage in a creative process of concept generation and refinement
- develop multiple event concepts, substantiated and supported with sufficient information to allow for implementation to occur
- integrate knowledge of event planning and operations opportunities and constraints.

Context of and specific resources for assessment

Assessment must ensure use of:

- other people with whom the individual can interact and collaborate.

Method of assessment

A range of assessment methods should be used to assess practical skills and knowledge. The following examples are appropriate for this unit:

- evaluation of event concepts generated by the individual, and of the processes used to generate and test the ideas

- debate and discussion with the individual to assess knowledge of the operational context and the broader factors that impact on event concept development
- evaluation of presentation or 'pitch' made by the individual in relation to a particular concept
- use of case studies to develop concepts for different types of events
- oral or written questioning to assess knowledge of the range of key market factors and management issues to be considered in the concept development phase
- review of portfolios of evidence and third-party workplace reports of on-the-job performance by the individual.

Guidance information for assessment

The assessor should design integrated assessment activities to holistically assess this unit with other units relevant to the industry sector, organisation and job role, for example:

- SITXEVT603 Determine event feasibility.

Range Statement

The range statement relates to the unit of competency as a whole. It allows for different work environments and situations that may affect performance. Italicised wording, if used in the performance criteria, is detailed below. Essential operating conditions that may be present with training and assessment (depending on the work situation, needs of the candidate, accessibility of the item, and local industry and regional contexts) may also be included.

Information may include:

- creative brief
- event objectives:
  - business
  - creative
  - educational
  - profile creation
  - community impact
  - participation or attendance
- event parameters:
  - date, time and duration
  - size and scope
  - location
  - resourcing

Exploration of opportunities beyond the obvious may involve:

- market research
- organisational vision
- personal vision.
- challenging existing assumptions and preconceptions
- considering change to the way things are done
- exploring practice in a different industry context
- investigating new technologies
- making connections between seemingly unrelated activities.

Stakeholders may include:

- clients
- colleagues
- creative professionals
- entertainers
- event principal
- local authorities
- local community
- organising committees
- staging contractors.

Creative thinking techniques may include:

- brainstorming:
  - bulletin board
  - buzz session
  - computer-aided
  - sequencing
  - stop and go
- Edward de Bono's six thinking hats
- ego alter or heroes
- graphic organisers:
  - concept fans
  - visual maps
  - webbing
- lateral thinking games
- making associations
- mind mapping
- morphological analysis
- sub-culture surfing
- trigger words
- use of metaphors and analogies
- vision circles
- word salads

Creative and practical criteria may relate to:

- visualisation.
- cost-effectiveness
- competing priorities
- ‘fit’ with:
  - creative aspirations
  - strategic directions of organisation
  - target market needs
- how innovative the concept is
- risk benefit analysis
- technical feasibility
- time to realise the concept.
- components of the event and how they fit together
- managing risk
- resource availability
- scheduling
- sustainability
- time constraints
- venue or site constraints.
- briefs for work
- concept specification
- operational plan
- resource breakdown
- staging requirements.

Operational practicality and cohesiveness may relate to:

Implementation specifications may include:

SITXEV T603 Determine event feasibility

Modification History

The version details of this endorsed unit of competency set are in the table below. The latest information is at the top.

Version	Comments
1.0	E Replaces and is equivalent to SITXEV T007B Determine event feasibility. Minor changes to Elements, Performance Criteria, Required skills and Required knowledge to more fully articulate content.

Unit Descriptor

This unit describes the performance outcomes, skills and knowledge required to assess the viability of a proposed event, and to develop recommendations and models for its future planning and operation. It requires the ability to use advanced research, analytical and communication skills combined with a detailed knowledge of the event management process.

Application of the Unit

Events are diverse in nature and this unit is relevant to any type of event coordinated in any industry context, including the tourism, hospitality, sport, cultural and community sectors. Event feasibility may be determined after or in parallel with the creation of the initial event concept.

This unit applies to event managers who operate with significant autonomy and who are responsible for making a range of strategic event management decisions.

They may work in event management companies, in event venues, or in organisations that organise their own events.

Licensing/Regulatory Information

No licensing, legislative, regulatory or certification requirements apply to this unit at the time of endorsement.

Pre-Requisites

Not applicable.

Employability Skills Information

This unit contains employability skills.

Elements and Performance Criteria Pre-Content

Elements and Performance Criteria

Elements describe the essential outcomes of a unit of competency.

Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element. Where bold italicised text is used, further information is detailed in the required skills and knowledge section and the range statement. Assessment of performance is to be consistent with the evidence guide.

Required Skills and Knowledge

This section describes the skills and knowledge required for this unit.

Required skills

- communication skills to consult and liaise with stakeholders on strategic event management proposals and issues
- critical thinking skills to analyse complex information from varying sources and develop strategic positions and recommendations as a result of analysis
- initiative and enterprise skills to develop innovative models and recommendations for event management
- literacy skills to:
  - analyse complex event information
  - articulate complex arguments, scenarios and recommendations
- numeracy skills to estimate costs and develop different budgetary scenarios and models
- planning and organising skills to provide recommendations for cohesive event planning and management
- problem-solving skills to develop strategic positions and recommendations in response to complex event management and operational challenges.

Required knowledge

- features and formats of a wide range of event types
- internal and external factors that impact on event feasibility and affect its management and operation
- resource requirements for the overall staging of complex events, and for specific event components
- sources of potential revenue for different types of event
- sources of event industry references, and broader references that may inform emerging and innovative practice in event management and operations
- current and emerging event industry trends across all areas of planning, management and operations, including:
  - marketing trends
  - management models
  - opportunities offered by new technologies
  - sustainable event management

- risk management considerations for event feasibility:
  - compliance
  - financial or commercial
  - operational
- options for the presentation of feasibility analysis results.

Evidence Guide

The evidence guide provides advice on assessment and must be read in conjunction with the performance criteria, required skills and knowledge, range statement and the Assessment Guidelines for the Training Package.

Overview of assessment

Critical aspects for assessment and evidence required to demonstrate competency in this unit

Evidence of the ability to:

- develop and present a detailed feasibility analysis that includes substantiated positions and recommendations for at least one event concept that involves the need for:
  - comprehensive event plans
  - dedicated event budgets
  - formal communications plans
  - multiple operational components
  - an event operations team
  - a wide range of stakeholders
- integrate knowledge of:
  - current and emerging event industry trends across areas of planning, management and operations
  - internal and external factors that impact on event feasibility
  - resource requirements for the overall staging of events, and for specific event components.

Context of and specific resources for assessment

Assessment must ensure use of:

- a real event concept on which to base the feasibility analysis. Event concepts may be created for the specific purpose of skills assessment, but must still meet the requirements outlined under Critical aspects of assessment, and have commercial, community or business relevance. Small personal events are not appropriate as a means of assessing an individual's skills and knowledge
- event stakeholders with whom the individual interacts
- current industry data and information sources to inform the feasibility analysis.

- Method of assessment A range of assessment methods should be used to assess practical skills and knowledge. The following examples are appropriate for this unit:
- evaluation of feasibility studies prepared by the individual
  - oral or written questioning to assess depth of individual's event industry knowledge
  - review of portfolios of evidence and third-party workplace reports of on-the-job performance by the individual.
- Guidance information for assessment The assessor should design integrated assessment activities to holistically assess this unit with other units relevant to the industry sector, organisation and job role, for example:
- SITXEVT602 Develop event concepts
  - SITXEVT604 Develop and implement event management plans.

Range Statement

The range statement relates to the unit of competency as a whole. It allows for different work environments and situations that may affect performance. Bold italicised wording, if used in the performance criteria, is detailed below. Essential operating conditions that may be present with training and assessment (depending on the work situation, needs of the candidate, accessibility of the item, and local industry and regional contexts) may also be included.

- Key stakeholders may include:
- community groups
  - host organisation
  - industry bodies
  - organising committees
  - potential sponsors.
- Event concept information may relate to:
- dates and times
  - duration
  - format
  - management structures
  - objectives
  - proposed location or venue.
- Place of the proposed event may relate to:
- community values
  - economic objectives
  - other events:
    - competing and complementary events
    - similar formats
    - similar objectives

Internal and external factors may include:

- philosophy of host organisation
- previous events or past practice
- supplementary events
- wider industry directions.
- competitor activity
- industry context
- management structures
- organisation objectives
- resource constraints
- social, political or economic factors.

Primary event costs may include:

- catering
- collateral materials
- equipment
- marketing costs
- security
- staffing requirements
- transport
- venue.

Potential sources of revenue and other resources may include:

- community organisations
- general public
- government funding
- grants
- industry bodies
- participating organisations
- sponsors.

Planning and management requirements may relate to:

- administration
- marketing
- management structures, roles and responsibilities
- resources:
  - financial
  - human
  - physical
- sustainability
- technology.

Operational requirements for each event component may relate to:

- minimal impact practices for the construction, maintenance and disposal of event staging
- components paid and voluntary staff requirements
- specialist assistance
- staging requirements, including:
  - catering
  - equipment

Compliance requirements may relate to:

- infrastructure
- security
- transport.

- environmental sustainability
- fundraising
- insurance
- licensing
- safety.

Required Skills and Knowledge

This section describes the skills and knowledge required for this unit.

Required skills

- communication skills to discuss asset deficiencies with team members and to negotiate purchase and financial arrangements with suppliers
- critical thinking skills to evaluate current and future asset needs and financial ability to update physical assets
- initiative and enterprise skills to identify and analyse the utility of enhanced physical assets to improve business performance
- literacy skills to:
  - read and interpret complex product specifications and financial contracts
  - research new physical assets to enhance business performance
  - write detailed specifications for the supply of physical assets
- numeracy skills to analyse financial data and interpret estimates and financial agreements for physical asset acquisition
- planning and organising skills to manage maintenance and repair regimes and plan for the acquisition of assets
- problem-solving skills to identify physical asset problems and to resolve through maintenance or replacement
- self-management skills to take responsibility for the monitoring of physical asset quality, utility and acquisition
- teamwork skills to regularly discuss the condition and utility of physical assets with team members and take account of their feedback when making acquisitions.

Required knowledge

- types of physical assets required by tourism, hospitality and event organisations and the organisation in particular
- maintenance requirements for different types of physical assets
- a range of formats for and inclusions of asset registers
- features and benefits of different financing options for asset acquisition, including purchase, rent, lease and hire purchase
- depreciation that can be applied to different types of physical assets
- practices to support environmental sustainability using different types of physical assets.

Evidence Guide

The evidence guide provides advice on assessment and must be read in conjunction with the performance criteria, required skills and knowledge, range statement and the Assessment Guidelines for the Training Package.

Overview of assessment

Critical aspects for assessment and evidence required to

Evidence of the ability to:

- plan for and manage the acquisition, maintenance and demonstrate competency in this unit

- replacement of a diverse range of physical assets
- monitor the utility of assets to meet business needs over a period of time
- develop and maintain a current assets register
- demonstrate knowledge of the features and benefits of different financing options for asset acquisition.

Context of and specific resources for assessment

Assessment must ensure use of:

- a real or simulated tourism, hospitality or event industry business operation for which physical assets are monitored and maintained
- current commercial purchase specifications, supplier product and cost information and contractual documentation used for the purchase of assets
- suppliers with whom the individual can interact and negotiate.

Method of assessment

A range of assessment methods should be used to assess practical skills and knowledge. The following examples are appropriate for this unit:

- projects, activities and case studies that allow assessment of the individual's ability to:
  - manage physical assets for specific tourism, hospitality and event business environments
  - develop and maintain a physical assets register
  - evaluate the performance of physical assets and take actions to address deficiencies
- written or oral questioning to assess knowledge of financing options
- review of portfolios of evidence and third-party workplace reports of on-the-job performance by the individual.

Guidance information for assessment

The assessor should design integrated assessment activities to holistically assess this unit with other units relevant to the industry sector, workplace and job role, for example:

- BSBWRT401A Write complex documents
- SITXFIN401 Interpret financial information
- SITXFIN501 Prepare and monitor budgets
- SITXMGT501 Establish and conduct business relationships.

Range Statement

The range statement relates to the unit of competency as a whole. It allows for different work environments and situations that may affect performance. Bold italicised wording, if used in the performance criteria, is detailed below. Essential operating conditions that may be present with training and assessment (depending on the work situation, needs of the candidate, accessibility of the item, and local industry and regional contexts) may also be included.

Physical assets may include:

- buildings
- computer systems
- equipment fixtures, fittings and furniture contained within:
  - accommodation establishments
  - commercial kitchens
  - restaurants and bars
  - storage areas
  - tourism, hospitality and event offices
  - transportation depots
- gardens
- pools
- rides and games
- vehicles
- vessels.

Business objectives may include:

- profitability
- growth
- provision of quality products and services to customers
- adherence to:
  - codes of conduct
  - environmental sustainability philosophies and practices
  - industry accreditation schemes.

Practices to support environmental sustainability may include:

- effective use of consumables
- minimising waste
- regular maintenance to ensure efficiency of machinery
- systems to reduce resource use:
  - fuel
  - power
  - water.

Regular reporting practices may include a requirement for:

- formal and informal customer and staff feedback
- procedures to integrate day-to-day condition

- Assess* may involve evaluation of:
- reports
  - scheduled:
    - internal or external inspections and audits
    - management reports.
  - ability to meet business objectives
  - cost of maintenance over a period of time
  - customer and staff feedback
  - input from specialists
  - operational efficiency
  - safety.
- Specialist assistance* may involve:
- architects
  - builders
  - designers
  - electronic specialists
  - information technology suppliers
  - landscape architects
  - manufacturers
  - mechanics
  - tradespeople
  - vendors.
- Specifications* may include:
- budget parameters
  - environmental sustainability policies for the business
  - floor plans
  - numbers and types of required equipment fixtures, fittings and furniture
  - operational performance requirements:
    - efficiency
    - customer traffic
    - staff usage
  - types of products and services offered by the business.
- Current, accurate and relevant data* used for estimating costs may include:
- current maintenance contracts
  - estimates and quotations from suppliers
  - previous contracts and costs
  - published or advertised prices.
- Methods of financing* may include:
- hire purchase
  - lease
  - purchase
  - rent.

SITXFSA001 Use hygienic practices for food safety

Modification History

Not applicable.

Application

This unit describes the performance outcomes, skills and knowledge required to use personal hygiene practices to prevent contamination of food that might cause food-borne illnesses. It requires the ability to follow predetermined organisational procedures and to identify and control food hazards.

The unit applies to all organisations with permanent or temporary kitchen premises or smaller food preparation or bar areas.

This includes restaurants, cafes, clubs, hotels, and bars; tour operators; attractions; function, event, exhibition and conference catering; educational institutions; aged care facilities; correctional centres; hospitals; defence forces; cafeterias, kiosks, canteens and fast food outlets; residential catering; in-flight and other transport catering.

It applies to food handlers who directly handle food or food contact surfaces such as cutlery, plates and bowls during the course of their daily work activities. This includes cooks, chefs, caterers, kitchen stewards, kitchen hands, bar, and food and beverage attendants, and sometimes room attendants and front office staff.

Food handlers must comply with the requirements contained within the Australia New Zealand Food Standards Code.

In some States and Territories businesses are required to designate a food safety supervisor who is required to be certified as competent in this unit through a registered training organisation.

Food safety legislative and knowledge requirements may differ across borders. Those developing training to support this unit must consult the relevant state or territory food safety authority to determine any accreditation arrangements for courses, trainers and assessors.

Elements and Performance Criteria

ELEMENTS

Elements describe the essential outcomes.

1. Follow hygiene procedures and identify food hazards.
2. Report any personal health issues.
3. Prevent food contamination.
4. Prevent cross-contamination by washing hands.

PERFORMANCE CRITERIA

Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.

- 1.1. Follow organisational hygiene procedures.
- 1.2. Report unsafe practices that breach hygiene procedures promptly.
- 1.3. Identify food hazards that may affect the health and safety of customers, colleagues and self.
- 1.4. Remove or minimise the hygiene hazard and report as appropriate for follow-up.
- 2.1. Report personal health issues likely to cause a hygiene risk.
- 2.2. Report incidents of food contamination resulting from personal health issues.
- 2.3. Cease participation in food handling activities where own health issue may cause food contamination.
- 3.1. Maintain clean clothes, wear required personal protective clothing, and only use organisation-approved bandages and dressings.
- 3.2. Prevent food contamination from clothing and other items worn.
- 3.3. Prevent unnecessary direct contact with ready to eat food.
- 3.4. Ensure hygienic personal contact with food and food contact surfaces.
- 3.5. Use hygienic cleaning practices that prevent food-borne illnesses.
- 4.1. Wash hands at appropriate times and follow hand washing procedures consistently.
- 4.2. Wash hands using appropriate facilities.

Foundation Skills

Foundation skills essential to performance in this unit, but not explicit in the performance criteria are listed here, along with a brief context statement.

SKILLS

DESCRIPTION

Reading skills to:

- interpret organisational documents or diagrams relating to:
  - organisational food safety programs
  - hygiene and food safety procedures
  - hazard analysis and critical control points (HACCP) practices.

Oral communication skills to:

- report hygiene hazards and non-compliant organisational practices accurately.

Assessment Requirements for SITXFSA001 Use hygienic practices for food safety

Modification History

Not applicable.

Performance Evidence

Evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit in the context of the job role, and:

- demonstrate use of safe food handling practices in food handling work functions in line with organisational hygiene procedures on at least three occasions
- demonstrate procedures to:
  - identify food hazards
  - report unsafe practices
  - report incidents of food contamination.

Knowledge Evidence

Demonstrated knowledge required to complete the tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit:

- basic aspects of commonwealth, state or territory food safety laws, standards and codes as follows:
  - meaning of contaminant, contamination and potentially hazardous foods as defined by the Australia New Zealand Food Standards Code
  - employee and employer responsibility to participate in hygienic practices
  - reasons for food safety programs and what they must contain
  - role of local government regulators
  - ramifications of failure to observe food safety law and organisational policies and procedures
- health issues likely to cause a hygiene risk relevant to food safety:
  - airborne diseases
  - food-borne diseases
  - infectious diseases
- hygiene actions that must be adhered to in order to avoid food-borne illnesses
- hand washing practices:
  - before commencing or recommencing work with food
  - immediately after:
    - handling raw food
    - smoking, coughing, sneezing or blowing the nose

- eating or drinking
- touching the hair, scalp or any wound
- using the toilet
- basic aspects of hazard analysis and critical control points (HACCP) method of controlling food safety
- specific industry sector and organisation:
  - major causes of food contamination and food-borne illnesses
  - sources and effects of microbiological contamination of food
  - workplace hygiene hazards when handling food and food contact surfaces
  - basic content of organisational food safety programs
  - contents of organisational hygiene and food safety procedures
  - hygienic work practices for individual job roles and responsibilities.

Assessment Conditions

Skills must be demonstrated in an operational food preparation area. This can be:

- an industry workplace
- a simulated industry environment.

Assessment must ensure access to:

- fixtures:
  - work benches
  - refrigeration unit
  - sink
  - storage facilities
- small equipment:
  - assorted pots and pans
  - containers for hot and cold storage
  - crockery
  - cutlery
  - cutting boards
  - food handler gloves
  - glassware
  - knives
  - packaging materials
  - receptacles for presentation and display purposes
  - small utensils:
    - tongs
    - serving utensils
- appropriate facilities for handwashing:

- designated hand washing sink
- antiseptic liquid soap
- single use towels
- warm running water
- food ingredients and ready to eat food items
- current plain English regulatory documents distributed by the commonwealth, state, territory or local government food safety authority
- Australia New Zealand Food Standards Code
- current commercial food safety programs, policies and procedures used for managing food safety.

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisations' requirements for assessors.

SITXFSA002 Participate in safe food handling practices

Modification History

Not applicable.

Application

This unit describes the performance outcomes, skills and knowledge required to handle food safely during the storage, preparation, display, service and disposal of food. It requires the ability to follow predetermined procedures as outlined in a food safety program.

The unit applies to all organisations with permanent or temporary kitchen premises or smaller food preparation areas. This includes restaurants, cafes, clubs, and hotels; tour operators; attractions; function, event, exhibition and conference catering; educational institutions; aged care facilities; correctional centres; hospitals; defence forces; cafeterias, kiosks, canteens and fast food outlets; residential catering; in-flight and other transport catering.

Safe food handling practices are based on an organisation's individual food safety program. The program would normally be based on the hazard analysis and critical control points (HACCP) method, but this unit can apply to other food safety systems.

It applies to food handlers who directly handle food during the course of their daily work activities. This includes cooks, chefs, caterers, kitchen hands and food and beverage attendants.

Food handlers must comply with the requirements contained within the Australia New Zealand Food Standards Code.

In some States and Territories businesses are required to designate a food safety supervisor who is required to be certified as competent in this unit through a registered training organisation.

Food safety legislative and knowledge requirements may differ across borders. Those developing training to support this unit must consult the relevant state or territory food safety authority to determine any accreditation arrangements for courses, trainers and assessors.

Assessment Requirements for SITXFSA002 Participate in safe food handling practices

Modification History

Not applicable.

Performance Evidence

Evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit in the context of the job role, and:

- demonstrate use of safe food handling practices in food handling work functions on at least three occasions
- demonstrate the correct methods of controlling food hazards at each of the following critical control points:
  - receiving
  - storing
  - preparing
  - processing
  - displaying and/or serving
  - packaging
  - transporting
  - disposing.

Knowledge Evidence

Demonstrated knowledge required to complete the tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit:

- key features of commonwealth, state or territory and local food safety compliance requirements as they impact workers at an operational level:
  - contents of national codes and standards that underpin regulatory requirements
  - reasons for food safety programs and what they must contain
  - local government food safety regulations and inspection regimes
  - consequences of failure to observe food safety policies and procedures
  - meaning of contaminant, contamination and potentially hazardous foods as defined by the Australia New Zealand Food Standards Code
- hazard analysis and critical control points (HACCP) or other food safety system principles, procedures and processes as they apply to particular operations and different food types:

- critical control points for the specific food production system and the predetermined methods of control, especially time and temperature controls used in the receiving, storing, preparing, processing, displaying, serving, packaging, transporting and disposing of food
- main types of safety hazards and contamination
- conditions for development of microbiological contamination
- environmental conditions and, temperature controls, for storage
- temperature danger zone and the two-hour and four-hour rule
- contents of organisational food safety program, especially procedures, associated requirements, and monitoring documents
- food safety monitoring techniques:
  - bacterial swabs and counts
  - checking and recording that food is stored in appropriate timeframes
  - chemical tests
  - monitoring and recording food temperatures using a temperature measuring device accurate to plus or minus one degree Celsius
  - monitoring and recording temperature of cold and hot storage equipment
  - visually examining food for quality review
- methods to ensure the safety of food served and sold to customers:
  - packaging control:
    - using packaging materials suited to foods
    - monitoring of packaging damage
  - protective barriers
  - temperature control
  - supervision of food displays
  - utensil control
  - providing separate serving utensils for each dish
- safe food handling practices for the following different food types:
  - dairy
  - dried goods
  - eggs
  - frozen goods
  - fruit and vegetables
  - meat and fish
- equipment operating procedures, especially how to calibrate, use and clean a temperature probe and how to identify faults
- choice and application of cleaning, sanitising and pest control equipment and materials
- cleaning, sanitising and maintenance requirements relevant to food preparation and storage:
  - cleaning:
    - dirt

- food waste
- grease
- pest waste removal
- sanitising:
  - eating and drinking utensils
  - food contact surfaces
- maintenance:
  - recalibrating measurement and temperature controls
  - minor faults
- high risk customer groups:
  - children or babies
  - pregnant women
  - aged persons
  - people with immune deficiencies or allergies
  - unwell persons.

Assessment Conditions

Skills must be demonstrated in an operational food preparation area. This can be:

- an industry workplace
- a simulated industry environment.

Assessment must ensure access to:

- fixtures:
  - commercial grade work benches
  - refrigeration unit
  - sink
  - storage facilities
- small equipment:
  - assorted pots and pans
  - containers for hot and cold storage
  - crockery
  - cutting boards
  - food handler gloves
  - knives
  - packaging materials
  - receptacles for presentation and display purposes
  - small utensils:
    - tongs

- serving utensils
- temperature monitoring device
- appropriate facilities for handwashing:
  - designated hand washing sink
  - antiseptic liquid soap
  - single use towels
  - warm running water
- food ingredients and ready to eat food items
- current plain English regulatory documents distributed by the national, state, territory or local government food safety authority
- Australia New Zealand Food Standards Code
- current organisational food safety programs, policies and procedures used for managing food safety.

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisations' requirements for assessors.

SITXFSA101 Use hygienic practices for food safety

Modification History

The version details of this endorsed unit of competency set are in the table below. The latest information is at the top.

Version	Comments
1.0	E Replaces and is equivalent to SITXOHS002A Follow workplace hygiene procedures. Updated and re-categorised to Food Safety.

Unit Descriptor

This unit describes the performance outcomes, skills and knowledge required to use personal hygiene practices to prevent contamination of food that might cause food-borne illnesses. It requires the ability to follow predetermined organisational procedures and to identify and control food hazards.

Application of the Unit

This unit applies to all tourism, hospitality and catering organisations with permanent or temporary kitchen premises or smaller food preparation or bar areas.

This includes restaurants, cafes, clubs, hotels, bars, tour operators, attractions, function, event, exhibition and conference caterers, educational institutions, aged care facilities, correctional centres, hospitals, defence forces, cafeterias, kiosks, canteens, fast food outlets, residential caterers, in-flight and other transport caterers.

It applies to food handlers which can be any person who directly handles food or food contact surfaces food such as cutlery, plates and bowls. People at many levels use this skill in the workplace during the course of their daily activities, including cooks, chefs, caterers, kitchen stewards, kitchen hands, bar and food and beverage attendants and sometimes room attendants and front office staff.

Licensing/Regulatory Information

Food handlers must comply with the requirements contained within the Australia New Zealand Food Standards (ANZFS) Code (the Code).

In some states and territories businesses are required to designate a food safety supervisor who is required to be certified as competent in this unit through a registered training organisation.

Pre-Requisites

Not applicable.

Employability Skills Information

This unit contains employability skills.

Elements and Performance Criteria Pre-Content

Elements and Performance Criteria

Elements describe the essential outcomes of a unit of competency. Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element. Where bold italicised text is used, further information is detailed in the required skills and knowledge section and the range statement. Assessment of performance is to be consistent with the evidence guide.

- 4.1 Wash hands at appropriate times and follow hand washing procedures consistently.
- 4.2 Wash hands using appropriate facilities.

Required Skills and Knowledge

This section describes the skills and knowledge required for this unit.

Required skills

- communication skills to verbally report hygiene hazards and poor organisational practice
- literacy skills to comprehend workplace documents or diagrams that interpret the content of:
  - organisational food safety program
  - hygiene and food safety procedures
  - Hazard Analysis and Critical Control Points (HACCP) practices
- problem-solving skills to identify and report hygiene hazards.

Required knowledge

- basic aspects of national, state or territory food safety laws, standards and codes. This would include:
  - meaning of contaminant, contamination and potentially hazardous foods as defined by the Code
  - hygiene actions that must be adhered to by businesses to avoid food-borne illnesses
  - employee responsibility to participate in hygienic practices
  - reasons for food safety programs and what they must contain
  - role of local government regulators
  - ramifications of failure to observe food safety law and organisational policies and procedures
- basic aspects of HACCP method of controlling food safety
- for the specific industry sector and organisation:
  - major causes of food contamination and food-borne illnesses
  - sources and effects of microbiological contamination of food
  - workplace hygiene hazards when handling food and food contact surfaces
  - basic content of organisational food safety program
  - the contents of hygiene and food safety procedures
  - hygienic work practices for individual job roles and responsibilities.

Evidence Guide

The evidence guide provides advice on assessment and must be read in conjunction with the performance criteria, required skills and knowledge, range statement and the Assessment Guidelines for the Training Package.

Overview of assessment

Critical aspects for assessment and evidence required to demonstrate competency in this unit

Evidence of the ability to:

- integrate the use of predetermined hygiene procedures and food safety practices within day-to-day food handling work functions
- integrate, into daily work activities, knowledge of the basic aspects of food safety standards and codes and the ramifications of disregarding this.

Context of and specific resources for assessment

Assessment must ensure use of:

- an operational commercial food preparation area, bar or kitchen with the fixtures, large and small equipment and workplace documentation defined in the Assessment Guidelines; this can be a:
  - real industry workplace
  - simulated industry environment such as a training kitchen servicing customers
- food ingredients and ready to eat food items
- current plain English regulatory documents distributed by the national, state, territory or local government food safety authority
- the Code
- current commercial food safety programs, policies and procedures used for the management of food safety.

Method of assessment

A range of assessment methods should be used to assess practical skills and knowledge. The following examples are appropriate for this unit:

- direct observation of the candidate using hygienic work practices during an integrated assessment of operative functions, such as cleaning and tidying bars, cooking at a camp site, preparing meals in a commercial kitchen, storing unused foodstuffs
- use of problem-solving exercises so the individual can respond to a range of situations where food hazards exist
- written or oral questioning to assess knowledge of the content of hygiene procedures and food safety standards and codes
- review of portfolios of evidence and third-party workplace

reports of on-the-job performance by the individual.

Guidance information for assessment

The assessor should design integrated assessment activities to holistically assess this unit with other units relevant to the industry sector, workplace and job role, for example:

- SITXFSA201 Participate in safe food handling practices
- SITXFSA202 Transport and store food
- any commercial cookery, commercial catering, patisserie, Asian cookery or food and beverage unit involving food preparation.

Range Statement

The range statement relates to the unit of competency as a whole. It allows for different work environments and situations that may affect performance. Bold italicised wording, if used in the performance criteria, is detailed below. Essential operating conditions that may be present with training and assessment (depending on the work situation, needs of the candidate, accessibility of the item, and local industry and regional contexts) may also be included.

Hygiene procedures:

- may cover:
  - cleaning and sanitising practices to avoid contamination of food
  - food storage
  - handling and disposal of garbage
  - personal hygiene
  - regular hand washing
  - safe and hygienic handling of food and beverages
  - safe handling and disposal of linen and laundry
  - suitable dress and personal protective equipment and clothing
  - use of cleaning equipment, clothes and materials to avoid contamination of food
- may be:

- Unsafe practices may include:
- covered by staff training programs
  - documented in the organisational food safety program
  - required by the national food safety code.
  - being asked to participate in unhygienic work practices
  - food handling practices that may result in the contamination of food
  - ignoring the direction of:
    - hygiene signage
    - supervisors
    - managers
  - lack of:
    - required hygiene signage
    - training in hygiene procedures
  - outdated practices not in keeping with current organisational procedures
  - poor personal hygiene and cleaning practices that may result in cross-contamination of food and other items
  - practices inconsistent with organisational food safety program
  - seeing others using unhygienic work practices
  - use of broken or malfunctioning equipment.
- Food hazards may include:
- airborne dust
  - colleagues without appropriate training or understanding of good hygiene practices, policies and procedures
  - contaminated food
  - contaminated garbage
  - dirty equipment and utensils
  - equipment not working correctly, such as fridge and temperature probes
  - items, such as linen, tea towels and towels that may be contaminated with human waste, such as blood and body secretions
  - use of practices not in keeping with current organisational activities
  - vermin.
- Health issues may relate to:
- airborne diseases
  - food borne diseases
  - infectious diseases.
- Other items worn may include:
- bandages
  - hair accessories
  - jewellery
  - watches.

Unhygienic personal contact may involve:

- transferring micro-organisms by:
  - blowing nose
  - coughing
  - drinking
  - eating
  - scratching skin and hair
  - sneezing
  - spitting
  - touching wounds
- transmitting tobacco products by smoking.

Food contact surfaces may include:

- chopping boards
- containers
- cooking utensils
- crockery
- cutlery
- glassware
- pots and pans
- sinks
- workbenches.

Unhygienic cleaning practices may involve:

- cleaning food contact surfaces with linen, tea towels and towels that may be contaminated with human waste:
  - blood
  - body secretions
  - faeces
- using dirty:
  - cleaning cloths
  - tea towels

Wash hands at appropriate times might include:

- before commencing or recommencing work with food
- immediately after:
  - handling raw food
  - smoking, coughing, sneezing, blowing the nose, eating, drinking, and touching the hair, scalp or any wound
  - using the toilet.

Appropriate facilities for hand washing may include:

- designated hand washing sink
- liquid soap
- single use towels
- warm running water.

Assessment Requirements for SITXHRM003 Lead and manage people

Modification History

Not applicable.

Performance Evidence

Evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit in the context of the job role, and:

- monitor individual or team performance demonstrating at least four of the following leadership and management roles:
  - decision making
  - delegation of tasks
  - information provision
  - provision of feedback
  - motivation through recognition and rewards
  - planning and organising
- seek and respond to feedback from team members during the above service periods, in line with organisational goals and policies in the following areas:
  - allocation or performance of work
  - effectiveness of communication within team, between other teams or within organisation
  - efficiency or deficiency in workplace practices.

Knowledge Evidence

Demonstrated knowledge required to complete the tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit:

- roles of and functions performed by supervisors and managers:
  - decision making
  - delegating tasks
  - monitoring staff
  - planning and organising
  - providing information:
    - organisation performance
    - changes in organisational policies
    - marketing information and targets
    - overall organisational objectives

- plans for new equipment
- rationale for management decisions
- technology updates
- training developments
- expectations, roles and responsibilities of team members:
  - adhering to policies and procedures
  - cooperative and open communication
  - nature and scope of work
  - relationships with others in the workplace and interdependent areas of activity
  - reporting requirements
- considerations in the individual development of staff:
  - change in job responsibilities
  - external training and professional development
  - formal promotion
  - internal training and professional development
  - opportunity for greater autonomy or responsibility
- features of different leadership styles
- features of open and supportive communication
- characteristics of effective leadership
- principles of teamwork and:
  - characteristics of effective teams
  - roles and attributes of team members
  - organisation of teams
  - potential team problems
  - benefits of effective teamwork
- role and theories of motivation as they apply to the management of individuals and teams
- the role of group dynamics in successful team management
- forms of recognition and reward applicable to leading staff:
  - acknowledging individual good performance to the whole team
  - incentive initiatives
  - informal acknowledgement
  - presenting awards
  - written reports to management
- types of organisational plans and planning processes.

Assessment Conditions

Skills must be demonstrated in an operational tourism, travel, hospitality or events business operation or activity for which a team is managed. This can be:

- an industry workplace

- a simulated industry environment.

Assessment must ensure access to:

- a team whose overall performance is the responsibility of the individual; this can be:
  - those in an industry workplace who are assisted by the individual during the assessment process; or
  - individuals who participate in role plays or simulated activities, set up for the purpose of assessment, in a simulated industry environment operated within a training organisation.

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisations' requirements for assessors.

Assessment Conditions

Skills must be demonstrated in an operational tourism, travel, hospitality or events business operation or activity for which projects are managed. This can be:

- an industry workplace
- a simulated industry environment.

Assessment must ensure access to:

- projects to be managed by the individual
- information and communications technology currently used to manage projects
- physical and financial resources to support the project
- a project team for whom the individual is a leader
- project stakeholders with whom the individual can interact; these can be:
  - those in an industry workplace who are assisted by the individual during the assessment process; or
  - individuals who participate in role plays or simulated activities, set up for the purpose of assessment, in a simulated industry environment operated within a training organisation.

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisations' requirements for assessors.

Performance Evidence

The candidate must show evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in the elements and performance criteria of this unit, including:

- clarifying the role to be taken during the assessment
- clarifying the assessment plan with the qualified assessor, including agreement about:
  - what evidence will be collected
  - how the evidence will be collected
- carrying out a minimum of three evidence-gathering activities and, on each occasion:
  - document evidence in a clear and concise manner
  - document feedback from others involved in the assessment

reporting findings to the qualified assessor, including an explanation of how the assessment meets the rules of evidence on each of the three occasions.

Knowledge Evidence

The candidate must be able to demonstrate essential knowledge to effectively complete the task outlined in the elements and performance criteria of this unit. This includes knowledge of:

- competency-based assessment
- the principles of assessment
- the rules of evidence
- the different purposes of assessment
- the diversity of assessment contexts
- different types of evidence
- evidence-gathering methods
- the purpose and features of assessment tools, and assessment plans

- potential barriers and processes relating to evidence-gathering procedures, and assessment processes
- the organisational policies and procedures relevant to this unit of competency.

Assessment Conditions

Gather evidence to demonstrate consistent performance in conditions that are safe and replicate the workplace. Conditions must be typical of those experienced in the training and assessment environment, and include access to qualified assessors for consultation.

Performance Evidence

The candidate must show evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in the elements and performance criteria of this unit, including:

- assessment of at least five candidates within the vocational education and training (VET) context against at least one endorsed or accredited unit of competency according to the organisation's assessment processes and practices.
- using recognition of prior learning (RPL) processes in the assessment of at least one candidate (which may be one of the five candidates above)
- making reasonable adjustments in the assessment of at least one candidate.

The assessments must be undertaken under the supervision of a qualified assessor and cover an entire unit of competency for each candidate, including:

- the application of different assessment methods and instruments involving a range of activities and events
- using two-way communication and feedback with the candidate
- exercising judgement in making the assessment decision
- recording and reporting assessment outcomes in accordance with the assessment system and organisational, legal and ethical requirements reviewing the assessment process.

Knowledge Evidence

The candidate must be able to demonstrate essential knowledge to effectively complete the task outlined in the elements and performance criteria of this unit. This includes knowledge of:

- competency-based assessment, including:
  - VET as a competency-based system
  - how competency based assessment differs from other types of assessment
  - competency standards as the basis of qualifications
  - structure and application of competency standards
  - the principles of assessment and how they are applied
  - the distinction between assessment tools and assessment instruments
  - the rules of evidence and how they are applied
  - the range of assessment purposes and assessment contexts, including RPL
  - different assessment methods, including suitability for gathering various types of evidence, suitability for the content of units, and resource requirements and associated costs
  - reasonable adjustments and when they are applicable
  - types and forms of evidence, including assessment instruments that are relevant to gathering different types of evidence used in competency-based assessment, including RPL
  - the training and assessment strategies, including policies and procedures established by the industry, organisation or training authority
- RPL policies and procedures established by the organisation
- cultural sensitivity and equity considerations in assessment activities
- current legislative requirements relevant to the assessor and the assessment process
- workplace health and safety (WHS) responsibilities associated with assessing competence, including:
  - requirements for reporting hazards and incidents
  - emergency procedures
  - procedures for the use of relevant personal protective equipment
  - the safe use and maintenance of relevant equipment
  - sources of WHS information.

Assessment Conditions

Gather evidence to demonstrate consistent performance in a real assessment environment. The assessment environment must include access to assessment tools and recording materials.

Assessors must satisfy the requirements for assessors in applicable vocational education and training legislation, frameworks and/or standards.

The candidate must show evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in the elements and performance criteria of this unit, including:

- actively participating in a minimum of three validation sessions that address the critical aspects of validation
- clearly identifying the purpose for each validation, and the legal and ethical responsibilities of assessors
- collating and presenting documentation for each validation in a logical manner
- communicating and liaising with relevant people
- providing feedback and interpreting documentation in validation sessions
- recording their contribution to validation findings.

Knowledge Evidence

The candidate must be able to demonstrate essential knowledge to effectively complete the task outlined in the elements and performance criteria of this unit. This includes knowledge of:

- how to determine the evidence needed to demonstrate competence in a competency-based environment
- the reasons for carrying out validation and different approaches to validation that may be appropriate before, during and after an assessment
- the components of assessment tools
- critical aspects of validation, including validation of assessment processes, methods and products
- how principles of assessment are addressed in validation

- how rules of evidence are addressed in validation
- work health and safety legislation, codes of practice, standards and guidelines that impact on assessment
- obligations of an assessor under applicable legislation and/or standards, particularly in relation to validation activities.

Assessment Conditions

Gather evidence to demonstrate consistent performance in conditions that are safe and replicate the workplace. Conditions must be typical of those experienced in the training and assessment environment, and include access to:

- the texts and tasks usually found in the workplace
- units of competency and other materials used in validation sessions.

Assessors must satisfy the requirements for assessors in applicable vocational education and training legislation, frameworks and/or standards.

TAEASS502 Design and develop assessment tools

Modification History

Release	Comments
Release 2	This was first released with TAE Training and Education Training Package Release 2.1 . Minor update to Assessment Conditions.
Release 1	This version first released with TAE Training and Education Training Package Version 2.0 .

Application

This unit describes the skills and knowledge required to design and to develop assessment tools used to guide the collection of quality evidence, including their application in formative, summative and recognition of prior learning (RPL) assessment.

It applies to experienced practitioners responsible for the development and/or delivery of training and assessment products and services.

No licensing, legislative or certification requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

Unit Sector

Assessment

Elements and Performance Criteria

ELEMENT	PERFORMANCE CRITERIA
Elements describe the essential outcomes.	Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.
1. Determine the focus of the assessment tool	1.1 Identify a target group of candidates, purposes of the assessment tool, and the contexts in which the tool will be used 1.2 Access relevant benchmarks for assessment and interpret them to establish evidence required to demonstrate competence

	1.3 Identify, access and interpret industry requirements and relevant contextualisation guidelines 1.4 Identify other related documentation to inform assessment tool development
2. Design the assessment tool	2.1 Select assessment methods that support the collection of defined evidence, taking into account the context in which the assessment will take place, and meeting the principles of assessment 2.2 Enable candidates to show or support their claim for recognition of current competency through selected assessment methods 2.3 Consider different assessment instruments for the selected assessment methods to generate options for collection of evidence 2.4 Consider how the assessment instruments will be administered
3. Develop the assessment tool	3.1 Develop specific assessment instruments that support the collection of evidence that meets the rules of evidence 3.2 Define and document clear and specific procedures instructing assessor and candidate on the administration and use of assessment instruments 3.3 Consider the requirements of assessment system policies and procedures, and address storage and retrieval needs, and review, evaluation and version control procedures as part of this process
4. Review and trial the assessment tool	4.1 Check draft assessment tools against evaluation criteria and amend as required 4.2 Trial assessment tools to validate content and applicability 4.3 Collect and document feedback from relevant people involved in trialling 4.4 Make amendments to the final tool based on the analysis of feedback 4.5 Appropriately format, and file, finalised assessment tool according to assessment system policies and procedures

Performance Evidence

The candidate must show evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in the elements and performance criteria of this unit, including:

- developing at least three assessment tools that support different assessment methods, and address at least one unit of competency each. Each assessment tool must:
- include the instruments for collecting evidence, reflecting the principles of assessment and the rules of evidence, and related instructions to the assessor/s and candidates
- show how the contextual needs of different environments are addressed

reporting on the trial and review of each assessment tool, including proposed changes.

Knowledge Evidence

The candidate must be able to demonstrate essential knowledge to effectively complete the task outlined in the elements and performance criteria of this unit. This includes knowledge of:

- the principles of assessment and how they are applied when developing assessment tools
- the rules of evidence and how they have been incorporated in the tools developed
- different assessment contexts and their relationship to developing assessment tools
- the dimensions of competency and how they are incorporated in the development of assessment tools
- the contextualisation of units of competency and contextualisation guidelines
- the components of training packages relevant to the development of assessment tools
- different assessment methods, their purposes and uses
- evaluation methods appropriate to the trial and review of assessment tools
- the principles of reasonable adjustment

- workplace health and safety (WHS) responsibilities associated with assessing competence, including:
  - requirements for reporting hazards and incidents
  - emergency procedures
  - procedures for the use of relevant personal protective equipment
  - sources of WHS information.

Assessment Conditions

Elements and Performance Criteria

ELEMENTS

Elements describe the essential outcomes.

1 Check and clean vehicle

PERFORMANCE CRITERIA

Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.

1.1 Vehicle hazards are identified and required action is taken to minimise, control or eliminate identified hazards

1.2 Visual check of internal and external condition of vehicle is carried out and relevant documentation is completed in accordance with workplace procedures

- 1.3 Pre-operational inspections and checks are conducted in accordance with workplace procedures
  - 1.4 Associated equipment is tested to ensure it functions correctly to manufacturer specifications and workplace procedures
  - 1.5 Operational checks are carried out after engine is started to identify possible defects
  - 1.6 Shut-down checks are carried out to identify possible defects
  - 1.7 Warning systems (instruments and gauges) are checked to ensure they are operational in accordance with manufacturer specifications and workplace procedures
  - 1.8 Vehicle monitoring device including In Vehicle Monitoring System (IVMS) and telematics is logged on/off as required in accordance with manufacturer instructions and workplace procedures
  - 1.9 Vehicle is cleaned in accordance with work health and safety (WHS)/occupational health and safety (OHS)/occupational safety and health (OSH) and environmental requirements and workplace procedures
- 2 Complete documentation
- 2.1 Vehicle defects are identified and diagnosed, and appropriate action is taken to report to relevant person/s or remedy identified defects as required by workplace procedures
  - 2.2 Records of inspection are updated and recommended repairs from relevant person/s are documented in accordance with workplace procedures

Foundation Skills

Foundation skills essential to performance are explicit in the performance criteria of this unit of competency.

Range of Conditions

Range is restricted to essential operating conditions and any other variables essential to the work

environment.

Non-essential conditions can be found in the Companion Volume Implementation Guide.

Assessment Requirements for TLIB0002 Carry out vehicle inspection

Modification History

Release 1. This is first release of this unit of competency in the TLI Transport and Logistics Training Package.

Performance Evidence

Evidence required to demonstrate competence in this unit must be relevant to and satisfy all of the requirements of the elements and performance criteria on at least one occasion and include:

- applying relevant legislation and workplace procedures
- carrying out vehicle inspections in accordance with workplace and manufacturer requirements including:
  - conducting engine oil checks
  - conducting coolant level checks
  - conducting hydraulic oil and other fluid checks
  - conducting globe replacement procedure
  - conducting tyre checks for wear
  - checking of gauges, warning lights, screen displays and buzzers to confirm operational status
- communicating effectively with others when reporting identified problems, faults or malfunctions
- completing documentation related to routine vehicle inspection clearly and concisely
- reading and interpreting relevant instructions, procedures, information and manuals
- reporting and rectifying identified problems, faults or malfunctions promptly
- visual checking for defects to internal and external of vehicle
- operating relevant cleaning equipment and using relevant cleaning supplies
- completing relevant workplace documentation
- applying working at height procedures during cleaning of vehicles
- applying relevant work health and safety (WHS)/occupational health and safety (OHS)/occupational safety and health (OSH), environmental requirements and workplace procedures
- using relevant Personal Protective Equipment (PPE) while cleaning.

Knowledge Evidence

Evidence required to demonstrate competence in this unit must be relevant to and satisfy all of the requirements of the elements and performance criteria and include knowledge of:

- duty of care requirements for routine vehicle inspections

- principles of systems operation on commercial vehicles
- problems that may occur during routine vehicle inspections and appropriate actions and solutions
- relevant reporting and documentation requirements for carrying out vehicle inspections
- relevant WHS/OHS/OSH and environmentally sustainable practices
- workplace procedures and manufacturer specifications for:
  - pre-operational inspection of a commercial vehicle
  - visual inspection
  - checking warning systems
  - associated equipment operation
  - function of gauges, warning lights and devices
  - In Vehicle Monitoring System (IVMS) and telematics
  - defect reporting
- safe use of vehicle cleaning supplies
- safe operation of cleaning equipment
- Safety Data Sheets (SDS) and relevant manufacturer specifications for cleaning products
- WHS/OHS/OSH and environmental requirements for waste disposal.

Assessment Conditions

As a minimum, assessors must satisfy applicable regulatory requirements, which include requirements in the Standards for Registered Training Organisations current at the time of assessment.

As a minimum, assessment must satisfy applicable regulatory requirements, which include requirements in the Standards for Registered Training Organisations current at the time of assessment.

Assessment must occur in workplace operational situations where it is appropriate to do so; where this is not appropriate, assessment must occur in simulated workplace operational situations that replicate workplace conditions.

Assessment processes and techniques must be appropriate to the language, literacy and numeracy requirements of the work being performed and the needs of the candidate.

Resources for assessment must include:

- a range of relevant exercises, case studies and/or simulations
- applicable documentation including workplace procedures, regulations, codes of practice and operation manuals
- relevant materials, tools, equipment and personal protective equipment currently used in industry.

Assessment Requirements for TLIB2003 Carry out vehicle servicing and maintenance

Modification History

Release 1. This is the first release of this unit of competency in the TLI Transport and Logistics Training Package.

Performance Evidence

Evidence required to demonstrate competence in this unit must be relevant to and satisfy all of the requirements of the elements and performance criteria on at least one occasion and include:

- applying precautions and required action to minimise, control or eliminate identified hazards
- applying relevant legislation and workplace procedures
- checking and replenishing fluids and carrying out lubrication processes
- communicating and working effectively with others
- completing relevant documentation
- implementing contingency plans
- modifying activities depending on operational contingencies, risk situations and environments
- monitoring and prioritising work activities in terms of planned schedule
- monitoring performance of equipment
- operating and adapting to differences in equipment in accordance with workplace procedures
- reading, interpreting and following relevant instructions, procedures, information and signs
- reporting and/or rectifying identified problems, faults or malfunctions promptly, in accordance with regulatory requirements and workplace procedures
- selecting and using required personal protective equipment conforming to industry and work health and safety (WHS)/occupational health and safety (OHS) standards
- servicing equipment in terms of maintenance schedule and standard operating procedures
- working systematically with required attention to detail without injury to self or others, or damage to vehicle or equipment.

Knowledge Evidence

Evidence required to demonstrate competence in this unit must be relevant to and satisfy all of the requirements of the elements and performance criteria and include knowledge of:

- basic fault finding procedures required for routine servicing and maintenance of vehicles
- basic principles for operating systems on commercial vehicles, including electrical systems, fuel systems, cooling systems, steering systems, exhaust systems, tyres and brakes
- housekeeping standards for routine servicing and maintenance
- problems that may occur during vehicle routine servicing and maintenance and appropriate action and solutions
- procedures for checking, and routine servicing and maintenance of a commercial vehicle, in accordance with workplace and manufacturer requirements, and established safety rules and regulations
- procedures for use and maintenance of materials, tools and parts required for routine servicing and maintenance
- procedures required to minimise waste during routine servicing and maintenance
- recognition and diagnosis of faults and vehicle irregularities
- relevant duty of care requirements for routine servicing and maintenance of vehicles
- relevant WHS/OHS and pollution control procedures
- reporting and documentation requirements.

Assessment Conditions

As a minimum, assessors must satisfy applicable regulatory requirements, which include requirements in the Standards for Registered Training Organisations current at the time of assessment.

TLIB2008 Carry out inspection of trailers

Modification History

Release 1. This is the first release of this unit of competency in the TLI Transport and Logistics Training Package.

Application

This unit involves the skills and knowledge required to carry out an inspection of a commercial trailer, in accordance with relevant roads and traffic authority regulations for inspecting commercial trailers.

It includes action to implement trailer manufacturer specifications for routine checks, to clean trailer, to ensure all specified safety requirements are met, and to ensure trailer is operational to workplace requirements and relevant state/territory roads and traffic authority.

Work is performed with limited supervision and with duty of care responsibility for self and others in achieving the prescribed outcomes.

No licensing, legislative or certification requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.

1 Check trailer

- 1.1 Trailer hazards are identified and required action is taken to minimise, control or eliminate identified hazards
- 1.2 Visual check of internal and external condition of trailer is carried out in accordance with workplace procedures
- 1.3 Pre-operational inspections and checks of trailer brake systems, suspension and axles, electrical systems, wheels and tyres are carried out to ensure conformance with road safety standards
- 1.4 Associated equipment is tested to ensure it functions correctly to manufacturer specification

2 Clean trailer

- 2.1 Trailer is cleaned in accordance with workplace procedures
- 2.2 Associated equipment is cleaned in accordance with workplace procedures

3 Complete documentation

- 3.1 Faults are identified and/or diagnosed and appropriate action is taken to report or remedy identified faults as required by workplace procedures
- 3.2 Records of inspection are updated and recommended repairs are documented in accordance with workplace policies

TLIB2119 Carry out maintenance of trailers

Modification History

Release 1. This is the first release of this unit of competency in the TLI Transport and Logistics Training Package.

Application

This unit involves the skills and knowledge required to carry out basic servicing and maintenance of a commercial trailer across a variety of operational contexts.

It includes action to implement trailer manufacturer specifications for routine checks and maintenance, to ensure all specified safety requirements are met, and to ensure trailer is operational to workplace requirements and relevant state/territory roads and traffic authority regulations.

Work is performed with limited or minimum supervision, and with limited accountability and responsibility for self and others in achieving the prescribed outcomes.

TLIC2025 Operate four wheel drive vehicle

Modification History

Release 1. This is the first release of this unit of competency in the TLI Transport and Logistics Training Package.

Application

This unit involves the skills and knowledge required to operate a four wheel drive vehicle safely in a range of conditions in accordance with the relevant state/territory legislated roads and traffic licence requirements.

It includes driving a four wheel drive vehicle on roads, traversing gradients, ascending and descending steep gradients, and operating in rugged terrain. It also includes using vehicle equipment/controls and completing pre- and post-operational checks.

Recognised driver's licence or provisional car licence must be held prior to commencing this unit of competency.

Driving involves the application of four wheel drive vehicle operating principles and procedures to maintain the safety and operation of a four wheel drive vehicle across a variety of on-road and off-road contexts.

Driving is performed with limited supervision, and with duty of care responsibility for self and others in achieving the prescribed outcomes.

No licensing, legislative or certification requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

Pre-requisite Unit

Not applicable.

Competency Field

C – Vehicle Operation

Unit Sector

Not applicable.

Elements and Performance Criteria

ELEMENTS

Elements describe the essential outcomes.

1 Operate four wheel drive vehicles on roads

PERFORMANCE CRITERIA

Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.

- 1.1 Pre-start checks of vehicle and equipment are carried out in accordance with manufacturer specifications and roadworthy requirements
- 1.2 Job hazards are identified and required action is taken to minimise, control or eliminate identified hazards
- 1.3 Tyres are checked for pressure suitable for terrain and/or changed in accordance with manufacturer and workplace procedures
- 1.4 Vehicle fuel, water and any ancillary equipment are checked before starting vehicle journey in accordance with manufacturer and workplace procedures
- 1.5 Loads are secured in accordance with workplace and legislative requirements
- 1.6 Vehicle is driven on-road and off-road in accordance with legislative and workplace requirements, at appropriate operating speeds for road or track conditions and hazards
- 1.7 Vehicle equipment/controls are set and operated in accordance with manufacturer instructions for operation in surrounding terrain
- 1.8 Road conditions are constantly monitored, negotiated and appropriate operations and control techniques are used to ensure safe vehicle operation and no injury to people or damage to vehicle, tracks or loads is sustained
- 1.9 Vehicle is parked and shut down in accordance with workplace and manufacturer requirements

2 Operate vehicle on, or across a gradient

- 2.1 Intended vehicle path is inspected prior to negotiating gradient
- 2.2 Loads are secured in accordance with workplace and legislative requirements
- 2.3 Appropriate gear and/or range are selected and engine revolutions are maintained to ensure constant traction

- 2.4 Vehicle is driven on-road and off-road in accordance with legislative and workplace requirements at appropriate speeds for conditions and gradient hazards
  - 2.5 Vehicle equipment/controls are set and operated in accordance with manufacturer instructions for operation in, on or across a gradient
  - 2.6 Gradient conditions are constantly monitored, and appropriate operations and control techniques are used to ensure safe vehicle operation and no injury to people or damage to vehicle, tracks or loads is sustained
- 3 Operate vehicle ascending a steep gradient
- 3.1 Intended vehicle path is inspected prior to negotiating ascent
  - 3.2 Appropriate gear and/or range are selected to ascend grade, and engine revolutions are maintained to ensure constant traction
  - 3.3 Vehicle equipment/controls are set and operated in accordance with manufacturer instructions for operation while ascending a steep gradient
  - 3.4 Stall recovery techniques are applied in accordance with manufacturer and workplace procedures
  - 3.5 Ascent conditions are constantly monitored, and appropriate operations and control techniques are used to ensure safe vehicle operation and no injury to people or damage to vehicle, tracks or loads is sustained
- 4 Operate vehicle descending a steep gradient
- 4.1 Intended vehicle path is inspected prior to negotiating gradient
  - 4.2 Appropriate gear and/or range are selected to descend grade, and engine revolutions are maintained to ensure constant traction
  - 4.3 Vehicle equipment/controls are set and operated in accordance with manufacturer instructions for operation while descending a steep gradient
  - 4.4 Stall recovery techniques are applied in accordance with manufacturer and workplace procedures
  - 4.5 Descent conditions are constantly monitored, and appropriate operations and control techniques are used to ensure safe vehicle operation and no injury to people or damage to vehicle, tracks or loads is sustained

- 5 Operate vehicle in rugged terrain
- 5.1 Intended vehicle path is inspected prior to negotiating rugged terrain
  - 5.2 Appropriate gear and/or range are selected to negotiate rugged terrain and engine revolutions are maintained to ensure constant traction
  - 5.3 Vehicle equipment/controls are set and operated in accordance with manufacturer instructions for operation in surrounding terrain
  - 5.4 Vehicle chains are fitted in accordance with manufacturer instructions and environmental conditions, as required
  - 5.5 Vehicle load is inspected, positioned and secured to maximise traction for four wheel driving
  - 5.6 Rugged conditions are constantly monitored, and appropriate operations and control techniques are used to ensure safe vehicle operation and no injury to people or damage to vehicle, tracks or loads is sustained
- 6 Complete operations
- 6.1 Vehicle is parked and shut down in accordance with workplace and manufacturer requirements
  - 6.2 Faults or malfunctions are corrected and/or reported in accordance with manufacturer and workplace requirements
  - 6.3 Vehicle and equipment are cleaned and stored after use in accordance with workplace requirements
  - 6.4 Documentation and journey reports are completed in accordance with workplace procedures

Assessment Requirements for TLIC2025 Operate four wheel drive vehicle

Modification History

Release 1. This is the first release of this unit of competency in the TLI Transport and Logistics Training Package.

Performance Evidence

Evidence required to demonstrate competence in this unit must be relevant to and satisfy all of the requirements of the elements and performance criteria on at least one occasion and include:

- applying relevant legislation and workplace procedures
- cleaning and storing vehicles and equipment
- communicating effectively with others
- completing relevant documentation
- conducting pre-start checks
- demonstrating low-risk driving behaviours
- identifying and correcting minor operational faults
- identifying job hazards and taking required action
- implementing contingency plans
- interpreting and following operational instructions and prioritising work
- modifying activities depending on operational contingencies, risk situations and environments
- reporting and/or rectifying identified problems, faults or malfunctions promptly, in accordance with regulatory requirements and workplace procedures
- reading and interpreting relevant instructions, procedures, information and signs
- using and adjusting vehicle equipment/controls as required:
  - brakes
  - electronic traction control
  - freewheeling hubs
  - gears/range
  - heating and cooling systems
  - jacks
  - tyres
- working systematically with required attention to detail without injury to self or others, or damage to goods or equipment.

Knowledge Evidence

Evidence required to demonstrate competence in this unit must be relevant to and satisfy all of the requirements of the elements and performance criteria and include knowledge of:

- documentation and record keeping requirements
- effect of hard surface driving (such as transmission wind up) on a 4x4 system
- effect of loads while negotiating a gradient
- effect on centre of gravity of changing fluid loads
- efficient driving techniques and safe driving strategies
- environmental impact of 4x4 driving
- hazards and risks associated with traversing cross gradients
- hazards that may exist when operating a four wheel drive vehicle in on-road and off-road situations, and action to minimise, control or eliminate identified hazards
- low risk driving behaviours:
  - creating and maintaining crash avoidance space
  - protecting crash avoidance space
  - road rules and directions
  - space and time management
- pre- and post-operational checks and related action
- problems that may occur when operating a four wheel drive vehicle, and action that can be taken to report or resolve the problems
- relevant land management procedures and regulations
- relevant state/territory road traffic authority road rules, regulations, permit and licence requirements
- relevant work health and safety (WHS)/occupational health and safety (OHS) and environmental procedures and regulations
- vehicle equipment/controls, instruments and indicators, and their use
- vehicle handling procedures and techniques for a range of road and track conditions
- workplace procedures for operating a four wheel drive vehicle in both on-road and off-road situations.

Assessment Conditions

As a minimum, assessors must satisfy applicable regulatory requirements, which include requirements in the Standards for Registered Training Organisations current at the time of assessment.

As a minimum, assessment must satisfy applicable regulatory requirements, which include requirements in the Standards for Registered Training Organisations current at the time of assessment.

Assessment must occur in workplace operational situations, where it is appropriate to do so; where this is not appropriate, assessment must occur in simulated workplace operational situations that replicate workplace conditions in a four wheel drive vehicle typical of that used in industry.

Assessment processes and techniques must be appropriate to the language, literacy and numeracy requirements of the work being performed and the needs of the candidate.

Resources for assessment include:

- a range of relevant exercises, case studies and/or simulations

TLIH3002 Plan and navigate routes

Modification History

Release 1. This is the first release of this unit of competency in the TLI Transport and Logistics Training Package.

Application

This unit involves the skills and knowledge required to plan and navigate routes as part of transport operations, in accordance with relevant state/territory roads and traffic authority regulations.

It includes interpreting information from a road map, street directory or global positioning system (GPS) device; planning the most appropriate route taking into account pertinent factors; and completing required trip documentation in accordance with operational requirements.

This unit relates to the work of transport and distribution personnel involved in passenger services and/or the delivery of a range of possible goods and materials including valuables, secured products documents and materials.

Work is performed under general or limited supervision.

No licensing, legislative or certification requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

Pre-requisite Unit

Not applicable.

Competency Field

H – Route Planning and Navigation

Unit Sector

Not applicable.

Elements and Performance Criteria

ELEMENTS

Elements describe the essential outcomes.

1 Interpret street maps

2 Plan routes

3 Follow planned route

PERFORMANCE CRITERIA

Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.

- 1.1 Symbols in a street directory/road map/GPS are recognised and interpreted
- 1.2 Places are identified in a directory index and information is used to locate places on appropriate map
- 2.1 Given a location and a destination, the most direct and alternative routes between two points are identified using a street directory/road map/GPS
- 2.2 Hazards are identified, risks are assessed and control measures are implemented
- 2.3 Information on height, width and load limits of road infrastructure and other restrictions on thoroughfares is accessed, interpreted and taken into account when planning a route for a journey, as required
- 2.4 Suitable route is selected to ensure the most efficient, safe, secure and legal transport operation, taking into account relevant criteria for transport operation concerned
- 3.1 Planned route is correctly followed with aid of a street directory, road map and/or GPS system
- 3.2 Geographic regions, tourism features and other places of interest are identified, as required
- 3.3 Route documentation is completed in accordance with purpose of transportation and workplace requirements
- 3.4 Parking procedures are observed in accordance with enterprise procedures and relevant legislative requirements

Foundation Skills

Foundation skills essential to performance are explicit in the performance criteria of this unit of competency.

Range of Conditions

Range is restricted to essential operating conditions and any other variables essential to the work environment.

Non-essential conditions can be found in the Companion Volume Implementation Guide.

Assessment Requirements for TLIH3002 Plan and navigate routes

Modification History

Release 1. This is the first release of this unit of competency in the TLI Transport and Logistics Training Package.

Performance Evidence

Evidence required to demonstrate competence in this unit must be relevant to and satisfy all of the requirements of the elements and performance criteria on at least one occasion and include:

- accessing and interpreting required information and developing contingency routes (including road restrictions, traffic conditions, service stations/rest stops)
- adapting to changes and difference in vehicle navigation technology, maps and street directories as they relate to route planning
- adapting to changes in vehicle navigation technology, maps and street directories as they relate to route planning
- applying fatigue management techniques
- applying precautions and required action to minimise, control or eliminate identified hazards
- applying relevant legislation and workplace procedures
- completing relevant documentation
- implementing contingency arrangements
- interpreting and following operational instructions and prioritising work
- interpreting information to allow effective route planning
- modifying route planning activities depending on operational contingencies, risk situations and environments
- monitoring work activities in terms of planned schedule
- operating and adapting to differences in vehicles, loads and equipment in accordance with standard operating procedures
- planning alternative routes for contingencies such as road works, emergencies or delays
- planning and navigating a route effectively
- planning for transport routes to meet workplace requirements
- planning routes in accordance with workplace guidelines
- reading and interpreting relevant instructions, procedures, information and signs:
  - estimating route distances using map information
  - identifying roads and intersections
  - identifying town and suburb locations
  - reading and interpretation of map symbols
- reporting and/or rectifying identified problems promptly, in accordance with workplace procedures

- selecting and using relevant route planning and navigation technology including GPS devices.

Knowledge Evidence

Evidence required to demonstrate competence in this unit must be relevant to and satisfy all of the requirements of the elements and performance criteria and include knowledge of:

- basic GPS operation
- current information about accidents or emergencies that might close or restrict traffic on particular routes
- features and contents of maps and street directories, and techniques for their use in transport navigation
- known traffic conditions at various times of the day along specific routes
- location of service stations and rest stops
- operational procedures for planning and navigating transport routes
- physical hazards such as height, width and mass limitations of bridges, tunnels and other critical physical structures along a possible route
- relevant state/territory permit and licence regulations and requirements
- road conditions for various routes, including sections undergoing road works
- security hazards on long routes
- workplace requirements for recording and documenting route information.

Assessment Conditions

As a minimum, assessors must satisfy applicable regulatory requirements, which include requirements in the Standards for Registered Training Organisations current at the time of assessment.
